Subject To Completion
Preliminary Prospectus Dated _____, 2022
American Depositary Shares

Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited
Representing Class A Ordinary Shares

This is an initial public offering of American depositary shares, or ADSs, of Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited. Each ADS represents of our Class A ordinary shares, par value US$0.0001 per share.

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for the ADSs or our Class A ordinary shares. We anticipate that the initial public offering price will be between US$ _____ and US$ _____ per ADS. We have applied to list the ADSs representing our Class A ordinary shares on the Nasdaq Global Market under the symbol "ATAT".

Following the completion of this offering, our issued and outstanding share capital will consist of _____ Class A ordinary shares and _____ Class B ordinary shares. Mr. Hajjun Wang will beneficially own all of our issued Class B ordinary shares and will be able to exercise _____% of the total voting power of our issued and outstanding share capital immediately following the completion of this offering. Holders of Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares have the same rights except for voting and conversion rights. Each Class A ordinary share is entitled to one vote, and each Class B ordinary share is entitled to ten votes and is convertible into one Class A ordinary share. Class A ordinary shares are not convertible into Class B ordinary shares under any circumstances. Upon any sale, transfer, assignment or disposition of any Class B ordinary shares by a holder thereof to any person who is not an affiliate of Mr. Hajjun Wang, or upon a change of ultimate beneficial ownership of any Class B ordinary share to a person who is not an affiliate of Mr. Hajjun Wang, each of such Class B ordinary shares will be automatically and immediately converted into one Class A ordinary share. See "Description of Share Capital." Immediately following the completion of this offering, we will be a "controlled company" within the meaning of the Nasdaq rules. See "Principal Shareholders."

We are an "emerging growth company" under applicable U.S. federal securities laws and are eligible for reduced public company reporting requirements.

Investing in the ADSs involves risks. See "Risk Factors" beginning on page 21 of this prospectus.

Investors in the ADSs are not purchasing equity securities of our subsidiaries that have substantive business operations in China but instead are purchasing equity securities of a Cayman Islands holding company. Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited is a Cayman Islands holding company that conducts all of its operations and operates its business in China through its PRC subsidiaries, in particular, Shanghai Atour Business Management Group Co., Ltd., or Atour Shanghai, and its subsidiaries. Such structure involves unique risks to investors in the ADSs.

We face various legal and operational risks and uncertainties related to being based in and having all of our operations in China. The PRC government has significant authority to exert influence on the ability of a China-based company, such as us, to conduct its business, accept foreign investments or list on an U.S. or other foreign exchanges. For example, we face risks associated with regulatory approvals of offshore offerings, anti-monopoly regulatory actions, oversight on cybersecurity and data privacy, as well as the lack of PCAOB inspection on our auditors. Such risks could result in a material change in our operations and/or the value of our ADSs or could significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to offer or continue to offer ADSs and/or other securities to investors and cause the value of such securities to significantly decline or be worthless. For a detailed description of risks related to doing business in China, see "Risk Factors—Risks Related to Doing Business in China."

The PRC government has significant oversight and discretion over the conduct of our business and may intervene with or influence our operations as the government deems appropriate to further regulatory, political and societal goals. The PRC government has recently published new policies that significantly affected certain industries such as the education and internet industries, and we cannot rule out the possibility that it will in the future release regulations or policies regarding our industry that could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, the PRC government has recently indicated an intent to exert more oversight and control over overseas securities offerings and other capital markets activities and foreign investment in China-based companies like us. Any such action, once taken by the PRC government, could significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to offer or continue to offer securities to investors and cause the value of such securities to significantly decline or in extreme cases, become worthless.

Cash is transferred among the Company, our Hong Kong subsidiary, Atour Hotel (HK) Holdings Limited, or Atour Hong Kong, Atour Shanghai and its PRC subsidiaries, in the following manner: (i) funds are transferred to Atour Shanghai from the Company as needed through Atour Hong Kong in the form of capital contributions or shareholder loans, as the case may be; and (ii) dividends or other distributions may be paid by Atour Shanghai to the Company through Atour Hong Kong. Other than the Restructuring (as defined herein), none of our PRC subsidiaries have issued any dividends or distributions to their respective holding companies, including the Company, or any investors as of the date of this prospectus. Our subsidiaries in the PRC generate and retain cash generated from operating activities and re-invest it in our business. In May 2021, Atour Hong Kong distributed RMB20.6 million to certain shareholders. In the future, the Company's ability to pay dividends, if any, to its shareholders and ADS holders and to service any debt it may incur will depend upon dividends paid by our PRC subsidiaries. Atour Shanghai has also received equity financing from its shareholders to fund the business operations of our PRC subsidiaries. In 2019, 2020 and 2021, we did not transfer any cash proceeds to any of our PRC subsidiaries except for the cash transfers within our Group in connection with the Restructuring. In the future, cash proceeds raised from overseas financing activities, including this offering, may be transferred by us through our Atour Hong Kong to Atour Shanghai via capital contribution and shareholder loans, as the case may be. Atour Shanghai then will transfer funds to its subsidiaries to meet the capital needs of our business operations. For details about the applicable PRC regulations and rules relating to such cash transfers through our Group and the associated risks, see "Risk Factors—Risks Related to Doing Business in China."

Neither the United States Securities and Exchange Commission nor any other regulatory body has approved or disapproved of these securities, or determined if this prospectus is truthful or complete. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

No dealer, salesperson or other person is authorized to give any information or to represent anything not contained in this prospectus or in any free writing prospectus we may authorize to be delivered or made available to you. You must not rely on any unauthorized information or representations. This prospectus is an offer to sell only the ADSs offered hereby, and only under circumstances and in jurisdictions where it is lawful to do so. The information contained in this prospectus is current only as of its date.

Neither we nor any of the underwriters has done anything that would permit this offering or possession or distribution of this prospectus or any filed free writing prospectus in any jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required, other than in the United States. Persons outside the United States who come into possession of this prospectus or any free writing prospectus must inform themselves about, and observe any restrictions relating to, the offering of the ADSs and the distribution of this prospectus or any free writing prospectus outside of the United States. This offering is being made in the United States and elsewhere solely on the basis of the information contained in this prospectus. You should assume that the information appearing in this prospectus is accurate only as of the date on the front cover of this prospectus, regardless of the time of delivery of this prospectus or any sale of the ADSs representing our Class A ordinary shares. Our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may have changed since the date on the front cover of this prospectus.

Until _____, 2021 (the 25th day after the date of this prospectus), all dealers that buy, sell or trade the ADSs, whether or not participating in this offering, may be required to deliver a prospectus. This is in addition to the obligation of dealers to deliver a prospectus when acting as underwriters and with respect to their unsold allotments or subscriptions.

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

In connection with this offering, we have recently completed certain corporate reorganization transactions, including, through establishing a series of intermediary holding companies to acquire 100% of the equity interest in Shanghai Atour Business Management (Group) Co., Ltd., or Atour Shanghai, and issuing new shares of our company to the affiliates of beneficial owners of Atour Shanghai, or the Existing Equityholders, such that an offshore shareholding structure could be established, replacing the equity interests beneficially held by the Existing Equityholders of Atour Shanghai with the equity shares of Atour Lifestyle on a one-to-one basis. We refer to such reorganization transactions collectively as the “Restructuring” in this prospectus. See “Corporate History and Structure” for a more detailed description of the Restructuring and a diagram depicting our corporate structure upon the completion of the Restructuring.

We currently conduct all of our businesses through Atour Shanghai and its PRC subsidiaries in China. We are a holding company incorporated in the Cayman Islands on April 10, 2012 in anticipation of future capital raising from international investors. Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited owns 100% of the equity interest in Atour Hotel (HK) Holdings Limited, or Atour Hong Kong, a company incorporated under the laws of the Hong Kong. Atour Hong Kong owns 100% equity interest in Atour Shanghai. Each of Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited and Atour Hong Kong currently has no substantial assets or operations, other than their respective holdings of the equity interests of their wholly owned subsidiaries. We have recently completed the Restructuring and all of our business in China will continue to be conducted through Atour Shanghai and its subsidiaries.

Upon the consummation of the Restructuring, the affiliates of all Existing Equityholders of Atour Shanghai have acquired, in accordance with applicable PRC laws and regulations, ordinary shares in our company substantially in proportion to their respective equity ownership in Atour Shanghai immediately prior to the Restructuring.

Upon the consummation of the Restructuring, (i) we have issued new ordinary shares to the affiliates of Existing Equityholders of Atour Shanghai based on their respective equity ownership in Atour Shanghai, such that the shareholding structure of our company at the Cayman Islands level is substantially similar to the equity ownership structure of Atour Shanghai prior to the Restructuring, and (ii) the affiliates of such Existing Equityholders have become parties to and are bound by the terms of our shareholders agreement dated March 3, 2021. For financial reporting purposes, the Restructuring was accounted for as a reverse recapitalization of Atour Shanghai. Accordingly, the Company’s consolidated financial statements represent a continuation of the financial statement of Atour Shanghai and the assets and liabilities are presented at their historical carrying values.

PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

The following summary is qualified in its entirety by, and should be read in conjunction with, the more detailed information and financial statements and the related notes appearing elsewhere in this prospectus. In addition to this summary, we urge you to read the entire prospectus carefully, especially the risks of investing in the ADSs discussed under “Risk Factors,” “Business,” and information contained in “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” before deciding whether to buy the ADSs.

OVERVIEW

Setting out as an upper midscale hotel chain group, we are now a leading lifestyle brand in China.

We are the largest upper midscale hotel chain in China in terms of room number as of the end of 2020, according to Frost & Sullivan. Through our hotel network, loyalty program and data and technology capabilities, we have been tirelessly exploring new possible ways to set the new trends for China’s hospitality industry and expand our offerings beyond our hotels. We distinguish ourselves from our peers in the following aspects:

- Hotel network with a distinct portfolio of lifestyle brands. We offer our guests a diversified collection of lifestyle hotel brands, each created with a unique personality under the unified ethos of inclusivity and presence of humanness. As of December 31, 2021, our hotel network covered 745 hotels spanning 138 cities in China, with a total of 86,654 hotel rooms, including 712 manachised hotels with a total of 81,594 manachised hotel rooms, in addition to a pipeline of 338 hotels with a total of 37,987 rooms under development. Our guests can book a stay with us and access our rich product and service offerings through offline and online channels, including our mobile app and Weixin/WeChat mini program.
- “A-Card” loyalty program with strong customer stickiness. We built our A-Card loyalty program to enhance our engagement with guests and provide them with a unique and personalized experience. As of December 31, 2021, our A-Card loyalty program had amassed more than 30 million registered individual members. In 2021, approximately 39.7% of our room-nights were sold to our A-Card members.
- Proprietary data and technology capabilities. To provide our customers with personalized services and products, we have developed a comprehensive digital management system, which improves customer experience and operational efficiency in room reservation, room management, pricing and membership benefits. We use our data technology to identify market trends and inform our hotel management and strategic decisions, and make our hotel services and retail products more relatable to customers through seamless integration into our rooms and other consumption scenarios throughout our hotels.

In addition, we are the first hotel chain in China to develop a scenario-based retail business, according to Frost & Sullivan. We design our guest room amenities, work closely with manufacturers to deliver top-quality products, and carefully place the relevant products in guest rooms. Each of our guest rooms incorporates a fully immersive shopping destination, enabling us to further strengthen our brand elasticity with our guests. As of December 31, 2021, we had developed a total of 1,665 SKUs for scenario-based retail. The GMV generated from our retail business increased by 29.5% from RMB82.8 million in 2019 to RMB107.2 million in 2020, and further substantially by 112.9% to RMB228.2 million in 2021. In 2021, the average transaction value per scenario-based retail order reached RMB403.0.

We mainly use the manachise model to expand our hotel network in a less capital-intensive manner. We also lease the properties of the hotels we operate. As of December 31, 2021, we had 33 leased hotels and 712 manachised hotels. The number of our manachised hotels grew at a CAGR of 62.9% between 2016 and 2021.

We primarily derive our revenues from (i) franchise and management fees from our manachised hotels and sales of hotel supplies to manachised hotels, (ii) operations of our leased hotels, and (iii) sales of our retail products in connection with our scenario-based retail business. We generated net revenues of

RMB1,567.1 million, RMB1,566.6 million and RMB2,147.6 million for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. We had net income of RMB60.8 million, RMB37.8 million and RMB139.7 million for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. We had EBITDA (non-GAAP) of RMB182.5 million, RMB161.2 million and RMB299.0 million for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. For reconciliation of net income to EBITDA (non-GAAP), see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Non-GAAP Financial Measure.”

MARKET OPPORTUNITIES

Driven by China’s continuous and fast economic growth and strong demand for domestic travelling, China’s hospitality industry, especially hotel chains, has experienced steady growth in the past few years and witnessed the following key trends.

- Increasing hotel chain penetration rate. The total number of rooms offered by hotel chains increased with a CAGR of 15.2% from 2015 to 2019. Meanwhile, the hotel chain penetration rate remains at 31.5% in China’s hospitality market in 2020, much lower than the average hotel chain penetration rate of 41.9% in the world market and the penetration rate of 72.9% in the more mature U.S. market. The penetration rate of chained operation in China’s hospitality industry is anticipated to further increase.
- Consumption upgrades and consumer preference transformation. In line with continuous consumption upgrades, hoteliers in China have seen a rising demographic of young, discerning travelers who demand creative, elevated yet approachable class of hotels designed to surpass customer expectations in personalized ways. This favorable industry trend has been driving more customers to choose leading hotel brands that are capable of offering a diverse range of compelling products and services across scenario-based shopping, entertainment, culture, food and other lifestyle spheres.

OUR STRENGTHS

We believe the following competitive strengths contribute to our success and differentiate us from our competitors:

- The No.1 upper midscale hotel chain in China with a diversified brand portfolio;
- Highly efficient manachised model delivering high growth and returns;
- A “standardized” approach to personalized services with a customer-centric culture;
- Innovative scenario-based retail business with compelling private label product offerings;
- Young, loyal and growing customer base served by established direct sales channels;
- Comprehensive technology infrastructure supporting quality customer experience and efficient operation; and
- Visionary and seasoned management team.

OUR STRATEGIES

We intend to focus on the following key strategies to solidify our market leadership and achieve sustainable growth:

- Further expand our premium hotel network in China;
- Strengthen our hotel brand portfolio and expand our offerings;
- Bolster our scenario-based retail offerings to enhance customer engagement and monetization;
- Expand membership base and strengthen the lifestyle-centric ecosystem around our hotel offerings; and
- Continue to invest in technology and strengthen our data insights.

OUR CHALLENGES

Investing in the ADSs involves a high degree of risk. Investors in the ADSs are not purchasing equity securities of our subsidiaries that have substantive business operations in China but instead are purchasing equity securities of a Cayman Islands holding company. Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited is a Cayman Islands holding company that conducts all of its operations and operates its business in China through its PRC subsidiaries, in particular, Shanghai Atour Business Management Group Co., Ltd., or Atour Shanghai, and its subsidiaries. Such structure involves unique risks to investors in the ADSs. You should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties summarized below, the risks described under the “Risk Factors” section beginning on page 21 of, including the risks described under the subsections headed “Risks Related to Our Business,” “Risks Related to Doing Business in China” and “Risks Related to the ADSs and This Offering,” and the other information contained in, this prospectus before you decide whether to purchase the ADSs. In particular, as we are a China-based company incorporated in the Cayman Islands, we face various legal and operational risks and uncertainties related to being based in and having all of our operations in China. The PRC government has significant authority to exert influence on the ability of a China-based company, such as us, to conduct its business, accept foreign investments or list on an U.S. or other foreign exchanges. For example, we face risks associated with regulatory approvals of offshore offerings, anti-monopoly regulatory actions, oversight on cybersecurity and data privacy, as well as the lack of PCAOB inspection on our auditors. Such risks could result in a material change in our operations and/or the value of our ADSs or could significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to offer or continue to offer ADSs and/or other securities to investors and cause the value of such securities to significantly decline or be worthless. The PRC government also has significant oversight and discretion over the conduct of our business and our operations may be affected by evolving regulatory policies as a result. The PRC government has recently published new policies that significantly affected certain industries, and we cannot rule out the possibility that it will in the future release regulations or policies regarding our industry that could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, the PRC government has recently indicated an intent to exert more oversight and control over overseas securities offerings and other capital markets activities and foreign investment in China-based companies like us. These risks could result in a material change in our operations and the value of our Class A ordinary shares or the ADSs, or could significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to offer or continue to offer securities to investors and cause the value of such securities to significantly decline or become worthless. You should pay special attention to the subsection headed “Risks Related to Doing Business in China” below.

We face the following risks and uncertainties in realizing our business objectives and executing our strategies. For details of each of these bulleted risk factors, see “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Our Business and Industry” under the same subheadings.

- Our operating results are subject to conditions typically affecting the hospitality industry in China, any of which could reduce our revenues and limit opportunities for growth.
- If we are unable to compete successfully, our financial condition and results of operations may be harmed.
- We may not be able to manage our expected growth, which could adversely affect our operating results.
- Our expansion within existing markets and into new markets may present increased risk.
- We may not be able to successfully identify, secure or operate additional hotel properties.
- Our limited operating history makes it difficult to evaluate our future prospects and results of operations.
- The COVID-19 outbreak has adversely affected, and may continue to adversely affect, our financial and operating performance.
- If our brand reputation is harmed, it could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.
- We may be adversely affected by any negative publicity concerning us and our business, shareholders, affiliates, directors, officers, other employees, business partners, other third parties as well as the industry in which we operate, regardless of its accuracy, that could harm our reputation and business.

- We may not be successful in developing and achieving expected returns from our diversified hotel brand portfolio and co-branding collaboration, which could adversely affect our financial performance and condition.
- We are subject to various operational risks inherent in the manachise business model.
- We may not be able to successfully attract new franchisees and compete for franchise and management agreements and, as a result, we may not be able to achieve our planned growth.
- Our franchise and management agreements could be terminated early and we may not be able to renew our existing franchise and management agreements or renegotiate new franchise and management agreements when they expire.
- We may be liable for improper collection, use or appropriation of personal information provided by our customers.

We are a China-based company and we may face the following risks and uncertainties in doing business in China. For details of each of these bulleted risk factors, see “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Doing Business in China” under the same subheadings.

- Changes in China’s economic, political or social conditions or government policies could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.
- Uncertainties with respect to the PRC legal system, including uncertainties regarding the enforcement of laws, and sudden or unexpected changes in laws and regulations in China could adversely affect us and limit the legal protections available to you and us. PRC regulatory agencies may intervene or influence our operations at any time as the government deems appropriate to further regulatory, political and societal goals, or may exert more control over offerings conducted overseas or foreign investments in China-based issuers, which could result in a material change in our operations and the value of our Class A ordinary shares or the ADSs or significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to offer or continue to offer securities to investors and cause the value of such securities to significantly decline or in extreme cases, become worthless.
- Uncertainties exist with respect to the enactment timetable, interpretation and implementation of the laws and regulations with respect to our online platform business operation.
- The audit report included in this prospectus is prepared by an auditor who is not inspected by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board and as such, our investors are deprived of the benefits of such inspection.
- The recent enactment of the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act may result in de-listing of the ADSs.
- You may experience difficulties in effecting service of legal process, enforcing foreign judgments or bringing actions in China against us or our management named in the prospectus based on foreign laws.
- The approval of the China Securities Regulatory Commission or other PRC regulatory agencies may be required in connection with this offering under PRC law.

In addition to the risks described above, we are subject to the following risks relating to the ADS and this offering. For details of each of these bulleted risk factors, see “Risk Factors — Risks Related to the ADSs and This Offering” under the same subheadings.

- An active trading market for our Class A ordinary shares or the ADSs may not develop and the trading price for the ADSs may fluctuate significantly.
- The trading price of the ADSs is likely to be volatile, which could result in substantial losses to investors.
- If securities or industry analysts do not publish research or reports about our business, or if they adversely change their recommendations regarding the ADSs, the market price for the ADSs and trading volume could decline.

- Our dual-class voting structure will limit your ability to influence corporate matters and could discourage others from pursuing any change of control transactions that holders of our Class A ordinary shares and ADSs may view as beneficial.
- The dual-class structure of our ordinary shares may adversely affect the trading market for the ADSs.

See “Risk Factors” and other information included in this prospectus for a discussion of these and other risks and uncertainties that we face.

Recent Regulatory Developments

Cybersecurity Review

On December 28, 2021, the Cyberspace Administration of China (the “CAC”), and 12 other relevant PRC government authorities published the amended Cybersecurity Review Measures, which came into effect on February 15, 2022. The final Cybersecurity Review Measures provide that a “network platform operator” that possesses personal information of more than one million users and seeks a listing in a foreign country must apply for a cybersecurity review. Further, the relevant PRC governmental authorities may initiate a cybersecurity review against any company if they determine certain network products, services, or data processing activities of such company affect or may affect national security.

Potential CSRC Filing Requirements

On December 24, 2021, the CSRC published the Provisions of the State Council on the Administration of Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies (Draft for Comments), and Administrative Measures for the Filing of Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies (Draft for Comments), or, collectively, the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations. Such Draft Overseas Listing Regulations set out new filing procedures for China-based companies seeking direct or indirect listings and offerings in overseas markets. The Draft Overseas Listing Regulations require that China-based companies seeking to offer and list securities in overseas markets complete certain post-application / post-listing filing procedures with the CSRC, and that an initial filing with the CSRC be submitted within three working days after the application for an initial public offering is submitted to the overseas regulators, and that a supplemental filing with respect to the result of the overseas listing or offering be submitted after the overseas listing or offering is completed. The Draft Overseas Listing Regulations do not require a China-based company including the Company to obtain the CSRC’s pre-approval before it applies for or completes a listing or offering of securities in overseas markets.

Under the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations, an overseas offering or listing is prohibited if (i) it is prohibited by PRC laws, (ii) it constitutes a threat to or endanger national security as reviewed and determined by competent PRC authorities, (iii) it has material ownership disputes over equity, major assets, and core technology, (iv) in recent three years, the Chinese operating entities and their controlling shareholders and actual controllers have committed certain criminal offenses or are currently under investigations for suspicion of criminal offenses or major violations, (v) the directors, supervisors, or senior executives have been subject to administrative punishment for severe violations, or are currently under investigations for suspicion of criminal offenses or major violations, or (vi) it is subject to other circumstances as prescribed by the State Council.

As advised by our PRC legal advisor, the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations were released only for public comments and their provisions and anticipated adoption date are subject to changes and their interpretation and implementation remain uncertain. The Draft Overseas Listing Regulations are not clear as to whether companies like us that have already submitted an application for an initial public offering to overseas regulators but have not yet completed the offering shall be subject to such filing procedures. As of the date of this prospectus, we have not received any formal inquiry, notice, warning, sanction, or any regulatory objection from the CSRC with respect to this offering. In addition, based on our PRC legal advisor’s anonymous consultation with the CSRC on its official website, the CSRC confirmed that any overseas listing or offering shall be subject to applicable laws and regulations that are currently effective before the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations come into effect. If the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations become effective in their current forms before this offering is completed, other than uncertainties of the filing procedures which may be further clarified in the final version of these draft regulations and/or their implementation rules, we do not foresee the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations would have a material adverse impact on this offering.

Our Corporate History and Structure

Our Corporate History

Atour Shanghai was established in 2013. We currently conduct all of our businesses in China through Atour Shanghai and its subsidiaries.

We established Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited as our holding company in the Cayman Islands on April 10, 2012 in anticipation of future capital raising from international investors. Atour Hong Kong was incorporated on March 5, 2021 in Hong Kong.

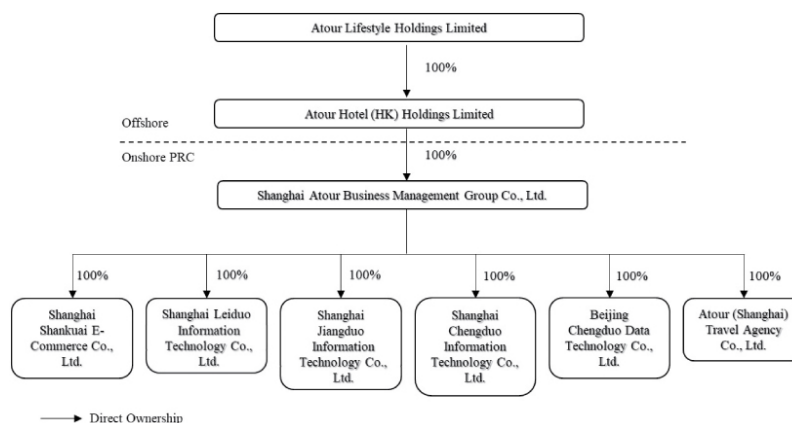

In connection with the Restructuring, Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited has acquired 100% of the equity interest in Atour Hong Kong, and Atour Hong Kong owns 100% of the equity interest in Atour Shanghai, which controls all of our business operations within the PRC.

Restructuring

We completed the Restructuring in May 2021. Upon the consummation of the Restructuring, (i) we have issued new ordinary shares to the affiliates of Existing Equityholders of Atour Shanghai such that the shareholding structure of our company at the Cayman Islands level is substantially similar to the equity ownership structure of Atour Shanghai prior to the Restructuring, and (ii) the affiliates of such Existing Equityholders have become parties to and are bound by the terms of our shareholders agreement dated March 3, 2021. For details of the steps taken to effect the Restructuring, see “Corporate History and Structure — Restructuring”.

Our Corporate Structure

The following diagram illustrates our corporate structure, including all of our significant subsidiaries within and outside of the PRC, immediately upon the completion of this offering.

Note:

- (1) Immediately after the completion of this offering, assuming the underwriters do not exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs, (i) Mr. Haijun Wang, our founder, Chairman of Board of Directors, and Chief Executive Officer, will beneficially own % of our total issued and outstanding ordinary shares and % of aggregate voting power; (ii) the other existing shareholders, in aggregate, will beneficially own % of our total issued and outstanding ordinary shares and % of the aggregate voting power; and (iii) public investors in this offering, in aggregate, will beneficially own % of our total issued and outstanding ordinary shares and % of the aggregate voting power. For details regarding the voting arrangement between Mr. Wang Haijun and certain minority shareholders, see “Principal Shareholders”.

Holding Company Structure

We are a holding company with no business operations of our own. We conduct all of our operations through our subsidiaries in China, in particular, Shanghai Atour Business Management Group Co., Ltd., or Atour Shanghai, and its subsidiaries, and a substantial portion of our assets are located in China. As a result, our ability to pay dividends and to service any debt we may incur overseas largely depends upon dividends paid by our subsidiaries. If our subsidiaries incur debt on their own behalf in the future, the instruments governing their debt may restrict their ability to pay dividends to us.

In addition, our subsidiaries in China are permitted to pay dividends to us only out of their retained earnings, if any, as determined in accordance with the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprise as promulgated by the Ministry of Finance of the PRC, or the PRC GAAP. The aggregate retained earnings for our PRC subsidiaries as determined under the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprise were RMB311.1 million and RMB387.4 million as of December 31, 2020 and 2021, respectively. Pursuant to the laws and regulations applicable to China’s foreign investment enterprises, our subsidiaries that are foreign investment enterprises in the PRC have to make appropriation from their after-tax profit, as determined under PRC GAAP, to reserve funds including (i) general reserve fund, (ii) enterprise expansion fund and (iii) staff bonus and welfare fund. The appropriation to the general reserve fund must be at least 10% of the after-tax profits calculated in accordance with PRC GAAP. Appropriation is not required if the reserve fund has reached 50% of the registered capital of our subsidiary. Appropriation to the other two reserve funds are at our subsidiaries’ discretion. Our PRC subsidiaries did not make any contributions to the enterprise expansion fund or the staff and bonus welfare fund during each period presented. The restricted amounts of our PRC subsidiaries totaled RMB58.2 million and RMB74.6 million (US$11.7 million) as of December 31, 2020 and 2021, respectively. See “Regulation — Regulations on Dividend Distribution” for a detailed discussion of the PRC legal restrictions on dividends and our ability to transfer cash within our group. In addition, ADS holders may potentially be subject to PRC taxes on dividends paid by us in the event Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited is deemed as a PRC resident enterprise for PRC tax purposes. See “Taxation — People’s Republic of China Taxation” for more details.

None of our PRC subsidiaries have issued any dividends or distributions to respective holding companies, including Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited, or any investors as of the date of this prospectus. Our subsidiaries in the PRC generate and retain cash generated from operating activities and re-invest it in our business. In May 2021, our Hong Kong subsidiary, Atour Hotel (HK) Holdings Limited, distributed RMB20.6 million to certain shareholders. Historically, Atour Shanghai has also received equity financing from its shareholders to fund business operations of our PRC subsidiaries. In 2019, 2020 and 2021, we have not transferred any cash proceeds to any of our PRC subsidiaries except for the cash transfers within our Group in connection with the Restructuring. In the future, cash proceeds raised from overseas financing activities, including this offering, may be transferred by us through our Hong Kong subsidiary, Atour Hotel (HK) Holdings Limited to our PRC subsidiary Atour Shanghai via capital contribution and shareholder loans, as the case may be. Atour Shanghai then will transfer funds to its subsidiaries to meet the capital needs of our business operations. For details about the applicable PRC rules that limit transfer of funds from overseas to our PRC subsidiaries, see “Use of Proceeds,” “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Doing Business in China — PRC regulation of loans to and direct investment in PRC entities by offshore holding companies and governmental control of currency conversion may restrict or delay us from using the proceeds of this offering to make loans or additional capital contributions to our PRC subsidiaries, which could adversely affect our liquidity and our ability to fund and expand our business” and “Regulation — Regulations on Offshore Financing.”

IMPLICATIONS OF BEING AN EMERGING GROWTH COMPANY

As a company with less than US$1.07 billion in revenue for the last fiscal year, we qualify as an “emerging growth company” pursuant to the Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act of 2012 (as amended by the Fixing America’s Surface Transportation Act of 2015), or the JOBS Act. An emerging growth company may take advantage of specified reduced reporting and other requirements that are otherwise applicable generally to public companies. These provisions include exemption from the auditor attestation requirement under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, or Section 404, in the assessment of the emerging growth company’s internal control over financial reporting. The JOBS Act also provides that an emerging growth company does not need to comply with any new or revised financial accounting standards until such date that a private company is otherwise required to comply with such new or revised accounting standards. Pursuant to the JOBS Act, we have elected to take advantage of the benefits of this extended transition period for complying with new or revised accounting standards. As a result, our operating results and financial statements may not be comparable to the operating results and financial statements of other companies who have adopted the new or revised accounting standards.

We will remain an emerging growth company until the earliest of (i) the last day of our fiscal year during which we have total annual gross revenues of at least US$1.07 billion; (ii) the last day of our fiscal year following the fifth anniversary of the completion of this offering; (iii) the date on which we have, during the previous three-year period, issued more than US$1.0 billion in non-convertible debt; or (iv) the date on which we are deemed to be a “large accelerated filer” under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act, which would occur if the market value of the ADSs that are held by non-affiliates exceeds US$700 million as of the last business day of our most recently completed second fiscal quarter. Once we cease to be an emerging growth company, we will not be entitled to the exemptions provided in the JOBS Act discussed above. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to the ADSs and This Offering — We are an emerging growth company within the meaning of the Securities Act and may take advantage of certain reduced reporting requirements.”

IMPLICATION OF BEING A CONTROLLED COMPANY

Upon the completion of this offering, Mr. Haijun Wang, our founder, Chairman of Board of Directors, and Chief Executive Officer will beneficially own % of our total issued and outstanding ordinary shares, representing % of our total voting power, assuming that the underwriters do not exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs, or % of our total issued and outstanding ordinary shares, representing % of our total voting power, assuming that the option to purchase additional ADSs is exercised by the underwriters in full. As a result, we will be a “controlled company” as defined under the Nasdaq Stock Market Rules because Mr. Haijun Wang will hold more than 50% of the voting power for the election of directors. As a “controlled company,” we are permitted to elect not to comply with certain corporate governance requirements. If we rely on these exemptions, you will not have the same protection afforded to shareholders of companies that are subject to these corporate governance requirements.

CONVENTIONS WHICH APPLY TO THIS PROSPECTUS

Unless we indicate otherwise, all information in this prospectus reflects the following:

- no exercise by the underwriters of their over-allotment option to purchase up to additional ADSs representing Class A ordinary shares from us; and

Except where the context otherwise requires and for purposes of this prospectus only:

- “ADR” refers to average daily room rate, which means room revenue divided by the number of rooms in use;
- “ADSs” refers to the American depositary shares, each representing Class A ordinary shares;
- “Atour,” “we,” “us,” “our,” “ours,” “our company,” and the “Company,” refer to Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited, a Cayman Islands company and its subsidiaries;

THE OFFERING

|----------------------|---|
| Offering price range | We currently estimate that the initial public offering price will be between US$ and US$ per ADS. |
| ADSs offered by us | ADSs (or ADSs if the underwriters exercise their over-allotment option in full). |
| The ADSs | Each ADS represents Class A ordinary shares, par value US$0.0001 per share. The depositary will hold the ordinary shares underlying the ADSs through its custodian. You will have rights as provided in the deposit agreement. We do not expect to pay dividends in the foreseeable future. If, however, we declare dividends on our Class A ordinary shares, the depositary will pay you the cash dividends and other distributions it receives on our Class A ordinary shares, after deducting its fees and expenses in accordance with the terms set forth in the deposit agreement. You may surrender the ADSs to the depositary for cancellation to receive Class A ordinary shares. The depositary will charge you fees for any cancellation. We may amend or terminate the deposit agreement without your consent. If you continue to hold the ADSs after an amendment to the deposit agreement, you agree to be bound by the deposit agreement as amended. To better understand the terms of the ADSs, you should carefully read the “Description of American Depositary Shares” section of this prospectus. You should also read the deposit agreement, which is filed as an exhibit to the registration statement that includes this prospectus. |
| Ordinary shares | We will issue Class A ordinary shares represented by the ADSs in this offering. Following the completion of this offering, our issued and outstanding share capital will consist of Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares. Holders of Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares have the same rights except for voting and conversion rights. Each Class A ordinary share is entitled to one vote, and each Class B ordinary share is entitled to ten votes and is convertible into one Class A ordinary share. Class A ordinary shares are not convertible into Class B ordinary shares under any circumstances. Upon any sale, transfer, assignment or disposition of any Class B ordinary shares by a holder thereof to any person who is not an affiliate of Mr. Haijun Wang, or upon a change of ultimate beneficial ownership of any Class B ordinary share to a person who is not an affiliate of Mr. Haijun Wang, each of such Class B ordinary shares will be automatically and immediately converted into one Class A ordinary share. All of our outstanding share options, regardless of grant dates, will entitle holders to the equivalent number of Class A ordinary shares once the vesting and exercising conditions on such share-based awards are met. See “Description of Share Capital.” |

| Over-allotment option | We have granted the underwriters the right to purchase up to an additional Class A ordinary share from us within 30 days of the date of this prospectus, to cover over-allotments, if any, in connection with the offering. |
| Listing | We have applied to list the ADSs representing our Class A ordinary shares on the Nasdaq Global Market, or Nasdaq under the symbol “ATAT”. |
| Use of proceeds | We estimate that the net proceeds to us from the offering will be approximately US$ million. We intend to use the net proceeds from the offering for (i) expanding and strengthening our hotel network in China, including funding the capital expenditures and expenses related to opening of new hotels across different Atour hotel brands and the continuous upgrades of existing hotel facilities, (ii) developing new products and services for our diversified hotel portfolio, strengthening our membership program and enhancing our branding efforts, (iii) enhancing our IT infrastructure and technologies, including digital operating systems and data analytics, to further enhance our customer experience as well as operating efficiency, (iv) selectively pursuing strategic transactions including mergers & acquisitions, joint ventures and investments in China’s hospitality and lifestyle industry; as of the date of this prospectus, we have not identified any specific target, and (v) general corporate and working capital purposes. See “Use of Proceeds.” |
| Lock-up | We, our directors, executive officers and existing shareholders have agreed with the underwriters, subject to certain exceptions, not to offer, sell, or dispose of any shares of our share capital or securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for any shares of our share capital during the 180-day period following the date of this prospectus. See “Shares Eligible for Future Sale” and “Underwriting” for more information. |
| Payment and settlement | The underwriters expect to deliver the ADSs against payment therefor through the facilities of The Depository Trust Company on , 2022. |
| Depository | The Bank of New York Mellon. |
| Taxation | For Cayman Islands, PRC and U.S. federal income tax considerations with respect to the ownership and disposition of the ADSs, see “Taxation.” |
| Risk Factors | See “Risk Factors” and other information included in this prospectus for discussions of the risks relating to investing in the ADSs. You should carefully consider these risks before deciding to invest in the ADSs. |

Unless otherwise indicated, all information contained in this prospectus assumes no exercise of the option granted to the underwriters to purchase up to additional Class A ordinary shares to cover over-allotments, if any, in connection with the offering.

The number of ordinary shares that will be outstanding immediately after this offering:

- is based upon 376,970,454 ordinary shares (including 303,289,537 Class A ordinary shares and 73,680,917 Class B ordinary shares) outstanding as of the date of this prospectus;
- assumes no exercise of the underwriters' option to purchase additional ADSs representing Class A ordinary shares;
- excludes 17,690,297 Class A ordinary shares issuable upon the exercise of 17,690,297 share options outstanding as of the date of this prospectus, at a weighted average exercise price of US$0.78 per share, which were granted pursuant to our Public Company Share Incentive Plan; and
- excludes 33,289,249 Class A ordinary shares reserved for future issuances upon the exercise of share options to be granted pursuant to our Public Company Share Incentive Plan.

RISK FACTORS

You are not purchasing equity securities of our subsidiaries that have substantive business operations in China but instead are purchasing equity securities of a Cayman Islands holding company. Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited is a Cayman Islands holding company that conducts all of its operations and operates its business in China through its PRC subsidiaries, in particular, Shanghai Atour Business Management Group Co., Ltd., or Atour Shanghai, and its subsidiaries. Such structure involves unique risks to investors in the ADSs. You should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties described below and the other information in this prospectus before making an investment in the ADSs. Our business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially and adversely affected if any of these risks occurs, and as a result, the market price of the ADSs could decline and you could lose all or part of your investment. In particular, as we are a China-based company incorporated in the Cayman Islands, you should pay special attention to the subsection headed "Risks Related to Doing Business in China" below. This prospectus also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. See "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements." Our actual results could differ materially and adversely from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including the risks and uncertainties described below and elsewhere in this prospectus.

Risks Related to Our Business and Industry

Our operating results are subject to conditions typically affecting the hospitality industry in China, any of which could reduce our revenues and limit opportunities for growth.

Our operating results are subject to conditions typically affecting the hospitality industry in China, including, among others:

- changes in national, regional or local economic conditions;
- contraction in the global economy or low levels of economic growth;
- competition from other hotels and vacation rental online marketplace companies;
- the attractiveness of our hotels to our guests;
- local market conditions such as an oversupply of, or a reduction in demand for, hotel rooms;
- adverse weather conditions, natural disasters or serious contagious diseases, such as COVID-19;
- the ability of third-party internet and other travel intermediaries who sell our hotel rooms to guests to attract and retain customers;
- the availability and cost of capital necessary for us and third-party hotel owners to fund investments, capital expenditures and service debt obligations;
- delays in or cancellations of planned or future development or refurbishment projects;
- seasonal and cyclical volatility in the hospitality industry;
- changes in desirability of geographic regions of the hotels in our business, geographic concentration of our operations and customers and shortages of desirable locations for development;
- the performance of managerial and other employees of our hotels; and
- increases in operating costs and expenses, particularly rents, due to inflation and other factors.

Changes in any of these conditions could adversely affect our occupancy rates, ADR and RevPAR, or otherwise adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

If we are unable to compete successfully, our financial condition and results of operations may be harmed.

The hospitality industry in China is highly competitive. Competition for guests and customers is primarily focused on hotel room rates, quality of accommodations, brand recognition, convenience of location, geographic coverage, quality and range of services, other lifestyle offerings, and guest amenities. We mainly compete with other branded and independent hotel operating companies, national and international hotel brands and ownership companies. In addition, we may face competition from new entrants in the hospitality industry in China or increased competition from competitors who are expanding rapidly. Such competitors include vacation rental online marketplace companies. New and existing competitors may offer more competitive rates, greater convenience, superior services or amenities, or superior facilities, possibly attracting guests away from our hotels and resulting in lower occupancy rate and ADR for our hotels.

Competitors may also outbid us in the selection of sites for new leased hotel conversion, negotiate better management terms for potential manachised hotels or offer better terms to our existing manachised hotel owners, thereby slowing our anticipated pace of expansion. Furthermore, our typical guests may change their travel, spending and consumption patterns and choose to stay in other types of hotels. Any of these factors may have an adverse effect on our competitive position, results of operations and financial condition.

We may not be able to manage our expected growth, which could adversely affect our operating results.

We have experienced substantial growth in the past. Over the past few years, we increased the number of our hotels in China to 745 as of December 31, 2021, and we intend to continue to convert, operate and manage additional hotels in markets where we have a presence and in additional cities in China. Our expansion has placed, and will continue to place, substantial demands on our managerial, financial, operational, IT, and other resources. In order to manage and support our growth, we must continue to improve our existing managerial, operational and IT systems, including our financial and management controls, and recruit, train and retain qualified hotel management and other personnel. Our planned expansion will also require us to maintain consistent and high-quality accommodations and services to ensure that our brand does not suffer as a result of any deviations, whether actual or perceived, in our quality standards. We cannot assure you that we will be able to effectively and efficiently manage the growth of our operations or maintain our quality standards. If we are unable to do so, our results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected.

Our expansion within existing markets and into new markets may present increased risk.

Our expansion within markets where we already have a presence may adversely affect the financial performance of our hotels in operation in those markets and, as a result, negatively affect our overall results of operations. Furthermore, expansion into new markets may present operating and marketing challenges that are different from those that we currently encounter in our existing markets. Guests and franchisees in any new market may not be familiar with our brands and we may need more time to build brand awareness in that market through greater investments in advertising and promotional activities than we anticipated. We may find it more difficult in new markets to hire, motivate and keep qualified employees who share our vision, passion and culture. Expansion into new markets may also cause certain of our non-financial key performance indicators to decline, such as our ADR, occupancy rate and RevPAR, as new markets may have lower average hotel room rates than markets in which we currently have a presence and our new hotels tend to have a lower occupancy rate than our more mature hotels. Our inability to anticipate the changing demands that expanding operations will impose on our managerial, operational, IT, and other resources, or our failure to quickly adapt our systems and procedures to the demands of new markets, could result in lost revenues and increased expenses and otherwise harm our results of operations and financial condition.

We may not be able to successfully identify, secure or operate additional hotel properties.

We plan to open more hotels in markets where we have a presence and new cities in China to further grow our business. We may not be successful in identifying, leasing, managing and operating additional hotel properties at desirable locations and on commercially reasonable terms, or at all. In more developed cities, it may be difficult to increase the number of hotels because we or our competitors may already have operations in such cities, rental prices may increase, or our competitors may be able to gain leases of properties before we can do so. In some cases, our competitors may be willing to enter into less favorable lease or hotel management arrangements in order to prevent us from securing a particular property. Alternatively, in less developed cities, demand for our hotels may not increase as rapidly as we may expect. In addition, even if we are able to successfully identify and lease or manage new hotel properties, new hotels may not generate the returns we expect. Furthermore, we may incur costs in connection with evaluating properties and negotiating with property owners, lessors and manachised hotel owners, including properties that we are subsequently unable to lease or manage. If we fail to successfully identify or compete for additional hotel properties, our ability to execute our growth strategy could be impaired and our business and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

Our limited operating history makes it difficult to evaluate our future prospects and results of operations.

We believe that our future success depends on our ability to achieve sustainable and profitable growth. We have a limited operating history since we commenced our business operations in China in 2013. Our limited operating history and significant growth make it difficult to evaluate our historical performance or prospects. In addition, fluctuations in results could make period to period comparisons difficult. You should consider our future prospects in light of the risks and challenges encountered by a company with a limited operating history. These risks and challenges include, among others:

- the uncertainties associated with our ability to continue our growth and maintain profitability;
- preserving our competitive position in the upper midscale hotel segment of the hospitality industry in China;
- offering consistent and high-quality accommodations and services to retain and attract guests;
- implementing our strategy and modifying it from time to time to respond effectively to competition and changes in customer preferences;
- our ability to introduce new hotel and other lifestyle offerings to achieve our goal to become a leading lifestyle brand;
- increasing awareness of our Atour brand and continuing to develop customer loyalty; and
- recruiting, training and retaining qualified managerial and other personnel.

If we are unsuccessful in addressing any of these risks or challenges, our business may be materially and adversely affected.

The COVID-19 outbreak has adversely affected, and may continue to adversely affect, our financial and operating performance.

The travel industry has been severely affected by the outbreak of COVID-19 since the beginning of 2020 due to the reduced traveler traffic in China. In addition, countries across the world, including China, have to date adopted and maintained various quarantine and/or control measures for inbound travelers, which limited cross-border people movements and further harmed the travel industry in China. These measures could slow down the development of the Chinese economy and adversely affect global economic conditions and financial markets.

The Chinese government has also implemented strict nationwide containment measures against COVID-19, including travel restrictions, lock-downs of certain cities and hotel closures. Such containment measures have continued to negatively affect the key operating metrics of our leased and managed hotels, including occupancy rates, ADR and RevPAR. Specifically, approximately 1,777 and 1,191 thousand room-nights, throughout 2020 and 2021, respectively, representing 8.6% and 4.3% of the total available room-nights, became temporarily unavailable at various times throughout 2020 and 2021. As a result of the initial COVID-19 outbreak in the first half of 2020 in China and excluding the impact of requisitioned hotels, the occupancy rate of our hotels decreased from 73.4% in 2019 to 67.1% in 2020. The ADR of our hotels decreased by 9.2% from RMB429.5 to RMB389.8 during the same years. Our RevPAR, as a result, decreased by 16.5% from RMB329.5 to RMB275.1 during the same years. While these key operating metrics largely improved during the second half of 2020 because the Chinese government had effectively curbed the spread of the COVID-19, we experienced fluctuations in key operating metrics of our hotels (exclusive of requisitioned hotels) throughout 2021, attributable primarily to the recurrence of the COVID-19 from time to time in various cities across China. As a result, while the occupancy rate of our hotels increased from 67.1% in 2020 to 67.7% in 2021, it was still below that of 73.4% in 2019. Similarly, the ADR of our hotels was RMB415.2 in 2021, as compared to that of RMB429.5 in 2019. Accordingly, we recorded RevPAR of RMB294.9 in 2021, which, despite growing from RMB275.1 in 2020, is still lower than RevPAR of RMB329.5

in 2019. For our occupancy rate, RevPAR and ADR inclusive of the requisitioned hotels, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Key Performance Indicators”.

Since the outbreak of COVID-19 and up to December 31, 2021, the Chinese governmental authorities had accumulatively requisitioned a total of 170 of our hotels (including approximately 2.0 million room-nights) in various locations and during different periods for the accommodation of medical support workers and for quarantine purposes in response to the COVID-19 outbreak. All other than four of these hotels were managed hotels. As of the date of this prospectus, approximately 90% of our hotels are being operated normally. We did not generate any revenue relating to sales based on continuing franchise fees from our managed hotels used for quarantine purposes as the franchisees of such hotels were not required to pay us any continuing franchise fees during the quarantine periods.

Such events also increased the probability that franchisees will be unable to fund working capital and to repay or refinance indebtedness, which may cause our franchisees to declare bankruptcy. Such bankruptcies may result in termination of our franchise and management agreements and eliminate our anticipated income and cash flows. Moreover, bankrupt franchisees may not have sufficient assets to pay termination fees, other unpaid fees, reimbursements or unpaid loans owed to us. The spread of COVID-19 had also adversely affected our suppliers and other business partners. If any of our suppliers and other business partners experiences financial distress, suffers business disruptions, goes out of business or files for bankruptcy due to the COVID-19 outbreak, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected. In addition, if any of our employees or customers is suspected of having contracted or has contracted COVID-19 while he or she has worked or stayed in our hotels, we may under certain circumstances be required to quarantine our employees that are affected and the affected areas of our premises.

There are no comparable recent events that provide guidance as to the effect the COVID-19 as a global pandemic may have, and, as a result, the ultimate impact of the pandemic is highly uncertain and subject to change, even though conditions have been gradually improving. It is possible that the COVID-19 may not be eliminated, and a new wave of outbreaks may recur at any time, such as the recent resurgence of the Omicron variant of COVID-19 in a number of Chinese cities since the beginning of 2022. As a result, we do not yet know the full extent of the impacts on our business, our operations or the global economy as a whole. Our occupancy rate in cities where such outbreak recur will be adversely affected. The potential economic downturn brought by and the duration of the COVID-19 pandemic are difficult to assess or predict and their actual effects will depend on many factors beyond our control. To the extent COVID-19 adversely affects our business, financial condition and results of operations, it may also heighten some of the other risks described in this “Risk Factors” section.

If our brand reputation is harmed, it could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

We believe our “Atour” and “Yaduo” brands are integral to our success, including the success of our sales and marketing efforts and our efforts to grow through hotel management arrangements. Our continued success in maintaining and enhancing our brand depends, to a large extent, on our ability to provide consistent and high-quality accommodations and services across our hotel chain, and design and introduce new accommodations and services to meet customer demands, as well as our ability to respond to competitive pressures. In addition, we must maintain our hotels’ good condition and attractive appearance which requires ongoing renovations and other leasehold improvements, including periodic repair and replacement of furniture, fixtures and equipment. Our future lifestyle brand offerings, if any, also depend on successful execution of our brand strategy and customer perception of us as a leading and pioneering lifestyle brand. If we are unable to maintain and enhance our brand reputation or fail to execute our brand strategy, our occupancy and room rates may decline and our new lifestyle brand offerings may not be widely accepted by customers, which would adversely affect our business and results of operations.

We may be adversely affected by any negative publicity concerning us and our business, shareholders, affiliates, directors, officers, other employees, business partners, other third parties as well as the industry in which we operate, regardless of its accuracy, that could harm our reputation and business.

Our ability to attract and retain customers is highly dependent upon the external perceptions of our services, trustworthiness and business practices. Negative perceptions or publicity about us and our business, shareholders, affiliates, directors, officers, employees, business partners, other third parties as well as the industry in which we operate, even if related to isolated incidents, could erode trust and confidence and damage our reputation among existing and potential customers. In turn, this could decrease the demand for our products and services, increase regulatory scrutiny and detrimentally effect our business. In addition to traditional media, there has been an increasing use of social media platforms and similar devices in China, including instant messaging applications, social media websites and other forms of internet-based communications that provide individuals with access to a broad audience of consumers and other interested persons. Negative publicity concerning these parties could be related to a wide variety of matters, including, but are not limited to:

- alleged misconduct or other improper activities committed by our directors, officers, and employees, our franchisees and their personnel, as well as our business partners;
- false or malicious allegations or rumors about us or our directors, shareholders, affiliates, officers, employees and franchisees;
- complaints by our customers about our products and services;
- security breaches of private customer or transaction data;
- employment-related claims relating to alleged employment discrimination, wage and hour violations; and
- governmental and regulatory investigations or penalties resulting from our failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations.

The availability of information on instant messaging applications and social media platforms is virtually immediate as is its impact without affording us an opportunity for redress or correction. The opportunity for dissemination of information, including inaccurate information, is seemingly limitless and readily available. Information concerning our company, shareholders, directors, officers and employees may be posted on such platforms at any time. The risks associated with any such negative publicity or incorrect information cannot be completely eliminated or mitigated and may materially harm our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

Furthermore, our brand name and our business may be harmed by aggressive marketing and communication strategies by competitors and third parties. We may be subject to government or regulatory investigation or third-party claims as a result and we may be required to spend significant time and incur substantial costs to react to and address these consequences. There is no assurance that we will be able to effectively refute each of the allegations within a reasonable period of time, or at all. Additionally, public allegations, directly or indirectly, against us or our business partners, may be posted online by anyone on an anonymous basis. The availability of information on social media platforms is virtually immediate, as is its impact. Social media platforms may not necessarily filter or check the accuracy of information before publishing them and we are often afforded little or no time to respond. As a result, our reputation may be materially and adversely affected and our ability to attract and retain customers and maintain our market share and our financial conditions may suffer.

We may not be successful in developing and achieving expected returns from our diversified hotel brand portfolio and co-branding collaboration, which could adversely affect our financial performance and condition.

We intend to diversify our brand portfolio and mix of hospitality offerings. Since 2016, we have launched a variety of new brands to cater to varying customer needs and preferences, including Atour Light, Atour X, Atour S, ZHOTEL and A.T. House. We also collaborated with a variety of reputable third-party brands to develop our themed hotel brands and properties. Going forward, we plan to establish new brands and further collaborate with third-party brands to diversify our brand portfolio. However, any new brands or new co-branding collaboration that we have launched or may launch in the future may not achieve anticipated returns. The development of a new brand requires significant upfront market research and accurate prediction of customer preferences, followed by hotel development process that takes a considerable amount of time. We may not possess enough knowledge or experience in expanding into these new market segments and we may face more competition in such new market segments. We cannot assure you that our efforts in developing new hotel and co-branding collaboration will be successful. If a new hotel brand or a co-branding initiative is not well received by our customers, we may not be able to generate sufficient revenue to offset related costs and expenses, and our overall financial performance and condition may be adversely affected.

Our growth depends on our ability to increase revenues generated by our existing and future hotels and from our existing and future members.

While sales growth will depend in part on our plans for new hotel openings, deeper penetration into existing and new geographic markets and increased sales at our existing hotels will also affect our sales growth and will continue to be critical factors affecting our revenue and profit. Our ability to increase the revenues generated by our hotels depends in part on our ability to successfully implement our growth strategy and related initiatives. Our ability to penetrate further into the existing geographic markets where we already have a presence depends in part on our ability to successfully market ourselves and to maintain and increase sales to our existing members and attract more members to our A-Card membership program. We may not be able to achieve our targeted sales growth at our existing and future hotels, and sales at such hotels could decrease. In addition, we may not be able to achieve our targeted level of expansion within existing and new geographic markets. The occurrence of any of such events may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our costs and expenses may remain constant or increase even if our revenues decline.

A significant portion of our operating costs for a particular period, including rent, is fixed. Accordingly, a decrease in our revenues could result in a disproportionately higher decrease in our earnings because our operating costs and expenses may not decrease proportionately. For example, during January and February, the months during which the Chinese New Year falls, our occupancy rates tend to decline and our revenues fall, but our expenses do not vary significantly since we continue to pay rent and salary, make regular repairs, conduct maintenance and renovations, and invest in other capital improvements on a continuous basis to maintain the attractiveness of our hotels. In addition, our conversion costs may increase as a result of increasing costs of materials and our labor costs may increase over time. However, we have a limited ability to pass increased costs on to guests through hotel room rate increases. For example, our total operating costs increased by 2.4% from RMB1,490.3 million in 2019 to RMB1,526.7 million in 2020, while our net revenue decreased slightly from RMB1,567.1 million in 2019 to RMB1,566.6 million in 2020, primarily due to decreases in occupancy rate and ADR of our hotels as a result of the COVID-19 outbreak. Therefore, our costs and expenses may remain constant or increase even if our revenues decline, which would adversely affect our net margins and results of operations.

Some of our existing development pipeline may not be developed into new hotels, which could materially and adversely affect our growth prospects.

As of December 31, 2021, we had 338 hotels with a total of 37,987 hotel rooms in our development pipeline, which we define as hotels under construction or approved for development under our hotel brands. The commitments of owners and developers with whom we have contracts are subject to numerous conditions, and the eventual development and construction of our development pipeline not currently under construction is subject to numerous risks, including, in certain cases, the owner's or developer's ability to obtain adequate financing and obtaining governmental or regulatory approvals. As a result, not every hotel in our development pipeline may develop into a new hotel that enters our system.

We are subject to various operational risks inherent in the manachise business model.

Our success could be adversely affected by the performance of our manachised hotels, which are subject to a variety of risks inherent in our manachise business model. Under the manachise business model, we manage hotels through the on-site hotel managers and HR representatives we appoint to each hotel and collect fees from franchisees. We plan to continue to increase the number of manachised hotels in the future. Our franchisees may not be able to develop hotel properties on a timely basis, which could adversely affect our growth strategy and may impact our ability to collect fees from them on a timely basis.

We oversee and manage the operations of our manachised hotels pursuant to various franchise and management agreements. However, we are not able to control the actions of our franchisees. Under those franchise and management agreements, our franchisees are typically responsible for developing hotel properties on a timely basis, bearing the costs and expenses of developing and operating the hotels, including costs of renovating the hotels to our standards and recruiting and employing hotel staff. However, if our franchisees have difficulties in accessing capital or are reluctant to make investments for the management or renovation of the hotels, we may not be able to force them to secure the required capital and the quality of our manachised hotels' operations may be thereby diminished. The risk can be magnified where such fanchisees own multiple hotels under our brand.

Besides, as the hospitality industry in China is subject to various hospitality industry, health and safety, construction, fire prevention and environmental laws and regulations, we cannot ensure that all of our franchisees or manachised hotels comply with these laws and regulations. We normally require our franchisees to secure relevant governmental approvals and permits for operating the hotels in our standard franchise and management agreements and require that our franchisees provide us with some basic approvals and permits, including, among others, business license, special industry license and fire prevention safety inspection certificates. However, some of our franchisees may fail to obtain or renew such approvals or permits in a timely manner, or at all. Any failure to obtain or renew such approvals or permits or to comply with the laws and regulations will negatively effect the operation of our manachised hotels, which will in turn have a material adverse effect on our results of operations.

As many factors affecting the operations of those hotels are beyond our control, we cannot assure you that the quality of the services in our manachised hotels are consistent with our standards and requirements. Although we send for routine inspection purposes regional managers and members of our quality control team to manachised hotels on a regular basis, we may not be able to identify problems in their operations and make responses on a timely basis. Our manachised hotels are also operated under our brand names. As a result, our image and reputation may suffer due to misuse of our brands by any of our franchisees, which may have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations. In addition, like any operators in service-oriented industries, we are subject to customer complaints and we may face complaints from unsatisfied customers who are unhappy with the standard of service offered by our franchisees. Any complaints, regardless of their nature and validity, may affect our reputation, thereby adversely affecting our results of operations. We may also have to incur additional costs in placating any customers or salvaging our reputation. We have closed a limited number of manachised hotels that did not comply with our brand and operating standards in the past. If any of our franchisees defaults or commits wrongdoing, such franchisee may not be in a position to sufficiently compensate us for losses which we have suffered as a result of such defaults or wrongdoings. While we ultimately can take action to terminate our franchisees that do not comply with the terms of our franchise and management agreements or commit wrongdoing, we may not be able to identify problems and make timely responses and, as a result, our image and reputation may suffer, which may have a material adverse effect on our results of operations.

In addition to quality standards, safety incidents such as fire accidents may occur at our manachised hotels despite our supervision. Any such occurrence may result in substantial reputational harm to us and our brands. In addition, if such safety incidents occur at any of the manachised hotels that do not possess the relevant licenses, permits or inspection certificate, there could be substantial negative publicity, thereby triggering government actions that could impact our entire hotel network, which in turn will have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Although our proprietary information system can collect operational and financial data of each hotel, we may not be able to avoid fraud or manipulation of such data by some franchisees, which may adversely affect the ability to effectively respond to potential issues. Moreover, the term of lease for some of the properties of our franchisees is shorter than the typical term of our franchise and management agreements. We cannot assure you that upon expiration, these franchisees will be able to renew their leases in order to perform their franchise and management agreements with us.

We may not be able to successfully attract new franchisees and compete for franchise and management agreements and, as a result, we may not be able to achieve our planned growth.

Our growth strategy largely depends on our ability to further expand our presence through entering into franchise and management agreements with our franchisees. We believe that our ability to attract new franchisees and compete for franchise and management agreements with them depends primarily on our brand recognition and reputation, the results of our overall operations in general and the success of our current managed hotels. Other competitive factors for franchise and management agreements include marketing support, membership program, efficiency of our central reservation system (“CRS”) and IT infrastructure, our ability to provide systems and support to assist franchisees to operate their hotels cost-effectively.

The terms of any new franchise and management agreements that we obtain also depend on the terms that our competitors offer for those agreements. In addition, if the availability of suitable locations for new properties decreases, or governmental planning or other local regulations change, the supply of suitable properties for additional managed hotels could diminish. If the performance of our managed hotels is less successful than that of our competitors’ hotels or if we are unable to offer terms as favorable as those offered by our competitors, we may not be able to compete effectively for new franchise and management agreements and we may not be able to attract as many new franchisees as we expect. As a result, we may not be able to achieve our planned growth and our business and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

Our franchise and management agreements could be terminated early and we may not be able to renew our existing franchise and management agreements or renegotiate new franchise and management agreements when they expire.

We franchise our brands to third parties pursuant to franchise and management agreements or other similar agreements. These franchise and management agreements may be renegotiated or may expire. The versions of franchise and management agreements we have used during recent years typically have a fixed term of 8 to 15 years. We plan to renew our existing franchise and management agreements upon expiration or renegotiate with our franchisees for new franchise and management agreements. However, we may be unable to retain our franchisees on satisfactory terms, or at all. In addition, our franchise and management agreements could also be terminated early due to a number of reasons, including property disputes or defects, franchisees’ financial difficulties, regulatory non-compliance, and others, many of which are beyond our control. If a significant number of our existing franchise and management agreements expire and new franchisees do not cover those expired franchisees or a significant number of our franchisees terminate the franchise and management agreements with us early, our revenue and profit may decrease in the future, and our results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

In addition, disputes could arise between us and our franchisees under our franchise and management agreements. We or our franchisees may take legal actions against each other in connection with such disputes. No assurance can be given as to the outcome of any such legal proceedings, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Even if we and our related parties are successful in our attempt to defend ourselves in legal and administrative actions or to assert our rights under various laws, enforcing our rights against the various parties involved may be expensive, time-consuming and ultimately futile. These actions could expose us to negative publicity and to substantial monetary damages and legal defense costs, injunctive relief, and criminal and civil liabilities and/or penalties.

As the hospitality industry in China is highly competitive, the terms of our franchise and management agreements are influenced by contract terms offered by our competitors. We cannot assure you that the terms of franchise and management agreements for new managed hotels entered into or renewed in the future will be as favorable as the terms under our existing franchise and management agreements. If such agreements cannot be renewed on satisfactory terms upon expiration, our results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

Our failure to comply with franchise regulations may result in penalties to us and could have a material adverse effect on our business.

In China, any entity engaging in franchise activities are subject to the supervision and administration of the Ministry of Commerce, or the MOC, and its local counterparts. Under the relevant regulations, franchisors are required to file their franchise agreements with the MOC or its local counterparts, and are required to report to the MOC regarding the franchise agreements that they executed, canceled, renewed or amended in the previous year within the first quarter of every year. Fifteen days after a franchisor first enters into a franchise agreement, the franchisor is required to make appropriate filing with the MOC or its local counterparts. We cannot guarantee that we will obtain all applicable approvals and make all appropriated filings pursuant to laws and regulations, and such non-compliance could subject us to fines and other penalties that may negatively affect our operation, which could result in a material adverse effect on our business. Besides, given the uncertainties in the interpretation of relevant laws and regulations, our management agreements or trademark license agreements may be determined to be franchise agreements by the relevant authorities, in which case we may be required to obtain approvals or make filings for such activities, and failure to do so may also subject us to fines and other penalties.

Besides, the franchise activities are subject to various laws and regulations. For example, before entering into franchise agreements, the franchisor is required to correctly, accurately and fully disclose and provide specified written information to the franchisee regarding the franchised businesses, which includes certain proprietary information. If we violate the disclosure requirements related to franchise activities, our franchisees may choose to terminate their franchise agreements with us, and we could be subject to fines and other penalties that may negatively affect our operation, which could result in a material adverse effect on our business. Apart from that, all franchise agreements are required to include certain provisions, such as termination rights and payment obligations. If we are required to revise our agreements pursuant to applicable laws and regulations, such revised terms may be less favorable to us, which could materially diminish the economic value of our agreements.

We may not be able to convert leased hotels on a timely or cost-efficient basis, which may adversely affect our growth strategy and business prospects.

We fund and oversee the conversion of our leased hotels. Our involvement in the conversion of leased properties presents a number of risks, including conversion delays or cost overruns, which may result in increased project costs or lost revenues. We may be unable to recover conversion costs we incur for projects that are not pursued to completion. In addition, properties that we convert could become less attractive due to market saturation or oversupply, meaning we may be unable to recover conversion costs at the expected rate, or at all. Furthermore, we may not have available cash to complete projects that we have commenced, or we may be unable to obtain financing for conversion of future properties on favorable terms, if at all. If we are unable to successfully manage our hotel conversion activities to minimize these risks, our growth strategy and business prospects may be adversely affected.

Our new leased hotels typically incurred significant pre-opening expenses during their development stages and generated relatively low revenues during their ramp-up stages, which may have a significant negative impact on our results of operations.

During the development stages of each new leased hotel, significant pre-opening expenses will typically be incurred. During the ramp-up stage immediately after the opening of each new leased hotel, its occupancy rate increases gradually and its revenues may be insufficient to cover its operating costs, which are relatively fixed in nature. As a result, most newly opened leased hotels may not achieve profitability until they reach a mature level of operations. We may also be unable to recover development costs we incur for projects that are not completed. Any expansion of our leased hotel portfolio would incur significant pre-opening expenses during the development stage and relatively low revenues during the ramp-up stage of such newly opened leased hotels, whose expenses may have a significant negative impact on our results of operations. Properties that we develop could become less attractive due to market saturation, oversupply or changes in market demand, with the result that we may not be able to recover development costs as we expect, or at all.

Our legal right to lease certain properties to operate our leased hotels could be challenged by property owners or other third parties, which could prevent us from continuing to operate our leased hotels or increase the costs associated with operating these hotels.

We rely on leases with third parties who either own or lease the properties from the ultimate property owners to operate our leased hotels. The land use rights and other property rights with respect to properties we currently lease for our existing hotels could be challenged. As of the date of this prospectus, our lessors failed to provide us with the valid property ownership certificates and/or the land use rights certificates for approximately 7.73% of all of our leased hotels in terms of gross floor area. While we have performed due diligence to verify the rights of our lessors to lease such properties, including inspecting documentation issued by competent government authorities evidencing these lessors' land use rights and other property rights with respect to these properties, the lessees' rights under those leases could be challenged by other parties including government authorities in China. If the properties are deemed to be illegal constructions or the landlords do not have the rights to lease the properties to the lessees for hotel operations purposes, the lessors (instead of the lessees) may be subject to monetary penalties and the lease agreements may be invalidated. We may therefore be required to relocate our relevant hotels. In addition, some of our properties where our leased hotels are located are owned by governmental and other third-party organizations, and such leases are subject to present and future policies in China related to government-owned properties or other similar types of properties. In the event that we could no longer operate on such sites, we may suffer financial losses.

We also cannot assure you that we can always keep good title of the properties we lease currently or will lease in the future, free and clear of all liens, encumbrances and defects. If the ultimate owner of the property changes after the original owner of such property mortgages such property to any third party, lessees' legal rights under the lease agreement may be affected adversely and we may not rank senior in the right of continuing occupying the property. In addition to the above risks, we also face potential disputes with property owners, primary lease holders or third parties. Such disputes, whether or not resolved in our favor, may divert management attention, involve significant cost, harm our reputation and otherwise disrupt our business.

Failure to comply with lease registration under PRC law may subject both parties to such leases to fines or other penalties that may negatively affect our ability to operate our leased hotels.

Under PRC law, all lease agreements are required to be registered with the local housing bureau, including those relating to the leased properties underlying our leased hotels. While the majority of our standard lease agreements require the lessors to make such registrations, most of our leases entered into in connection with our leased hotels as of the date of this prospectus have not been registered as required by PRC law, which may expose both lessors and lessees to potential monetary fines ranging from RMB1,000 to RMB10,000 for each non-registration. Some of our rights under the unregistered leases may also be subordinated to the rights of other interested third parties.

In addition, in some instances where the lessors or lessees are not the ultimate owners of hotel properties, no consents or permits have been obtained from the property owners, the primary lease holders or competent government authorities, as applicable, for the subleases of the hotel properties to certain of our hotels, which could potentially invalidate the leases for our hotel properties or lead to the renegotiation of such leases that result in terms less favorable to us or even relocation of our relevant hotels. Some of the properties leased from third parties were also subject to mortgages at the time the leases were signed. Moreover, the property ownership or leasehold in connection with our manachised hotels could be subject to similar third-party claims.

Failure to comply with land- and property-related requirements under PRC law may subject lessors to fines or other penalties that may negatively affect our ability to operate our leased hotels.

Lessors of our hotel properties are required to comply with various land- and property-related laws and regulations to enable them to lease effective titles of their properties for our hotel use. For example, before any properties located on state-owned land in China with allocated or leased land use rights or on land owned by collective organizations may be leased to third parties, lessors should obtain appropriate approvals from competent government authorities. In addition, properties used for hotel operations and the underlying land should be approved for hospitality use or appropriate commercial use purposes by competent government authorities. Some of the lessors of our hotel properties have not obtained the required governmental approvals, including approvals of the properties for hospitality use purposes. As of the date of this prospectus, for approximately 24.39% of all of our leased hotels in terms of gross floor area, the lessors have not obtained the required governmental approvals for the properties to be used for hospitality use purposes. Failure to comply with the land- and property-related laws and regulations may subject the lessors to monetary fines or other penalties and may lead to the invalidation or termination of the leases and relocation of our relevant leased hotels, and therefore may adversely affect our results of operations.

While some lessors have agreed to indemnify lessees against the losses resulting from the lessors' failure to obtain the required approvals, there is no assurance that the lessees will be able to successfully enforce such indemnification obligations against the lessors or that such indemnification can cover losses from all the property defects. As a result, we may suffer significant losses resulting from the lessors' failure to obtain required approvals to the extent that the lessees are not fully indemnified by the lessors.

The lease agreements for our leased hotels could be terminated early, the existing leases may not be renewed on commercially reasonable terms and the rents paid by us could increase substantially, which could materially and adversely affect our operations.

The terms of leases for leased hotels typically provide, among other things, that the lease could be terminated under certain legal or factual conditions. If any such lease were terminated early, operations of the related hotel property may be interrupted or discontinued and costs may be incurred by us to relocate to another location. Furthermore, we may be liable to our lessors, guests and other vendors and may be required to pay losses and damages due to our default under relevant contracts. As a result, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

Although we intend to renew existing leases of certain of our leased hotels, there can be no assurance that we will be able to renew such leases and maintain current hotel operations on satisfactory terms, or at all. In particular, we may experience increased rent payments and increased operating cost in connection with renegotiating leases. If we fail to maintain current hotel operations on satisfactory terms upon expiration of the leases, the respective operating costs of our company may increase and overall profits generated from hotel operations may decrease. If we are unable to pass on increased costs to our guests through room rate increases, the operating margins and earnings of our company could decrease and our results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

Our leases typically allow us to terminate the lease early under limited circumstances, and in some instances, our leases contain a term which requires us to pay the contingent rent for our wrongful early termination of such agreements. If disputes between us and our landlords occur in the future, and resolved in favor of our landlords, we may need to pay losses and damages to the landlords and as a result, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

Default in payment by franchisees and/or corporate account clients that have large account receivable balances could adversely impact our cash flows, working capital, results of operations and financial condition.

Our accounts receivable include amounts due from our franchisees and corporate clients whose employees are guests in our leased hotels. Our corporate clients may choose to settle with us directly, and we typically require our franchisees to pay various fees pursuant to their franchise and management agreements with us on a monthly basis. Our net accounts receivable balance was RMB140.1 million and RMB100.0 million as of December 31, 2020 and 2021.

We are subject to the risk that we may be unable to collect accounts receivable in a timely manner, or at all. An extended period of hotel room vacancy or decrease in room rates, which may be the result of a variety of factors such as unfavorable economic conditions in China and globally, may adversely affect our ability to collect accounts receivable in a timely manner, or at all. Such risk was higher as a result of the outbreak of COVID-19 resulting in financial difficulties of certain of our franchisees. We extended credit terms to certain franchisees during the pandemic as part of our support for franchisees. As a result, our franchisees and/or corporate account clients may not be able to pay us in a timely fashion and our accounts receivable and allowance for doubtful accounts may accordingly increase. Our liquidity and cash flows from operations may be adversely affected if our accounts receivable cycles or collections periods lengthen or if we encounter a material increase in defaults of payment of our account receivable.

In order to mitigate such risks, we conduct rigorous due diligence checks on prospective franchisees and regularly assess the creditworthiness of corporate account clients. However, these mitigating efforts cannot ensure that we will be able to collect accounts receivable. If the accounts receivable cannot be collected in time, or at all, a significant amount of bad debt expense will occur, and our business, financial condition and results of operation will likely be materially and adversely affected.

Interruption or failure of our technology platform or IT system could impair our ability to effectively provide accommodations and services, which could damage our reputation.

Our ability to provide consistent and high-quality services across our hotel chain depends on the continued operation of our technology platform and IT system. Any damage to, or failure of, our technology platform or IT system could interrupt our service. Our technology platform and IT system are vulnerable to damage or interruption as a result of power loss, telecommunications failures, computer viruses, hackers, fires, floods, earthquakes, or other attempts or incidents to harm our systems, and similar events. We rely on cloud servers maintained by third-party service providers to store most of our data. Problems with our cloud service provider or the telecommunications network providers with whom it contract could adversely affect the experience of our guests. Our cloud service provider could decide to cease providing us with services without adequate prior notice. Any change in service levels at our cloud servers or any errors, defects, disruptions, or other performance problems with our platform could harm our brand and may damage the data of our guests. In addition, our servers may also be vulnerable to break-ins, sabotage and vandalism. Some of our systems are not fully redundant and our disaster recovery planning does not account for all possible scenarios. In addition, our technology platform, IT system and related technologies may become outdated and we may not be able to replace or introduce upgrades as quickly as our competitors or within budgeted costs for such upgrades. If we experience frequent, prolonged or persistent technology platform or IT system failures, the quality of our services and our reputation could be harmed. The steps we need to take to increase the reliability and redundancy of our technology platform and IT system may be costly, which could reduce our operating margin, and may not be successful in reducing the frequency or duration of any failures or service interruptions.

Moreover, our business also relies upon the overall performance of the internet infrastructure and telecommunications networks in China. Almost all access to the internet is maintained through state-owned telecommunications operators under the administrative control and regulatory supervision of the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology (MIIT). Moreover, we have entered into contracts with various subsidiaries of a limited number of telecommunications service providers at provincial level and rely on them to provide us with data communications capacity through local telecommunications lines. We have limited access to alternative networks or services in the event of disruptions, failures or other problems with China's internet infrastructure or the telecommunications networks provided by telecommunications service providers. Our platform regularly serves a large number of guests, franchisees and suppliers. With the expansion of our business, we may be required to upgrade our technology and infrastructure to keep up with the increasing traffic on our platform. However, we have no control over the costs of the services provided by telecommunications service providers. If the prices we pay for telecommunications and internet services rise significantly, our results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

If our IT capabilities and infrastructure fail to keep up with our growing business needs, industry trends or technological developments, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected.

We have experienced substantial growth in the past and plan to further expand our business in the future. Our expansion has placed, and will continue to place, substantial demands on our IT capabilities and infrastructure. In order to manage and support our growth, we must continue to improve our IT systems, including investments in IT infrastructure and recruitment and training of IT personnel. We cannot assure you that the development of our IT capabilities and infrastructure will keep up with our growing business needs. If we fail to do so, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected.

Furthermore, the hospitality industry is rapidly evolving and subject to continuous technological changes. Our success will depend on our ability to keep up with the changes in technology and user behavior resulting from new developments and innovations. For example, as we provide our product and service offerings across a variety of mobile systems and devices, we are dependent on the interoperability of our services with popular mobile devices and mobile operating systems that we do not control, such as Android and iOS. If any changes in such mobile operating systems or devices degrade the functionality of our services or give preferential treatment to competitive services, the usage of our services could be adversely affected. In addition, we have invested in developing our data analytics and other technologies to improve our customer services and operational efficiency, but there is no guarantee that such investments may result in our anticipated outcomes or returns.

Technological innovations may also require substantial capital expenditures in product or service development as well as in modification of products, services or infrastructure. We cannot assure you that we can obtain financing to cover such expenditure. See “— We require significant capital to fund our operations, growth and technological investments. If we cannot obtain sufficient capital on acceptable terms, our business, financial condition and prospects may suffer.” If we fail to adapt our products and services to such changes in an effective and timely manner, we may suffer from decreased user traffic and user base, which, in turn, could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The growth of third-party websites and other hotel reservation intermediaries and travel consolidators may adversely affect our margins and profitability.

Some of our hotel rooms are reserved through third-party websites and other hotel reservation intermediaries and travel consolidators to whom we pay commissions for such services, including Trip.com, who is also our shareholder. We believe that such intermediaries and consolidators aim to have consumers develop loyalties to their reservation systems rather than to hotel brands such as ours. In addition, as the competitive landscape of the third-party hotel reservation intermediary business changes, we may be forced to enter into exclusive agreement with one of them or other types of arrangements, which may further strengthen such intermediary’s market position at the expense of ours. If these intermediaries and consolidators become a significant channel through which our guests make reservations, they may be able to negotiate higher commissions, reduced room rates, or other significant concessions from us, which could adversely affect our margins and profitability. These intermediaries and consolidators also may reduce our bookings by de-ranking our hotels in search results on their platforms. Although our contracts with many hospitality intermediaries offer preferential commission rates to hotels, we may not be able to renegotiate these contracts upon their expiration with terms as favorable as existing terms of these contracts.

We face risks associated with the misconduct of our employees, business partners and their employees and other related personnel.

We rely on our employees to maintain and operate our business and have implemented an internal code of conduct to guide the actions of our employees. However, we do not have control over the actions of our employees, our business partners and their employees, and any misbehavior of our employees could materially and adversely affect our reputation and business. Despite the security measures we have implemented, we may be vulnerable to misconduct committed by our employees, our business partners and their employees and other related personnel. If an actual or perceived misconduct occurs, the market perception of the effectiveness of our services could be harmed, we may lose current and potential customers, and we may be exposed to legal and financial risks, including those from legal claims, regulatory fines and penalties, which in turn could adversely affect our business, reputation and results of operations.

If we fail to maintain our relationships with our members and corporate account clients, our business and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

Historically, we have derived a portion of our revenues from our loyalty program members and from our cooperation arrangements with certain corporate account clients. In 2020, approximately 80.1% of our room-nights were sold to our A-Card members and corporate account clients through our direct sales channels. We expect that these members and corporate account clients will contribute to the growth of our business in the near future.

We cannot assure you that our members will remain loyal patrons of our hotels and that our corporate account clients will agree to renew the relevant cooperation agreements upon their expiration, or enter into new agreements with us on substantially similar terms. Our negotiating position with corporate account clients also is limited given the competition in China’s hospitality industry. If we fail to enhance or maintain our relationships with our members, and the frequency of member stays at our hotels declines as a result, or if our corporate account clients decline to renew their cooperation agreements or propose new agreements with commercial terms less favorable to us, our business and financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

The cessation, reduction or taxation of program benefits of our A-Card loyalty program could adversely affect our brand and guest loyalty.

We manage the A-Card loyalty program for our brand. Program members accumulate points based on eligible stays and hotel charges as well as purchase of our retail products and redeem the points for a range of benefits including free rooms and other items of value. The program is an important aspect of our business and of the affiliation value for hotel owners under franchise and management agreements. Currently, the program benefits are not taxed as income to members under PRC tax laws. If the program awards and benefits are materially altered, curtailed or taxed such that a material number of A-Card members choose to no longer participate in the program, this could adversely affect our business.

Scalpers may exploit our A-Card loyalty program by reserving rooms at member-only price and resell such room reservation to our prospective guests, which could adversely affect our guests' hotel experience and harm our brand and business.

We offer our A-Card members certain discounts to room price as part of the membership benefits. Scalpers have tried to and may continue to exploit these A-Card room discounts by reserving rooms at a lower member-only price and resell to a non-member guest at a higher price. Such exploitation not only results in losses of our revenue but also adversely affects our guests' hotel experience and harms our brand and business. To prevent such exploitation and ensure the quality of our guests' hotel experience, we have taken various measures. Nevertheless, there can be no assurance that our efforts against such exploitation will be successful. If we fail to effectively prevent scalpers from exploiting our A-Card loyalty program, our guests' hotel experience could be harmed and we will suffer loss of revenue, which could in turn adversely affect our brand, reputation and business.

We face various risks associated with our brand license agreements in connection with our themed hotels and our licensors which could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our themed hotels are developed under license agreements which grant us the right to use certain intellectual property such as our business partners' brand names, trademarks and logos. These license agreements typically have terms between one to 10 years, some of which are not automatically renewable, and give the licensor the right to terminate the license agreement due to certain reasons like material breach or non-performance of such license agreements. We may not be able to renew any or some of the existing license agreements. We believe our ability to retain our license agreements depends, in large part, on our relationships with our licensors. Any events or developments adversely affecting those relationships could adversely affect our ability to maintain and renew our license agreements on similar terms or at all. The termination or lack of renewal of one or more of our license agreements, or the renewal of a license agreement on less favorable terms, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. While we may enter into additional license agreements in the future, the terms of such license agreements may be less favorable than the terms of our existing license agreements. In addition, our collaboration with licensors are generally non-exclusive. Licensors may work with our competitors or new participants in the market. This lowers entry barrier for market players who plan to enter the themed hotel market and operate hotels based on the same non-exclusive licensed intellectual property rights, resulting in more competition and creating pricing pressure.

If we breach any obligations set forth in any of our license agreements, we could be subject to monetary and other penalties and our rights under such license agreements could be terminated, either of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The success of our themed hotels is also partially dependent on the reputation of our licensors and their intellectual property rights and the ability of our licensors to protect and maintain the intellectual property rights that we use in connection with our hotels, all of which may be harmed by factors outside our control, including unfavorable publicity or negative news regarding us or our licensors, which could adversely affect our reputation and our results of operations.

Any failure to protect our trademarks and other intellectual property rights could have a negative impact on our business.

We believe our brand, trade name, trademarks and other intellectual property are critical to our success. “Atour” and “Yaduo” represent a well recognized brand in China’s hospitality industry and the success of our business depends in part upon our continued ability to use our brand, trade names and trademarks to increase brand awareness and to further develop our brand. Although we have registered “Yaduo”, “Atour” and other logos related to our business as trademarks in China, there is no assurance that any issued patents or registered trademarks will adequately protect our intellectual property, or that such patents and trademarks will not be challenged by third parties or found by a judicial authority to be invalid or unenforceable. Besides, our trade secrets may leak or otherwise become available to, or be independently discovered by, our competitors or other third parties. Some of our trademark applications may not be granted for various reasons, including existence of prior registrations, applications or rights, or rejection by the authorities in their discretion. If our trademark applications are not granted, we may have to use different marks for affected products or services, or seek other alternative arrangements, which might not be available on commercially reasonable terms, if at all.

In addition, we consider our technology platform and IT system to be key components of our competitive advantage and our growth strategy. There can be no assurance that our future computer software copyright applications will be granted. Monitoring and preventing the unauthorized use of our intellectual property is difficult. Any unauthorized use of our intellectual property by third parties may adversely affect our current and future revenues and our reputation. If there is a third party using similar brand or logos that attempt to cause confusion or diversion of customer demands away from us, preventing such behavior could be difficult, costly and time-consuming and the steps we take may be inadequate to prevent the infringement or misappropriation of our intellectual property. The unauthorized use of our trademarks or the use of confusingly similar brands could diminish the value of our brand and its market acceptance, competitive advantages and goodwill.

The measures we take to protect our brand, trade names, trademarks and other intellectual property rights may be costly, involve substantial management time and resources to enforce and may fail to prevent their unauthorized use by third parties. In the event that we resort to litigation to enforce our intellectual property rights, such litigation could result in substantial costs and a diversion of our managerial and financial resources, and could put our intellectual property at risk of being invalidated or narrowed in scope. There is no assurance that we will prevail in such litigation, and even if we do prevail, we may not obtain a meaningful recovery. Furthermore, the application of laws governing intellectual property rights in China is uncertain and evolving, and could involve substantial risks to us. If we are unable to adequately protect our brand, trade names, trademarks and other intellectual property rights, we may lose these rights and our business may suffer materially.

In addition, once our registered trademarks have expired, we will be able to renew our trademark registrations for another ten years upon paying a renewal fee. If we are unable to renew or maintain one or more trademark registrations, our ability to use such trademarks could be impaired, which could materially and adversely affect the performance of our existing franchise and management agreements, our ability to enter into future franchise and management agreements, and our business and results of operations.

We may be liable for intellectual property infringement relating to intellectual properties of third parties, which may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and prospects.

We cannot assure you that other aspects of our operations do not or will not infringe upon or violate intellectual property rights (including but not limited to trademarks, patents, copyrights, know-how) or other rights (including but not limited to portrait right) owned or held by third parties. We have been involved in claims against us alleging our infringement of third-party intellectual property rights on certain computer software. Any such intellectual property rights infringement claim could result in costly remedial measures and may adversely affect our business and financial condition. We have adopted systematic methods to reduce our exposure to the risks of intellectual property infringement claims. However, we cannot assure you those methods are sufficient to shield us from third party liabilities for intellectual property infringement, or our efforts will be considered favorably by a given court or relevant governmental authority. Liabilities for intellectual property infringement, or allegations of such infringement, may impose a burden on our management, cause penalties, lead to unfavorable media coverage and damage to our reputation, or even cause PRC authorities to impose sanctions on us, including, in serious cases, suspending our operation, which may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and prospects.

Failure to retain our senior management team and other key employees could harm our business and operations.

Our future success significantly depends upon the continuing service of our senior management team, including, our founder, Chairman of Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Haijun Wang. If one or more members of our senior management team or other key employees are unable or unwilling to continue in their present position, we may not be able to replace them easily, or at all. As a result, our business could be severely disrupted and our financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. We do not carry key person insurance on any of our senior management team. In addition, our senior management team has limited experience in running public companies, which will require us to expend additional resources in hiring additional support staff and incur additional costs and expenses.

If we are not able to recruit, train and retain qualified managerial and other employees, our brand and our business may be materially and adversely affected.

Our ability to continue to conduct and expand our operations depends on our ability to attract and retain a large and growing number of qualified personnel in China. Our ability to meet our labor needs, including our ability to find qualified personnel to fill positions that become vacant, while controlling labor costs, is generally subject to numerous external factors, including the availability of a sufficient number of qualified persons in the work force of the markets in which we operate, unemployment levels within those markets, prevailing wage rates, changing demographics, health and other insurance costs and adoption of new or revised employment and labor laws and regulations. If we are unable to locate, attract or retain qualified personnel, or manage leadership transition successfully, the quality of service we provide to customers and franchisees may decrease and our financial performance may be adversely affected. In addition, if our costs of labor or related costs increase for other reasons or if new or revised labor laws, rules or regulations or healthcare laws are adopted or implemented that further increase our labor costs, our financial performance could be materially and adversely affected.

In particular, our hotel managers and HR representatives are responsible for managing our franchised hotels and interact with our guests on a daily basis and are critical to maintaining our consistent and high-quality accommodations and services, as well as our established brand and reputation. We aim to recruit, train and retain entrepreneurial, motivated and customer-oriented hotel managers and HR representatives with backgrounds and experience in hotel, service and other industries. We must recruit and train qualified hotel managers and HR representatives on a timely basis to keep pace with our rapid growth. There may be a limited supply of such qualified individuals in some of the metropolitan markets in China where we have operations and other cities into which we intend to expand. In addition, criteria such as dedication to work and commitment to high-quality of customer service are difficult to ascertain during the recruitment process. We also must provide continuous training to our hotel managers and HR representatives so that they can stay abreast of changes in our hotel operations and consumer preferences and demands, and meet and implement our quality standards. If we fail to recruit, train and retain qualified hotel managers and HR representatives, our quality standards may decrease in one or more of our hotels and our franchised hotels' operation may be adversely affected, which in turn may have a material and adverse effect on our brand, our business, and our financial condition and results of operations.

We may not be successful in developing and achieving expected returns from our new products or services, including our innovative scenario-based retail services.

In addition to our hotel offerings, we are also currently engaged in other innovative business lines, including our scenario-based retail (including our expanding private label product offerings). There is no guarantee that we may further expand our product service offerings, attract more customers, and drive customer spendings on such businesses.

In particular, our scenario-based retail services are subject to various potential liabilities and risks commonly associated with e-commerce or online retail, including, among others:

- product liability disputes and related liabilities;
- food safety disputes and related liabilities;
- intellectual property infringement disputes and related liabilities;
- portrait right infringement disputes and liabilities associated with the marketing materials that we use to promote our products;
- disputes and liabilities related to pricing, advertisements, consumer protection, privacy and data security;
- non-compliance risks under various laws and regulations, including those laws and regulations relating to online platforms.
- risks related to refund policy, storage and transportation of our products;
- fluctuations in the price of raw materials;
- reliance on third-party manufacturers for our private label products and their ability to produce and supply products in compliance with our specifications;
- lack of effective control over our franchisees, who act as distributors for our retail products; and
- inventory impairment risks.

Going forward, we plan to build lifestyle brands around hotel offerings and further diversify our non-hotel brand portfolio. However, any new products or services that we have launched or may launch in the future may not achieve anticipated returns. The development of a new product or service requires significant upfront market research and accurate prediction of customer preferences, followed by development process that takes a considerable amount of time as well as significant sales and marketing activities. We cannot assure you that our efforts in developing new products or services will be successful. If a new product or service is not well received by our customers, we may not be able to generate sufficient revenue to offset related costs and expenses, and our overall financial performance and condition may be adversely affected.

If we were to be sued for product liability, we could face substantial liabilities that exceed our resources.

The third-party and private label products that we sell through our scenario-based retail business could lead to the filing of product liability claims where someone may allege that the products that we sold failed to perform as designed or caused certain injuries or losses. We may be subject to product liability claims resulting from misuse of the products that we sold and we currently do not maintain any product liability insurance. A product liability claim could result in substantial damages and be costly and time-consuming for us to defend. If we cannot successfully defend ourselves against product liability claims, we will incur substantial liabilities and reputational harm. In addition, regardless of merit or eventual outcome, product liability claims may result in:

- costs of litigation;
- distraction of management's attention from our primary business;
- the inability to market relevant products on our retail stores and online platforms;
- decreased demand for such products;
- damage to our business reputation;
- substantial monetary awards to customers or other claimants;
- loss of sales; or
- termination of existing agreements by our partners and potential partners failing to partner with us.

Any lack of requisite approvals, licenses or permits applicable to our online retail business may have a material and adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our online retail business is subject to governmental supervision and regulation by the relevant PRC governmental authorities, including but not limited to the Ministry of Commerce and the MIIT. Together, these government authorities promulgate and enforce regulations that cover many aspects of the operation of the online retail industry, including entry into the industry, the scope of permissible business activities, licenses and permits for various business activities, and foreign investment. If the PRC government considers that we were operating without the proper approvals, licenses or permits, it has the power, among other things, to levy fines, confiscate our income, revoke our business licenses, and require us to discontinue our relevant business or impose restrictions on the affected portion of our business. Any of these actions by the PRC government may have a material and adverse effect on our results of operations. In addition, if we are unable to maintain and renew one or more of our licenses and certificates, or making appropriate reports or filings, we may be subject to sanctions and enforcement actions, which could adversely and materially affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

If we are unable to conduct sales and marketing activities cost-effectively, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

We rely on our sales and marketing efforts to enlarge our customer base and drive the spending of our customers. In particular, effective sales and marketing activities are crucial to the expansion and success of our scenario-based retail business. Our sales and marketing activities may not be well received by the market and may not result in the levels of sales that we anticipate. We also may not be able to retain or recruit a sufficient number of experienced sales and marketing personnel, or to train newly hired sales and marketing personnel, which we believe is critical to implementing our sales and marketing strategies cost-effectively. Further, sales and marketing approaches and tools in China's hospitality industry are evolving rapidly. This requires us to continually enhance the effectiveness and efficiency of our sales and marketing activities and experiment with new methods to keep pace with industry developments and customer preferences. Failure to engage in sales and marketing activities in a cost-effective manner may reduce our market share, cause our sales to decline, slow down the growth of our scenario-based retail business, negatively impact our profitability, and materially harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may be liable for improper collection, use or appropriation of personal information provided by our customers.

Our business involves collecting and retaining large volumes of internal and customer data, including personal information as our various information technology systems enter, process, summarize and report such data. We also maintain information about various aspects of our operations as well as regarding our employees. The integrity and protection of our customer, employee and company data is critical to our business. Our customers and employees expect that we will adequately protect their personal information. We are required by applicable laws to keep strictly confidential the personal information that we collect, and to take adequate security measures to safeguard such information.

The PRC Criminal Law, as amended by its Amendment 7 (effective on February 28, 2009) and Amendment 9 (effective on November 1, 2015), prohibits institutions, companies and their employees from selling or otherwise illegally disclosing a citizen's personal information obtained during the course of performing duties or providing services or obtaining such information through theft or other illegal ways. On November 7, 2016, the Standing Committee of the PRC National People's Congress issued the Cyber Security Law of the PRC, or Cyber Security Law, which became effective on June 1, 2017. Pursuant to the Cyber Security Law, network operators must not, without users' consent, collect their personal information, and may only collect users' personal information necessary to provide their services. Providers are also obliged to provide security maintenance for their products and services and shall comply with provisions regarding the protection of personal information as stipulated under the relevant laws and regulations. The Civil Code of the PRC (issued by the PRC National People's Congress on May 28, 2020 and effective from January 1, 2021) provides main legal basis for privacy and personal information infringement claims under the Chinese civil laws. PRC regulators, including the Cyberspace Administration of China, MIIT, and the Ministry of Public Security have been increasingly focused on regulation in the areas of data security and data protection. The PRC regulatory requirements regarding cybersecurity are constantly evolving. For instance, various regulatory bodies in China, including the Cyberspace Administration of China, the Ministry of Public Security and the SAMR, have enforced data privacy and protection laws and regulations with varying and evolving standards and interpretations. On December 28, 2021, the Cyberspace Administration of China and 12 other relevant PRC government authorities published the amended Cybersecurity Review Measures, which came into effect on February 15, 2022. The final Cybersecurity Review Measures provide that a “network platform operator” that possesses personal information of more than one million users and seeks a listing in a foreign country must apply for a cybersecurity review. Further, the relevant PRC governmental authorities may initiate a cybersecurity review against any company if they determine certain network products, services, or data processing activities of such company affect or may affect national security.

On June 10, 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress of China, or the SCNPC, promulgated the PRC Data Security Law (《中华人民共和国数据安全法》), which came into effect in September 2021. The PRC Data Security Law imposes data security and privacy obligations on entities and individuals carrying out data activities, and introduces a data classification and hierarchical protection system based on the importance of data in economic and social development, as well as the degree of harm it will cause to national security, public interests, or legitimate rights and interests of individuals or organizations when such data is tampered with, destroyed, leaked, or illegally acquired or used. The PRC Data Security Law also provides for a national security review procedure for data activities that may affect national security and imposes export restrictions on certain data and information. As uncertainties remain regarding the interpretation and implementation of these laws and regulations, we cannot assure you that we will comply with such regulations in all respects and we may be ordered to rectify or terminate any actions that are deemed illegal by regulatory authorities. We may also become subject to fines and/or other sanctions which may have material adverse effect on our business, operations and financial condition.

On August 20, 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress of China promulgated the PRC Personal Information Protection Law (《中华人民共和国个人信息保护法》), or the PIPL, which came into effect in November 2021. In addition to other rules and principles of personal information processing, the PIPL specifically provides rules for processing sensitive personal information. Sensitive personal information refers to personal information that, once leaked or illegally used, could easily lead to the infringement of human dignity or harm to the personal or property safety of an individual, including biometric recognition, religious belief, specific identity, medical and health, financial account, personal whereabouts and other information of an individual, as well as any personal information of a minor under the age of 14. Only where there is a specific purpose and sufficient necessity, and under circumstances where strict protection measures are taken, may personal information processors process sensitive personal information. A personal information processor shall inform the individual of the necessity of processing such sensitive personal information and the impact thereof on the individual’s rights and interests. We may collect sensitive personal information such as ID card photos and personal photos from our customers for purpose of verifying their personal identities when they carry out online check-in or make online reservation with our hotels. As uncertainties remain regarding the interpretation and implementation of the PIPL, we cannot assure you that we will comply with the PIPL in all respects and regulatory authorities may order us to rectify or terminate our current practice of collecting and processing sensitive personal information. We may also become subject to fines and/or other penalties which may have material adverse effect on our business, operations and financial condition.

While we take various measures to comply with all applicable data privacy and protection laws and regulations, there is no guarantee that our current security measures and those of our third-party service providers may always be adequate for the protection of our customer, employee or company data; and like all companies, we have experienced data incidents from time to time. In addition, given the size of our customer base and the types and volume of personal data on our system, we may be a particularly attractive target for computer hackers, foreign governments or cyber terrorists. Unauthorized access to our proprietary internal and customer data may be obtained through break-ins, sabotage, breach of our secure network by an unauthorized party, computer viruses, computer denial-of-service attacks, employee theft or misuse, breach of the security of the networks of our third-party service providers, or other misconduct. Because the techniques used by computer programmers who may attempt to penetrate and sabotage our proprietary internal and customer data change frequently and may not be recognized until launched against a target, we may be unable to anticipate these techniques. Unauthorized access to our proprietary internal and customer data may also be obtained through inadequate use of security controls. Any of such incidents may harm our reputation and adversely affect our business and results of operations. In addition, we may be subject to negative publicity about our security and privacy policies, systems, or measurements from time to time.

Any failure to prevent or mitigate security breaches, cyber-attacks or other unauthorized access to our systems or disclosure of our customers' data, including their personal information, could result in loss or misuse of such data, interruptions to our service system, diminished customer experience, loss of customer confidence and trust, impairment of our technology infrastructure, and harm our reputation and business, resulting in significant legal and financial exposure and potential lawsuits.

We are subject to various hospitality industry, health and safety, construction, fire prevention and environmental laws and regulations that may subject us to liability.

Each hotel in our chain must hold a basic business license and a special industry license issued by the local public security bureau and must have hotel operation included in the business scope of their respective business license. In addition, each of our hotels must complete fire prevention safety inspection/commitment with the local public security bureau and obtain hygiene permits and environmental impact assessment approvals. We also need to obtain approvals and make filings for most of our hotel construction projects with fire prevention authorities and construction authorities. Our business also is subject to various health and safety and environmental laws and regulations that affect our operations and conversion activities in the jurisdictions in which we operate, including construction, building, zoning, environmental protection, food safety, public safety, health and sanitary requirements.

As of the date of this prospectus, a small number of our leased hotels have not obtained approvals from or made appropriate filings with applicable fire prevention authorities, construction authorities, environmental protection authorities or public security bureau, and a small number of our leased hotels selling or serving food have not obtained the relevant approvals from health administrations for such activities. As a result of these non-compliance matters, we have been and may be subject to monetary damages, the suspension or disruption of our operations or conversion activities, or other administrative penalties or investigations, which could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

We cannot assure you that we or our employees comply with or will comply with all present and future laws and regulations related to our business, including without limitation to hospitality industry, health, safety, construction, fire prevention and environmental laws and regulations. Such non-compliance may subject us to monetary damages, the imposition of fines or other administrative penalties or investigations against us, or the suspension of our operations or conversion activities, which in turn could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, new regulations could also require us to retrofit or modify our hotels or incur other significant expenses. Any failure by us to control the use of, or to adequately restrict the discharge of, hazardous substances in our conversion activities, or otherwise operate in compliance with environmental laws, could subject us to potentially significant monetary damages and fines or suspension of our business operations, which could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Owners of our manachised hotels are subject to these same permit and safety requirements. Although our manachised hotel arrangements require the hotel owners to obtain and maintain all required permits or licenses, we have limited control over the manachised hotel owners. Any failure to obtain and maintain the required permits or licenses may require us to delay opening of a manachised hotel or to forgo or terminate our manachised hotel arrangement, which could harm our brand, result in lost management revenues and subject us to potential indirect liability. Each of the foregoing could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Accidents, injuries or prohibited activities in our hotels may adversely affect our reputation and subject us to liability.

There are inherent risks of accidents, injuries or prohibited activities (such as illegal drug use, gambling, violence or prostitution by guests) taking place in hotels. The occurrence of one or more accidents, injuries or prohibited activities at any of our hotels could adversely affect our safety reputation among guests, harm our brand, decrease our overall occupancy rates, and increase our costs by requiring us to implement additional safety measures. In addition, if accidents, injuries or prohibited activities occur at any of our hotels, we may be held liable for costs or damages and fines. Our current property and liability insurance policies may not provide adequate or any coverage for such losses, and we may be unable to renew our insurance policies or obtain new insurance policies without increases in premiums and deductibles or decreases in coverage levels, or at all.

The restaurants operated by our hotels face risks related to instances of food-borne illnesses and other food safety accidents.

Some of our hotels directly operate the restaurant located in the hotels. The restaurant business is susceptible to food-borne illnesses and other food safety accidents. We cannot assure you that our internal controls and training will be effective in preventing all food-borne illnesses.

Furthermore, our reliance on third-party food suppliers and distributors increases the risk that food-borne illness incidents could be caused by third-party food suppliers and distributors outside of our control and the risk of multiple locations being affected rather than a single restaurant. New illnesses resistant to any precautions may develop in the future, or diseases with long incubation periods could arise that could give rise to claims or allegations on a retroactive basis. Reports in the media of instances of food-borne illnesses could result in fines and other penalties and, if highly publicized, negatively impact restaurant sales, forcing the closure of some restaurants and affect our customers' confidence in our hotel business. Furthermore, other illnesses, such as hand, foot and mouth disease or avian influenza, could adversely affect the supply of some of the restaurants' food products and significantly increase such restaurants' costs, which may also adversely affect the results of operations of the relevant hotels.

Our financial and operating performance may be adversely affected by epidemics, adverse weather conditions, natural disasters and other catastrophes.

Losses caused by epidemics, adverse weather conditions, natural disasters and other catastrophes, earthquakes or typhoons, are either uninsurable or too expensive to justify insuring against in China. In the event an uninsured loss or a loss in excess of insured limits occurs, we could lose all or a portion of the capital we have invested in a hotel, as well as the anticipated future revenue from the hotel. In that event, we might nevertheless remain obligated for any financial obligations related to the hotel. Similarly, war (including the potential for war), terrorist activity (including threats of terrorist activity) and travel-related accidents, as well as geopolitical uncertainty and international conflict, may affect travel and may in turn have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations. In addition, we may not be adequately prepared in contingency planning or recovery capability in relation to a major incident or crisis, and as a result, our operational continuity may be adversely affected and our reputation may be harmed.

We have limited insurance coverage.

Our property insurance covers the assets that we own at our leased hotels and the buildings in which our leased hotels operate. We also require our manachised hotel owners to purchase customary insurance policies but they may fail to satisfy these requirements. If we are held liable for amounts and claims exceeding the limits of our insurance coverage or outside the scope of our insurance coverage, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected. Even if the amounts and claims are within the limits and scope of our insurance coverage, the insurance provider may not be able to make the compensation payment to us in a timely manner. Any business disruptions or natural disasters may result in us incurring substantial costs and diversion of our corporate and business resources.

If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal control over financial reporting, we may not be able to accurately report our financial results or prevent fraud.

Prior to this offering, we have been a private company with limited accounting personnel and other resources with which to address our internal control over financial reporting in accordance with the requirements applicable to a U.S. public company. In connection with the audits of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this prospectus, we and our independent registered public accounting firm identified one material weakness in our internal control over financial reporting. As defined in the standards established by the U.S. Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, or PCAOB, a "material weakness" is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

The material weakness identified is our company's lack of sufficient financial reporting and accounting personnel with appropriate knowledge of U.S. GAAP and SEC reporting requirements to properly address complex U.S. GAAP accounting issues and related disclosures in accordance with U.S. GAAP and financial reporting requirements set forth by the SEC. Neither we nor our independent registered public accounting firm undertook a comprehensive assessment of our internal control for purposes of identifying and reporting material weaknesses and other control deficiencies in our internal control over financial reporting. Had we performed a formal assessment of our internal control over financial reporting or had our independent registered public accounting firm performed an audit of our internal control over financial reporting, additional deficiencies may have been identified.

Following the identification of the material weakness and other control deficiencies, we have taken measures and plan to continue to take measures to remediate these deficiencies. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Internal Control Over Financial Reporting." However, the implementation of these measures may not fully address such weakness and deficiencies in our internal control over financial reporting. Our failure to correct these deficiencies or our failure to discover and address any other deficiencies could result in inaccuracies in our financial statements and impair our ability to comply with applicable financial reporting requirements and related regulatory filings on a timely basis. Moreover, ineffective internal control over financial reporting could significantly hinder our ability to prevent fraud.

After we become a public company in the United States, we will be subject to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, or Section 404, will require that we include a report from management on our internal control over financial reporting in our annual report on Form 20-F beginning with our annual report for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2023. In addition, once we cease to be an "emerging growth company" as such term is defined in the JOBS Act, our independent registered public accounting firm must attest to and report on the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting. Our management may conclude that our internal control over financial reporting is not effective. Moreover, even if our management concludes that our internal control over financial reporting is effective, our independent registered public accounting firm, after conducting its own independent testing, may issue a report that is qualified if it is not satisfied with our internal control over financial reporting or the level at which our controls are documented, designed, operated or reviewed, or if it interprets the relevant requirements differently from us. In addition, after we become a public company, our reporting obligations may place a significant strain on our management, operational and financial resources and systems for the foreseeable future. We may be unable to timely complete our evaluation testing and any required remediation.

During the course of documenting and testing our internal control procedures, in order to satisfy the requirements of Section 404, we may identify other or more material weaknesses or deficiencies in our internal control over financial reporting. In addition, if we fail to maintain the adequacy of our internal control over financial reporting, as these standards are modified, supplemented or amended from time to time, we may not be able to conclude on an ongoing basis that we have effective internal control over financial reporting in accordance with Section 404. If we fail to achieve and maintain an effective internal control environment, we could suffer material misstatements in our financial statements and fail to meet our reporting obligations, which would likely cause investors to lose confidence in our reported financial information. This could in turn limit our access to capital markets, harm our results of operations and lead to a decline in the trading price of the ADSs. Additionally, ineffective internal control over financial reporting could expose us to increased risk of fraud or misuse of corporate assets and subject us to potential delisting from the stock exchange on which we list, regulatory investigations and civil or criminal sanctions. We may also be required to restate our consolidated financial statements for prior periods.

If we grant employee share options and other share-based compensation in the future, our net profit could be adversely affected.

In 2017, our PRC subsidiary Atour Shanghai adopted the 2017 Share Incentive Plan, or the 2017 PRC Plan. In 2021, we adopted the Public Company Share Incentive Plan, or the Public Company Plan, at the Cayman Islands' level in preparation for this offering, to replace the 2017 PRC Plan. The purpose of the Public Company Plan is to recognize and reward participants for their contribution to our company, to attract suitable personnel and to provide incentives to them to remain with and further contribute to us. See "Management — Public Company Plan."

Under the Public Company Plan, the maximum aggregate number of Class A ordinary shares we are authorized to issue pursuant to equity awards granted thereunder, subject to certain adjustments pursuant to the terms thereof, is 51,029,546 Class A ordinary shares, which have been reserved for issuance pursuant to the Public Company Plan accordingly. As of the date of this prospectus, a total of 17,690,297 share options corresponding to 17,690,297 underlying Class A ordinary shares have been granted to the participants under the Public Company Plan, which include the share options granted to participants in our 2017 PRC Plan in exchange for cancellation of their outstanding awards previously granted under the 2017 PRC Plan.

Pursuant to the vesting conditions of 15,516,810 share options granted under the Public Company Plan, we would have recognized share-based compensation expenses of RMB81.7 million (US$12.8 million) for those awards as of December 31, 2021, assuming this offering had been completed on such date. As a result, we expect to, upon the completion of this offering, record a material amount of share-based compensation expenses for those awards for which the vesting conditions have been satisfied as of such date.

We believe the granting of share-based awards is of significant importance to our ability to attract and retain key personnel and employees, and we expect to grant additional share-based awards to our employees in the future. As a result, our expenses associated with share-based awards may increase, which may have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

Failure to comply with PRC laws and regulations related to labor and employee benefits may subject us to penalties or additional cost.

Companies operating in China are required to comply with various laws and regulations related to labor and employment benefits. For example, companies are required to participate in various government-sponsored employee benefit plans, including certain social insurance, housing provident funds and other welfare-oriented payment obligations, and contribute to the plans in amounts equal to certain percentages of salaries, including bonuses and allowances, of employees up to a maximum amount specified by the local government from time to time at locations where our employees are based. The requirement of employee benefit plans has not been implemented consistently by the local governments in China given the different levels of economic development in different locations. Apart from that, if a company intends adopt flexible working hour arrangement and comprehensive working hour scheme, it shall fulfill the requirements in relevant regulations, and make filings with labor authorities, or the company will be subject to penalties and may be required to pay extra fees to its employees.

We cannot assure you that we have complied or will be able to comply with all labor-related law and regulations, including those relating to obligations to make social insurance payments, contribute to the housing provident funds, as well as make all filing for comprehensive working hour scheme. Besides, to efficiently administrate the contribution of employment benefit plans of our employees in some cities, we engage third-party agents to make the contribution for our employees. Our failure to make contributions to various employee benefit plans and in complying with applicable PRC labor-related laws may subject us to fines, penalties, government investigations or labor disputes and we could be required to make up the contributions for these plans as well as to pay late fees and fines, which may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

We have entered into, and may in the future enter into, strategic transactions to complement our organic growth which may not be successful.

We have entered into, and may in the future enter into, strategic transactions to complement our organic growth, including pursuing selective acquisitions, asset dispositions, joint venture and other types of alliances with business partners. Our potential acquisition and investment targets include high quality franchised hotels, boutique regional hotels and influential lifestyle brands. If we decide to pursue strategic transactions, we may not be successful in identifying suitable opportunities or completing such transactions or investments, and our competitors may be more effective in executing and closing strategic arrangements in competitive bid situations than us. Our ability to enter into and complete strategic transactions may be restricted by, or subject to, various approvals under PRC law or may not otherwise be possible, may result in a possible dilutive issuance of our securities, or may require us to seek additional financing. We also may experience difficulties integrating acquired operations, services, corporate cultures and personnel into our existing business and operations. Strategic transactions may also expose us to potential risks, including risks associated with unforeseen or hidden liabilities, the diversion of resources from our existing business, and the potential loss of, or harm to, relationships with our employees or guests as a result of our integration of new businesses. In addition, following completion of strategic transactions, our management and resources may be diverted from their core business activities due to the integration process, which may harm the effective management of our business. Furthermore, we may not achieve the expected level of any synergy benefits on integration and/or the actual cost of delivering such benefits may exceed the anticipated cost. Any of these factors may have an adverse effect on our competitive position, results of operations and financial condition.

We require significant capital to fund our operations, growth and technological investments. If we cannot obtain sufficient capital on acceptable terms, our business, financial condition and prospects may suffer.

We require significant capital and resources for our operations and continued growth. We expect to make significant investments in the expansion and operations of our hotel network and lifestyle brand portfolio, and the development of our technological capabilities, which may increase our net cash used in operating activities. Our sales and marketing expenses may also increase to retain existing customers and attract new customers.

Our ability to obtain additional capital in the future is subject to a number of uncertainties, including our future business development, financial condition and results of operations, general market conditions for financing activities by companies in our industry, and macro-economic and other conditions in China and globally. If we cannot obtain sufficient capital on acceptable terms to meet our capital needs, we may not execute our growth strategies, and our business, financial condition and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

If we are unable to access funds to maintain our hotels' condition and appearance, or if our franchisees fail to make investments necessary to maintain or improve their properties, the attractiveness of our hotels and our reputation could suffer and our hotel occupancy rates may decline.

In order to maintain our hotels' condition and attractiveness, ongoing renovations and other leasehold improvements, including periodic replacement of furniture, fixtures and equipment, are required. In particular, we franchise properties leased or owned by franchisees under the terms of franchise and management agreements, substantially all of which require our franchisees to comply with standards that are essential to maintaining the relevant product integrity and our reputation. We depend on our franchisees to comply with these requirements by maintaining and improving properties through investments, including investments in furniture, fixtures, amenities and personnel. Such investments and expenditures require ongoing funding and, to the extent we or our franchisees cannot fund these expenditures from existing cash or cash flow generated from operations, we or our franchisees must borrow or raise capital through financing. We or our franchisees may not be able to access capital and our franchisees may be unwilling to spend available capital when necessary, even if required by the terms of our franchise and management agreements. If we or our franchisees fail to make investments necessary to maintain or improve the properties, our hotel's attractiveness and reputation could suffer, we could lose market share to our competitors and our RevPAR may decline.

Increasing focus on environmental, social and governance matters may impose additional costs on us or expose us to additional risks. Failure to comply with the laws and regulations on environmental, social and governance matters may subject us to penalties and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operation.

The PRC government and public advocacy groups have been increasingly focused on environment, social and governance ("ESG") issues in recent years, making our business more sensitive to ESG issues and changes in governmental policies and laws and regulations associated with environment protection and other ESG-related matters. Investor advocacy groups, certain institutional investors, investment funds, and other influential investors are also increasingly focused on ESG practices and in recent years have placed increasing importance on the implications and social cost of their investments. Regardless of the industry, increased focus from investors and the PRC government on ESG and similar matters may hinder access to capital, as investors may decide to reallocate capital or to not commit capital as a result of their assessment of a company's ESG practices. Any ESG concern or issue could increase our regulatory compliance costs. If we do not adapt to or comply with the evolving expectations and standards on ESG matters from investors and the PRC government or are perceived to have not responded appropriately to the growing concern for ESG issues, regardless of whether there is a legal requirement to do so, we may suffer from reputational damage and the business, financial condition, and the price of the ADSs could be materially and adversely effected.

We may be involved in legal and administrative proceedings in the ordinary course of our business. Any adverse outcome of these legal proceedings could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We, our shareholders, directors, officers, employees or affiliates are or may be involved in various legal and administrative proceedings in the ordinary course of business from time to time, involving governmental authorities, competitors, business partners, customers and employees, among others. Claims arising out of actual or alleged violations of law could be asserted under a variety of laws, including but not limited to intellectual property laws, contract laws, tort laws, unfair competition laws, labor and employment laws, privacy laws, tax laws, foreign exchange laws, and property laws. No assurances can be given as to the outcome of any pending legal and administrative proceedings, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Even if we and our related parties are successful in our attempt to defend ourselves in legal and administrative actions or to assert our rights under various laws, enforcing our rights against the various parties involved may be expensive, time-consuming and ultimately futile. These actions could expose us to negative publicity and to substantial monetary damages and legal defense costs, injunctive reliefs, and criminal and civil liabilities and/or penalties.

We are subject to third-party payment processing-related risks.

We accept payments through major third-party online payment channels in China, as well as bank transfers and credit cards. We may also be susceptible to fraud, user data leakage and other illegal activities in connection with the various payment methods we offer. In addition, our business depends on the billing, payment and escrow systems of the third-party payment service providers to maintain accurate records of payments by customers and collect such payments. If the quality, utility, convenience or attractiveness of these payment processing and escrow services declines, or if we have to change the pattern of using these payment services for any reason, the attractiveness of our company could be materially and adversely affected. We are also subject to various rules, regulations and requirements, regulatory or otherwise, governing electronic funds transfers which could change or be reinterpreted to make it difficult or impossible for us to comply. If we fail to comply with these rules or requirements, we may be subject to fines and higher transaction fees and become unable to accept the current online payments solutions from our customers, and our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. Business involving online payment services is subject to a number of risks that could materially and adversely affect third-party online payment service providers' ability to provide payment processing and escrow services to us, including:

- dissatisfaction with these online payment services or decreased use of their services;
- increasing competition, including from other established Chinese internet companies, payment service providers and companies engaged in other financial technology services;
- changes to rules or practices applicable to payment systems that link to third-party online payment service providers;
- breach of customers' personal information and concerns over the use and security of information collected from our customers;

- service outages, system failures or failures to effectively scale the system to handle large and growing transaction volumes;
- increasing costs to third-party online payment service providers, including fees charged by banks to process transactions through online payment channels, which would also increase our costs of revenues; and
- failure to manage funds accurately or loss of funds, whether due to employee fraud, security breaches, technical errors or otherwise.

Seasonality of our business and national or regional special events may cause fluctuations in our results of operations and financial condition, and adversely affect our profitability.

The hospitality industry is subject to fluctuations in revenues due to seasonality. The periods during which our properties experience higher revenues vary from property to property, depending principally upon their location, type of property and competitive mix within the specific location. Generally, the first quarter, in which both the New Year and Spring Festival holidays fall, accounts for a lower percentage of our annual revenues than the other quarters of the year. In addition, certain special events, such as large-scale exhibition, concerts or sports events, may increase the demand for our hotels significantly as such special events may attract travelers into and within the regions in China where we operate hotels. Based on historical results, we generally expect our net revenues generated from our hotel offerings to be higher in the second and third quarters of each year than in each of the first and fourth quarters due to general travel and consumption patterns in China.

Our advertising, promotional and branding content may subject us to penalties and other administrative actions.

Under PRC advertising laws and regulations, we are obligated to monitor our advertising, promotional and branding content to ensure that such content is true and accurate and in full compliance with applicable laws and regulations. Violation of these laws and regulations may subject us to penalties, including fines, confiscation of our advertising income, orders to cease dissemination of the advertisements and orders to publish an announcement correcting the misleading information. In circumstances involving serious violations by us, PRC government authorities may force us to terminate our advertising operations or revoke our licenses.

We cannot assure you that all the content contained in our advertisements or other branding content or materials is true and accurate as required by, and complies in all aspects with, the advertising laws and regulations, especially given the uncertainty in the interpretation of these PRC laws and regulations. We conduct certain advertising, promotional and branding activities through social media and other online channels, and relevant content may also be subject to these PRC advertising laws and regulations. If we are found to be in violation of applicable PRC advertising laws and regulations, we may be subject to penalties and our reputation may be harmed, which may negatively affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Risks Related to Doing Business in China

Changes in China's economic, political or social conditions or government policies could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We conduct all of our operations in China and all of our revenue is derived from our operations in China. Accordingly, our results of operations and prospects are, to a significant degree, subject to economic, political and legal developments in China. The economy of China differs from the economies of most developed countries in many respects, including the extent of government involvement, its level of development, its growth rate and its control over foreign exchange. In recent years, the PRC government has implemented measures emphasizing market forces for economic reform, the reduction of state ownership of productive assets and the establishment of sound corporate governance in business enterprises. However, a significant portion of productive assets in China is still owned by the PRC government. The PRC government continues to play a significant role in regulating industrial development. It also exercises significant control over China's economic growth through the allocation of resources, controlling payment of foreign currency-denominated obligations, setting monetary policies, restricting the inflow and outflow of foreign capital and providing preferential treatment to particular industries or companies. The PRC government also has significant authority to exert influence on the ability of a China-based company, such as our company, to conduct its business. As the PRC economy has become increasingly linked with the global economy, China is affected in various respects by downturns and recessions of major economies around the world. The various economic and policy measures enacted by the PRC government to forestall economic downturns or bolster China's economic growth could materially affect our business. Any adverse change in the economic conditions in China, policies of the PRC government or laws and regulations in China could have a material adverse effect on the overall economic growth of China and, in turn, our business.

Uncertainties with respect to the PRC legal system, including uncertainties regarding the enforcement of laws, and sudden or unexpected changes in laws and regulations in China could adversely affect us and limit the legal protections available to you and us.

Our operating subsidiaries are incorporated under and governed by the laws of the PRC. The PRC legal system is based on written statutes. Prior court decisions may be cited for reference, but have limited precedential value. In 1979, the PRC government began to promulgate a comprehensive system of laws and regulations governing economic matters in general, such as foreign investment, corporate organization and governance, commerce, taxation and trade. As a significant part of our business is conducted in China, our operations are principally governed by PRC laws and regulations. However, since the PRC legal system continues to evolve rapidly, the interpretations of many laws, regulations and rules are not always uniform and enforcement of these laws, regulations and rules involves uncertainties, which may limit legal protections available to us. Uncertainties due to evolving laws and regulations could also impede the ability of a China-based company, such as our company, to obtain or maintain permits or licenses required to conduct business in China. In the absence of required permits or licenses, governmental authorities could impose material sanctions or penalties on us. In addition, some regulatory requirements issued by certain PRC government authorities may not be consistently applied by other PRC government authorities (including local government authorities), thus making strict compliance with all regulatory requirements impractical, or in some circumstances impossible. For example, we may have to resort to administrative and court proceedings to enforce the legal protection that we enjoy either by law or contract. However, since PRC administrative and court authorities have discretion in interpreting and implementing statutory and contractual terms, it may be more difficult to predict the outcome of administrative and court proceedings and the level of legal protection we enjoy than in more developed legal systems. Furthermore, the PRC legal system is based in part on government policies and internal rules, some of which are not published on a timely basis or at all and may have retroactive effect. As a result, we may not be aware of our violation of these policies and rules until sometime after the violation. Such uncertainties, including uncertainty over the scope and effect of our contractual, property (including intellectual property) and procedural rights, could materially and adversely affect our business and impede our ability to continue our operations.

Furthermore, if China adopts more stringent standards with respect to environmental protection or corporate social responsibilities, we may incur increased compliance costs or become subject to additional restrictions in our operations. Intellectual property rights and confidentiality protections in China may also not be as effective as in the United States or other countries. In addition, we cannot predict the effects of future developments in the PRC legal system on our business operations, including the promulgation of new laws, or changes to existing laws or the interpretation or enforcement thereof. These uncertainties could limit the legal protections available to us and our investors, including you. Moreover, any litigation in China may be protracted and result in substantial costs and diversion of our resources and management attention.

The PRC government has significant oversight and discretion over the conduct of our business and may intervene or influence our operations as the government deems appropriate to further regulatory, political and societal goals. The PRC government has recently published new policies that significantly affected certain industries such as the education and internet industries, and we cannot rule out the possibility that it will in the future release regulations or policies regarding our industry that could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, the PRC government has recently indicated an intent to exert more oversight and control over securities offerings and other capital markets activities that are conducted overseas and foreign investment in China-based companies like us. Any such intervention in or influence on our business operations or action to exert more oversight and control over securities offerings and other capital markets activities, once taken by the PRC government, could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations and the value of our Class A ordinary shares or the ADSs, or significantly limit or completely hinder our ability to offer or continue to offer securities to investors and cause the value of such securities to significantly decline or in extreme cases, become worthless.

Uncertainties exist with respect to the enactment timetable, interpretation and implementation of the laws and regulations with respect to our online platform business operation.

Our online platform business is subject to various internet-related laws and regulations. These internet-related laws and regulations are relatively new and evolving, and their enactment timetable, interpretation and implementation involve significant uncertainties.

For example, On February 7, 2021, the State Administration for Market Regulation, or the SAMR, promulgated Guidelines to Anti-Monopoly in the Field of Platform Economy, or the Anti-Monopoly Guidelines for Platform Economy. The Anti-Monopoly Guidelines for Platform Economy provides operational standards and guidelines for identifying certain internet platforms' abuse of market dominant position which are prohibited to restrict unfair competition and safeguard users' interests, including without limitation, prohibiting personalized pricing using big data and analytics, selling products below cost without reasonable causes, actions or arrangements seen as exclusivity arrangements, using technology means to block competitors' interface, using bundle services to sell services or products. In addition, internet platforms' compulsory collection of user data may be viewed as abuse of dominant market position that may have the effect to eliminate or promulgated restrict competition. In August 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress officially the Personal Information Protection Law, which became effective in November 2021. The Personal Information Protection Law provides the basic regime for personal information protection, including without limitation, stipulating an expanded definition of personal information, providing a long-arm jurisdiction in cross-border scenarios, emphasizing individual rights, and prohibiting rampant infringement of personal information, such as stealing, selling, or secretly collecting personal information. In addition, on June 10, 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the PRC Data Security Law, which came into effect in September 2021. The Security Law, among others, provides for security review procedures for data activities that may affect national security.

On August 31, 2018, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the E-commerce Law, which came into effect on January 1, 2019. The E-commerce Law imposes a series of requirements on e-commerce operators including e-commerce platform operators, merchants operating on the platform and the individuals and entities carrying out business online. The platform governance measures we adopt in response to the enhanced regulatory requirements may fail to meet these requirements and may lead to penalties or our loss of merchants to those platforms, or to complaints or claims made against us by customers on our platforms.

As there are uncertainties regarding the enactment timetable, interpretation and implementation of the existing and future internet-related laws and regulations, we cannot assure you that our business operations will comply with such regulations in all respects and we may be ordered to terminate certain of our business operations that are deemed illegal by the regulatory authorities and become subject to fines and/or other sanctions.

The audit report included in this prospectus is prepared by an auditor who is not inspected by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board and as such, our investors are deprived of the benefits of such inspection.

As a public company with securities listed on a national exchange, we will be required to have our financial statements audited by an independent registered public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB. A requirement of being registered with the PCAOB is that if requested by the SEC or PCAOB, such accounting firm is required to make its audits and related audit work papers be subject to regular inspections to assess its compliance with the applicable professional standards. Since our auditor is located in China, a jurisdiction where the PCAOB has been unable to conduct inspections without the approval of the Chinese authorities due to various state secrecy laws and the revised Securities Law, the PCAOB currently does not have free access to inspect the work of our auditor. This lack of the PCAOB inspections in China prevents the PCAOB from fully evaluating audits and quality control procedures of our auditor. As a result, we and investors in our ordinary shares are deprived of the benefits of such PCAOB inspections, which could cause investors in our stock to lose confidence in our audit procedures and the quality of our financial statements.

The recent enactment of the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act may result in de-listing of the ADSs.

Over the past decade, U.S. SEC and PCAOB and the Chinese counterparts, namely, the China Securities Regulatory Commission, or the CSRC, and PRC Ministry of Finance have been in an impasse over the ability of the PCAOB to have access to the audit work papers and inspect the audit work of China based accounting firms, including our auditor. In May 2013, the PCAOB entered into a Memorandum of Understanding on Enforcement Cooperation (the “MOU”) with the CSRC, and the PRC Ministry of Finance, which establishes a cooperative framework between the parties for the production and exchange of audit documents relevant to investigations undertaken by the PCAOB, the CSRC or the PRC Ministry of Finance in the United States and the PRC, respectively. Despite the MOU, on December 7, 2018, the SEC and the PCAOB issued a joint statement highlighting continued challenges faced by the U.S. regulators in their oversight of financial statement audits of U.S.-listed companies with significant operations in China. On April 21, 2020, the SEC and the PCAOB reiterated in another joint statement the greater risk associated with the PCAOB’s inability to inspect audit work paper and practices of accounting firms in China, with respect to their audit work of U.S. reporting companies.

As part of a continued regulatory focus in the United States on access to audit and other information currently protected by laws in China, on December 2, 2020, U.S. Congress passed S. 945, the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act (the “HFCAA”). The HFCAA has been signed by the President into law. Pursuant to the HFCAA, the SEC is required to propose rules to prohibit the securities of any registrant from being listed on any of the U.S. securities exchanges or traded “over the counter” if the PCAOB is unable to inspect the work of the accounting firm for three consecutive years. On March 24, 2021, the SEC issued amendments to Form 20 and sought public comment in response to the HFCAA. Consistent with the HFCAA, these amendments require the submission of documentation to the SEC establishing that a “commission-identified registrant” (as defined in the amendments) is not owned or controlled by a governmental entity in that foreign jurisdiction and also require disclosure in a foreign issuer’s annual report regarding the audit arrangements of, and governmental influence on, such registrant. We will be required to comply with these rules if the SEC identifies us as having a ‘non-inspection’ year under a process to be subsequently established by the SEC. On June 22, 2021, the U.S. Senate passed a bill which, if passed by the U.S. House of Representatives and signed into law, would reduce the number of consecutive non-inspection years required for triggering the prohibitions under the HFCA Act from three years to two years.

On September 22, 2021, the PCAOB adopted Rule 6100 to establish a framework for making determinations under the HFCAA that whether the PCAOB is unable to inspect or investigate completely registered public accounting firms located in a foreign jurisdiction because of a position taken by one or more authorities in that jurisdiction (“PCAOB Rule 6100”). PCAOB Rule 6100 establishes the manner of the PCAOB’s determinations; the factors the PCAOB will evaluate and the documents and information the PCAOB will consider when assessing whether a determination is warranted; the form, public availability, effective date and duration of such determinations; and the process by which the PCAOB will reaffirm, modify or vacate any such determinations. The SEC approved PCAOB Rule 6100 on November 5, 2021. On December 16, 2021, pursuant to PCAOB Rule 6100, PCAOB issued a report setting forth the PCAOB-registered public accounting firms headquartered in Mainland China and Hong Kong that it is unable to inspect or investigate completely, which included the accounting firm who prepared the audit report included in this prospectus, because of positions taken by PRC authorities in those jurisdictions.

On December 2, 2021, the SEC adopted final amendments to its rules implementing the HFCAA (the “Final Amendments”). The Final Amendments finalize the interim final rules adopted in March with two major modifications. First, the Final Amendments clarify how the requirements apply to variable interest entities. Second, the Final Amendments include requirements to disclose information, including the auditor name and location, the percentage of shares of the issuer owned by governmental entities, whether governmental entities in the applicable foreign jurisdiction with respect to the auditor has a controlling financial interest with respect to the issuer, the name of each official of the Chinese Communist Party who is a member of the board of the issuer, and whether the articles of incorporation of the issuer contains any charter of the Chinese Communist Party. The Final Amendments also establish procedures the SEC will follow in identifying non-compliant “Commissioned-identified Issuer” and prohibiting trading by certain issuers under the HFCAA.

If we were identified as a “Commissioned-identified Issuer” by the SEC for three consecutive years, based on the PCAOB’s determination that it is unable to inspect or investigate completely our accounting firm, we may be subject to trading prohibitions. In addition, we could be delisted from the Nasdaq Global Market and our ADSs will not be permitted for trading “over-the-counter” either. Such a delisting would substantially impair your ability to sell or purchase our ADSs when you wish to do so, and the risk and uncertainty associated with delisting would have a negative impact on the price of our ADSs. Also, such a delisting would significantly affect our ability to raise capital on terms acceptable to us, or at all, which would have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and prospects.

The enactment of the HFCAA and other efforts to increase U.S. regulatory access to audit work papers could cause investor uncertainty for affected issuers, including us, and the market price of the ADSs could be adversely affected as uncertainty remains over whether there will be a compromise solution.

In addition, on August 6, 2020, the President’s Working Group on Financial Markets, or PWG, released a report recommending that the SEC take steps to implement the five recommendations, including enhanced listing standards on U.S. stock exchanges with respect to PCAOB inspection of accounting firms. This would require, as a condition to initial and continued listing on a U.S. stock exchange, PCAOB access to work papers of the principal audit firm for the audit of the listed company. The report permits the new listing standards to provide for a transition period until January 1, 2022 for listed companies, but would apply immediately to new listings once the necessary rulemakings and/or standard-setting are effective. It is unclear if and when the SEC will make rules to implement the recommendations proposed in the PWG report, especially in light of its ongoing rulemaking pursuant to the HFCAA. Any of these factors and developments could potentially lead to a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

Proceedings instituted by the SEC against Chinese affiliates of the “big four” accounting firms, including our independent registered public accounting firm, could result in financial statements being determined to not be in compliance with the requirements of the Exchange Act.

In December 2012, the SEC instituted administrative proceedings against the “big four” PRC-based accounting firms, including our independent registered public accounting firm, alleging that these firms had violated U.S. securities laws and the SEC’s rules and regulations thereunder by failing to provide to the SEC the firms’ audit work papers with respect to certain PRC-based companies that are publicly traded in the United States.

On January 22, 2014, the administrative law judge, or the ALJ, presiding over the matter rendered an initial decision that each of the firms had violated the SEC’s rules of practice by failing to produce audit papers and other documents to the SEC. The initial decision censured each of the firms and barred them from practicing before the SEC for a period of six months.

On February 6, 2015, the four China-based accounting firms each agreed to a censure and to pay a fine to the SEC to settle the dispute and avoid suspension of their ability to practice before the SEC and audit U.S.-listed companies. The settlement required the firms to follow detailed procedures and to seek to provide the SEC with access to Chinese firms’ audit documents via the CSRC. Under the terms of the settlement, the underlying proceeding against the four China-based accounting firms was deemed dismissed with prejudice four years after entry of the settlement. The four-year mark occurred on February 6, 2019. While we cannot predict if the SEC will further challenge the four China-based accounting firms’ compliance with U.S. law in connection with U.S. regulatory requests for audit work papers or if the results of such a challenge would result in the SEC imposing penalties such as suspensions, if the accounting firms are subject to additional remedial measures, our ability to file our financial statements in compliance with SEC requirements could be impacted. A determination that we have not timely filed financial statements in compliance with the SEC requirements could ultimately lead to the delisting of the ADSs from the Nasdaq or the termination of the registration of our Class A ordinary shares under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or both, which would substantially reduce or effectively terminate the trading of the ADSs in the United States.

You may experience difficulties in effecting service of legal process, enforcing foreign judgments or bringing actions in China against us or our management named in the prospectus based on foreign laws.

We are an exempted company incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands. We conduct all of our operations in China. In addition, all our senior executive officers reside within China for a significant portion of the time and all of them are PRC nationals. As a result, it may be difficult for our shareholders to effect service of process upon us or those persons inside China.

The recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments are basically provided for under the PRC Civil Procedures Law. PRC courts may recognize and enforce foreign judgments in accordance with the requirements of the PRC Civil Procedures Law based either on treaties between China and the country where the judgment is made or on principles of reciprocity between jurisdictions. China does not have treaties providing for the reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments of courts with the United States, the Cayman Islands or many other countries and regions. Therefore, recognition and enforcement in China of judgments of a court in any of these non-PRC jurisdictions in relation to any matter not subject to a binding arbitration provision may be difficult or impossible. In addition, according to the PRC Civil Procedures Law, the PRC courts will not enforce a foreign judgment if it is decided as having violated the basic principles of PRC laws or national sovereignty, security or public interest. As a result, it is uncertain whether and on what basis a PRC court would enforce a judgment rendered by a court in the United States or the Cayman Islands.

The SEC, U.S. Department of Justice and other U.S. authorities often have substantial difficulties in bringing and enforcing actions against non-U.S. companies and non-U.S. persons, including company directors and officers, in certain emerging markets, including China. Legal and other obstacles to obtaining information needed for investigations or litigation or to obtaining access to funds outside the United States, lack of support from local authorities, and other various factors make it difficult for the U.S. authorities to pursue actions against non-U.S. companies and individuals, who may have engaged in fraud or other wrongdoings. Additionally, public shareholders investing in the ADSs have limited rights and few practical remedies in emerging markets where we operate, as shareholder claims that are common in the United States, including class actions under securities law and fraud claims, generally are difficult or impossible to pursue as a matter of law or practicality in many emerging markets, including China. As a result of all of the above, you may have more difficulties in protecting your interests in your emerging market investments.

We may rely on dividends and other distributions on equity paid by our PRC subsidiaries to fund any cash and financing requirements we may have, and any limitation on the ability of our PRC subsidiaries to make payments to us could have a material and adverse effect on our ability to conduct our business.

We are a Cayman Islands holding company and we rely principally on dividends and other distributions on equity from our PRC subsidiaries for our cash and financing requirements, including the funds necessary to pay dividends and other cash distributions to our shareholders and services of any debt we may incur. Our PRC subsidiaries' ability to distribute dividends is based upon its distributable earnings. Current PRC regulations permit our PRC subsidiaries to pay dividends to their respective shareholders only out of their accumulated profits, if any, determined in accordance with PRC accounting standards and regulations. In addition, each of our PRC subsidiaries is required to set aside at least 10% of its after-tax profits each year, if any, to fund a statutory reserve until such reserve reaches 50% of its registered capital. These reserves are not distributable as cash dividends. If our PRC subsidiaries incur debt on their own behalf in the future, the instruments governing the debt may restrict their ability to pay dividends or make other payments to us.

To address the persistent capital outflow and the RMB's depreciation against the U.S. dollar, the People's Bank of China and the State Administration of Foreign Exchange, or SAFE, have implemented a series of capital control measures since 2016, including stricter vetting procedures for China-based companies to remit foreign currency for overseas acquisitions, dividend payments and shareholder loan repayments. For instance, the Circular on Promoting the Reform of Foreign Exchange Management and Improving Authenticity and Compliance Review, or the SAFE Circular 3, issued on January 26, 2017, provides that the banks shall, when dealing with dividend remittance transactions from domestic enterprise to its offshore shareholders of more than US$50,000, review the relevant board resolutions (or resolutions of partners), original tax filing form and audited financial statements of such domestic enterprise based on the principle of genuine transaction. The PRC government may strengthen its capital controls from time to time and our PRC subsidiaries' dividends and other distributions may be subject to tightened scrutiny in the future. Any limitation on the ability of our PRC subsidiaries to pay dividends or make other distributions to us could materially and adversely limit our ability to grow, make investments or acquisitions that could be beneficial to our business, pay dividends, or otherwise fund and conduct our business.

In addition, the Enterprise Income Tax Law and its implementation rules provide that a withholding tax at a rate of 10% will be applicable to dividends payable by Chinese companies to non-PRC resident enterprises unless reduced under treaties or arrangements between the PRC central government and governments of other countries or regions where the non-PRC resident enterprises are tax resident.

The custodians or authorized users of our controlling non-tangible assets, including chops and seals, may fail to fulfill their responsibilities, or misappropriate or misuse these assets.

Under PRC law, legal documents for corporate transactions, including agreements and contracts, are executed using the chop or seal of the signing entity or with the signature of a legal representative whose designation is registered and filed with SAMR. A company chop or seal may serve as the legal representation of the company towards third parties even when unaccompanied by a signature.

In order to secure the use of our chops and seals, we have established internal control procedures and rules for using these chops and seals. In any event that the chops and seals are intended to be used, the responsible personnel will submit the application, which will then be verified and approved by authorized employees in accordance with our internal control procedures and rules. In addition, in order to maintain the physical security of our chops, we generally have them stored in secured locations accessible only to authorized employees.

Although we monitor such authorized employees, the procedures may not be sufficient to prevent all instances of abuse or negligence. There is a risk that our employees could abuse their authority, for example, by entering into a contract not approved by us or seeking to gain control of one of our subsidiaries. If any employee obtains, misuses or misappropriates our chops and seals or other controlling non-tangible assets for whatever reason, we could experience disruption to our normal business operations. We may have to take corporate or legal action, which could involve significant time and resources to resolve and divert management from our operations.

PRC regulation of loans to and direct investment in PRC entities by offshore holding companies and governmental control of currency conversion may restrict or delay us from using the proceeds of this offering to make loans or additional capital contributions to our PRC subsidiaries, which could adversely affect our liquidity and our ability to fund and expand our business.

Any funds we transfer to our PRC subsidiaries, either as a shareholder loan or as an increase in registered capital, are subject to approval by or registration with relevant governmental authorities in China. According to the relevant PRC regulations on foreign-invested enterprises, or FIEs, in China, capital contributions to our PRC subsidiaries are subject to registration with SAMR or its local counterpart and registration with a local bank authorized by SAFE. In addition, (i) any foreign loan procured by our PRC subsidiaries is required to be registered with SAFE or its local branches and (ii) any of our PRC subsidiaries may not procure loans which exceed the difference between its total investment amount and registered capital or, as an alternative, they may only procure loans subject to the calculation approach and limitation as provided by the People's Bank of China.

On March 30, 2015, the SAFE promulgated the Circular on Reforming the Management Approach Regarding the Foreign Exchange Capital Settlement of Foreign-Invested Enterprises, or SAFE Circular 19, which took effect as of June 1, 2015. SAFE Circular 19 launched a nationwide reform of the administration of the settlement of the foreign exchange capitals of FIEs and allows FIEs to settle their foreign exchange capital at their discretion, but continues to prohibit FIEs from using the renminbi fund converted from their foreign exchange capital for expenditure beyond their business scopes, providing entrusted loans or repaying loans between nonfinancial enterprises. The SAFE issued the Circular on Reforming and Regulating Policies on the Control over Foreign Exchange Settlement of Capital Accounts, or SAFE Circular 16, effective on June 9, 2016. Pursuant to SAFE Circular 16, enterprises registered in China may also convert their foreign debts from foreign currency to renminbi on a self-discretionary basis. SAFE Circular 16 provides an integrated standard for conversion of foreign exchange under capital account items (including, but not limited, to foreign currency capital and foreign debts) on a self-discretionary basis which applies to all enterprises registered in China. SAFE Circular 16 reiterates the principle that renminbi converted from foreign currency-denominated capital of a company may not be directly or indirectly used for purposes beyond its business scope or prohibited by PRC laws or regulations, while such converted renminbi shall not be provided as loans to its non-affiliated entities. On October 23, 2019, SAFE further issued the Circular of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Further Promoting the Facilitation of Cross-Border Trade and Investment, or the Circular 28, which took effect on the same day. Circular 28 allows non-investment foreign-invested enterprises to use their capital funds to make equity investments in China as long as such investments do not violate then effective negative list for foreign investments and the target investment projects are genuine and in compliance with laws. In addition, Circular 28 stipulates that qualified enterprises in certain pilot areas may use their capital income from registered capital, foreign debt and overseas listing, for the purpose of domestic payments without providing authenticity certifications to the relevant banks in advance for those domestic payments. As this circular is relatively new, there remains uncertainty as to its interpretation and application and any other future foreign exchange-related rules. Violations of these circulars could result in severe monetary or other penalties.

Fluctuations in exchange rates could have an adverse effect on our results of operations and the value of your investment.

The value of the renminbi against the U.S. dollar and other currencies may fluctuate and is affected by, among other things, changes in political and economic conditions in China and by China's foreign exchange policies. Since June 2010, the renminbi has fluctuated against the U.S. dollar, at times significantly and unpredictably. Since October 1, 2016, renminbi has joined the International Monetary Fund's basket of currencies that make up the Special Drawing Right (SDR) along with the U.S. dollar, the euro, the Japanese yen and the British pound. In the fourth quarter of 2016 the renminbi has depreciated significantly in the backdrop of a surging U.S. dollar and persistent capital outflows of China. With the development of the foreign exchange market and progress towards interest rate liberalization and renminbi internationalization, the PRC government may in the future announce further changes to the exchange rate system, and we cannot assure you that the renminbi will not appreciate or depreciate significantly in value against the U.S. dollar in the future. It is difficult to predict how market forces or PRC or U.S. government policy may impact the exchange rate between the renminbi and the U.S. dollar in the future.

There remains significant international pressure on the Chinese government to adopt a flexible currency policy to allow the renminbi to appreciate against the U.S. dollar. Significant revaluation of the RMB may have a material adverse effect on your investment. All of our net revenues and costs are denominated in renminbi. Any significant revaluation of RMB may adversely affect our revenues, earnings and financial position, and the value of, and any dividends payable on, the ADSs in U.S. dollars. To the extent that we need to convert U.S. dollars into renminbi for capital expenditures and working capital and other business purposes, appreciation of renminbi against the U.S. dollar would have an adverse effect on the RMB amount we would receive from the conversion. Conversely, a significant depreciation of renminbi against the U.S. dollar may significantly reduce the U.S. dollar equivalent of our earnings, which in turn could adversely affect the price of the ADSs, and if we decide to convert RMB into U.S. dollars for the purpose of making payments for dividends on our Class A ordinary shares or ADSs, strategic acquisitions or investments or other business purposes, appreciation of the U.S. dollar against the RMB would have a negative effect on the U.S. dollar amount available to us.

Very limited hedging options are available in China to reduce our exposure to exchange rate fluctuations. To date, we have not entered into any hedging transactions in an effort to reduce our exposure to foreign currency exchange risk. While we may enter into hedging transactions in the future, the availability and effectiveness of these hedges may be limited and we may not be able to adequately hedge our exposure or at all. In addition, our currency exchange losses may be magnified by PRC exchange control regulations that restrict our ability to convert renminbi into foreign currency. As a result, fluctuations in exchange rates may have a material adverse effect on your investment.

Governmental control of currency conversion may limit our ability to utilize our revenues effectively and affect the value of your investment.

The PRC government imposes controls on the convertibility of the renminbi into foreign currencies and, in certain cases, the remittance of currency out of China. We receive all of our revenues in renminbi. Under our current corporate structure, our Cayman Islands holding company primarily relies on dividend payments from our PRC subsidiaries to fund any cash and financing requirements we may have. Under existing PRC foreign exchange regulations, payments of current account items, including profit distributions, interest payments and trade and service-related foreign exchange transactions, can be made in foreign currencies without prior approval of SAFE by complying with certain procedural requirements. Specifically, under the existing exchange restrictions, without prior approval of SAFE, cash generated from the operations of our PRC subsidiaries in China may be used to pay dividends to our company. However, approval from or registration with appropriate government authorities is required where renminbi is to be converted into foreign currency and remitted out of China to pay capital expenses such as the repayment of loans denominated in foreign currencies. As a result, we need to obtain SAFE approval to use cash generated from the operations of our PRC subsidiaries to pay off their respective debt in a currency other than renminbi owed to entities outside China, or to make other capital expenditure payments outside China in a currency other than renminbi. The PRC government may at its discretion restrict access to foreign currencies for current account transactions in the future. If the foreign exchange control system prevents us from obtaining sufficient foreign currencies to satisfy our foreign currency demands, we may not be able to pay dividends in foreign currencies to our shareholders, including holders of the ADSs.

Certain PRC regulations may make it more difficult for us to pursue growth through acquisitions.

Among other things, the Regulations on Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors, or the M&A Rules, adopted by six PRC regulatory agencies in 2006 and amended in 2009, establish additional procedures and requirements that could make merger and acquisition activities by foreign investors more time-consuming and complex. Such regulation requires, among other things, that the PRC Ministry of Commerce, or the MOFCOM, under certain circumstances, be notified in advance of any change-of-control transaction in which a foreign investor takes control of an affiliated PRC domestic enterprise. Moreover, the Anti-Monopoly Law requires that the SAMR should be notified in advance of any concentration of undertaking if certain thresholds are triggered. Transactions which are deemed concentrations and involve parties with specified turnover thresholds must be cleared by the SAMR before they can be completed. In addition, the PRC national security reviews rules which became effective in September 2011 requiring mergers and acquisitions by foreign investors of PRC companies engaged in military-related or certain other industries that are crucial to national security be subject to security review before consummation of any such acquisition. We may pursue potential strategic acquisitions that are complementary to our business and operations. Complying with the requirements of these regulations to complete such transactions could be time-consuming, and any required approval processes, including obtaining approval or clearance from the MOFCOM and the SAMR, may delay or inhibit our ability to complete such transactions, which could affect our ability to expand our business or maintain our market share.

PRC regulations relating to offshore investment activities by PRC residents may subject our PRC resident beneficial owners or our PRC subsidiaries to liability or penalties, limit our ability to inject capital into our PRC subsidiaries, limit our PRC subsidiaries' ability to increase their registered capital or distribute profits to us, or may otherwise adversely affect us.

The SAFE issued Circular on Several Issues concerning Foreign Exchange Administration for Domestic Residents to Engage in Financing and in Return Investments via Overseas Special Purpose Companies, or Circular No. 75, on October 21, 2005, which became effective on November 1, 2005. Under Circular 75, prior registration with the local SAFE branch is required for PRC residents to establish or to control an offshore company for the purposes of financing that offshore company with assets or equity interests in an onshore enterprise located in the PRC. In July 2014, SAFE promulgated the Circular on Relevant Issues Concerning Foreign Exchange Control on Domestic Residents' Offshore Investment and Financing and Roundtrip Investment Through Special Purpose Vehicles, or SAFE Circular 37. SAFE Circular 37 requires PRC residents (including PRC individuals and PRC corporate entities) to register with SAFE or its local branches in connection with their establishment or control of an offshore entity established for the purpose of overseas investment or financing with such PRC residents' legally owned assets or equity interests in domestic enterprises or offshore assets or interests. SAFE Circular 37 is applicable to our shareholders who are PRC residents and may be applicable to any offshore acquisitions that we make in the future. See "Regulation — Regulations on Offshore Financing".

We are committed to complying with and to ensuring that our shareholders and beneficial owners who are subject to these regulations will comply with the relevant SAFE rules and regulations. However, due to inherent uncertainty in the implementation of the regulatory requirements by the PRC authorities, such registration might not be always practically available in all circumstances as provided in those regulations.

We have requested shareholders or beneficial owners who directly or indirectly hold shares in our Cayman Islands holding company and are known to us as being PRC residents to complete their registration with or to obtain approval by the local SAFE, the National Development and Reform Commission, or the NDRC, or MOFCOM branches. However, we may not be informed of the identities of all the PRC individuals or entities holding direct or indirect interest in our company, nor can we compel our beneficial owners to comply with the SAFE registration requirements. As a result, we cannot assure you that all of our shareholders or beneficial owners who are PRC residents have complied with, and will in the future make, obtain or update any applicable registrations or approvals required by SAFE, NDRC and MOFCOM regulations. Any failure or inability by such shareholders, beneficial owners or our subsidiaries to comply with SAFE, NDRC and MOFCOM regulations may subject us to fines or legal sanctions, such as restrictions on our cross-border investment activities or our PRC subsidiary's ability to distribute dividends to, or obtain foreign exchange-denominated loans from, our company or prevent us from making distributions or paying dividends. As a result, our business operations and our ability to make distributions to you could be materially and adversely affected.

Any failure to comply with PRC regulations regarding the registration requirements for employee stock incentive plans may subject the PRC plan participants or us to fines and other legal or administrative sanctions.

Pursuant to SAFE Circular 37, PRC residents who participate in share incentive plans in overseas non-publicly-listed companies may submit applications to SAFE or its local branches for the foreign exchange registration with respect to offshore special purpose companies. In February 2012, SAFE promulgated the Notices on Issues Concerning the Foreign Exchange Administration for Domestic Individuals Participating in Stock Incentive Plan of Overseas Publicly Listed Company, or the SAFE Circular 7. Pursuant to these rules, PRC citizens and non-PRC citizens who reside in China for a continuous period of not less than one year who participate in any stock incentive plan of an overseas publicly listed company, subject to a few exceptions, are required to register with SAFE through a domestic qualified agent, which could be the PRC subsidiaries of such overseas-listed company, and complete certain other procedures. In addition, an overseas-entrusted institution must be retained to handle matters in connection with the exercise or sale of stock options and the purchase or sale of shares and interests. We and our executive officers and other employees who are PRC citizens or who reside in the PRC for a continuous period of not less than one year and who have been granted options will be subject to these regulations when our company becomes an overseas-listed company upon the completion of this offering. Failure to complete the SAFE registrations may subject them to fines and legal sanctions, and there may be additional restrictions on the ability of them to exercise their stock options or remit proceeds gained from sale of their stock into the PRC. We also face regulatory uncertainties that could restrict our ability to adopt additional incentive plans for our directors, executive officers and employees under PRC law. See "Regulation — Regulations on Employee Share Option Plans."

In addition, the State Administration of Taxation, or SAT, has issued circulars concerning employee share options or restricted shares. Under these circulars, employees working in the PRC who exercise share options, or whose restricted shares or restricted share units vest, will be subject to PRC individual income tax. Our PRC subsidiaries have obligations to file documents related to employee share options or restricted shares with relevant tax authorities and to withhold individual income taxes of those employees related to their share options, restricted shares or restricted share units. In addition, the sales of the ADSs or shares held by such PRC individual employees after their exercise of the options, or the vesting of the restricted shares or restricted share units, are also subject to PRC individual income tax. If the employees fail to pay, or the PRC subsidiaries fail to withhold, their income taxes according to relevant laws, rules and regulations, the PRC subsidiaries may face sanctions imposed by the tax authorities or other PRC government authorities. See “Regulation — Regulations on Employee Share Option Plans.”

If we are classified as a PRC resident enterprise for PRC enterprise income tax purposes, such classification could result in unfavorable tax consequences to us and our non-PRC shareholders and ADS holders.

Under the PRC Enterprise Income Tax Law and its implementation rules, an enterprise established outside of the PRC with its “de facto management body” within the PRC is considered a “resident enterprise” and will be subject to the enterprise income tax on its global income at the rate of 25%. The implementation rules define the term “de facto management body” as the body that exercises full and substantial control and overall management over the business, productions, personnel, accounts and properties of an enterprise. In 2009, the SAT, issued a circular, known as SAT Circular 82, and was amended on 2017, which provides certain specific criteria for determining whether the “de facto management body” of a PRC-controlled enterprise that is incorporated offshore is located in China. Although this circular only applies to offshore enterprises controlled by PRC enterprises or PRC enterprise groups, not those controlled by PRC individuals or foreigners, the criteria set forth in the circular may reflect the SAT’s general position on how the “de facto management body” test should be applied in determining the tax resident status of all offshore enterprises. According to SAT Circular 82, an offshore incorporated enterprise controlled by a PRC enterprise or a PRC enterprise group will be regarded as a PRC tax resident by virtue of having its “de facto management body” in China and will be subject to PRC enterprise income tax on its global income only if all of the following conditions are met: (i) the senior management and core management departments in charge of its daily operations function have their presence mainly in the PRC; (ii) its financial and human resources decisions are subject to determination or approval by persons or bodies in the PRC; (iii) its major assets, accounting books, company seals, and minutes and files of its board and shareholders’ meetings are located or kept in the PRC; and (iv) not less than half of the enterprise’s directors or senior management with voting rights habitually reside in the PRC.

We believe our company is not a PRC resident enterprise for PRC tax purposes. However, the tax resident status of an enterprise is subject to determination by the PRC tax authorities and uncertainties remain with respect to the interpretation of the term “de facto management body.” If the PRC tax authorities determine that our company is a PRC resident enterprise for enterprise income tax purposes, we will be subject to PRC enterprise income on our worldwide income at the rate of 25%. Furthermore, we will be required to withhold a 10% withholding tax from dividends we pay to our shareholders (including our ADS holders) that are non-resident enterprises. In addition, non-resident enterprise shareholders (including our ADS holders) may be subject to PRC tax at a rate of 10% on gains realized on the sale or other disposition of ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, if such gain is treated as derived from a PRC source. Furthermore, if we are deemed a PRC resident enterprise, dividends paid to our non-PRC individual shareholders (including our ADS holders) and any gain realized on the sale or other disposition of ADSs or Class A ordinary shares by such shareholders (including ADS holders) may be subject to PRC tax at a rate of 20% (which in the case of dividends may be withheld at source). These rates may be reduced by an applicable tax treaty, but it is unclear whether non-PRC shareholders (including ADS holders) of our company would, in practice, be able to obtain the benefits of any tax treaties between their country of tax residence and the PRC in the event that we are treated as a PRC resident enterprise. Any such tax may reduce the returns on your investment in the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares.

We face uncertainty with respect to indirect transfers of equity interests in PRC resident enterprises by their non-PRC holding companies.

On February 3, 2015, the SAT issued the Public Notice Regarding Certain Corporate Income Tax Matters on Indirect Transfer of Properties by Non-Tax Resident Enterprises, or SAT Bulletin 7. SAT Bulletin 7 extends its tax jurisdiction to transactions involving the transfer of taxable assets through offshore transfer of a foreign intermediate holding company. In addition, SAT Bulletin 7 has introduced safe harbors for internal group restructurings and the purchase and sale of equity securities through a public securities market. SAT Bulletin 7 also brings challenges to both foreign transferor and transferee (or other person who is obligated to pay for the transfer) of taxable assets.

On October 17, 2017, the SAT issued the Public Notice on Issues Relating to Withholding at Source of Income Tax of Non-resident Enterprises, or SAT Bulletin 37, which came into effect on December 1, 2017. The SAT Bulletin 37 further clarifies the practice and procedure of the withholding of non-resident enterprise income tax.

Where a non-resident enterprise transfers taxable assets indirectly by disposing of the equity interests of an overseas holding company, which is an Indirect Transfer, the non-resident enterprise as either transferor or transferee, or the PRC entity that directly owns the taxable assets, may report such Indirect Transfer to the relevant tax authority. Using a “substance over form” principle, the PRC tax authority may disregard the existence of the overseas holding company if it lacks a reasonable commercial purpose and was established for the purpose of reducing, avoiding or deferring PRC tax. As a result, gains derived from such Indirect Transfer may be subject to PRC enterprise income tax, and the transferee or other person who is obligated to pay for the transfer is obligated to withhold the applicable taxes, currently at a rate of 10% for the transfer of equity interests in a PRC resident enterprise. Both the transferor and the transferee may be subject to penalties under PRC tax laws if the transferee fails to withhold the taxes and the transferor fails to pay the taxes.

We face uncertainties as to the reporting and other implications of certain past and future transactions where PRC taxable assets are involved, such as offshore restructuring, sale of the shares in our offshore subsidiaries and investments. Our company may be subject to filing obligations or taxed if our company is transferor in such transactions, and may be subject to withholding obligations if our company is transferee in such transactions, under SAT Bulletin 7 and/or SAT Bulletin 37. For transfer of shares in our company by investors who are non-PRC resident enterprises, our PRC subsidiaries may be requested to assist in the filing under SAT Bulletin 7 and/or SAT Bulletin 37. As a result, we may be required to expend valuable resources to comply with SAT Bulletin 7 and/or SAT Bulletin 37 or to request the relevant transferors from whom we purchase taxable assets to comply with these bulletins, or to establish that our company should not be taxed under these bulletins, which may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Regulation and censorship of information disseminated over the internet in China may adversely affect our business and reputation and subject us to liability for information displayed on our website.

The PRC government has adopted regulations governing internet access and the distribution of news and other information over the internet. Under these regulations, internet content providers and internet publishers are prohibited from posting or displaying over the internet content that, among other things, violates PRC laws and regulations, impairs the national dignity of China, or is reactionary, obscene, superstitious, fraudulent or defamatory. Failure to comply with these requirements may result in the revocation of licenses to provide internet content and other licenses, and the closure of the concerned websites. The website operator may also be held liable for such censored information displayed on or linked to the websites. If our self-owned online store or content is found to be in violation of any such requirements, we may be penalized by relevant authorities, and our operations or reputation could be adversely affected.

Risks Related to the ADSs and This Offering

An active trading market for our Class A ordinary shares or the ADSs may not develop and the trading price for the ADSs may fluctuate significantly.

We have been approved to list the ADSs on the Nasdaq. We have no current intention to seek a listing for our ordinary shares on any stock exchange. Prior to the completion of this offering, there has been no public market for the ADSs or our ordinary shares, and we cannot assure you that a liquid public market for the ADSs will develop. The initial public offering price for the ADSs was determined by negotiation between us and the underwriters based upon several factors, and we can provide no assurance that the trading price of the ADSs after this offering will not decline below the initial public offering price. As a result, investors in our securities may experience a significant decrease in the value of their ADSs.

In addition, investing in securities of issuers based in emerging market countries, including China, frequently involves a greater degree of risks and uncertainties when compared to investments in securities of issuers located in more established markets. These factors may affect your ability to sell the ADSs at your desired price and time. If an active and liquid market for the ADSs does not develop or is not maintained, the market price and liquidity of the ADSs may be materially and adversely affected.

We will incur additional costs as a result of being a public company.

Upon completion of this offering, we will become a public company and expect to incur significant legal, accounting and other expenses that we did not incur as a private company. These additional costs could negatively affect our financial results. In addition, changing laws, regulations and standards relating to corporate governance and public disclosure, including regulations implemented by the Nasdaq, may increase legal and financial compliance costs and make some activities more time-consuming. These laws, regulations and standards are subject to varying interpretations and, as a result, their application in practice may evolve over time as new guidance is provided by regulatory and governing bodies. We intend to invest resources to comply with evolving laws, regulations and standards, and this investment may result in increased general and administrative expenses and a diversion of management's time and attention from revenue-generating activities to compliance activities. If, notwithstanding our efforts to comply with new laws, regulations and standards, we fail to comply, regulatory authorities may initiate legal proceedings against us and our business may be harmed.

You must rely on the judgment of our management as to the use of the net proceeds from this offering, and such use may not produce income or increase our ADS price.

Our management will have considerable discretion in the application of the net proceeds received by us.

You will not have the opportunity, as part of your investment decision, to assess whether proceeds are being used appropriately. The net proceeds may be used for corporate purposes that do not improve our efforts to achieve or maintain profitability or increase our ADS price. The net proceeds from this offering may be placed in investments that do not produce income or that lose value.

The trading price of the ADSs is likely to be volatile, which could result in substantial losses to investors.

The trading price of the ADSs is likely to be volatile and could fluctuate widely due to factors beyond our control. This may happen because of broad market and industry factors, including the performance and fluctuation of the market prices of other companies with business operations located mainly in China that have listed their securities in the United States. In addition to market and industry factors, the price and trading volume for the ADSs may be highly volatile for factors specific to our own operations, including the following:

- variations in our net revenues, earnings and cash flows;
- announcements of new investments, acquisitions, strategic partnerships or joint ventures by us or our competitors;
- announcements of new offerings, solutions and expansions by us or our competitors;
- changes in financial estimates by securities analysts;
- detrimental adverse publicity about us, our services or our industry;
- announcements of new regulations, rules or policies relevant to our business;
- additions or departures of key personnel;
- our controlling shareholder's business performance and reputation;
- release of lock-up or other transfer restrictions on our outstanding equity securities or sales of additional equity securities; and
- potential litigation or regulatory investigations.

Any of these factors may result in large and sudden changes in the volume and price at which the ADSs will trade.

In the past, shareholders of public companies have often brought securities class-action suits against those companies following periods of instability in the market price of their securities. If we were involved in a class-action suit, it could divert a significant amount of our management's attention and other resources from our business and operations and require us to incur significant expenses to defend the suit, which could harm our results of operations. Any such class action suit, whether or not successful, could harm our reputation and restrict our ability to raise capital in the future. In addition, if a claim is successfully made against us, we may be required to pay significant damages, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Because our initial public offering price is substantially higher than our net tangible book value per share, you will experience immediate and substantial dilution.

If you purchase ADSs in this offering, you will pay more for the ADSs than the amount paid by our existing shareholders for their ordinary shares on a per ADS basis. As a result, you will experience immediate and substantial dilution of approximately US$ per ADS, representing the difference between the initial public offering price of US$ per ADS and our net tangible book value per ADS as of December 31, 2021, after giving effect the net proceeds we receive from this offering. See "Dilution" for a more complete description of how the value of your investment in the ADSs will be diluted upon the completion of this offering.

If securities or industry analysts do not publish research or reports about our business, or if they adversely change their recommendations regarding the ADSs, the market price for the ADSs and trading volume could decline.

The trading market for the ADSs will be influenced by research or reports that industry or securities analysts publish about our business. If one or more analysts who cover us downgrade the ADSs, the market price for the ADSs would likely decline. If one or more of these analysts cease to cover us or fail to regularly publish reports on us, we could lose visibility in the financial markets, which in turn could cause the market price or trading volume for the ADSs to decline.

Our dual-class voting structure will limit your ability to influence corporate matters and could discourage others from pursuing any change of control transactions that holders of our Class A ordinary shares and ADSs may view as beneficial.

Our authorized and issued ordinary shares are divided into Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares. Holders of Class A ordinary shares will be entitled to one vote per share, while holders of Class B ordinary shares will be entitled to ten votes per share. We will issue Class A ordinary shares represented by the ADSs in this offering. Each Class B ordinary share is convertible into one Class A ordinary share at any time by the holders thereof, while Class A ordinary shares are not convertible into Class B ordinary shares under any circumstances.

Upon the completion of this offering, Mr. Haijun Wang will beneficially own Class B ordinary shares and controls the voting power of Class A ordinary shares. Mr. Haijun Wang will beneficially own approximately % of our total issued and outstanding share capital immediately after the completion of this offering and % of the aggregate voting power of our total issued and outstanding share capital immediately after the completion of this offering due to the disparate voting powers associated with our dual-class share structure, assuming the underwriters do not exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs. As a result of the dual-class share structure and the concentration of ownership, holders of Class B ordinary shares will have considerable influence over matters such as decisions regarding mergers and consolidations, election of directors, and other significant corporate actions. Such holders may take actions that are not in the best interest of us or our other shareholders. This concentration of ownership may discourage, delay, or prevent a change in control of our company, which could have the effect of depriving our other shareholders of the opportunity to receive a premium for their shares as part of a sale of our company and may reduce the price of the ADSs. This concentrated control will limit your ability to influence corporate matters and could discourage others from pursuing any potential merger, takeover, or other change of control transactions that holders of Class A ordinary shares and ADSs may view as beneficial.

The dual-class structure of our ordinary shares may adversely affect the trading market for the ADSs.

Certain shareholder advisory firms have announced changes to their eligibility criteria for inclusion of shares of public companies on certain indices, including the S&P 500, to exclude companies with multiple classes of shares and companies whose public shareholders hold no more than 5% of total voting power from being added to such indices. In addition, several shareholder advisory firms have announced their opposition to the use of multiple class structures. As a result, the dual class structure of our ordinary shares may prevent the inclusion of the ADSs representing Class A ordinary shares in such indices and may cause shareholder advisory firms to publish negative commentary about our corporate governance practices or otherwise seek to cause us to change our capital structure. Any such exclusion from indices could result in a less active trading market for the ADSs. Any actions or publications by shareholder advisory firms critical of our corporate governance practices or capital structure could also adversely affect the value of the ADSs.

Forum selection provisions in our post-offering memorandum and articles of association could limit the ability of holders of our Class A ordinary shares, ADSs, or other securities to obtain a favorable judicial forum for disputes with us, our directors and officers, the depositary bank, and potentially others.

Our post-offering memorandum and articles of association provide that the federal district courts of the United States are the exclusive forum within the United States for the resolution of any complaint asserting a cause of action arising out of or relating in any way to the federal securities laws of the United States, regardless of whether such legal suit, action, or proceeding also involves parties other than us. Any person or entity purchasing or otherwise acquiring any share or other securities in our company shall be deemed to have notice of and consented to the provisions of our articles of association. However, the enforceability of similar federal court choice of forum provisions has been challenged in legal proceedings in the United States, and it is possible that a court could find this type of provision to be inapplicable, unenforceable, or inconsistent with other documents that are relevant to the filing of such lawsuits. If a court were to find the federal choice of forum provision contained in our post-offering memorandum and articles of association to be inapplicable or unenforceable in an action, we may incur additional costs associated with resolving such action in other jurisdictions. If upheld, the forum selection clause in our post-offering memorandum and articles of association may limit a security-holder's ability to bring a claim against us, our directors and officers, and potentially others in his or her preferred judicial forum, and this limitation may discourage such lawsuits. In addition, the Securities Act provides that both federal and state courts have jurisdiction over suits brought to enforce any duty or liability under the Securities Act or the rules and regulations thereunder. Accepting or consent to this forum selection provision does not constitute a waiver by you of compliance with federal securities laws and the rules and regulations thereunder. You may not waive compliance with federal securities laws and the rules and regulations thereunder. The exclusive forum provision in our post-offering memorandum and articles of association will not operate so as to deprive the courts of the Cayman Islands from having jurisdiction over matters relating to our internal affairs.

We will be a "controlled company" as defined under the Nasdaq Stock Market corporate governance rules. As a result, we will qualify for, and intend to rely on, exemptions from certain corporate governance requirements that would otherwise provide protection to shareholders of other companies.

Following the completion of this offering, we will be a "controlled company" as defined under the Nasdaq corporate governance rules because Mr. Haijun Wang will own more than 50% of our total voting power. For so long as we remain a controlled company, we may rely on certain exemptions from the corporate governance rules, including the rule that we have to establish a nominating and corporate governance committee composed entirely of independent directors. As a result, you will not have the same protection afforded to shareholders of companies that are subject to these corporate governance requirements. Even if we cease to be a controlled company, we may still rely on exemptions available to foreign private issuers, including being able to adopt home country practices in relation to corporate governance matters. See the sections of this prospectus captioned "— We are a foreign private issuer within the meaning of the rules under the Exchange Act, and as such we are exempt from certain provisions applicable to U.S. domestic public companies" and "— As an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands, we are permitted to adopt certain home country practices in relation to corporate governance matters that differ significantly from the Nasdaq corporate governance listing standards. These practices may afford less protection to shareholders than they would enjoy if we complied fully with the Nasdaq corporate governance listing standards.”

The sale or availability for sale of substantial amounts of ADSs could adversely affect their market price.

Sales of substantial amounts of ADSs in the public market after the completion of this offering, or the perception that these sales could occur, could adversely affect the market price of the ADSs and could materially impair our ability to raise capital through equity offerings in the future. The ADSs sold in this offering will be freely tradable without restriction or further registration under the Securities Act, and shares held by our existing shareholders may also be sold in the public market in the future, subject to the restrictions in Rule 144 and Rule 701 under the Securities Act and the applicable lock-up agreements. There will be ADSs (representing Class A ordinary shares) issued and outstanding immediately after this offering, or ADSs (representing Class A ordinary shares) if the underwriters exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs in full. In connection with this offering, we, our directors, executive officers, existing shareholders and holders of share-based awards have agreed, subject to certain exceptions, not to sell any ordinary shares or ADSs for 180 days. However, the underwriters may release these securities from these restrictions at any time, subject to applicable regulations of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. We cannot predict what effect, if any, market sales of securities held by our significant shareholders or any other shareholder or the availability of these securities for future sale will have on the market price of the ADSs. See “Underwriting” and “Shares Eligible for Future Sale” for a more detailed description of the restrictions on selling our securities after this offering.

Techniques employed by short sellers may drive down the market price of the ADSs.

Short selling is the practice of selling securities that the seller does not own but rather has borrowed from a third party with the intention of buying identical securities back at a later date to return to the lender. The short seller hopes to profit from a decline in the value of the securities between the sale of the borrowed securities and the purchase of the replacement shares, as the short seller expects to pay less in that purchase than it received in the sale. As it is in the short seller’s interest for the price of the security to decline, many short sellers publish, or arrange for the publication of, negative opinions regarding the relevant issuer and its business prospects in order to create negative market momentum and generate profits for themselves after selling a security short. These short attacks have, in the past, led to selling of shares in the market.

Public companies that have substantially all of their operations in China have been the subject of short selling. Much of the scrutiny and negative publicity have centered on allegations of a lack of effective internal control over financial reporting resulting in financial and accounting irregularities and mistakes, inadequate corporate governance policies or a lack of adherence thereto and, in many cases, allegations of fraud. As a result, many of these companies are now conducting internal and external investigations into the allegations and, in the interim, are subject to shareholder lawsuits and/or SEC enforcement actions.

It is not clear what effect such negative publicity could have on us. If we were to become the subject of any unfavorable allegations, whether such allegations are proven to be true or untrue, we could have to expend a significant amount of resources to investigate such allegations and/or defend ourselves. While we would strongly defend against any such short seller attacks, we may be constrained in the manner in which we can proceed against the relevant short seller by principles of freedom of speech, applicable state law or issues of commercial confidentiality. Such a situation could be costly and time-consuming, and could distract our management from growing our business. Even if such allegations are ultimately proven to be groundless, allegations against us could severely impact our business operations, and any investment in the ADSs could be greatly reduced or even rendered worthless.

Because we do not expect to pay dividends in the foreseeable future after this offering, you must rely on a price appreciation of the ADSs for a return on your investment.

We currently intend to retain most, if not all, of our available funds and any future earnings after this offering to fund the development and growth of our business. As a result, we do not expect to pay any cash dividends in the foreseeable future. Therefore, you should not rely on an investment in the ADSs as a source for any future dividend income.

Our board of directors has discretion as to whether to distribute dividends, subject to certain requirements of Cayman Islands law. In addition, our shareholders may by ordinary resolution declare a dividend, but no dividend may exceed the amount recommended by our directors. In either case, all dividends are subject to certain restrictions under Cayman Islands law, namely that our company may pay a dividend out of either profit or a share premium account, provided always that in no circumstances may a dividend be paid if this would result in the Company being unable to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business.

Even if our board of directors decides to declare and pay dividends, the timing, amount and form of future dividends, if any, will depend on our future results of operations and cash flow, our capital requirements and surplus, the amount of distributions, if any, received by us from our subsidiaries, our financial condition, contractual restrictions and other factors deemed relevant by our board of directors. Accordingly, the return on your investment in the ADSs will likely depend entirely upon any future price appreciation of the ADSs. There is no guarantee that the ADSs will appreciate in value after this offering or even maintain the price at which you purchased the ADSs. You may not realize a return on your investment in the ADSs and you may even lose your entire investment in the ADSs.

The approval or filing of the China Securities Regulatory Commission or other PRC regulatory agencies may be required in connection with this offering under PRC law.

The Regulations on Mergers of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors, or the M&A Rules, purport to require offshore special purpose vehicles that are controlled by PRC companies or individuals and that have been formed for the purpose of seeking a public listing on an overseas stock exchange through acquisitions of PRC domestic companies or assets to obtain CSRC approval prior to publicly listing their securities on an overseas stock exchange. The interpretation and application of the regulations remain unclear. If CSRC approval is required, it is uncertain how long it will take for us to obtain such approval, and any failure to obtain or a delay in obtaining CSRC approval for this offering may subject us to sanctions imposed by the CSRC and other PRC regulatory agencies.

Our PRC legal advisor has advised us that, based on its understanding of the current PRC laws and regulations, we will not be required to submit an application to the CSRC for its approval of this offering and the listing and trading of the ADSs on Nasdaq under the M&A Rules because (i) the CSRC currently has not issued any definitive rule or interpretation concerning whether offerings like ours under this prospectus are subject to this regulation; (ii) Atour Shanghai was a foreign-invested enterprise before it was acquired by Atour Hong Kong. However, our PRC legal advisor has further advised us that there remains some uncertainty as to how the M&A Rules will be interpreted or implemented in the context of an overseas offering, and its opinions summarized above are subject to any new laws, rules and regulations or detailed implementations and interpretations in any form relating to the M&A Rules. We cannot assure you that relevant PRC government agencies, including the CSRC, would reach the same conclusion as our PRC legal advisor.

Furthermore, numerous regulations, guidelines and other measures have been or are expected to be adopted under the umbrella of or in addition to the Cybersecurity Law and Data Security Law, including (i) the Measures for the Security Assessment for Cross-border Transfer of Personal Information (Draft for Comments) published by the Cyberspace Administration of China, or CAC, in 2019, which may, upon enactment, require security review before transferring personal information out of China, and (ii) the amended Cybersecurity Review Measures published on December 28, 2021, which came into effect on February 15, 2022, provide that a “network platform operator” that possesses personal information of more than one million users and seeks a listing in a foreign country must apply for a cybersecurity review.

On December 24, 2021, the CSRC published the Provisions of the State Council on the Administration of Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies (Draft for Comments), and Administrative Measures for the Filing of Overseas Securities Offering and Listing by Domestic Companies (Draft for Comments), or, collectively, the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations. Such Draft Overseas Listing Regulations set out new filing procedures for China-based companies seeking direct or indirect listings and offerings in overseas markets. The Draft Overseas Listing Regulations require that China-based companies seeking to offer and list securities in overseas markets complete certain post-application / post-listing filing procedures with the CSRC, and that an initial filing with the CSRC be submitted within three working days after the application for an initial public offering is submitted to the overseas regulators, and that a supplemental filing with respect to the result of the overseas listing or offering be submitted after the overseas listing or offering is completed. The Draft Overseas Listing Regulations do not require a China-based company including the Company to obtain the CSRC's pre-approval before it applies for or completes a listing or offering of securities in overseas markets.

Pursuant to the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations, if the issuer meets the following conditions, its securities offerings and listing will be deemed as an "indirect overseas offering and listing by a PRC domestic company" and is therefore subject to the filing requirement: (i) the revenues, profits, total assets or net assets of the Chinese operating entities in the most recent financial year accounts for more than 50% of the corresponding data in the issuer's audited consolidated financial statements for the same period; and (ii) the majority of senior management in charge of business operation are Chinese citizens or have domicile in the PRC, and its principal place of business is located in PRC or main business activities are conducted in PRC.

As advised by our PRC legal advisor, the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations were released only for public comments and their provisions and anticipated adoption date are subject to changes and their interpretation and implementation remain uncertain. The Draft Overseas Listing Regulations are not clear as to whether companies like us that have already submitted an application for an initial public offering to overseas regulators but have not yet completed the offering shall be subject to such filing procedures. As of the date of this prospectus, we have not received any formal inquiry, notice, warning, sanction, or any regulatory objection from the CSRC with respect to this offering. In addition, based on our PRC legal advisor's anonymous consultation with the CSRC on its official website, the CSRC confirmed that any overseas listing or offering shall be subject to applicable laws and regulations that are currently effective before the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations come into effect. If the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations become effective in their current forms before this offering is completed, other than uncertainties of the filing procedures which may be further clarified in the final version of these draft regulations and/or their implementation rules, we do not foresee the Draft Overseas Listing Regulations would have a material adverse impact on this offering.

You may face difficulties in protecting your interests, and your ability to protect your rights through U.S. courts may be limited, because we are incorporated under Cayman Islands law.

We are an exempted company incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands. Our corporate affairs are governed by our memorandum and articles of association, the Companies Act (As Revised) of the Cayman Islands and the common law of the Cayman Islands. The rights of shareholders to take action against our directors, actions by our minority shareholders and the fiduciary duties of our directors to us under Cayman Islands law are to a large extent governed by the common law of the Cayman Islands. The common law of the Cayman Islands is derived in part from comparatively limited judicial precedent in the Cayman Islands as well as from the common law of England and Wales, the decisions of whose courts are of persuasive authority, but are not binding, on a court in the Cayman Islands. The rights of our shareholders and the fiduciary duties of our directors under Cayman Islands law may be narrower in scope or less developed than they would be under statutes or judicial precedent in some jurisdictions in the United States. In particular, the Cayman Islands has a less developed body of securities laws than the United States. Some U.S. states, such as Delaware, have more fully developed and judicially interpreted bodies of corporate law than the Cayman Islands. In addition, Cayman Islands companies may not have standing to initiate a shareholder derivative action in a federal court of the United States. In addition, while under Delaware law, controlling shareholders owe fiduciary duties to the companies they control and their minority shareholders, under Cayman Islands law, our controlling shareholders do not owe any such fiduciary duties to our company or to our minority shareholders. Accordingly, our controlling shareholders may exercise their powers as shareholders, including the exercise of voting rights in respect of their shares, in such manner as they think fit, subject only to very limited equitable constraints. One of the examples of such constraint is that the exercise of voting rights to amend the memorandum or articles of association of a Cayman Islands company must be exercised in good faith for the benefit of the Company as a whole.

Shareholders of Cayman Islands exempted companies like us have no general rights under Cayman Islands law to inspect corporate records (other than the memorandum and articles of association, special resolutions which have been passed by shareholders, register of mortgages and charges, and a list of current directors) or to obtain copies of lists of shareholders of these companies. Our directors have discretion under our articles of association that will become effective immediately prior to completion of this offering to determine whether or not, and under what conditions, our corporate records may be inspected by our shareholders, but are not obliged to make them available to our shareholders. This may make it more difficult for you to obtain the information needed to establish any facts necessary for a shareholder motion or to solicit proxies from other shareholders in connection with a proxy contest.

Certain corporate governance practices in the Cayman Islands, which is our home country, differ significantly from requirements for companies incorporated in other jurisdictions such as the United States. If we choose to follow home country practice, our shareholders may be afforded less protection than they otherwise would under rules and regulations applicable to U.S. domestic issuers.

As a result of all of the above, our public shareholders may have more difficulty in protecting their interests in the face of actions taken by our management, members of the board of directors or controlling shareholders than they would as public shareholders of a company incorporated in the United States. For a discussion of significant differences between the provisions of the Companies Act (As Revised) of the Cayman Islands and the laws applicable to companies incorporated in the United States and their shareholders, see “Description of Share Capital — Differences in Corporate Law.”

It may be difficult for overseas regulators to conduct investigations or collect evidence within China.

Shareholder claims that are common in the United States, including securities law class actions and fraud claims, generally are difficult to pursue as a matter of law or practicality in China. For example, in China, there are significant legal and other obstacles to obtaining information needed for shareholder investigations or litigation outside China or otherwise with respect to foreign entities. Although the local authorities in China may establish a regulatory cooperation mechanism with the securities regulatory authorities of another country or region to implement cross-border supervision and administration, such regulatory cooperation with the securities regulatory authorities in the United States have not been efficient in the absence of a mutual and practical cooperation mechanism. According to Article 177 of the PRC Securities Law which became effective in March 2020, no overseas securities regulator is allowed to directly conduct investigation or evidence collection activities within the territory of the PRC. While detailed interpretation of or implementation of rules under Article 177 have yet to be promulgated, the inability for an overseas securities regulator to directly conduct investigation or evidence collection activities within China may further increase difficulties faced by you in protecting your interests.

Certain judgments obtained against us by our shareholders may not be enforceable.

We are an exempted company limited by shares incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands and substantially all of our assets are located outside of the United States. All of our current operations are conducted in China. In addition, most of our current directors and officers are nationals and residents of countries other than the United States. Substantially all of the assets of these persons are located outside the United States. As a result, it may be difficult or impossible for you to bring an action against us or against these individuals in the United States in the event that you believe that your rights have been infringed under the U.S. federal securities laws or otherwise. Even if you are successful in bringing an action of this kind, the laws of the Cayman Islands and of China may render you unable to enforce a judgment against our assets or the assets of our directors and officers. For more information regarding the relevant laws of the Cayman Islands and China, see “Enforceability of Civil Liabilities.” However, the deposit agreement gives you the right to submit claims against us to binding arbitration, and arbitration awards may be enforceable against us and our assets in China even when court judgments are not.

ADSs holders may not be entitled to a jury trial with respect to claims arising under the deposit agreement, which could result in less favorable outcomes to the plaintiff(s) in any such action.

The deposit agreement governing the ADSs representing our Class A ordinary shares provides that, to the fullest extent permitted by law, ADS holders waive the right to a jury trial for any claim they may have against us or the depositary arising out of or relating to our shares, the ADSs or the deposit agreement, including any claim under the U.S. federal securities laws.

If we or the depositary were to oppose a jury trial based on this waiver, the court would have to determine whether the waiver was enforceable based on the facts and circumstances of the case in accordance with applicable state and federal law. To our knowledge, the enforceability of a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver in connection with claims arising under the federal securities laws has not been finally adjudicated by the United States Supreme Court. However, we believe that a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver provision is generally enforceable, including under the laws of the State of New York, which govern the deposit agreement, or by a federal or state court in the State of New York, which has nonexclusive jurisdiction over matters arising under the deposit agreement. In determining whether to enforce a contractual pre-dispute jury trial waiver, courts will generally consider whether a party knowingly, intelligently and voluntarily waived the right to a jury trial. We believe that this would be the case with respect to the deposit agreement and the ADSs. It is advisable that you consult legal counsel regarding the jury waiver provision before investing in the ADSs.

If you or any other owners or holders of ADSs bring a claim against us or the depositary in connection with matters arising under the deposit agreement or the ADSs, including claims under federal securities laws, you or such other owners or holders may not be entitled to a jury trial with respect to such claims, which may have the effect of limiting and discouraging lawsuits against us or the depositary. If a lawsuit is brought against us or the depositary under the deposit agreement, it may be heard only by a judge or justice of the applicable trial court, which would be conducted according to different civil procedures and may result in different outcomes than a trial by jury would have, including outcomes that could be less favorable to the plaintiff(s) in any such action.

Nevertheless, if this jury trial waiver is not permitted by applicable law, an action could proceed under the terms of the deposit agreement with a jury trial. No condition, stipulation or provision of the deposit agreement or the ADSs serves as a waiver by any owner or holder of ADSs or by us or the depositary of compliance with any substantive provision of the U.S. federal securities laws and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

The voting rights of holders of ADSs are limited by the terms of the deposit agreement, and you may not be able to exercise your right to direct the voting of the Class A ordinary shares underlying the ADSs.

As an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands, we are not obliged by the Companies Act (As Revised) to call shareholders' annual general meetings. Our Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association provide that we may (but are not obliged to) each year hold a general meeting as our annual general meeting. As a holder of ADSs, you will not have any direct right to attend general meetings of our company or to cast any votes at such meetings. You will only be able to exercise the voting rights which attach to the Class A ordinary shares underlying the ADSs indirectly by giving voting instructions to the depositary in accordance with the provisions of the deposit agreement. Under the deposit agreement, you may vote only by giving voting instructions to the depositary, as holder of the Class A ordinary shares underlying the ADSs. Upon receipt of your voting instructions, the depositary may try to vote the Class A ordinary shares underlying the ADSs in accordance with your instructions. If we ask for your instructions, then upon receipt of your voting instructions, the depositary will try to vote the underlying Class A ordinary shares in accordance with those instructions. If we do not instruct the depositary to ask for your instructions, the depositary may still vote in accordance with instructions you give, but it is not required to do so. You will not be able to directly exercise any right to vote with respect to the underlying Class A ordinary shares unless you cancel the ADSs and withdraw the shares and become the registered holder of such shares prior to the record date for the general meeting. When a general meeting is convened, you may not receive sufficient advance notice of the meeting to enable you to withdraw the shares underlying the ADSs and become the registered holder of such shares prior to the record date for the general meeting to allow you to attend the general meeting and to vote directly with respect to any specific matter or resolution to be considered and voted upon at the general meeting. In addition, under our amended and restated articles of association that will become effective immediately prior to completion of this offering, for the purposes of determining those shareholders who are entitled to attend and vote at any general meeting, our directors may close our register of members and/or fix in advance a record date for such meeting, and such closure of our register of members or the setting of such a record date may prevent you from withdrawing the Class A ordinary shares underlying the ADSs and becoming the registered holder of such shares prior to the record date, so that you would not be able to attend the general meeting or to vote directly. Where any matter is to be put to a vote at a general meeting, the depositary will notify you of the upcoming vote and deliver our voting materials to you, if we ask it to. We cannot assure you that you will receive the voting materials in time to ensure you can direct the depositary to vote your shares. In addition, the depositary and its agents are not responsible for failing to carry out voting instructions or for their manner of carrying out your voting instructions. This means that you may not be able to exercise your right to direct how the shares underlying the ADSs are voted and you may have no legal remedy if the shares underlying the ADSs are not voted as you requested.

You may be subject to limitations on the transfer of the ADSs.

The ADSs are transferable on the books of the depositary. However, the depositary may close its books at any time or from time to time when it deems it expedient in connection with the performance of its duties and in emergencies, and on weekends and public holidays. The depositary may refuse to deliver, transfer or register transfers of the ADSs generally when our share register or the books of the depositary are closed, or at any time if we or the depositary thinks it is advisable to do so because of any requirement of law or of any government or governmental body, or under any provision of the deposit agreement, or for any other reason.

We are an emerging growth company within the meaning of the Securities Act and may take advantage of certain reduced reporting requirements.

We are an “emerging growth company,” as defined in the JOBS Act, and we may take advantage of certain exemptions from requirements applicable to other public companies that are not emerging growth companies, including, most significantly, not being required to comply with the auditor attestation requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 for so long as we remain an emerging growth company. As a result, if we elect not to comply with such auditor attestation requirements, our investors may not have access to certain information they may deem important.

We are a foreign private issuer within the meaning of the rules under the Exchange Act, and as such we are exempt from certain provisions applicable to U.S. domestic public companies.

Because we qualify as a foreign private issuer under the Exchange Act, we are exempt from certain provisions of the securities rules and regulations in the United States that are applicable to U.S. domestic issuers, including:

- the rules under the Exchange Act requiring the filing with the SEC of quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, quarterly certifications by the principal executive and financial officers or current reports on Form 8-K;
- the sections of the Exchange Act regulating the solicitation of proxies, consents or authorizations in respect of a security registered under the Exchange Act;
- the sections of the Exchange Act requiring insiders to file public reports of their stock ownership and trading activities and liability for insiders who profit from trades made in a short period of time; and
- the selective disclosure rules by issuers of material nonpublic information under Regulation FD.

We will be required to file an annual report on Form 20-F within four months of the end of each fiscal year. In addition, we intend to publish our results on a quarterly basis as press releases, distributed pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Nasdaq. Press releases relating to financial results and material events will also be furnished to the SEC on Form 6-K. However, the information we are required to file with or furnish to the SEC will be less extensive and less timely compared to that required to be filed with the SEC by U.S. domestic issuers. For example, U.S. domestic issuers are required to file annual reports within 60 to 90 days from the end of each fiscal year. As a result, you may not be afforded the same protections or information that would be made available to you were you investing in a U.S. domestic issuer.

As an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands, we are permitted to adopt certain home country practices in relation to corporate governance matters that differ significantly from the Nasdaq corporate governance listing standards. These practices may afford less protection to shareholders than they would enjoy if we complied fully with the Nasdaq corporate governance listing standards.

As an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands and listed on the Nasdaq, we are subject to corporate governance listing standards of Nasdaq. However, Nasdaq rules permit a foreign private issuer like us to follow the corporate governance practices of its home country. Certain corporate governance practices in the Cayman Islands, which is our home country, may differ significantly from the Nasdaq corporate governance listing standards. We currently intend to follow Cayman Islands corporate governance practices in lieu of the corporate governance requirements of the Nasdaq that listed companies must have: (i) a majority of independent directors; (ii) a nominating/corporate governance committee composed entirely of independent directors; and (iii) a majority of independent directors and that the audit committee consist of at least three members. To the extent that we choose to follow home country practice in the future, our shareholders may be afforded less protection than they otherwise would enjoy under Nasdaq corporate governance listing standards applicable to U.S. domestic issuers.

There can be no assurance that we will not be a passive foreign investment company, or PFIC, for the current or any future taxable year, which could result in adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. investors in the ADSs or our Class A ordinary shares.

In general, a non-U.S. corporation is a PFIC for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any taxable year in which (i) 50% or more of the average value of its assets (generally determined on a quarterly basis) consists of assets that produce, or are held for the production of, passive income, or (ii) 75% or more of its gross income consists of passive income. For purposes of these calculations, a non-U.S. corporation that owns, directly or indirectly, at least 25% by value of the shares of another corporation is treated as if it held its proportionate share of the assets of the other corporation and received directly its proportionate share of the income of the other corporation. Passive income generally includes dividends, interest, rents, royalties (other than certain royalties derived in an active business), and certain investment gains. Cash is generally a passive asset for these purposes. Goodwill is generally characterized as an active asset to the extent it is associated with business activities that produce active income.

Based on the manner in which we currently conduct our business, the expected composition of our income and assets and the expected value of our assets (including goodwill, which is based on the expected price of the ADSs in this offering), we do not expect to be a PFIC for our current taxable year. However, our PFIC status for any taxable year is an annual factual determination that can be made only after the end of that year. Our PFIC status for any taxable year will depend on the composition of our income and assets and the value of our assets from time to time, including the value of our goodwill (which may be determined, in large part, by reference to our market capitalization, which could be volatile). Therefore, our risk of being or becoming a PFIC will increase if our market capitalization declines while we hold a substantial amount of cash (including cash raised in this offering) and financial investments. In addition, if in the future we change the type of services we provide with respect to our franchised hotels, our PFIC status for any taxable year may depend on whether and to what extent our income from franchised hotels will be treated as derived in the active conduct of a trade or business within the meaning of applicable Treasury regulations. Because of these uncertainties, there can be no assurance that we will not be a PFIC for our current or any future taxable year. If we were a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. taxpayer held ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, the U.S. taxpayer generally would be subject to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences, including increased tax liability on disposition gains and “excess distributions” (subject to alternative treatment if the U.S. taxpayer is able to and does make a valid mark-to-market election) and additional reporting requirements. See “Taxation — Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations — Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules.”

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This prospectus contains statements that constitute forward-looking statements. Many of the forward-looking statements contained in this prospectus can be identified by the use of forward-looking words such as “anticipate,” “believe,” “could,” “expect,” “should,” “plan,” “intend,” “estimate” and “potential,” among others.

Forward-looking statements appear in a number of places in this prospectus and include, but are not limited to, statements regarding our intent, belief or current expectations. Forward-looking statements are based on our management’s beliefs and assumptions and on information currently available to our management. Such statements are subject to risks and uncertainties, and actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements due to various factors, including, but not limited to, those identified under the section entitled “Risk Factors” in this prospectus. These risks and uncertainties include factors relating to:

- general economic, political, demographic and business conditions in China and globally;
- fluctuations in inflation and exchange rates in China and globally;
- our ability to implement our growth strategy;
- our ability to compete and conduct our business in the future;
- the availability of qualified personnel and the ability to retain such personnel;
- the expected growth and competition in the hospitality industry in China;
- changes in government policies and regulation;
- other factors that may affect our financial condition, liquidity and results of operations; and
- other risk factors discussed under “Risk Factors.”

Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made, and we do not undertake any obligation to update them in light of new information or future developments or to release publicly any revisions to these statements in order to reflect later events or circumstances or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We expect to receive total estimated net proceeds from this offering of approximately US$ million, or approximately US$ million if the underwriters exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs in full, based on the midpoint of the estimated initial public offering price range set forth on the front cover of this prospectus, after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated expenses payable by us. A US$1.00 increase (decrease) in the assumed initial public offering price of US$ per ADS would increase (decrease) the net proceeds to us from this offering by US$ million, assuming the number of ADSs offered by us, as set forth on the front cover of this prospectus, remains the same and after deducting the estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated expenses payable by us.

We plan to use the net proceeds of this offering primarily for the following purposes:

- approximately % for expanding and strengthening our hotel network in China, including funding the capital expenditures and expenses related to opening of new hotels across different Atour hotel brands and the continuous upgrades of existing hotel facilities;
- approximately % for developing new products and services for our diversified hotel portfolio, strengthening our membership program and enhancing our branding efforts;
- approximately % for enhancing our IT infrastructure and technologies, including digital operating systems and data analytics, to further enhance our customer experience as well as operating efficiency;
- approximately % for selectively pursuing strategic transactions including mergers & acquisitions, joint ventures and investments in China's hospitality and lifestyle industry; as of the date of the prospectus, we have not identified any specific target; and
- approximately % for general corporate and working capital purposes.

If an unforeseen event occurs or business conditions change, we may use the proceeds of this offering differently than as described in this prospectus. In utilizing the proceeds from this offering, we are permitted under PRC laws and regulations to provide funding to our PRC subsidiaries only through loans or capital contributions, and only if we satisfy the applicable government registration and approval requirements. We cannot assure you that we will be able to meet these requirements on a timely basis, if at all. See "Risk Factors — Risks Related to Doing Business in China — PRC regulation of loans to and direct investment in PRC entities by offshore holding companies and governmental control of currency conversion may restrict or delay us from using the proceeds of this offering to make loans or additional capital contributions to our PRC subsidiaries, which could adversely affect our liquidity and our ability to fund and expand our business." Additionally, while there is no statutory limit on the amount of capital contribution that we can make to our PRC subsidiaries, loans provided to our PRC subsidiaries are subject to certain statutory limits. See "Regulation — Regulations on Offshore Financing" for more information about such statutory limits.

We are able to use all of the net proceeds from this offering for investment in our operations in the PRC by funding our PRC subsidiaries through capital contributions which is not subject to any statutory limit on the amount under PRC laws and regulations. We expect that the net proceeds from this offering to be used in the PRC will be in the form of RMB and, therefore, our PRC subsidiaries will need to convert any capital contributions or loans from U.S. dollars into Renminbi in accordance with applicable PRC laws and regulations. All of the net proceeds from this offering would be available for investment in our operations in the PRC, subject to the foregoing statutory limits on the amount of loans provided to our PRC subsidiaries and the laws and regulations on the conversion from U.S. dollars into Renminbi.

DIVIDEND POLICY

We have not previously declared or paid any cash dividend or dividend in kind.

We are a holding company incorporated in the Cayman Islands. We rely principally on dividends from our PRC subsidiaries for our cash requirements, including any payment of dividends to our shareholders. PRC regulations may restrict the ability of our PRC subsidiaries to pay dividends to us. See “Regulation — Regulations on Dividend Distribution.” and “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Doing Business in China — Governmental control of currency conversion may limit our ability to utilize our revenues effectively and affect the value of your investment.”

Our board of directors has discretion as to whether to distribute dividends, subject to certain requirements of Cayman Islands law. In addition, our shareholders may by ordinary resolution declare a dividend, but no dividend may exceed the amount recommended by our board of directors. Under Cayman Islands law, a Cayman Islands company may pay a dividend out of either profit or share premium account, provided that in no circumstances may a dividend be paid if this would result in the company being unable to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business. Even if our board of directors decides to pay dividends, the form, frequency and amount will depend upon our future operations and earnings, capital requirements and surplus, general financial condition, contractual restrictions and other factors that the board of directors may deem relevant. If we pay any dividends on our ordinary shares, we will pay those dividends which are payable in respect of the ordinary shares underlying the ADSs to the depositary, as the registered holder of such ordinary shares, and the depositary then will pay such amounts to the ADS holders in proportion to the Class A ordinary shares underlying the ADSs held by such ADS holders, subject to the terms of the deposit agreement, net of the fees and expenses payable thereunder. See “Description of American Depositary Shares.”

CAPITALIZATION

We completed the Restructuring in May 2021. Upon the consummation and of the Restructuring, we have issued new ordinary shares to affiliates of Existing Equityholders pursuant to the Restructuring, such that our shareholding structure substantially reflects Atour Shanghai's ownership structure prior to the Restructuring. As a result of the Restructuring, we (i) beneficially own 100% of equity interest in Atour Shanghai through Atour Hong Kong, and (ii) have consolidated the financial results of Atour Shanghai and its subsidiaries in our consolidated financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP. For detailed discussion of the steps taken to effect the Restructuring, see "Corporate History and Structure — Restructuring". In connection with the Restructuring, our authorized share capital was classified into Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares on February 3, 2021.

The table below sets forth our capitalization as of December 31, 2021

- on an actual basis;
- on an as adjusted basis to give effect to the issuance and sale of Class A ordinary shares in this offering, and the receipt of approximately US$ million in estimated net proceeds, considering an offering price of US$ per ADS (the midpoint of the estimated initial public offering price range set forth on the front cover of this prospectus), after deduction of the underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated expenses payable by us.

You should read this table together with our consolidated financial statements and the related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus and the information under "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

| Total capitalization | 608,245 | 95,446 | — | — |

Notes:

- (1) A US$1.00 increase (decrease) in the assumed initial public offering price of US$ per ADS, which is the midpoint of the estimated range of the initial public offering price shown on the cover page of this prospectus, would increase (decrease) each of additional paid-in capital, total (deficit) equity attributable to shareholders of the Company and total capitalization by US$ million.

DILUTION

If you invest in the ADSs, your interest will be diluted to the extent of the difference between the initial public offering price per ADS and our net tangible book value per ADS after this offering. Dilution results from the fact that the initial public offering price per Class A ordinary share is substantially in excess of the book value per ordinary share attributable to the existing shareholders for our presently outstanding ordinary shares.

Our net tangible book value as of December 31, 2021 was approximately US$85.3 million, or US$0.23 per ordinary share (including ordinary shares with preference rights) as of that date. Net tangible book value represents the amount of our consolidated assets, less intangible assets, goodwill and the amount of our total consolidated liabilities. Dilution is determined by subtracting net tangible book value per ordinary share as adjusted from the initial public offering price per ordinary shares. Because the Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares have the same dividend and other rights, except for voting and conversion rights, the dilution is presented based on all issued and outstanding ordinary shares, including Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares.

Without taking into account any other changes in such net tangible book value after December 31, 2021, other than to give effect to the issuance and sale of Class A ordinary shares offered in this offering, and the receipt of approximately US$ million in estimated net proceeds, considering an offering price of US$ per ADS (the midpoint of the estimated initial public offering price range set forth on the front cover of this prospectus), after deduction of the underwriting discounts and commissions payable by us, our as adjusted net tangible book value as of December 31, 2021 would have been approximately US$ million, or US$ per ordinary share and US$ per ADS, to existing shareholders and an immediate dilution in net tangible book value of US$ per ordinary share, or US$ per ADS, to purchasers of ADSs in this offering.

The following table illustrates the dilution at an assumed initial public offering price of US$ per ADS, the midpoint of the estimated initial public offering price range set forth on the front cover of this prospectus and all ADSs are exchanged for Class A ordinary shares:

| | Per Ordinary Share | Per ADS |
|---|--------------------------|---------|
| Initial public offering price | US$ | US$ |
| Net tangible book value as of December 31, 2021 | US$ | US$ |
| As adjusted net tangible book value after giving effect to this offering | US$ | US$ |
| Amount of dilution in net tangible book value to new investors in this offering | US$ | US$ |

The pro forma information discussed above is illustrative only.

The following table summarizes, on a pro forma basis as of December 31, 2021, the differences between the existing shareholders and the new investors with respect to the number of ordinary shares purchased from us in this offering, the total consideration paid and the average price per ordinary share paid at the initial public offering price of US$ per ADS, the midpoint of the estimated initial public offering price range set forth on the front cover of this prospectus, before deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses. The total number of ordinary shares does not include ordinary shares underlying the ADSs issuable upon the exercise of the over-allotment option granted to the underwriters.

| | Ordinary shares Purchased | | Total Consideration | | Average Price Per Ordinary Share | Average Price Per ADS |
|-----------------------|------------------------------|---------|-------------------------------------|---------|--|-----------------------------|
| | | | Amount (in thousands of US$) | Percent | | |
| | Number | Percent | | | | |
| Existing shareholders | | | | | | |
| New investors | | | | | | |
| Total | | | | | | |

The discussion and tables above also assume no exercise of any share options outstanding under our Public Company Plan as of the date of this prospectus. As of the date of this prospectus, we have granted 17,690,297 share options corresponding to 17,690,297 Class A ordinary shares under our Public Company Plan, which include the share options granted to participants in our 2017 PRC Plan in exchange for cancellation of their outstanding awards previously granted under the 2017 PRC Plan. To the extent that any of these share options become exercised, there will be further dilution to new investors in our company.

ENFORCEABILITY OF CIVIL LIABILITIES

Cayman Islands

We were incorporated in the Cayman Islands in order to enjoy the following benefits:

- political and economic stability;
- an effective judicial system;
- a favorable tax system;
- the absence of exchange control or currency restrictions; and
- the availability of professional and support services.

However, certain disadvantages accompany incorporation in the Cayman Islands. These disadvantages include, but are not limited to, the following:

- the Cayman Islands has a less developed body of securities laws as compared to the United States and these securities laws provide significantly less protection to investors; and
- Cayman Islands companies may not have standing to sue before the federal courts of the United States.

Our constitutional documents do not contain provisions requiring that disputes, including those arising under the securities laws of the United States, between us, our officers, directors and shareholders, be arbitrated.

All of our operations are conducted in China, and substantially all of our assets are located in China. All of our directors and executive officers are nationals or residents of jurisdictions other than the United States and a substantial portion of their assets are located outside the United States. As a result, it may be difficult for a shareholder to effect service of process within the United States upon these persons, or to enforce against us or them judgments obtained in United States courts, including judgments predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the securities laws of the United States or any state in the United States.

We have appointed as our agent upon whom process may be served in any action brought against us under the securities laws of the United States.

Maples and Calder (Hong Kong) LLP, our counsel as to Cayman Islands law, and JunHe LLP, our counsel as to PRC law, have advised us, respectively, that there is uncertainty as to whether the courts of the Cayman Islands and China, respectively, would:

- recognize or enforce judgments of United States courts obtained against us or our directors or officers predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the securities laws of the United States or any state in the United States; or
- entertain original actions brought in each respective jurisdiction against us or our directors or officers predicated upon the securities laws of the United States or any state in the United States.

Maples and Calder (Hong Kong) LLP has informed us that there is uncertainty with regard to Cayman Islands law related to whether a judgment obtained from the U.S. courts under civil liability provisions of U.S. securities laws will be determined by the courts of the Cayman Islands as penal or punitive in nature. If such a determination is made, the courts of the Cayman Islands will not recognize or enforce the judgment against a Cayman Islands company, such as our company. As the courts of the Cayman Islands have yet to rule on making such a determination in relation to judgments obtained from U.S. courts under civil liability provisions of U.S. securities laws, it is uncertain whether such judgments would be enforceable in the Cayman Islands. Maples and Calder (Hong Kong) LLP has informed us that although there is no statutory enforcement in the Cayman Islands of judgments obtained in the federal or state courts of the United States (and the Cayman Islands is not a party to any treaties for the reciprocal enforcement or recognition of such judgments), a judgment obtained in such jurisdiction will be recognized and enforced in the courts of the Cayman Islands at common law, without any re-examination of the merits of the underlying dispute, by an action commenced on the foreign judgment debt in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, provided such judgment (a) is given by a foreign court of competent jurisdiction, (b) imposes on the judgment debtor a liability to pay a liquidated sum for which the judgment has been given, (c) is final, (d) is not in respect of taxes, a fine or a penalty, and (e) was not obtained in a manner and is not of a kind the enforcement of which is contrary to natural justice or the public policy of the Cayman Islands.

PRC

We have been advised by JunHe LLP, our PRC legal counsel, that there is uncertainty as to whether the courts of the PRC would enforce judgments of United States courts or Cayman Islands courts obtained against us or these persons predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the United States federal and state securities laws. JunHe LLP has further advised us that the recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments are provided for under PRC Civil Procedures Law. PRC courts may recognize and enforce foreign judgments in accordance with the requirements of PRC Civil Procedures Law based either on treaties between China and the country where the judgment is made or on reciprocity between jurisdictions. China does not have any treaties or other form of reciprocity with the United States or the Cayman Islands that provide for the reciprocal recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments. In addition, according to the PRC Civil Procedures Law, courts in the PRC will not enforce a foreign judgment against us or our directors and officers if they decide that the judgment violates the basic principles of PRC law or national sovereignty, security or public interest. As a result, it is uncertain whether and on what basis a PRC court would enforce a judgment rendered by a court in the United States or in the Cayman Islands. Under the PRC Civil Procedures Law, foreign shareholders may originate actions based on PRC law against a company for disputes relating to contracts or other property interests in the PRC, if they can establish sufficient nexus to the PRC for a PRC court to have jurisdiction, and meet other procedural requirements, including, among others, the plaintiff must have a direct interest in the case, and there must be a concrete claim, a factual basis and a cause for the suit.

However, it would be difficult for foreign shareholders to establish sufficient nexus to the PRC for a PRC court to have jurisdiction pursuant to the PRC Civil Procedures Law by virtue only of holding the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares.

CORPORATE HISTORY AND STRUCTUREOur Corporate History

Atour Shanghai was established in 2013. We currently conduct all of our businesses in China through Atour Shanghai and its subsidiaries.

We established Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited as our holding company in the Cayman Islands on April 10, 2012 in anticipation of future capital raising from international investors. Atour Hong Kong was incorporated on March 5, 2021 in Hong Kong.

Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited owns 100% of the equity interest in Atour Hong Kong, and Atour Hong Kong recently acquired 100% of the equity interest in Atour Shanghai, which controls all of our business operations within the PRC.

Restructuring

We completed the Restructuring in May 2021. Upon the consummation of the Restructuring, (i) we have issued new ordinary shares to the affiliates of Existing Equityholders of Atour Shanghai such that the shareholding structure of our company at the Cayman Islands level is substantially similar to the equity ownership structure of Atour Shanghai prior to the Restructuring, and (ii) the affiliates of such Existing Equityholders have become parties to and are bound by the terms of our shareholders agreement dated March 3, 2021.

The following table summarizes certain shareholding information of Atour Shanghai and our company before and after the completion of the Restructuring.

Notes:

- (1) Subject to the adjustments discussed in Notes (2), (3) and (9) below, each beneficial owner who indirectly held equity interests in Atour Shanghai through Management SPV 1, Management SPV 2, Management SPV 3 and Management SPV 4 has received the same number of ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle identical to its respective beneficial ownership in Atour Shanghai prior to the Restructuring.

- (2) A minority investor who beneficially held equity interests in Atour Shanghai through Management SPV 2 disposed of 8,822,664, or 2.21% equity interests, in Atour Shanghai to the Company during the Restructuring. As a result, the shareholding percentage of each of the other beneficial owners of Atour Shanghai who received ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle upon the Restructuring increased proportionately.
- (3) A group of employees of the Company and other qualified individuals indirectly held a total of 14,206,882 (including 10,000 share options returned by an employee who resigned before the Restructuring), or 3.55% equity interests, issued by Atour Shanghai to Management SPV 3 and Management SPV 4 pursuant to the 2017 PRC Incentive Plan prior to the Restructuring. Such PRC equity awards were cancelled in exchange for 14,196,882 share options granted to such individuals under the Company's Public Company Plan. Such options have not yet been exercised as of the date of this prospectus.
- (4) Prior to the Restructuring, Management SPV 1 was beneficially owned by the PRC affiliates of Founder SPV, Engine and Li Real.
- (5) Prior to the Restructuring, Management SPV 2 was beneficially owned by the PRC affiliates of Founder SPV, Engine, Li Real, as well as the minority investor who disposed of its equity interests as mentioned in Note (2) above.
- (6) Prior to the Restructuring, in addition to the equity interests attributable to the 2017 PRC Incentive Plan as mentioned in Note (3) above, Management SPV 3 was beneficially owned by the PRC affiliate of Founder SPV and a group of twelve natural person minority investors.
- (7) Prior to the Restructuring, in addition to the equity interests attributable to the 2017 PRC Incentive Plan as mentioned in Note (3) above, Management SPV 4 was beneficially owned by the PRC affiliate of Founder SPV and a group of five natural person minority investors.
- (8) Upon completion of the Restructuring, each of the natural person investors as mentioned in Note (6) and Note (7) above held ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle through the entities listed, except for one natural person investor whose ordinary shares in Atour Lifestyle are held by the Founder SPV on his behalf.
- (9) A natural person investor beneficially owned 1,187,414 equity interests in Atour Shanghai through Management SPV 4 and beneficially owned 19,486,400 equity interests in Atour Shanghai through External Investor 1. Upon the completion of the Restructuring, the natural person investor holds a total of 20,673,814 Class A ordinary shares through GLV Holding Limited.
- (10) For purpose of the presentation of the Restructuring, this table does not take into account the transfer of certain ordinary shares among several shareholders of Atour Lifestyle as such transfer was effected independent of the Restructuring.

Summary of the Restructuring Steps

The Restructuring was effected in preparation of this offering such that each Existing Equityholder of Atour Shanghai prior to the Restructuring would receive the same number of ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle through their respective affiliates identical to the amounts of their respective equity interests in Atour Shanghai on a one-to-one basis, subject to minor adjustments as a result of (i) the buyout of one minority investor of Atour Shanghai by the Company and (ii) the cancellation and replacement of the PRC share-based awards with Class A ordinary shares reserved under the Public Company Plan of Atour Lifestyle, as specified in the table above and further discussed below.

In February 2021, in preparation for this offering, Atour Shanghai and its Existing Equityholders entered into a reorganization framework agreement governing certain matters relating to the Restructuring in accordance with PRC laws and regulations (the "Framework Agreement"). Pursuant to the Framework Agreement, we, Atour Shanghai, its Existing Shareholders and their respective affiliates have taken the steps below to effect the Restructuring, which was completed on May 17, 2021. The Restructuring mainly involved the following steps (as described in more details below):

- 1) the Existing Equityholders of Atour Shanghai prior to the Restructuring surrendered their respective equity interests in Atour Shanghai;
- 2) with respect to those Existing Equityholders of Atour Shanghai who were required to complete certain PRC foreign exchange regulatory procedures (which were administrative in nature) before their affiliates are permitted to acquire ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle, Atour Lifestyle issued customary warrants to their affiliates concurrently with the surrender of their respective equity interests in Atour Shanghai for the purpose of ensuring they continued to retain the same shareholder rights during the interim period until the corresponding ordinary shares of the Company were issued to their affiliates. The warrants, in substance, served the purpose of allowing these shareholders to continue to retain their economic interests and shareholder's rights until the PRC administrative procedures were completed;

- 3) with respect to those Existing Equityholders of Atour Shanghai who are not required to complete such PRC foreign exchange regulatory procedures, Atour Lifestyle directly issued ordinary shares to such Existing Equityholders; and
- 4) upon the successful completion of the required PRC foreign exchange regulatory procedures, the Existing Equityholders described in step 2) above exercised their warrants to acquire ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle.

Transactions Undertaken by External Investors 1 - 5 to Exit Atour Shanghai and Acquire Ordinary Shares in Atour Lifestyle

Surrender of equity interests in Atour Shanghai. On February 8, 2021 and March 25, 2021, each of External Investors 2 - 5 surrendered their respective equity interests in Atour Shanghai in exchange of a total of RMB626.41 million, being the entire amount of their respective initial investment costs in Atour Shanghai. Each of External Investors 2 - 5 used the cash proceeds received from their exit from Atour Shanghai to pay the exercise prices of the warrants to acquire Class A ordinary shares issued by Atour Lifestyle as discussed below. On March 25, 2021, External investors 1 surrendered its equity interests in Atour Shanghai, in exchange for a total of 20,673,814 Class A ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle issued to its affiliate at nominal price on February 3, 2021 as described below.

Issuances of warrants by Atour Lifestyle. Concurrently with and in consideration for the surrender of equity interests in Atour Shanghai by External Investors 2 - 5, Atour Lifestyle issued warrants to purchase a total of 214,203,200 Class A ordinary shares to the respective affiliates of such External Investors (as named in the table above). The warrant arrangements were contemplated to ensure they continued to retain the same shareholder rights during the interim until the corresponding ordinary shares of the Company were issued to their affiliates. The warrants, in substance, served the purpose of allowing these shareholders to continue to retain their economic interests and shareholder's rights until the administrative procedures were completed.

Exercise of warrants and issuances of Class A ordinary shares. On March 3 and April 23, 2021, affiliates of External Investor 2 - 5 exercised their warrants in full at an exercise price equal to the U.S. dollar equivalent of RMB626.41 million. Accordingly, Atour Lifestyle issued a total of 214,203,200 Class A ordinary shares to such affiliates of the External Investors on the date respectively. In addition, on February 3, 2021, Atour Lifestyle issued a total of 20,673,814 Class A ordinary shares to the affiliate of External Investor 1, at nominal price. For details of the issuances of such warrants and Class A ordinary shares, see "Description of Share Capital — History of Securities Issuances." Following such share issuances, the numbers of Class A ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle held by the External Investors 1 — 5 were identical to the amounts of equity interests in Atour Shanghai previously held by their respective PRC affiliates.

Transactions Undertaken by Management SPVs 1 - 4 to Exit Atour Shanghai and Acquire Ordinary Shares in Atour Lifestyle

Conversion of Atour Shanghai into a foreign invested company. On March 8, 2021, IKARIA HOTEL INVESTMENT HOLDING LIMITED (which is the offshore affiliate of External Investor 5) subscribed for the capital increase for 1% equity interests of Atour Shanghai at the nominal price at that time, thus changing Atour Shanghai into a foreign invested company, which was for the purpose of facilitating the Restructuring.

Acquisition of Atour Shanghai by Atour Hong Kong. On March 25, 2021, after the exit of External Investors 1 — 5 from Atour Shanghai, Atour Hong Kong acquired the remaining equity interests in Atour Shanghai from each of Management SPVs 1 - 4 and the 1% equity interest held by IKARIA HOTEL INVESTMENT HOLDING LIMITED. After such acquisition, Atour Shanghai became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Atour Hong Kong, which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Atour Lifestyle.

Issuances of ordinary shares to Founder SPV, Engine and Li Real. On February 3 and March 3, 2021, Atour Lifestyle issued a total of 73,680,917 Class B ordinary shares to Founder SPV and a total of 50,617,828 Class A ordinary shares to Engine and Li Real, respectively, at nominal price in exchange of the cancellation and forfeiture of the existing equity interests in Atour Shanghai previously held by their respective affiliates. For details of such issuances, see “Description of Share Capital — History of Securities Issuances.” Following such issuances, the numbers of ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle held by Founder SPV, Engine and Li Real were substantially identical to the amounts of equity interests in Atour Shanghai previously held by their respective PRC affiliates.

Issuances of warrants by Atour Lifestyle to a group of other natural person investors who were beneficial owners of Management SPVs 3 - 4. On March 29, 2021, Atour Lifestyle issued warrants to purchase a total of 15,859,032 Class A ordinary shares to affiliates of the natural person minority investors who previously beneficially owned equity interests in Atour Shanghai through Management SPVs 3 & 4 (as specified in the table above).

Exercise of warrants by and issuances of Class A ordinary shares to such group of natural person investors. On May 17, 2021, affiliates of the natural person investors who previously held interests through Management SPVs 3 & 4 exercised their warrants in full at a nominal exercise price. Accordingly, Atour Lifestyle issued a total of 15,859,032 Class A ordinary shares to such affiliates. For details of such issuances of warrants and Class A ordinary shares, see “Description of Share Capital — History of Securities Issuances.” Following such issuances, the numbers of ordinary shares of Atour Lifestyle held by such group of natural person investors were substantially identical to the amounts of equity interests in Atour Shanghai previously held indirectly by their respective PRC affiliates.

Cancellation and replacement of PRC share-based awards. A group of employees and other qualified individuals indirectly beneficially held a total of 3.55% equity interests issued by Atour Shanghai to Management SPVs 3 & 4 pursuant to the 2017 PRC Incentive Plan prior to the Restructuring. Such equity awards were cancelled in exchange for share options granted to such individuals under the Company’s Public Company Plan, with substantially identical commercial terms.

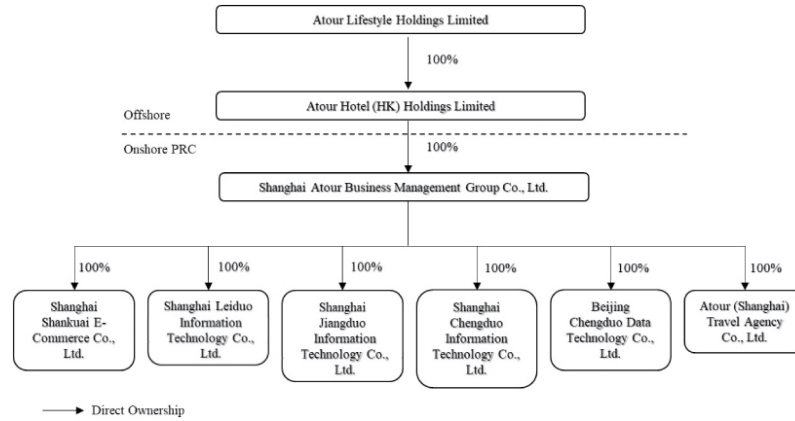

Other steps taken separate from the Restructuring

Adoption of a dual-class voting structure in furtherance of the IPO. In preparation for this offering, we adopted a standard dual-class voting structure in furtherance of the IPO to allow our founder, Mr. Wang, to have a majority voting right in the public company. The adoption of the dual-class voting structure is not a condition to the Restructuring which is a required procedure to allow for the listing of our shares on an overseas stock exchange. The shareholders agreed that Class B shares directly issued by Atour Lifestyle shall be subject to restrictions with respect to the voting rights of Mr. Wang before the completion of this offering.

Termination of preference rights of certain shareholders in April 2021. The preference rights of certain shareholders were terminated effective April 8, 2021.

Our Corporate Structure

The following diagram illustrates our corporate structure, including all of our significant subsidiaries within and outside of the PRC, immediately upon the completion of this offering.

Note:

- (1) Immediately after the completion of this offering, assuming the underwriters do not exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs, (i) Mr. Haijun Wang, our founder, Chairman of Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer, will beneficially own % of our total issued and outstanding ordinary shares and % of aggregate voting power; (ii) the other existing principal shareholder, in aggregate, will beneficially own % of our total issued and outstanding ordinary shares and % of the aggregate voting power; and (iii) public investors in this offering, in aggregate, will beneficially own % of our total issued and outstanding ordinary shares and % of the aggregate voting power. For details regarding the voting arrangement between Mr. Wang Haijun and certain minority shareholders, see "Principal Shareholders".

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and the related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus. During the periods presented in this section, all of our business was conducted by Atour Shanghai and its subsidiaries in China. This discussion contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. Our actual results and the timing of events could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of various factors, including those set forth under "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this prospectus.

OVERVIEW

We are the largest upper midscale hotel chain in China in terms of room number as of the end of 2020, according to Frost & Sullivan.

Through our hotel network, loyalty program and data and technology capabilities, we have been tirelessly exploring new possible ways to set the new trends for China's hospitality industry and expand our offerings beyond our hotels. We distinguish ourselves from our peers in the following aspects:

- Hotel network with a distinct portfolio of lifestyle brands. We offer our guests a diversified collection of lifestyle hotel brands, each created with a unique personality under the unified ethos of inclusivity and presence of humanness. As of December 31, 2021, our hotel network covered 745 hotels spanning 138 cities in China, with a total of 86,654 hotel rooms, including 712 manachised hotels with a total of 81,594 manachised hotel rooms, in addition to a pipeline of 338 hotels with a total of 37,987 rooms under development. Our guests can book a stay with us and access our rich product and service offerings through offline and online channels, including our mobile app and Weixin/WeChat mini program.
- "A-Card" loyalty program with strong customer stickiness. We built our A-Card loyalty program to enhance our engagement with guests and provide them with a unique and personalized experience. As of December 31, 2021, our A-Card loyalty program had amassed more than 30 million registered individual members. In 2021, approximately 39.7% of our room-nights were sold to our A-Card members.
- Proprietary data and technology capabilities. To provide our customers with personalized services and products, we have developed a comprehensive digital management system, which improves customer experience and operational efficiency in room reservation, room management, pricing and membership benefits. We use our data technology to identify market trends and inform our hotel management decisions, and make our hotel services and retail products more relatable to customers through seamless integration into our rooms and other consumption scenarios throughout our hotels.

In addition, we are the first hotel chain in China to develop a scenario-based retail business, according to Frost & Sullivan. We design our guest room amenities, work closely with manufacturers to deliver top-quality products, and carefully place the relevant products in guest rooms. Each of our guest rooms incorporates a fully immersive shopping destination, enabling us to further strengthen our brand elasticity with our guests. As of December 31, 2021, we had developed a total of 1,665 SKUs for scenario-based retail. The GMV generated from our retail business increased by 29.5% from RMB82.8 million in 2019 to RMB107.2 million in 2020, and further substantially by 112.9% to RMB228.2 million in 2021. In 2021, the average transaction value per scenario-based retail order reached RMB403.0.

We mainly use the manachise model to expand our hotel network in a less capital-intensive manner. We also lease the properties of the hotels we operate. As of December 31, 2021, we had 33 leased hotels and 712 manachised hotels. The number of our manachised hotels grew at a CAGR of 62.9% between 2016 and 2021.

We primarily derive our revenues from (i) franchise and management fees from our manachised hotels and sales of hotel supplies to manachised hotels, (ii) operations of our leased hotels, and (iii) sales of our retail products in connection with our scenario-based retail business. We generated net revenues of RMB1,567.1 million, RMB1,566.6 million and RMB2,147.6 million for the years ended December 31,

2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. We had net income of RMB60.8 million, RMB37.8 million and RMB139.7 million for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. We had EBITDA (non-GAAP) of RMB182.5 million, RMB161.2 million and RMB299.0 million for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. For reconciliation of our net income to EBITDA (non-GAAP), see “—Non-GAAP Financial Measure.”

FACTORS AFFECTING OUR RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

General Factors Affecting Our Results of Operations

Our results of operations are subject to general economic conditions and conditions affecting the hospitality industry in general, which include, among others:

- Changes in the national, regional or local economic conditions in China. Our financial performance, particularly our ability to drive growth, depends upon the demand for our hotel offerings, which is closely linked to the general economy and is sensitive to business and individual discretionary spending levels in China. While the hospitality industry in China has been benefitting from the significant growth experienced by the PRC economy in recent years, the recent COVID-19 outbreak has negatively affected our industry and led to slowdowns in growth. Despite the substantial improvements in social and economic conditions in China since the COVID-19 outbreak peaked in March 2020, there remain uncertainties regarding the general economic conditions and demand for our hotel offerings. Our costs and expenses may also be affected by China’s inflation level. Other macro-economic factors beyond our control may also affect our results of operations. For example, any prolonged recurrence of other contagious diseases, social instability or significant natural disasters may have a negative impact on the demand for our hotel offerings.
- PRC government policies and regulations. Our business is subject to various compliance and operational requirements under PRC laws. In particular, each of our hotels is required to comply with license requirements and laws and regulations with respect to hospitality industry, internet platform, construction, building, zoning, environmental protection, food safety, public safety, health and sanitary requirements. Any changes to the existing laws and regulations in the future may increase our compliance efforts at significant cost. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Our Business and Industry — We are subject to various hospitality industry, health and safety, construction, fire prevention and environmental laws and regulations that may subject us to liability.”
- Industry competition. The hospitality industry in China is highly competitive. We compete primarily with both domestic and international branded hotel chains and independent hotels. Competition in the hospitality industry is generally focused on hotel room rates, quality of accommodations, brand recognitions, convenience of locations, geographic coverages, quality and range of services, other lifestyle offerings and guest amenities.
- Seasonality. The hospitality industry is subject to fluctuations in revenues due to seasonality. The periods during which our properties experience higher revenues vary from property to property, depending principally upon their locations, types of property and competitive mix within the specific locations. Generally, the first quarter, in which both the New Year and Spring Festival holidays fall, accounts for a lower percentage of our annual revenues than the other quarters of the year. In addition, certain special events, such as large-scale exhibitions, concerts or sports events, may increase the demand for our hotels significantly as such special events may attract travelers into and within the regions in China where we operate hotels. Based on historical results, we generally expect our hotel revenues for each hotel to be higher in the second and third quarters of each year than in each of the first and fourth quarters due to general travel and consumption patterns in China.
- COVID-19 pandemic. As a result of the COVID-19 outbreak, governmental authorities in China implemented a series of control measures, including lockdowns, closures, quarantines, and travel bans, which significantly affected the performance of the hospitality industry. In compliance with the government health emergency rules, approximately 1,777 and 1,191 thousand room-nights throughout 2020 and 2021, respectively, representing 8.6% and 4.3% of the total available room-nights, became temporarily unavailable at various times throughout 2020 and 2021, substantially all of which were from our managed hotels. As of the date of this prospectus, 91 of our hotels were still under government requisition for quarantine purpose. For our occupancy rate, RevPAR and ADR inclusive and exclusive of the requisitioned hotels, see “— Key Performance Indicators”. Our occupancy rate, RevPAR and ADR were negatively affected, especially in the first half of 2020 when the COVID-19 outbreak peaked in China, but have generally recovered since the third quarter of 2020. Despite the overall steady recovery, the rebound of COVID-19 in various cities across China from time to time throughout 2021 resulted in temporary downward pressure on our occupancy rate, RevPAR and ADR during the period. For a detailed discussion of the risks associated with the COVID-19 outbreak and our business performance amid the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020 and 2021, see “— Key Performance Indicators” and “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Our Business and Industry — The COVID-19 outbreak has adversely affected, and may continue to adversely affect, our financial and operating performance.”

Specific Factors Affecting Our Results of Operations

While our business is affected by factors relating to general economic conditions and the hospitality industry in China, we believe that our results of operations are also affected by company-specific factors, including, among others:

- The total number of hotels and hotel rooms in our hotel network. Our revenues largely depend on the size of our hotel network. Furthermore, we believe the expanded geographic coverage of our hotel network will enhance our brand recognition. We mainly adopt a “manachise” model to operate the vast majority of the hotels in our hotel network. As a result, whether we can successfully increase the number of hotels and hotel rooms in our hotel chain is largely affected by our ability to franchise additional hotel properties at desirable locations on commercially favorable terms and to maintain the quality of service at our hotels and the value of our brand.
- The fixed-cost nature of our business. A significant portion of our operating costs and expenses, including rent and base salary, is relatively fixed. As a result, an increase in our revenues achieved through higher RevPAR generally will result in higher profitability. Vice versa, a decrease in our revenues could result in a disproportionately larger decrease in our profits because our operating costs and expenses are unlikely to decrease proportionately.
- The proportion of mature hotels in our hotel portfolio. The operation of each hotel typically involves three stages: development, ramp-up and mature operations. We define mature hotels as those that have been in operation for more than six months. It typically takes six months for our newly opened hotels to ramp up before such hotels can generate normal and stable revenues. During the ramp-up stage, when the occupancy rate is relatively low, revenues generated from these new hotels may be insufficient to cover their operating costs. The pre-opening expenses incurred during the development stage of our leased hotels, the lower franchise management fees generated by our manachised hotels during the ramp-up stage and the lower profitability during the ramp-up stage for our hotels may have a significant negative impact on our overall financial performance. The table below illustrates the number of our hotels in development stage, ramp-up stage and mature operation stage as of the dates indicated.

| | Number of hotels | Percentage of total hotels in the three stages | Number of hotels | Percentage of total hotels in the three stages | Number of hotels | Percentage of total hotels in the three stages |
| Development stage | 283 | 40.3% | 288 | 33.6% | 338 | 31.2% |
| Ramp-up stage | 113 | 16.1% | 109 | 12.7% | 114 | 10.5% |
| Mature stage | 307 | 43.7% | 461 | 53.7% | 631 | 58.3% |

Note:

- (1) Includes 19 and 42 hotels being requisitioned by the government for quarantine needs in response to the COVID-19 outbreak, which were not in operation as of December 31, 2020 and 2021, respectively.
- The growth of our A-Card members and their levels of engagement. Our tier-based A-Card loyalty program is a fully digitized membership program that unites all our hotel and lifestyle brands. We currently offer five tiers of membership from welcome level to infinite level, each corresponding to a different class of member benefits, privileges and rewards. Joining welcome level is completely free, and it takes six room-nights or 2,800 Jimu points to upgrade to the third tier — gold level. Alternatively, entry-level guests can also pay RMB199 to upgrade to gold level directly and enjoy the corresponding rewards. Our A-Card members contribute to a significant portion of our revenue. As of December 31, 2021, we had more than 30 million registered individual members. Our member base has been growing rapidly, with a CAGR of 48.7% between 2016 and 2021. In 2021, our individual members contributed to 39.7% of total room-night reservations. If we are able to further grow the size of our member base and increase customer stickiness of our loyalty program, we will be able to further increase our revenue and reduce our customer acquisition expenses.
 - The growth and profitability of our scenario-based retail business. In addition to hotel service offerings, we also operate an innovative scenario-based retail business embedded in our hotel rooms as well as through our e-stores. The growth and profitability of this retail business depends on the variety, attractiveness and pricing of our lifestyle products, as well as the development, procurement, sales, transportation and storage expenses.

KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

We utilize a set of non-financial and financial key performance indicators which our senior management reviews frequently. The review of these indicators facilitates timely evaluation of the performance of our business and effective communication of results and key decisions, allowing our business to react promptly to changing customer demands and market conditions.

Non-Financial Key Performance Indicators

Our non-financial key performance indicators consist of the increase in total number of hotels and hotel rooms in our hotel chain and RevPAR achieved by our hotels.

Increase in total hotels and hotel rooms. As we continue to scale our presence by leveraging our strong brand reputation, the total number of our hotels increased from 420 as of December 31, 2019 to 570 as of December 31, 2020, and further to 745 as of December 31, 2021. Similarly, the total number of our hotel rooms increased from 49,087 as of December 31, 2019 to 66,618 as of December 31, 2020, and further to 86,654 as of December 31, 2021. Due to the impacts of the COVID-19 outbreak, we had a certain number of hotels temporarily closed or requisitioned by the government authorities for quarantine purpose at various times in 2020 and 2021, substantially all of which were manachised hotels. As of December 31, 2021, we had a total of 338 hotels with a total of 37,987 rooms under development.

Note:

- (2) Excludes, for purposes of calculating these key operating metrics, approximately 1,777 thousand and 1,191 thousand room-nights related to hotel rooms that were requisitioned by the government for quarantine needs in response to the COVID-19 outbreak or otherwise became unavailable due to temporary hotel closures in 2020 and 2021, respectively. The ADR and RevPAR are calculated based on the tax inclusive room rates.

RevPAR. RevPAR is calculated as the total revenue during a period divided by the number of available rooms of such hotel during the same period. As a commonly used operating measure in the hospitality industry, RevPAR is largely affected by occupancy rate and ADR, as discussed below. Occupancy rates of our hotels mainly depend on the locations of our hotels, product and service offerings, the effectiveness of our sales and brand promotion efforts, our ability to effectively manage hotel reservations, the performance of managerial and other employees of our hotels, as well as our ability to respond to competitive pressure. We set the room rates of our hotels primarily based on the location of a hotel, room rates charged by our competitors within the same locality, seasonality, and our relative brand and product strengths. To drive our occupancy rates and room rates, we focus on continuing to improve our guests' hotel and retail experiences and increasing the stickiness of our loyalty program members, through continuously improving our service quality, expanding our hotel brand portfolios, and integrating technologies into our customer service and hotel operations.

The following table presents certain selected operating data of our company as of and for the dates and periods indicated, which are discussed in more detail in the following paragraphs. Our revenues have been and will continue to be significantly affected by these operating measures which are widely used in the hospitality industry.

Notes:

- (1) Excludes, for purposes of calculating these key operating metrics, approximately 1,146 thousand, 287 thousand, 175 thousand, 169 thousand, 256 thousand, 123 thousand, 352 thousand and 460 thousand room-nights related to hotel rooms that were requisitioned by the government for quarantine needs in response to the COVID-19 outbreak or otherwise became unavailable due to temporary hotel closures in each of the four quarters in 2020 and 2021, respectively.
- (2) The ADR and RevPAR are calculated based on the tax inclusive room rates.

Explanatory note: The occupancy rates, ADR and RevPAR presented below are exclusive of the hotels temporarily requisitioned by the government as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. We did not generate any revenue relating to sales based on continuing franchise fees from such requisitioned hotels as the franchisees of such hotels were not required to pay us any continuing franchise fees during the quarantine periods. For occupancy rates, ADR and RevPAR inclusive of such requisitioned hotels, see the table above.

Occupancy rates. In 2019, the occupancy rates of our hotels experienced a steady quarter-to-quarter increase, subject to normal seasonal fluctuations. However, the occupancy rates of our hotels decreased from 74.0% during the fourth quarter of 2019 to 37.2% during the first quarter of 2020, primarily due to the significant drops in levels of business and leisure travel during the COVID-19 outbreak in China. As a result of Chinese government's effective control of the pandemic and the recovery of the tourism industry and consumer confidence in general, the occupancy rates of our hotels steadily returned to 67.1%, 77.9% and 75.7% in the second, third and fourth quarters of 2020, respectively, indicating our strong recovery after the pandemic became largely contained within China. In 2021, occupancy rates of our hotels experienced fluctuations primarily associated with the recurrence of COVID-19 from time to time in various cities across China. The occupancy rates of our hotels decreased to 60.0% in the first quarter of 2021, primarily due to the rebound of COVID-19 in certain areas of and the government's "stay-at-home" policy during the Spring Festival in China. As the impact of COVID-19 subsided, the occupancy rates of our hotels returned to 76.9% in the second quarter of 2021, but subsequently declined to 68.0% in the third quarter of 2021 and further to 65.1% in the fourth quarter of 2021, attributable primarily to the re-surfing COVID-19 cases across China. We expect such impact of COVID-19 to continue in the first half of 2022 amid the ongoing battle against the Omicron variant of COVID-19 in a number of Chinese cities.

ADR. In 2019, the ADR of our hotels experienced a steady quarter-to-quarter increase, subject to normal seasonal fluctuations. However, the ADR of our hotels decreased from RMB422.5 during the fourth quarter of 2019 to RMB371.7 during the first quarter of 2020. Such decrease was primarily due to the significant drops in levels of business and leisure travel during the COVID-19 outbreak in China. Because the recovery of ADR tended to be slower than the recovery of the occupancy rates, our ADR further decreased to RMB341.7 during the second quarter of 2020. As a result of Chinese government's effective control of the pandemic and the recovery of the tourism industry, our ADR returned to RMB406.1 and RMB414.1 in the third and fourth quarters of 2020, respectively, indicating our strong recovery after the pandemic was largely contained within China. Similar to the occupancy rates, the ADR of our hotels fluctuated in 2021, attributable primarily to the impact of the re-surfing COVID-19 from time to time in various cities across China. Our ADR amounted to RMB377.7, RMB438.3, RMB424.6 and RMB409.3 in each of the four quarters of 2021, respectively. We expect the impact of COVID-19 on our ADR to continue in the first half of 2022 amid the ongoing battle against the Omicron variant of COVID-19 in a number of Chinese cities.

RevPAR. Affected by the foregoing, our RevPAR decreased by 55.8% from RMB329.2 in the fourth quarter of 2019 to RMB145.4 in the first quarter of 2020. Our RevPAR rapidly improved after the pandemic had largely been contained within China since the second quarter of 2020, returning to RMB241.3, RMB332.6 and RMB329.4 in the second, third and fourth quarters of 2020, respectively. However, primarily due to the rebound of COVID-19 in certain areas of and the government's "stay-at-home" policy during the Spring Festival in China, our RevPAR decreased to RMB238.1 in the first quarter of 2021. As a result of the recovery of our occupancy rate and ADR, our RevPAR returned to RMB352.3 in the second quarter of 2021, representing a 5.4% growth as compared to the same period in 2019. Due to the resurgence of COVID-19 across China, the RevPAR of our hotels decreased to RMB302.3 in the third quarter of 2021 and further to RMB281.8 in the fourth quarter of 2021. We expect such impact of COVID-19 to continue in the first half of 2022 amid the ongoing battle against the Omicron variant of COVID-19 in a number of Chinese cities.

Key Components of Results of Operations

Our financial key performance indicators consist of our net revenues, operating costs and expenses, and "EBITDA (non-GAAP)" which are discussed in more detail in the following paragraphs.

Net revenues. We primarily derive our revenues from (i) franchise and management fees from our franchised hotels and sales of hotel supplies and other products to our franchised hotels, (ii) operations of our leased hotels, and (iii) sales of our retail products in connection with our scenario-based retail business.

The following table sets forth the revenues generated from our manachised and leased hotels, and retail business and others, both in absolute amount and as a percentage of net revenues for the periods indicated.

| | Year Ended December 31, | | | | | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------------------|-------|-----------|-------|-----------|---------|-------|
| | 2019 | | 2020 | | 2021 | | |
| | RMB | % | RMB | % | RMB | US$ | |

| Revenues: | | | | | | | |
| Manachised hotels | 840,400 | 53.6 | 926,307 | 59.1 | 1,220,301 | 191,492 | 56.8 |
| Leased hotels | 614,829 | 39.2 | 496,470 | 31.7 | 630,238 | 98,898 | 29.4 |
| Retail revenues and others | 111,862 | 7.2 | 143,775 | 9.2 | 297,038 | 46,612 | 13.8 |
| Net revenues | 1,567,091 | 100.0 | 1,566,552 | 100.0 | 2,147,577 | 337,002 | 100.0 |

- Manachised hotels.* In 2019, we generated revenues of RMB840.4 million from our manachised hotels, which accounted for 53.6% of our net revenues for the year. In 2020, we generated revenues of RMB926.3 million from our manachised hotels, which accounted for 59.1% of our net revenues for the year. In 2021, we generated revenues of RMB1,220.3 million from our manachised hotels, respectively, which accounted for 56.8% of our net revenues for the year. We expect that the absolute amount of revenues from our manachised hotels will increase in the foreseeable future as we continuously scale up our manachised hotel network to further strengthen our market leadership in the hospitality industry. As of December 31, 2021, we had 338 manachised hotels under development.

We select manachised hotels based on a variety of factors, including the attractiveness of the location, the quality of the franchised property and the background, and business ideology and value of the franchisee. We manage our manachised hotels and impose the same high service quality and operational standards on all manachised hotels as our leased hotels to ensure the quality and consistency of our service and product offerings across our hotel network. We authorize a manachised hotel to use our relevant hotel brand names, logos and relevant trademarks. The franchisee is responsible for the hotel's construction, renovation and maintenance. We provide guidance to the franchisee on the construction or renovation of the hotel and require the hotel to meet our standards before approving it to commence operations. We appoint and train hotel managers and on-site HR representatives who are responsible for hiring hotel staff and managing daily operations of our manachised hotels. We also provide our franchisees with comprehensive management services, including central reservation, revenue management, sales and marketing support, technology support, quality assurance inspections and other operational support and information.

Our franchise and management agreements for our manachised hotels typically run for a fixed term of 8 to 15 years. We generally charge our franchisees an upfront franchise fee at a rate of RMB4,000 to RMB6,000 per room, depending on the brand of the manachised hotel, as well as fees related to pre-opening services, including information system installation service. After a manachised hotel opens, we generally charge the franchisee a monthly franchise and management fee of 5% to 6% of the gross revenues generated by each manachised hotel depending on the hotel brand. Furthermore, we charge our franchisees a fixed monthly hotel managers fee, fees for purchase of hotel supplies and other products, and other on-going service fees, such as system and accounting support fees. We do not expect any material franchise and management agreements to be terminated in the foreseeable future.

- Leased hotels.* In 2019, we generated revenues of RMB614.8 million from our leased hotels, which accounted for 39.2% of our net revenues for the year. In 2020, we generated revenues of RMB496.5 million from our leased hotels, which accounted for 31.7% of our net revenues for the year. In 2021, we generated revenues of RMB630.2 million from our leased hotels, respectively, which accounted for 29.4% of our net revenues for the year, respectively.

For our leased hotels, we lease properties from real estate owners or lessors and we are responsible for hotel development and customization to conform to our standards, as well as for repairs and maintenance and operating costs and expenses of properties over the term of the lease. We are also responsible for all aspects of hotel operations and management, including hiring, training and supervising the hotel managers and employees required to operate our hotels and purchasing supplies. Our typical lease term ranges from 10 to 20 years. We typically enjoy an initial three- to six-month rent-free period. After that, we generally pay fixed rent on a monthly or quarterly basis for the first two years of the lease term, after which we are generally subject to a modest increase every two to five years within the lease term. We do not expect any material lease agreements to be terminated in the foreseeable future.

The rent is generally paid upfront at the beginning of each payment period and we recognize the total rental expense on a straight-line basis over the initial lease term.

- Retail revenues and others. Besides the revenues discussed above, we also generate a growing portion of revenues from our other business as we continue to diversify our monetization methods and drive customer spending, primarily including our scenario-based retail business. In 2019, we generated revenues of RMB111.9 million from retail and other business, which accounted for 7.2% of our net revenues for the year. In 2020, we generated revenues of RMB143.8 million from retail and other business, which accounted for 9.2% of our net revenues for the year. In 2021, we generated revenues of RMB297.0 million from retail and other business, which accounted for 13.8% of our net revenues for the year. We expect that the absolute amount and the weight of revenues from our other business will steadily increase in the foreseeable future as we continue to expand our hotel network and our lifestyle product offerings and scenario-based retail operations.

Operating Costs and Expenses. Our operating costs and expenses consist of costs for hotel operation, other operating costs, selling and marketing expenses, general and administrative expenses, technology and development expenses, and pre-opening expenses. The following table sets forth the components of our operating costs and expenses, both in absolute amount and as a percentage of net revenues for the years indicated.

- Hotel operating costs. Our hotel operating costs account for a substantial majority of our total operating costs and expenses, which consist of costs and expenses directly attributable to the operation of our leased and managed hotels.

| | Year Ended December 31, | | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------|-----------|-----------|---------|
| | 2019 | 2020 | 2021 | |
| | RMB | RMB | RMB | US$ |
| | (in thousands) | | | |
| Hotel operating costs | | | | |
| Manachised hotels | 597,302 | 616,678 | 795,661 | 124,857 |
| Leased hotels | 500,139 | 533,423 | 623,917 | 97,906 |
| Total hotel operating costs | 1,097,441 | 1,150,101 | 1,419,578 | 222,763 |

- Manachised hotel operating costs primarily include costs of hotel supplies and other products sold to our manachised hotels as well as compensation and benefits for manachised hotel managers and on-site HR representatives. Compensation and benefits are recouped by us in the form of monthly hotel managers fees. We aim to manage the growth rate of these costs while we increase the revenue of manachised hotels through fast expansion in the number of such hotels.
- Leased hotel operating costs primarily include rental and utility costs for hotel properties, compensation and benefits for our hotel-based employees, costs of hotel room consumable products and depreciation and amortization of leasehold improvements. These costs are relatively fixed. We aim to manage these costs while we increase the revenue of leased hotels.

We anticipate that our hotel operating costs will increase as we continue to open new hotels. However, we aim to continue to manage our hotel operating costs as a percentage of our net revenues as we continue to achieve economies of scale and manage our operating costs and expenses through application of technologies.

- Other operating costs. Besides our hotel operating costs, we also incur other operating costs, primarily costs of our lifestyle products in relation to our retail business. We anticipate that such operating costs will increase as we continuously expand our lifestyle product offerings and scenario-based retail operations throughout our hotel network.
- Selling and marketing expenses. Our selling and marketing expenses consist primarily of commissions to travel intermediaries, expenses for marketing programs and materials, and compensation and benefits for our sales and marketing personnel. We expect that our selling and marketing expenses will increase as our sales increase and as we further expand into new geographic locations, promote our brand, and further promote our retail business to more customers.
- General and administrative expenses. Our general and administrative expenses consist primarily of compensation and benefits for our corporate and regional office and other relevant employees, travel and communication expenses of our general and administrative staff, costs of third-party professional services, and office expenses for corporate and regional offices including depreciation and amortization expense of office equipment. We expect that our general and administrative expenses will increase in the near term as we hire additional personnel and incur additional costs in connection with the expansion of our business and with becoming a public company, including costs of enhancing our internal controls. As we improve our economies of scale, the general and administrative expenses as a percentage of our net revenues will gradually decrease in the long term.
- Technology and development expenses. Our technology and development expenses consist of (i) staff costs incurred for the self-developed hotel operation and reservation systems, (ii) servers and cloud infrastructure costs, (iii) other expenses related to technology and development functions. We expect that our technology and development expenses will increase in the near term as we improve IT infrastructure capabilities and capacity and leverage on technology to improve our operating efficiency.
- Pre-opening expenses. Our pre-opening expenses are incurred in connection with development activities of our leased hotels and consist primarily of rental expenses and staff costs incurred during the relevant hotel pre-opening period. Our pre-opening expenses are largely determined by the number of pre-opening hotels in the pipeline and the rental expenses incurred during the development stage. The following table sets forth the components of our pre-opening expenses for the periods indicated.

| | 2019 | 2020 | 2021 | |

EBITDA (non-GAAP). We use earnings before interest expenses, interest income, income tax expense and depreciation and amortization, or EBITDA, a non-GAAP financial measure, as a financial metric to assess our results of operations before the impact of financing transactions and income taxes. We believe that EBITDA (non-GAAP) is widely used by other companies in the hospitality industry and may be used by investors as a measure of our financial performance. In 2019, 2020 and 2021, our EBITDA (non-GAAP) reached RMB182.5 million, RMB161.2 million and RMB299.0 million (US$46.9 million), respectively. For a reconciliation of our net income to EBITDA (non-GAAP), see “— Non-GAAP Financial Measure.”

TAXATION

Cayman Islands

We were incorporated in the Cayman Islands. Under the current laws of the Cayman Islands, we are not subject to income, corporation or capital gains tax in the Cayman Islands. In addition, our payment of dividends, if any, is not subject to withholding tax in the Cayman Islands.

Hong Kong

Under the current Hong Kong S.A.R. Inland Revenue Ordinance, our intermediary holding company in Hong Kong is subject to Hong Kong S.A.R. profits tax at the rate of 16.5% on its taxable income generated from the operations in Hong Kong S.A.R. A two-tiered profits tax rates regime was introduced in 2018 where the first HK$2 million of assessable profits earned by a company will be taxed at half of the current tax rate (8.25%) whilst the remaining profits will continue to be taxed at 16.5%. Under the Hong Kong tax law, our intermediary holding company in Hong Kong is exempted from income tax on their foreign derived income and there are no withholding taxes in Hong Kong on remittance of dividends.

PRC

Our subsidiaries in China are companies incorporated under PRC law and, as such, are subject to PRC enterprise income tax on their taxable income in accordance with the relevant PRC income tax laws. Pursuant to the PRC Enterprise Income Tax Law, or EIT Law, which became effective on January 1, 2008, a uniform 25% enterprise income tax rate is generally applicable to both foreign-invested enterprises and domestic enterprises, except where a special preferential rate applies. The enterprise income tax is calculated based on the entity’s global income as determined under PRC tax laws and accounting standards.

We are subject to VAT at a rate of 3%, 6%, 9%, or 13% on the services we provide and related surcharges. We are also subject to surcharges on VAT payments in accordance with PRC law.

The ultimate shareholders of Atour is Cayman Islands holding company. The direct shareholder of Atour Shanghai, which is a Hong Kong enterprise, may receive dividends from Atour Shanghai. The PRC EIT Law and its implementing rules provide that dividends paid by a PRC entity to a nonresident enterprise for income tax purposes is subject to PRC withholding tax at a rate of 10%, subject to reduction by an applicable tax treaty with China. Pursuant to the Arrangement between Mainland China and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and Tax Evasion on Income, the withholding tax rate in respect to the payment of dividends by a PRC enterprise to a Hong Kong enterprise may be reduced to 5% from a standard rate of 10% if the Hong Kong enterprise directly holds at least 25% of the PRC enterprise. Pursuant to the Notice of the State Administration of Taxation on the Issues concerning the Application of the Dividend Clauses of Tax Agreements, or SAT Circular 81, a Hong Kong resident enterprise must meet the following conditions, among others, in order to apply the reduced withholding tax rate: (i) it must be a company; (ii) it must directly own the required percentage of equity interests and voting rights in the PRC resident enterprise; and (iii) it must have directly owned such required percentage in the PRC resident enterprise throughout the 12 months prior to receiving the dividends. In October 2019, the State Administration of Taxation promulgated the Administrative Measures for Nonresident Taxpayers to Enjoy Treatment under Tax Treaties, or SAT Circular 35, which became effective on January 1, 2020. SAT Circular 35 provides that nonresident enterprises are not required to obtain pre-approval from the relevant tax authority in order to enjoy the reduced withholding tax. Instead, nonresident enterprises and their withholding agents may, by self-assessment and on confirmation that the prescribed criteria to enjoy the tax treaty benefits are met, directly apply the reduced withholding tax rate, and file necessary forms and supporting documents when performing tax filings, which will be subject to post-tax filing examinations by the relevant tax authorities. Accordingly, Atour Hong Kong may be able to benefit from the 5% withholding tax rate for the dividends it receives from its PRC subsidiaries, if it satisfies the conditions prescribed under SAT Circular 81 and other relevant tax rules and regulations. However, according to SAT Circular 81 and SAT Circular 35, if the relevant tax authorities consider the transactions or arrangements we have are for the primary purpose of enjoying a favorable tax treatment, the relevant tax authorities may adjust the favorable withholding tax in the future.

If our holding company in the Cayman Islands or any of our subsidiaries outside of China were deemed to be a “resident enterprise” under the PRC EIT Law, it would be subject to enterprise income tax on its worldwide income at a rate of 25%. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Doing Business in China — If we are classified as a PRC resident enterprise for PRC enterprise income tax purposes, such classification could result in unfavorable tax consequences to us and our non-PRC shareholders and ADS holders.”

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND ESTIMATES

We prepare our financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“U.S. GAAP”), which requires us to make judgments, estimates and assumptions. We continually evaluate these estimates and assumptions based on the most recent available information, our own historical experience and various other assumptions that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances. Since the use of estimates is an integral component of the financial reporting process, actual results could differ from our expectations as a result of changes in our estimates.

An accounting policy is considered critical if it is most important to portraying our financial condition and results and involves management’s most difficult, subjective or complex judgments. The following descriptions of critical accounting policies, judgments and estimates should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and other disclosures included in this prospectus.

Revenue recognition

Our revenue is primarily derived from contracts of manachised hotels with third party franchisees, products and services in leased hotels, as well as sales of lifestyle products via the e-commerce platforms and hotel shops.

(1) Manachised hotel revenues

The franchise and management agreements primarily contain the following promised goods or services:

- Intellectual Property (“IP”) license grants the right to access our hotel system IP, including brand names.
- Pre-opening services (e.g. information system installation service, and services related to the assistance on employees training and other hotel opening preparation activities).
- Hotel management services include providing day-to-day management services of the hotels for the franchisees.
- Sales of hotel supplies and other products.

The promises to provide pre-opening services (e.g. information system installation service, and services related to the assistance on employees training and other hotel opening preparation activities) are not considered distinct performance obligation because they are highly interrelated with the IP license. Therefore, the promises to provide these pre-opening services have been combined with the related IP license as a single performance obligation.

Manachised hotel revenues are derived from franchise and management agreements where the franchisees are primarily required to pay (i) upfront franchise fees, (ii) continuing franchise fees, which primarily consist of on-going franchise and management fees and hotel managers fees; and (iii) fees for purchase of hotel supplies and other products.

The transaction prices are allocated to the performance obligations based on the estimated standalone selling prices of each components.

Upfront franchise fees are typically fixed and collected upfront and recognized as revenue on straight-line basis over the term of the franchise contract. We do not consider that the upfront franchise fees give rise to a significant financing component, since the primary purpose of the upfront franchise fee is to protect us from failure by franchisees to comply with the terms in the contract.

On-going franchise and management fees are generally calculated as a certain percentage of the revenues of the manachised hotel, which are due and payable on a monthly basis and revenue is recognized over time as services are rendered. Hotel managers fees are also billed and collected monthly and revenue is recognized over time as services are rendered.

Revenue from sales of hotel supplies and other products is recognized at a point of time when the control of the goods is transferred to the customers, generally when the goods are delivered to the customer and the customer has obtained the physical possession and legal title of the goods.

In certain cases, we also provide hotel renovation services to franchisees to convert their buildings suitable for hotel use. When the renovation revenue can be reasonably measured, such revenue is recognized progressively over time using the output method, based on the surveys of performance by our experts who review the work performed to date under each contract. When the renovation revenue cannot be reasonably measured, such revenue is recognized only to the extent of contract costs incurred that are expected to be recovered. The hotel renovation service revenue is included in manachised hotels revenues — other transactions with the franchisees in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

(2) Leased hotel revenues

Leased hotel revenues are primarily derived from the rental of rooms, food and beverage sales and other ancillary services, including but not limited to laundry, parking and conference reservation. Each of these products and services represents a distinct performance obligation and, in exchange for these products and services, we receive fixed amounts based on published or negotiated prices. Payment is due in full at the time when the services are rendered or the goods are provided. Room rental revenue is recognized on a daily basis when rooms are occupied. Food and beverage revenue and other services revenue are recognized when they have been delivered or rendered to the guests as the respective performance obligations are satisfied.

(3) Retail revenues

Revenues from sales from lifestyle products through the e-commerce platforms and hotel shops are recognized when the control of the goods is transferred to the customers, generally when the goods are delivered to the customer and the customer has obtained the physical possession and the legal title of the goods.

Customer loyalty program

We invite our customers to participate in a membership program with different tiers of membership. Members could pay a membership fee for a higher membership tier.

Under the membership program, members earn loyalty points, which generally expire two years after being earned and can be redeemed for future products and services. Points earned by loyalty program members represent a material right to free or discounted goods or services in the future. We are responsible for providing or arranging for the provision of those free or discounted goods or services in exchange. We are acting as a principal if the members redeem the points for the room nights in leased hotels or other lifestyle products. We are acting as an agent if the members redeem the points for room nights in manachised hotels.

For points earned in leased hotels, a portion of the leased hotel revenues is deferred until the members redeem points. For points earned in manachised hotels, we collect a loyalty program management fee from manachised hotels at a fixed rate per point. Such loyalty program management fee is recognized on a net basis by netting off refunds to manachised hotels when members redeem the points for room nights in manachised hotels, and is included in manachised hotels revenues — other transactions with the franchisees in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

We estimate the breakage for loyalty points that members will never redeem based on a number of factors, including but not limited to, the historical redemption pattern and expectations of future member behavior. We specifically considered whether the outbreak of COVID-19 would have any significant impact on the future redemption pattern. We did not observe any significant changes in the redemption and forfeiture pattern since the outbreak and therefore expects that the future redemption rate would not be significantly different (i.e. within the range of 5%) as compared to the historical redemption rate. Assuming the standalone selling price of the loyalty point remains unchanged, as of December 31, 2021, it is estimated that a reasonably possible increase of 5% in the redemption rate of the loyalty point would decrease the estimated breakage revenue by approximately RMB 16 million for the year ended December 31, 2021.

Membership fee from our customer loyalty program is recognized on a straight-line basis over the membership period, which is included in other revenues in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

Impairment of long-lived assets

Long-lived assets, such as property and equipment, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable.

For the purposes of impairment testing of long-lived assets of leased hotel, we have concluded that an individual hotel is the lowest level for which identifiable cash flows are largely independent of the cash flows of other assets and liabilities. When there were circumstances that require the long-lived assets of a hotel be tested for possible impairment, we first compare undiscounted cash flows generated by the assets to the carrying amount. If the carrying amount of the long-lived assets is not recoverable on an undiscounted cash flow basis, an impairment is recognized to the extent that the carrying amount exceeds its fair value. Fair value is determined through various valuation techniques including discounted cash flow models, quoted market values and third-party independent appraisals, as considered necessary.

Key assumptions in the determination of fair value include reasonable sales growth assumption in generating after-tax cashflows that would be used by a market participant in the determination of a purchase price for the respective hotel. Estimates of forecasted cash flows are highly subjective judgments and can be significantly impacted by changes in the business or economic conditions.

Share-based compensation

We account for the compensation cost from share-based payment transactions with employees based on the grant-date fair value of the equity instrument issued. The grant-date fair value of the award is recognized as compensation expense, over the period during which an employee is required to provide service in exchange for the award, which is generally the vesting period. When no future services are required to be performed by the employee in exchange for an award of equity instruments, and if such award does not contain a performance or market condition, the cost of the award is expensed on the grant date.

Awards granted to employees with performance conditions attached are measured at fair value on the grant date and are recognized as the compensation expenses in the period and thereafter when the performance goal becomes probable to achieve.

The fair value of the share options granted is estimated on the date of grant using the binomial option pricing model with the following key assumptions used.

Fair value of our ordinary shares

Prior to this offering, we have been a private company with no quoted market prices for our ordinary shares. We therefore need to make estimates of the fair value of our ordinary shares at various dates for the purposes of at the date of grant of a share-based award as one of the inputs in determining the grant date fair value of the award.

The following table sets forth the fair value of our ordinary shares estimated at different times with the assistance from an independent valuation firm.

| Date | Fair Value per Ordinary Shares | Discount for Lack of Marketability (DLOM) | Discount Rate |
|--------------------|--------------------------------|---|---------------|
| July 31, 2017 | 2.85 | 18.00% | 16.00% |
| September 30, 2017 | 3.55 | 17.00% | 15.00% |
| June 30, 2018 | 5.44 | 17.00% | 15.00% |
| December 31, 2018 | 6.12 | 17.00% | 15.00% |
| March 31, 2019 | 7.62 | 17.00% | 15.00% |

In determining the fair value of our ordinary shares, we applied the income approach as the primary approach based on our discounted future cash flow using our best estimate as of the valuation date. The determination of the fair value of our ordinary shares requires complex and subjective judgments to be made regarding our future financial and operating results, our unique business risks, the liquidity of our shares and our operating history and prospects at the time of valuation.

The option-pricing method was used to allocate equity value of our company to preferred and ordinary shares, taking into account the guidance prescribed by the AICPA Audit and Accounting Practice Aid. This method requires making estimates of the anticipated timing of a potential liquidity event, such as a sale of our company or an initial public offering, and estimates of the volatility of our equity securities. The anticipated timing is based on the plans of our board and management.

The major assumptions used in calculating the fair value of ordinary shares include:

- Weighted average cost of capital, or WACC: The WACCs were determined in consideration of factors including risk-free rate, comparative industry risk, equity risk premium, company size and nonsystematic risk factors.

- Comparable companies: In deriving the WACCs, which are used as the discount rates under the income approach, certain publicly traded companies engaged in hotel businesses were selected for reference as our guideline companies.
- Discount for lack of marketability, or DLOM: DLOM was quantified by the Black-Scholes model. Under this option-pricing method, which assumed that the put option is struck at the average price of the stock before the privately held shares can be sold, the cost of the put option was considered as a basis to determine the DLOM. This option pricing method is one of the methods commonly used in estimating DLOM as it can take into consideration factors such as timing of a liquidity event, for instance an initial public offering, and estimated volatility of our shares. The farther the valuation date is from an expected liquidity event, the higher the put option value is and thus the higher the implied DLOM is.

The lower DLOM is used for the valuation, the higher the determined fair value of the ordinary shares becomes. DLOM decreased from 18% to 5% from July 31, 2017 to December 31, 2021, which reflected the enhanced liquidity of the ordinary shares given the proximity to the completion of this offering.

The fair value of our ordinary shares increased from RMB2.85 per share as of July 31, 2017 to RMB 31.74 per share as of December 31, 2021, which was primarily due to (i) the organic growth of our business, evidenced by our expanding hotel network throughout China as well as the rapid growth of our innovative retail business and our membership base; (ii) the expected improvement in our financial performances, taking into account the expected strong recovery post the COVID-19 outbreak as a result of increased domestic travels in China; (iii) the realignment of our business growth strategy in 2021, focusing on quality growth driven by operation efficiency and margin improvements; and (iv) the decrease in the discount rate of the marketability of our shares.

- Once a public trading market of the ADSs has been established in connection with the completion of this offering, it will no longer be necessary for us to estimate the fair value of our ordinary shares in connection with our accounting for granted share based awards.

Income taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases, as well as operating loss and tax credit carryforwards, if any. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the periods in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred income tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates or tax laws is recognized in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income in the period the change in tax rates or tax laws is enacted.

We reduce the carrying amounts of deferred tax assets by a valuation allowance, if based on the available evidence, it is “more-likely-than-not” that such assets will not be realized. Accordingly, the need to establish valuation allowances for deferred tax assets is assessed at each reporting period based on a “more-likely-than-not” realization threshold. This assessment considers, among other matters, the nature, frequency and severity of current and cumulative losses, forecasts of future profitability, the duration of statutory carryforward periods, and our experience with operating loss and tax credit carryforwards, if any, not expiring.

We recognize in our financial statements the impact of a tax position if that position is “more-likely-than-not” to prevail based on the facts and technical merits of the position. Tax positions that meet the “more-likely-than-not” recognition threshold are measured at the largest amount of tax benefit that has a greater than fifty percent likelihood of being realized upon settlement. Changes in recognition or measurement are reflected in the period in which the change in judgment occurs. Interest and penalties recognized related to unrecognized tax benefits are classified as income tax expense in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

Recent accounting announcements

A list of recently issued accounting pronouncements that are relevant to us is included in “Note 2(ai) — Recently issued accounting pronouncements” of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this prospectus.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following table sets forth a summary of our consolidated results of operations, both in absolute amount and as a percentage of net revenues for the periods indicated. This information should be read together with our consolidated financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus. We have grown rapidly since we opened our first Atour Hotel in 2013. Our relatively limited operating history makes it difficult to predict our future operating results. We believe that the period-to-period comparison of operating results should not be relied upon as being indicative of future performance.

Non-GAAP Financial Measure

We use earnings before interest expenses, interest income, income tax expense and depreciation and amortization, or EBITDA, a non-GAAP financial measure, as a financial metric to assess our results of operations before the impact of financing transactions and income taxes. We believe that EBITDA (non-GAAP) is widely used by other companies in the hospitality industry and may be used by investors as a measure of our financial performance. Given the significant investments that we have made in leasehold improvements, depreciation and amortization expense comprises a significant portion of our cost structure. We believe that EBITDA will provide investors with a useful tool for comparability between periods because it eliminates depreciation and amortization expense attributable to capital expenditures. The presentation of EBITDA should not be construed as an indication that our future results will be unaffected by other charges and gains we consider to be outside the ordinary course of our business.

The use of EBITDA has certain limitations. Depreciation and amortization expense for various long-term assets, income tax, interest income and expenses have been and will be incurred and are not reflected in the presentation of EBITDA. Each of these items should also be considered in the overall evaluation of our results. Additionally, EBITDA does not consider capital expenditures and other investing activities and should not be considered as a measure of our liquidity. We compensate for these limitations by providing the relevant disclosure of our depreciation and amortization, interest expenses, interest income, income tax expense, both in our reconciliation to the U.S. GAAP financial measure and in our consolidated financial statements, all of which should be considered when evaluating our performance.

The term EBITDA is not defined under U.S. GAAP, and EBITDA is not a measure of net income, operating income, operating performance or liquidity presented in accordance with U.S. GAAP. When assessing our operating and financial performance, you should not consider this data in isolation or as a substitute for our net income, operating income or any other operating performance measure that is calculated in accordance with U.S. GAAP. In addition, our EBITDA may not be comparable to EBITDA or similarly titled measures utilized by other companies since such other companies may not calculate EBITDA in the same manner as we do.

A reconciliation of net income which is the most directly comparable U.S. GAAP measure to EBITDA (non-GAAP), is provided below:

Net revenues. Our net revenues increased significantly from RMB1,566.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB2,147.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2021.

- Manachised hotels. Revenues from our manachised hotels increased by 31.7% from RMB926.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB1,220.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. The increase was primarily attributable to the increase in the number of our manachised hotels from 537 as of December 31, 2020 to 712 as of December 31, 2021 as a result of increased popularity of our hotel brands among travelers and our franchisee partners and further diversification of our brand portfolio. In addition, RevPAR of our manachised hotels increased from RMB268.9 in 2020, during which the massive outbreak of COVID-19 caused a significant impact on the entire hospitality industry, especially in the first quarter of 2020, to RMB288.1 in 2021, during which COVID-19 was relatively in control with isolated outbreaks in certain areas of China from time to time. We waived certain franchise and management fee from our franchisees following the outbreak of COVID-19 pandemic during the first quarter of 2020, resulting in temporary losses in revenues during such period.
- Leased hotels. Revenues from our leased hotels increased by 26.9% from RMB496.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB630.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. Our revenues increased primarily because RevPAR of our leased hotels increased from RMB339.4 in 2020 to RMB388.1 in 2021, for reasons similar to the increase of RevPAR of our manachised hotels.

- Retail revenues and others. Our retail revenues and other revenues increased significantly by 106.6% from RMB143.8 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB297.0 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. This increase was primarily due to the rapid increase in the revenue generated from our scenario-based retail business to RMB191.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2021 from RMB70.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2020, as well as an increase in revenue generated from the sales of our A-Card membership. The increase in the revenue generated from our scenario-based retail business was largely driven by the increase in the number of our hotels from 570 as of December 31, 2020 to 745 as of December 31, 2021 as well as the increase in the occupancy rates of our hotels from 67.1% in 2020 to 67.7% in 2021. Additionally, our growing online presence with rapidly increasing sales derived from various third-party e-commerce platforms also contributed to our increased scenario-based retail revenues in 2021. Such increased guest traffic, diverse and thriving sales channels, the expansion of our lifestyle product categories and SKUs, as well as the increasing acceptance of our private label product offerings by our customers led to the GMV generated from our retail business increasing significantly by 112.9% from RMB107.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB228.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. The increase in the revenue generated from the sales of our A-Card membership was primarily due to the increase in the number of our members who paid membership fees over the relevant periods.

Operating Costs and Expenses. As a result of the increase in the number of our hotels, our total operating costs and expenses increased by 29.3% from RMB1,526.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB1,973.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. This increase resulted from increases in our hotel operating costs, other operating costs, selling and marketing expenses, general and administrative expenses, and technology and development expenses, which were partially offset by a decrease in pre-opening expenses. Our operating costs and expenses as a percentage of our net revenues decreased from 97.5% for the year ended December 31, 2020 to 91.9% for the year ended December 31, 2021, as a result of our increased net revenues during such periods.

- Hotel operating costs. Our hotel operating costs increased by 23.4% from RMB1,150.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB1,419.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. This increase was primarily due to the increase in the number of our hotels from 570 as of December 31, 2020 to 745 as of December 31, 2021. Our hotel operating costs as a percentage of net revenues decreased from 73.4% for the year ended December 31, 2020 to 66.1% for the year ended December 31, 2021, primarily due to the significant increase in our net revenues during the relevant periods as a result of adverse impacts of the COVID-19 outbreak in early 2020. We expect that our hotel operating costs as a percentage of our net revenues will further decrease as the scale of our hotel network grows and our operating efficiency further improves.
- Other operating costs. Our other operating costs primarily consist of costs for our scenario-based retail business and cost of other revenues. Our other operating costs increased by 107.4% from RMB78.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB163.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2021, primarily due to the increase in the scale of our scenario-based retail business. Our other operating costs as a percentage of net revenues increased from 5.0% for the year ended December 31, 2020 to 7.6% for the year ended December 31, 2021, which we expect will increase slightly in the foreseeable future.
- Selling and marketing expenses. Our selling and marketing expenses increased by 75.0% from RMB71.0 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB124.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. This increase was primarily because of the increased commissions paid to travel intermediaries, in line with the recovery of the operation of our leased hotels, as well as the increased levels of our branding and marketing activities, which include the marketing activities in order to promote our online retail sales. Our selling and marketing expenses as a percentage of net revenues increased from 4.5% for the year ended December 31, 2020 to 5.8% for the year ended December 31, 2021.
- General and administrative expenses. Our general and administrative expenses increased by 50.0% from RMB131.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB197.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. This increase was primarily due to the increase in our personnel costs, as well as the increased costs of third-party professional services associated with this offering. Our general and administrative expenses as a percentage of net revenues increased from 8.4% for the year ended December 31, 2020 to 9.2% for the year ended December 31, 2021.

- Technology and development expenses. Our technology and development expenses increased by 54.9% from RMB33.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB52.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. This increase was primarily because of our steadily increasing investments in key technologies, including our mobile apps, central reservation system (“CRS”) and other core systems. Our technology and development expenses as a percentage of net revenues remained relatively stable at 2.1% and 2.4% for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2021, respectively. Going forward, we expect to further increase investment in our key technologies.
- Pre-opening expenses. Our pre-opening expenses decreased by 71.6% from RMB61.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB17.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. This decrease was primarily because there had been only one leased hotel under development during 2021, as compared to four during 2020, which led to lower pre-opening expenses. Accordingly, our pre-opening expenses as a percentage of net revenues decreased from 3.9% for the year ended December 31, 2020 to 0.8% for the year ended December 31, 2021.

Other operating income. Our other operating income primarily consists of income from government subsidies and value-added tax (“VAT”) related benefits. This income decreased by 4.5% from RMB23.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB22.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2021.

Income from operation. As a result of the foregoing, we had income from operation of RMB63.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 and income from operations of RMB196.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2021.

Interest income. Our interest income consists primarily of interest from our bank deposits. Our interest income increased from RMB0.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB6.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2021 due to increase in our bank deposits.

Gain from short-term investments. Our gain from short-term investments was RMB11.0 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 and RMB8.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. The decrease was primarily due to decrease in our investment amounts in liquid wealth management products procured from financial institutions in China and conversion into bank deposits.

Interest expenses. Our interest expenses consist primarily of interests related to our borrowings. Our interest expenses increased from RMB1.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB7.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2021 due to the increase in our borrowings.

Income tax expense. Our income tax expense increased from RMB37.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 to RMB64.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2021. The actual income tax expense differed from the amount computed by applying the PRC statutory income tax rate of 25% to income before income taxes, which was primarily due to the valuation allowance provided for the deferred tax assets of certain PRC subsidiaries, which were in cumulative loss positions.

Net income. As a result of the foregoing, we had net income of RMB37.8 million and RMB139.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2020 and 2021, respectively.

Net revenues. Our net revenues decreased slightly from RMB1,567.1 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB1,566.6 million in the year ended December 31, 2020.

- Manachised hotels. Revenues from our manachised hotels increase by 10.2% from RMB840.4 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB926.3 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This increase was primarily due to a substantial increase in the number of manachised hotels from 391 as of December 31, 2019 to 537 as of December 31, 2020 as a result of increased popularity of our hotel brands among travelers and our franchisee partners and further diversification of our brand portfolio. This increase was partially offset by the temporary decrease in RevPAR during such periods primarily caused by the COVID-19 pandemic due to a decrease in occupancy rate of our manachised hotels from 72.3% in the year ended December 31, 2019 to 66.9% in the year ended December 31, 2020 as well as a decrease of ADR from RMB415.9 in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB382.2 in the year ended December 31, 2020. In the fourth quarter of 2020, the RevPAR rebounded to RMB321.0, which was substantially in line with the level in 2019 before the COVID-19 pandemic.

- Leased hotels. Revenues from our leased hotels decreased by 19.3% from RMB614.8 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB496.5 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This decrease was primarily due to a decrease in RevPAR primarily caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. RevPAR for our leased hotels decreased from RMB463.7 in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB339.4 in the year ended December 31, 2020.
- Retail revenues and others. Our retail revenues and other revenues increased by 28.5% from RMB111.9 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB143.8 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This increase was primarily due to an increase in the revenue generated from our scenario-based retail business to RMB70.9 million in the year ended December 31, 2020 from RMB63.6 million in the year ended December 31, 2019, as well as an increase in revenue generated from the sales of our A-Card membership services. The increase in the revenue generated from our scenario-based retail business was largely driven by its growing GMV, which increased by 29.5% from RMB82.8 million in 2019 to RMB107.2 million in 2020 as a result of the expansion of our hotel network (and the resulting increased guest traffic), our lifestyle product categories and SKUs, as well as the increasing acceptance of our private label product offerings by our customers. The increase in the revenue generated from the sales of our A-Card membership services was primarily due to the significant increase in the number of our members who paid membership fees over the relevant periods.

Operating Costs and Expenses. Our total operating costs and expenses increased by 2.4% from RMB1,490.3 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB1,526.7 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This increase resulted from increases in our hotel operating costs and technology and development expenses, partially offset by slight decreases in our other operating costs, selling and marketing expenses, general and administrative expenses, and pre-opening expenses.

- Hotel operating costs. Our hotel operating costs increased by 4.8% from RMB1,097.4 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB1,150.1 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This increase was primarily because of our substantial expansion of hotels from 420 hotels as of December 31, 2019 to 570 hotels as of December 31, 2020. Our hotel operating costs as a percentage of net revenues increased from 70.0% in the year ended December 31, 2019 to 73.4% in the year ended December 31, 2020, primarily due to a decrease in our net revenues as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic while our leased and manachised hotel operating costs increased due to our expansion of hotels.
- Other operating costs. Our other operating costs primarily consist of costs for our scenario-based retail business and cost of other revenues. Our other operating costs decreased by 3.2% from RMB81.3 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB78.7 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. Our other operating costs as a percentage of net revenues decreased from 5.2% in the year ended December 31, 2019 to 5.0% in the year ended December 31, 2020.
- Selling and marketing expenses. Our selling and marketing expenses decreased by 6.3% from RMB75.7 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB71.0 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This decrease was primarily because of decreases in the total compensation for our sales and marketing personnel as we temporarily reduced the selling and marketing personnel headcounts and slowed down the expansion of our sales and marketing activities in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. Our selling and marketing expenses as a percentage of net revenues decreased from 4.8% in the year ended December 31, 2019 to 4.5% in the year ended December 31, 2020.
- General and administrative expenses. Our general and administrative expenses decreased by 5.0% from RMB138.2 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB131.4 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This decrease was primarily because of the reduced business travel, seminars and conferences due to the COVID-19 outbreak. Our general and administrative expenses as a percentage of net revenues decreased from 8.8% in the year ended December 31, 2019 to 8.4% in the year ended December 31, 2020.

- Technology and development expenses. Our technology and development expenses increased by 14.6% from RMB29.4 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB33.6 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This increase was primarily because of the increasing number of our technology personnel and our increasing investments in key technologies, including our mobile apps, CRS and other core systems. Our technology and development expenses as a percentage of net revenues increased from 1.9% in the year ended December 31, 2019 to 2.1% in the year ended December 31, 2020. Going forward, we expect to further increase investment in our key technologies.
- Pre-opening expenses. Our pre-opening expenses decreased by 9.2% from RMB68.2 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB61.9 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This decrease was primarily because of the decrease in the number of leased hotels under development, and correspondingly, lower pre-opening expenses. Our pre-opening expenses as a percentage of net revenues decreased from 4.3% in the year ended December 31, 2019 to 3.9% in the year ended December 31, 2020.

Other operating income. Our other operating income primarily consists of income from government subsidies and value-added tax (“VAT”) related benefits. This income increased by 60.3% from RMB14.6 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB23.4 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. This increase resulted from input VAT additional deduction benefit, VAT exemption due to COVID-19, and the financial subsidy funds we received from local government.

Income from operation. As a result of the foregoing, we had income from operation of RMB91.4 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 and income from operations of RMB63.3 million in the year ended December 31, 2020.

Gain from short-term investments. Our gain from short-term investments was RMB22.2 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 and RMB11.0 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. The decrease was primarily due to decrease in our investment amounts in wealth management products.

Interest expenses. Our interest expenses consist primarily of interests related to our borrowings. Our interest expenses were RMB4.3 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 and RMB1.5 million in the year ended December 31, 2020. The decrease was primarily due to the decrease in the average interest rate of the borrowings.

Income tax expense. Our income tax expense decreased by 20.8% from RMB47.5 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 to RMB37.6 million in the year ended December 31, 2020, primarily due to a decrease in taxable income due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Net income. As a result of the foregoing, we had net income of RMB60.8 million in the year ended December 31, 2019 compared to net income of RMB37.8 million in the year ended December 31, 2020.

Selected Quarterly Results of Operations

The following table sets forth our unaudited consolidated quarterly results of operations for the periods indicated. You should read the following table in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus. We have prepared the unaudited consolidated quarterly financial information on the same basis as our consolidated financial statements. The unaudited consolidated quarterly financial information includes all adjustments, consisting only of normal and recurring adjustments, that we consider necessary for a fair representation of our operating results for the quarters presented.

We experience seasonality in our business. Due to general travel and consumption patterns in China, we generally experience lower revenues in the first quarter of the year, in which both the New Year and Spring Festival holidays fall, followed by relatively rapid revenue growth in the second and third quarters and a steady revenue growth in the fourth quarter. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Our Business and Industry — Seasonality of our business and national or regional special events may cause fluctuations in our results of operations and financial condition, and adversely affect our profitability.”

While we achieved year-over-year revenue growth from 2019 to 2021, our quarterly revenues experienced fluctuations within these periods, attributable primarily to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. Despite the rapid expansion of our nationwide hotel network as a result of the growing brand recognition, the increased revenues generated therefrom were partially offset by the temporary decrease in RevPAR of our franchised and leased hotels from time to time between 2020 and 2021 when the Chinese government implemented strict containment measures to curb the spread of the virus amid waves of COVID-19 pandemic. Despite the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, our scenario-based retail revenues and other revenues witnessed significant growth from 2019 to 2021, and particularly in the past three quarters in 2021, due to the expansion of our hotel network and the increased guest traffic, our private label lifestyle product categories and SKUs as well as our membership base. For a detailed discussion by quarters of our key operating metrics, see “— Key Performance Indicators.”

A significant portion of our operating costs and expenses, including rent and base salary of our staff, is relatively fixed. As a result of COVID-19’s impact on our overall business and revenues, we experienced a decrease in our operating income in 2020.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Our principal sources of liquidity come from cash generated from operating activities, equity financing from our shareholders, and bank loans. Our cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and liquid investments which have maturities of three months or less when acquired and are unrestricted as to withdrawal or use.

We expect to incur additional capital expenditures in connection with leasehold improvements of our leased hotels. We intend to fund this planned expansion with our operating cash flow and our cash balance, credit facilities provided by banks, as well as net proceeds received from this offering.

Our working capital representing net current assets (current assets less current liabilities) as of December 31, 2021 was RMB364.8 million. We have been able to meet our working capital needs in the past, and we believe that we will be able to meet our working capital needs in the foreseeable future with our operating cash flow and existing cash balance.

The following table sets forth a summary of our cash flows for the periods indicated:

Operating Activities

Historically, we have financed our operation primarily through cash generated from operations. We currently anticipate that we will be able to meet our needs to fund operations in the next twelve months with operating cash flow and existing cash balances and the proceeds from this offering.

Our net cash generated from operating activities decreased from RMB224.1 million in 2019 to RMB118.7 million in 2020, primarily attributable to a decrease in net income from RMB60.8 million in 2019 to RMB37.8 million in 2020, largely due to the impact of the COVID-19 outbreak, which led to temporary shutdowns of certain of our hotels in selected locations in China and disruptions to our supply chain, hotel development, and other operational activities. In particular, we have adopted a policy of waiving the sales based continuing franchise fees from our franchised hotels used by the Chinese government for accommodation of medical support workers and quarantine purposes. We also extended certain payment deadline for our franchisees to support them during the COVID-19 outbreak in 2020. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Our Business and Industry — The COVID-19 outbreak has adversely affected, and may continue to adversely affect, our financial and operating performance.” With Chinese government’s effective control of the pandemic and the recovery of the tourism industry, our hotels resumed operations gradually and our net income increased to RMB139.7 million in 2021, resulting in our net cash flow generated from operating activities in 2021 reaching RMB417.9 million, represents a 252.1% increase as compared to 2020, and a 86.5% increase as compared to 2019.

Investing Activities

Our cash used in investing activities is primarily related to our leasehold improvements and purchase of equipment and fixtures used in leased hotels, and investment in short-term financial products offered by PRC commercial banks.

We recorded net cash used in investing activities of RMB105.5 million in 2020, as compared to net cash generated from investing activities of RMB264.9 million in 2019. This shift was primarily attributable to reduction in the proceeds from maturities of our investments in short-term financial products in the year ended December 31, 2020. Our net cash used in investing activities decreased from RMB105.5 million in 2020 to RMB42.2 million in 2021, primarily due to the decrease in acquisition of property and equipment of leased hotels.

Financing Activities

Our financing activities primarily consisted of borrowings from PRC commercial banks and other third parties.

We recorded net cash generated from financing activities of RMB48.0 million in 2020, as compared to net cash used in financing activities of RMB10.1 million in 2019. The shift was due to an increase in our borrowings from PRC commercial banks in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Our net cash used in financing activities was RMB161.1 million in 2021, compared to RMB48.0 million of net cash generated from financing activities in 2020, which was attributable to the repurchase of our ordinary shares in the first half of 2021 and the repayment of borrowings, net off by the proceeds provided by borrowings.

WORKING CAPITAL

We recorded net current assets (current assets less current liabilities) of RMB271.4 million and RMB364.8 million as of December 31, 2020 and 2021, respectively. As of December 31, 2021, we recorded total current assets of RMB1,416.2 million and total current liabilities of RMB1,051.4 million. In addition, as of December 31, 2021, we had cash and cash equivalents of RMB1,038.6 million. The following table sets forth a breakdown of our current assets and current liabilities as of the dates indicated.

| Net current assets | 271,411 | 364,831 | 57,249 |

Our net current assets increased from RMB271.4 million as of December 31, 2020 to RMB364.8 million as of December 31, 2021, primarily due to an increase in our current assets, including (i) an increase in cash and cash equivalents arising from our operating activities, which was in line with our business growth, and (ii) an increase in our prepayments and other current assets due to the expansion of our managed hotels, and offset by the increase in current liabilities, including accounts payables, accrued expenses and other payables and deferred revenue.

Our account receivables decreased from RMB140.1 million as of December 31, 2020 to RMB100.0 million as of December 31, 2021, which was primarily due to our effective payment collection efforts and change of credit terms for certain franchisees. As of December 31, 2021, our accounts receivable primarily consists of franchise fee receivables, receivables from hotel supplies and other products, travel agency receivables and corporate customer receivables for leased hotels.

For a more detailed discussion of our cash position, being the balance sheet item that has material impact on our liquidity, as well as material changes in the various working capital items, see “— Liquidity and Capital Resources.”

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Our capital expenditures were incurred primarily in connection with leasehold improvements, investments in furniture, fixtures and equipment and technology, information and operational software. Our capital expenditures were RMB136.8 million, RMB112.8 million and RMB64.0 million in 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. Our capital expenditures decreased over time from 2019 to 2021, especially in 2021 primarily because the number of our leased hotels remained relatively stable during 2020 and 2021, which resulted in decreased expenses associated with leasehold improvements and investments in furniture, fixtures and equipment. We will continue to make capital expenditures to meet the expected growth of our operations and expect cash generated from our operating activities and financing activities will continue to meet our capital expenditure needs in the foreseeable future.

CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS

The following table sets forth our contractual obligations as of December 31, 2021:

Our operating lease obligations are primarily related to our obligations under lease agreements with lessors of business offices and certain hotels. Our purchase obligations primarily consisted of contractual commitments in connection with leasehold improvements and fixtures, fittings and other fixed assets for our leased hotels. We have excluded agreements that are cancelable without a penalty or have a remaining term not in excess of one year. Such commitments are generally near term in nature, will be funded from operating cash flow, and are not significant to our overall financial position. As of December 31, 2021, our long-term debt obligations primarily consisted of outstanding borrowings under our credit facility with major commercial banks in China.

OUTSTANDING INDEBTEDNESS

As of December 31, 2021, we had several customary credit facilities with major commercial banks in China under which we could borrow up to RMB162.0 million during the term of the facilities with maturity dates ranging from May 2022 to May 2023. The drawdown of the credit facilities is subject to the terms and conditions of each credit agreement. The credit facilities also require us to comply with the various customary covenants and other restrictions, including but not limited to maintaining a debt-to-asset ratio, which is the ratio of total liabilities to total assets, lower than 65% and a liquidity ratio no less than 1.2. As of December 31, 2021, we had outstanding bank loans in an aggregate amount of RMB104.6 million with interest rate ranging from 3.9% to 4.8% per annum. As of December 31, 2021, we were in compliance with the above financial covenants. As of December 31, 2021, bank loans of RMB3.5 million were secured by the equity interests we held in a subsidiary. None of such credit facilities individually is material to our financial condition and results of operations.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET COMMITMENTS AND ARRANGEMENTS

Other than operating lease obligations set forth in the table under the caption “Contractual Obligations” above, we have not entered into any material financial guarantees or other commitments to guarantee the payment obligations of any third parties. In addition, we have not entered into any derivative contracts that are indexed to our shares and classified as shareholders’ equity or that are not reflected in our consolidated financial statements. Furthermore, we do not have any retained or contingent interest in assets transferred to an unconsolidated entity that serves as credit, liquidity or market risk support to such entity. We do not have any variable interest in any unconsolidated entity that provides financing, liquidity, market risk or credit support to us or engages in leasing, hedging or research and development services with us.

HOLDING COMPANY STRUCTURE

We are a holding company with no business operations of our own. We conduct all of our operations through our subsidiaries in China, in particular, Shanghai Atour Business Management Group Co., Ltd., or Atour Shanghai, and its subsidiaries, and a substantial portion of our assets are located in China. As a result, our ability to pay dividends and to service any debt we may incur overseas largely depends upon dividends paid by our subsidiaries. If our subsidiaries incur debt on their own behalf in the future, the instruments governing their debt may restrict their ability to pay dividends to us.

In addition, our subsidiaries in China are permitted to pay dividends to us only out of their retained earnings, if any, as determined in accordance with the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprise as promulgated by the Ministry of Finance of the PRC, or the PRC GAAP. The aggregate retained earnings for our PRC subsidiaries as determined under the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprise were RMB311.1 million and RMB387.4 million as of December 31, 2020 and 2021, respectively. Pursuant to the laws and regulations applicable to China's foreign investment enterprises, our subsidiaries that are foreign investment enterprises in the PRC have to make appropriation from their after-tax profit, as determined under PRC GAAP, to reserve funds including (i) general reserve fund, (ii) enterprise expansion fund and (iii) staff bonus and welfare fund. The appropriation to the general reserve fund must be at least 10% of the after-tax profits calculated in accordance with the PRC GAAP. Appropriation is not required if the reserve fund has reached 50% of the registered capital of our subsidiaries. Appropriation to the other two reserve funds are at our subsidiaries' discretion. Our PRC subsidiaries did not make any contributions to the enterprise expansion fund or the staff and bonus welfare fund during each period presented. The restricted amounts of our PRC subsidiaries totaled RMB58.2 million and RMB74.6 million (US$11.7 million) as of December 31, 2020 and 2021, respectively. See "Regulation — Regulations on Dividend Distribution" for a detailed discussion of the PRC legal restrictions on dividends and our ability to transfer cash within our group. In addition, ADS holders may potentially be subject to PRC taxes on dividends paid by us in the event Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited is deemed as a PRC resident enterprise for PRC tax purposes. See "Taxation — People's Republic of China Taxation" for more details.

None of our PRC subsidiaries have issued any dividends or distributions to respective holding companies, including Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited, or any investors as of the date of this prospectus. Our subsidiaries in the PRC generate and retain cash generated from operating activities and re-invest it in our business. In May 2021, our Hong Kong subsidiary, Atour Hotel (HK) Holdings Limited, distributed RMB20.6 million to certain shareholders. Historically, Atour Shanghai has also received equity financing from its shareholders to fund business operations of our PRC subsidiaries. In 2019, 2020 and 2021, we have not transferred any cash proceeds to any of our PRC subsidiaries except for the cash transfers within our Group in connection with the Restructuring. In the future, cash proceeds raised from overseas financing activities, including this offering, may be transferred by us through our Hong Kong subsidiary, Atour Hotel (HK) Holdings Limited to our PRC subsidiary Atour Shanghai via capital contribution and shareholder loans, as the case may be. Atour Shanghai then will transfer funds to its subsidiaries to meet the capital needs of our business operations. For details about the applicable PRC rules that limit transfer of funds from overseas to our PRC subsidiaries, see "Use of Proceeds," "Risk Factors — Risks Related to Doing Business in China—PRC regulation of loans to and direct investment in PRC entities by offshore holding companies and governmental control of currency conversion may restrict or delay us from using the proceeds of this offering to make loans or additional capital contributions to our PRC subsidiaries, which could adversely affect our liquidity and our ability to fund and expand our business" and "Regulation—Regulations on Offshore Financing."

INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Prior to this offering, we have been a private company with limited accounting personnel and other resources with which to address our internal control over financial reporting in accordance with the requirements applicable to a U.S. public company. In connection with the audits of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this prospectus, we and our independent registered public accounting firm identified one material weakness in our internal control over financial reporting. As defined in the standards established by the U.S. Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, or PCAOB, a "material weakness" is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

The material weakness identified is our company's lack of sufficient financial reporting and accounting personnel with appropriate knowledge of U.S. GAAP and SEC reporting requirements to properly address complex U.S. GAAP accounting issues and related disclosures in accordance with U.S. GAAP and financial reporting requirements set forth by the SEC. Neither we nor our independent registered public accounting firm undertook a comprehensive assessment of our internal control for purposes of identifying and reporting material weaknesses and other control deficiencies in our internal control over financial reporting. Had we performed a formal assessment of our internal control over financial reporting or had our independent registered public accounting firm performed an audit of our internal control over financial reporting, additional deficiencies may have been identified.

Following the identification of the material weakness and other control deficiencies, we have taken measures and plan to continue to take measures to remediate these deficiencies, including: (i) hiring more qualified resources, equipped with relevant U.S. GAAP and SEC reporting experiences and qualifications to strengthen the financial reporting function, (ii) establishing an ongoing program to provide sufficient and additional appropriate training to our accounting staff, especially trainings related to U.S. GAAP and SEC financial reporting requirements, (iii) developing a set of accounting policies and procedures, which document the current U.S. GAAP accounting policies and technical accounting guidance and are tailored to our business, and (iv) implementing internal controls over financial reporting to ensure accounting policies and procedures are operating effectively.

The process of designing and implementing an effective financial reporting system is a continuous effort that requires us to anticipate and react to changes in our business and the economic and regulatory environments and to expend significant resources to maintain a financial reporting system that is adequate to satisfy our reporting obligation. See “Risk Factors — Risks Relating to Our Business and Industry — If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal control over financial reporting, we may not be able to accurately report our financial results or prevent fraud.”

As a company with less than US$1.07 billion in revenue for our last fiscal year, we qualify as an “emerging growth company” pursuant to the JOBS Act. An emerging growth company may take advantage of specified reduced reporting and other requirements that are otherwise applicable generally to public companies. These provisions include exemption from the auditor attestation requirement under Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, in the assessment of the emerging growth company’s internal control over financial reporting. The JOBS Act also provides that an emerging growth company does not need to comply with any new or revised financial accounting standards until such date that a private company is otherwise required to comply with such new or revised accounting standards. We have elected to take advantage of such exemptions.

QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURE ABOUT MARKET RISK

Interest Rate Risk

Our exposure to interest rate risk primarily relates to the interest income generated by excess cash invested in liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less. We have not used any derivative financial instruments to manage our interest risk exposure. Interest-earning instruments carry a degree of interest rate risk. We have not been exposed, nor do we anticipate being exposed, to material risks due to changes in interest rates. However, our future interest income may be lower than expected due to changes in market interest rates.

Foreign Exchange Risk

All of our revenues and most of our expenses are denominated in RMB. Our exposure to foreign exchange risk primarily relates to cash and cash equivalent denominated in U.S. dollars as a result of net proceeds from this offering. We do not believe that we currently have any significant direct foreign exchange risk and have not used any derivative financial instruments to hedge our exposure to such risk. Although, in general, our exposure to foreign exchange risks should be limited, the value of your investment in the ADSs will be affected by the exchange rate between U.S. dollar and RMB because the value of our business is effectively denominated in RMB, while the ADSs representing our ordinary shares will be traded in U.S. dollars.

The value of the RMB against the U.S. dollar and other currencies is affected by, among other things, changes in the China’s political and economic conditions. The RMB does not fluctuate with the U.S. dollar.

Although the People's Bank of China regularly intervenes in the foreign exchange market to prevent significant short-term fluctuations in the exchange rate, the RMB may appreciate or depreciate significantly in value against the U.S. dollar in the medium to long term. Moreover, it is possible that in the future, PRC authorities may lift restrictions on fluctuations in the RMB exchange rate and lessen intervention in the foreign exchange market. In addition, the value of RMB could be affected by the proposed tariffs regarding trade with the United States.

To the extent that we need to convert U.S. dollars into RMB for our operations, appreciation of RMB against the U.S. dollar would reduce the RMB amount we receive from the conversion. Conversely, if we decide to convert RMB into U.S. dollars for the purpose of making payments for dividends on our ordinary shares or ADSs, servicing our outstanding debt, or for other business purposes, appreciation of the U.S. dollar against the RMB would reduce the U.S. dollar amounts available to us.

We estimate that we will receive net proceeds of approximately US$ million from this offering, after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and the estimated offering expenses payable by us, based on the initial offering price of US$ per ADS, assuming the underwriters do not exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs.

Inflation Risk

Since our inception, inflation in China has not materially impacted our results of operations. According to the National Bureau of Statistics of China, the year-over-year percent changes in the consumer price index for 2019, 2020 and 2021 were increases of 2.9 %, 2.5% and 0.9%, respectively. Although we have not in the past been materially affected by inflation since our inception, we can provide no assurance that we will not be affected in the future by higher rates of inflation in China.

INDUSTRY

The information presented in this section has been derived from an industry report commissioned by us and prepared by Frost & Sullivan, an independent research firm, regarding our industry and our market position in China. We refer to this report as "Frost & Sullivan Report."

OVERVIEW OF THE HOSPITALITY INDUSTRY IN CHINA

Market Size of China's Hospitality Industry

China's hospitality industry is fragmented with a large number of independent hotels and a small number of large hotel chains. As of December 31, 2020, hotel rooms of hotel chains accounted for only 31.5% of total hotel rooms in China, much lower than the global average of 41.9% and the U.S. rate of 72.9%. While the total number of hotel rooms is expected to grow at a moderate CAGR of 2.6% from 2021 to 2025, chain-affiliated room supply will increase at a significantly higher CAGR of 8.8% for the same period. The hotel chain penetration rate in China is expected to further increase to 42.9% in 2025. The charts below set forth the breakdowns by hotel chains and independent hotels for the numbers of hotels and hotel rooms in China, respectively, for the periods indicated:

Number of Hotels Breakdown by Hotel Chains and Independent Hotels

Number of Hotel Rooms Breakdown by Hotel Chains and Independent Hotels

Note: Hotel chain penetration rate is calculated based on the number of hotel rooms. Hotel chain penetration rate equals to the number of rooms of hotel chains divided by the total number of hotel rooms and multiplied by 100%.

The revenue of hotel chains in China had maintained a steady growth rate, which was temporarily affected by the COVID-19 outbreak in China but had substantially recovered in the fourth quarter of 2020. The total revenue of hotel chains in China increased from RMB245.4 billion in 2015 to RMB450.0 billion in 2019, representing a CAGR of 16.4%. The number of hotel rooms and RevPAR also increased during the same period. The revenue of hotel chains in China declined in 2020, with a year-over-year decline of 36.8% in 2020, mainly due to the COVID-19 outbreak. Following the government's effective control of the pandemic and the recovery of the travel industry and consumer confidence in general, China's hospitality industry had substantially recovered in the fourth quarter of 2020, as demonstrated by an occupancy rate of 50.5% and RevPAR of RMB152.7, which were generally closer to the overall performance of China's hospitality industry in 2019. The revenue of hotel chains in China is expected to reach RMB759.8 billion in 2025, representing a CAGR of 11.0% from 2021 to 2025.

Segmentation of China's Hospitality Industry

Value Chain of the Hospitality Industry

The upstream segment of the hospitality industry consists of commercial property developers and owners who provide operation sites for hotel operators, as well as suppliers of facilities, equipment and essential materials for daily operations. End customers of hotel services are the downstream consumers of hospitality industry, generally including individual guests for business and tourism trips as well as corporate customers attending Meetings, Incentives, Conferences and Exhibitions (MICE).

End customers nowadays can make direct hotel booking through hotel websites, mobile apps, corporate accounts, direct phone and onsite "walk-in." Besides, indirect hotel booking channels such as Online Travel Agency ("OTA") platforms and other intermediaries are also the common customer acquisition channels. Below is a chart that summarizes the value chain of the hospitality industry.

Major Hotel Categories

China's hospitality industry can be classified into five categories based on the quality and price range: economy, midscale, upper midscale, upscale and luxury.

Driven by hotel chains' shifting focus to capture the continuous consumption upgrade in China, the midscale and upper midscale segments demonstrated the fastest growth among all categories at a CAGR of 35.1% and 25.7%, respectively, from 2015 to 2019 in terms of number of hotel rooms. The charts below set forth the breakdowns by hotel category in terms of the number of hotel chains and the number of hotel chain rooms in China for the periods indicated:

Number of Hotel Chains Breakdown by Hotel Scales (China), 2015 – 2025E

Notes:

- (1) Economy hotels mainly refer to establishments that offer a limited number of on-site hotel amenities and often only offer basic accommodations with little to no complimentary or value-added services.
- (2) Midscale hotels mainly refer to the three-star hotels according to China National Star Rating System (the "CNSRS"), which is rated by China Tourism Hotel Association, as well as the hotels with similar positioning and quality.
- (3) Upper midscale hotels mainly refer to the four-star hotels according to the CNSRS, as well as the hotels with similar positioning and quality.
- (4) Upscale hotels mainly refer to five star-rated hotels according to the CNSRS, as well as hotels with similar positioning and quality.
- (5) Luxury hotels mainly refer to upscale five star-rated hotels according to the CNSRS, as well as hotels with similar positioning and quality.

Rapid Growth in the Upper Midscale Hotel Segment with Increasing Demand for Quality Services

Compared with the overall hotel market in China, the total revenue of upper midscale hotel chains in China recorded a distinct increase from RMB14.3 billion in 2015 to RMB53.4 billion in 2019, representing a CAGR of 39.0%, as a result of emergence and increasing acceptance of upper midscale hotel brands in the market. The revenue of upper midscale hotel chains in China declined in 2020, with a year-over-year decline of 19.1% in 2020, mainly due to the COVID-19 outbreak, compared to a 36.8% decline in the total revenue of the overall hotel chains in China. The chart below sets forth the total revenue of upper midscale chains in China for the periods indicated:

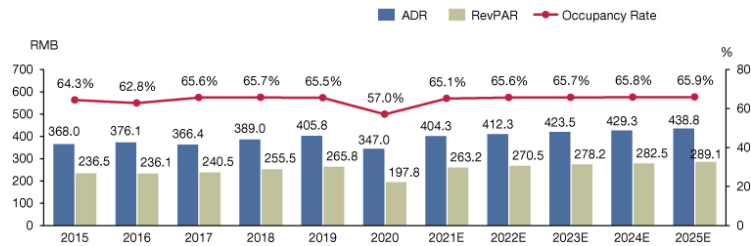

Source: Frost and Sullivan Report

ADR and RevPAR of China's upper midscale hotel market increased from 2015 to 2019 along with steady development of upper midscale hotel brands in China. The occupancy rate of upper midscale hotel segment in China remained stable at approximately 65.0% during 2015 to 2019. While the COVID-19 outbreak adversely affected most hotel companies operating in China in 2020, the upper midscale hotel segment in China substantially recovered during the fourth quarter of 2020, with an occupancy rate of 66.6% and a RevPAR of RMB248.0. The average occupancy rate of China's upper midscale hotel market is anticipated to rebound to 65.1% in 2021. The chart below sets forth the operating performance of upper midscale chains in China for the periods indicated:

Market Drivers of China's Hospitality Industry

The following are the key growth drivers in China's hospitality industry:

- Increasing business travel demand driven by steady economic development. Due to China's continuous economic growth, business activities in China are estimated to stay vibrant and the demand for business travels and accommodations is expected to be further activated. The business travel market in China is forecasted to keep growing at a CAGR of 12.8% from 2021 to 2025 in terms of revenue. The business travel arrivals in China are forecasted to maintain a CAGR of 9.6% from 2021 to 2025.
- Flourishing leisure travel demand along with sustainable growth in per capita income. Along with continuous economic growth of China and increasing income of Chinese households, leisure tourism has become one of the major recreations of Chinese residents. In 2019, the per capita annual disposable income has increased to RMB30.7 thousand from RMB22.0 thousand in 2015, with a CAGR of 8.7%. Meanwhile, even though the leisure tourism revenue in China has declined in 2020, it is expected that the total revenue of leisure tourism in China will maintain a CAGR of 8.6% from 2021 to 2025. The sustainable growth of leisure tourism and tourist arrivals in China are forecasted to motivate the demand for leisure travels and accommodations in the following years and in turn drive the development of the hospitality industry.
- Better mobility and continuous urbanization. China's transportation industry has experienced solid development along with China's economic growth. Construction and utilization of major transportation infrastructure such as railways, highways and airports have recorded steady growth in China. The passenger turnover volume in China increased from approximately 3.0 trillion person-kilometer in 2015 to approximately 3.5 trillion person-kilometer in 2019. Affected by the outbreak of COVID-19, the passenger turnover volume in China declined to approximately 1.9 trillion person-kilometer in 2020. Due to the rapid economic development of China and the influx of migrants from rural areas, China is undergoing rapid urbanization, and the urbanization rate is expected to reach 68.8% in 2025, representing an increase of 4.9 percentage points from 2020. With the continuous urbanization and development of transportation infrastructure, the consumers' mobility has been greatly improved, driving the demand for travel and hotel accommodation.
- Rising demand for quality products and personalized experiences. With increasing travel spending, more consumers are seeking quality accommodations beyond the basic needs of affordable prices and convenient locations. As a result, China's hospitality industry has experienced a structural change as growth in midscale and upper midscale room supply outperforms that of economy hotels. Upper midscale hotel brands are becoming more popular as more guests look for greater services and lifestyle experiences. Upper midscale hotel segment demonstrated robust growth with a CAGR of 25.7% from 2015 to 2019 in terms of number of hotel rooms. The rising demand for personalized experiences generates diversified lodging needs and scenarios of consumption, supporting the competitive advantages of those hotel brands with well-established brand awareness for its excellent services and brand culture.

- Structural upgrade of hospitality industry. In line with the trend of consumption upgrade, China's hospitality industry has experienced a structural upgrade with growth in midscale and upper midscale room supply outperforming that of economy. The upper midscale hotel segment is expected to be the vibrant market segment of China's hospitality industry in the following years along with the upgrading of hotel brands and hotel facilities by hotel operators in China, which also in turn drives the development and industry upgrade of the hospitality industry in China.
- Digital transformation driven by technology development. The application of cutting-edge technologies in hotels can effectively improve operation efficiency and empower hotel digital operation transformation. For example, the application of online check-in/check-out, online booking and room service system through mobile apps can effectively reduce labor costs and enhance customer experience. In addition, new technologies such as artificial intelligence and cloud computing technology can help collect and analyze guests' preferences to meet their individual demand and further enhance guests' hotel experience during their stay, thereby attracting revisits in the future.

Market Trends and Opportunities

The following are the key trends and opportunities in China's hospitality industry.

- Industry consolidation and increasing hotel chain penetration rate. Currently, China's hospitality industry still has a relatively low hotel chain penetration rate. A trend of industry consolidation is likely to emerge as hotel chains expand their scale of operation through mergers and acquisitions. In addition, increasing numbers of independent hotel operators will likely choose to join hotel chains, through franchise or manachise arrangements, to benefit from greater customer traffic, brand reputation and risk resilience. As a result, the number of small-scale independent hotel operators will decline. The hotel chains increased with a CAGR of 15.2% from 2015 to 2019 in terms of number of hotel rooms while the independent hotel segment recorded a CAGR of 0.7% during the same period. Based on such favorable industry trends, the penetration rate of hotel chain operation in China's hospitality industry is anticipated to further increase.
- Hotel offerings integrated with diversified value-added services and facilities. Leading hotel chain brands pay more attention on the customer experience and brand marketing by offering value-added services and facilities such as launching themed hotel like e-sports, hotel brand collaborations with other fashion brands, launching online platforms for hotel lifestyle products retailing, offering branded catering service in the hotels, etc. As customers become more focused on their overall lodging experience, diversified value-added services and facilities that are fully integrated with traditional hotel offerings have become an emerging market trend in China's hospitality industry.
- Continuous new retail penetration and retail experience upgrading in upper midscale hotel segment. There's an emerging trend in upper midscale hotel chains with increase in new retail penetration and upgrade in personalized retail experience. As consumers nowadays are constantly on the hunt for products that are tailored to their needs, branded hotel chains in China are putting more emphasis on the retail business of branded travel and accommodation products by leveraging their exquisite hotel space, brand reputation and excellent accommodation experience through multiple retail channels such as on-site giftshops and online branded flagship stores. Branded hotel products retailing are becoming an important link between hotel brands and their customers. As a traffic entrance of consumers who value brand and shopping experience for upper midscale hotels, new retail penetration in upper midscale hotels with flexible retail scenarios and personalized retail experience is estimated to become a trend and an opportunity for upper midscale hotels to continuously invest resources and build brand perception.
- Increasing market and consumer recognition of lifestyle hotel living experience. Lifestyle hotels are those emerging upper midscale to luxury hotel chain brands that embrace unusual and locally inspired design and architecture and a high level of technology. In lifestyle hotels, more attention is given to providing a series of unique and vibrant gathering places where guests can interact outside their hotel rooms. Additionally, a lifestyle hotel offers more personalized services that are ancillary and focused on wellness and life enrichment. Customers can join exclusive membership programs offered by lifestyle hotels that are tailored to the unique demographics of their brands' membership base. With the rise of the Millennial Generation, the hospitality industry is witnessing new behavioral tendencies reflecting travelers' inclination to explore hotel properties beyond the seclusion of their bedrooms, with a shifting emphasis on the uniqueness and lifestyle offerings in hotel public areas. Therefore, the lifestyle hotel living experience delivered by those lifestyle hotel chains is expected to be further recognized by consumers in the coming years. By the end of 2020, there were approximately 138.2 thousand lifestyle hotel rooms in China. (Total number of lifestyle hotel rooms refers to hotel rooms in operation of lifestyle hotel brands operated by hotel chains with at least three lifestyle hotels.) The total number of rooms in the lifestyle hotel market in China is expected to achieve a CAGR of over 20% from 2021 to 2025.

- Consumption upgrades and consumer preference transformation in China's hospitality industry. Along with the increasing consumption power of consumers and the young generation has become the main power of consumption, hospitality industry in China has shifted from budget-friendly preference to value for personalized experience of travel accommodation. Hotels, especially those upper midscale hotels, are gradually regarded as not only a space for resting at night but also a living space for relaxing and social connection by consumers nowadays. Such changes of consumer preference for hotel and travel accommodation are expected to continuously propel the consumption upgrades and structural evolutions of China's hospitality industry where upper midscale hotels are expected to influence the ongoing consumption upgrades and are likely to gain more market shares in the following years.
- More emphasis on loyalty program and direct sales. More and more leading hotel chains are developing their own loyalty programs nowadays, which are considered as one of the most important hotel management tools to enhance hotel brand recognition and drive direct sales. In addition, loyalty programs enable hotel operators to establish their own user database with detailed and amplified profiles of customers, allowing hotel operators to analyze customers' preferences, interests and spending behavior. Insights into customers provided by loyalty programs also make data-driven optimization of hotel operation more feasible and reliable.
- Continuous brand diversification along with personalized hotel demands. Along with the increasing diversified and personalized demands of hotel customers, a bunch of leading hotel groups have launched "Brand Diversification Strategy" that operates various levels of hotel brands with differentiated brands positioning to meet the personalized demands of hotel customers.
- Increasingly digitalized hotel operations. Technology-empowered hotel operation has become an emerging trend and has been gradually adopted by leading hotel groups in China in recent years. New technologies such as artificial intelligence and cloud computing can collect and analyze customers' preferences and help hotel operators enhance guests' experience and attract revisits. Other new technologies such as self-check-in/-check-out system, AI-assistant-embedded hotel mobile apps and smart robots adopted by some leading hotel groups substantially improve consumer experience during stays. Due to the demonstrable benefits experienced by those leading hotel groups, technology-empowered hotel operation is likely to be widely adopted throughout the industry.

IMPACT OF COVID-19 ON CHINA'S HOSPITALITY INDUSTRY

During the COVID-19 outbreak, most of the hotel groups in China had suffered adverse impacts with significant year-to-year decrease in revenues and net operating cash inflow as a result of social-distancing and disease control and quarantine measures, significantly reduced levels of business and leisure travels, and closure of hotel operations. However, those hotel groups that mainly adopt franchise and management ("F&M") business model generally show strong recovery and resilience from the impacts of COVID-19 as F&M model is less cyclical than leased and owned ("L&O") model as the economics are driven purely by a fee off the top line.

Following the Chinese government's effective control of the pandemic and the recovery of the travel industry and consumer confidence in general, China's hospitality industry had substantially recovered in the fourth quarter of 2020, as demonstrated by an occupancy rate of 50.5% and RevPAR of RMB152.7, which were generally closer to the overall performance of China's hospitality industry in 2019. In particular, the upper midscale hotel market had achieved an occupancy rate of 66.6% and RevPAR of RMB248.0 in the fourth quarter of 2020. The revenue of hotel chains in China is expected to reach RMB759.8 billion in 2025, representing a CAGR of 11.0% from 2021 to 2025.

The following are the major changes brought by COVID-19 to China's hospitality industry.

- Large-scale hotel chains tended to be more resilient than independent hotels. Hotel chains have better brand recognition and more capital resources, and thus are more resilient during the pandemic. The number of independent hotels dropped by 15.3% in 2020 compared with 2019, while the number of chained hotels increased by 9.0%.
- Rising demands on hygiene and safety measures. COVID-19 has reinforced guests' awareness of and demand for safety and hygiene when choosing hotel brands. Leading hotel chains, which have better brand images, more stringent daily procedures for sanitation, and quicker response to guests' needs, are better positioned to gain trust from guests. In return, their occupancy rates tend to rebound faster.
- Accelerated application of innovative technology in hospitality industry. In response to the demand for social distance, hotels with more advanced technologies (such as deployment of smart robot services and contact-free check-in/check-out services) are more adaptable to the growing hygiene demands of customers and thus tend to recover more quickly from COVID-19.

COMPETITIVE LANDSCAPE OF CHINA'S HOSPITALITY INDUSTRY

Key Market Participants

China's upper midscale hotel market is relatively concentrated in a limited number of major players. The number of upper midscale hotel rooms of top five hotel groups in China accounted for approximately 31.8% of total upper midscale hotel rooms. Our Atour Hotel brand was the largest upper midscale hotel brand in terms of number of hotel rooms in China as of the end of 2020.

Key Entry Barriers

New market entrants to the hospitality industry will encounter a number of barriers, especially along with their expansion in scale, including those relating to:

- Brand awareness and loyalty program. Brand awareness influences customers' choice of hotels as customers may prefer an established and well-known brand for better staying experience. The recognition of brand is highly dependent on the quality of services and amenities, attractiveness of locations, availability of transportation, marketing strategies, and pricing, among others. Customers also tend to refer to their dedicated loyalty program as a prior choice. Meanwhile, with large number of data generated from loyalty members, hotel groups can continuously upgrade their brands and introduce new brands based on customer preference. New entrants to the hospitality industry without an established reputation in the industry are required to spend substantial time and capital to build up brand awareness and loyalty programs that are competitive to those of the existing market players.
- Operational experience, management capability and corporate culture. The operation of hotel business is complex and requires abundant operational experience, advanced management capability and customer-centric corporate culture, which includes service standard and operational requirements in order to ensure services quality. While existing hotel groups usually have established experienced management teams that have in-depth knowledge, abundant operating experience in the hospitality industry and a strong customer-centric culture, it would be difficult for new entrants who lack industry experience to react quickly to customers' changes in hotel preferences.
- Technology barrier. Technology infrastructure of the hotel group is designed to ensure the operational efficiency and profitability of the hotel group. Large-scale companies in the hospitality industry have already developed technology infrastructure that covers every key aspect of hotel operations, which can achieve economies of scale that is difficult to achieve for independent hotel operators. Hotels with more advanced technologies are more adaptable to the rising demand of customers and tend to recover more quickly after the COVID-19 pandemic. Developing technology infrastructure requires significant investments and strong R&D capabilities, which sets an entry barrier for new entrants to the hospitality industry.
- Initial expenditure and recurring working capital requirements. Initial capital is essential for participants in the hospitality industry as new set-up investment on self-owned or rental property, renovation cost, equipment cost and staff recruitment cost are required upfront, while the return on investment takes years. The hospitality industry also requires recurring working capital for staffing expenses, maintenance of fixed assets and rental expenses. Therefore, for small and medium-sized enterprises with limited financial resources, the lack of initial expenditures and limited working capital constitutes one of major entry barriers.

BUSINESS

OVERVIEW

Setting out as an upper midscale hotel chain group, we are now a leading lifestyle brand in China.

How We Started

On the picturesque bank of the Nu River running through the far western edge of the Yunnan province of China, lies Yaduo, a small, remote village wrapped in a blanket of peace and calm, that our founder visited on a spontaneous summer trip in 2012. The smiles that everyone wore on their faces and everything one experienced in this time-forgotten place not only provided a respite from the often hectic routine of the jam-packed everyday lives, but also led one to take a moment to rethink about what happiness truly was — a feeling that was often conflated with economic success.

These memories remained imprinted in our founder’s mind and inspired him to break the stereotypes of travel and lodging by building hotel spaces with rich lifestyle offerings and unique guest experiences. In 2013, we opened our first hotel and named it after the Yaduo village. Today, our hotel brand is synonymous with what our founder set out to create. With 745 hotels across China and our expanding lifestyle offerings as of December 31, 2021, we believe our Chinese brand name Yaduo represents our ways of pioneering the hospitality industry in China and what we uphold as the pinnacle of our success.

What Makes Us Different

We are the largest upper midscale hotel chain in China in terms of room number as of the end of 2020, according to Frost & Sullivan. Through our hotel network, loyalty program and data and technology capabilities, we have been tirelessly exploring new possible ways to set the new trends for China’s hospitality industry and expand our offerings beyond our hotels. We distinguish ourselves from our peers in the following aspects:

- Hotel network with a distinct portfolio of lifestyle brands. We offer our guests a diversified collection of lifestyle hotel brands, each created with a unique personality under the unified ethos of inclusivity and presence of humanness. As of December 31, 2021, our hotel network covered 745 hotels spanning 138 cities in China, with a total of 86,654 hotel rooms, including 712 franchised hotels with a total of 81,594 franchised hotel rooms, in addition to a pipeline of 338 hotels with a total of 37,987 rooms under development. Our guests can book a stay with us and access our rich product and service offerings through offline and online channels, including our mobile app and Weixin/WeChat mini program.
- “A-Card” loyalty program with strong customer stickiness. We built our A-Card loyalty program to enhance our engagement with guests and provide them with a unique and personalized experience. As of December 31, 2021, our A-Card loyalty program had amassed more than 30 million registered individual members. In 2021, approximately 39.7% of our room-nights were sold to our A-Card members.
- Proprietary data and technology capabilities. To provide our customers with personalized services and products, we have developed a comprehensive digital management system, which improves customer experience and operational efficiency in room reservation, room management, pricing and membership benefits. We use our data technology to identify market trends and inform our hotel management decisions, and make our hotel services and retail products more relatable to customers through seamless integration into our rooms and other consumption scenarios throughout our hotels.

In addition, we are the first hotel chain in China to develop a scenario-based retail business, according to Frost & Sullivan. We design our guest room amenities, work closely with manufacturers to deliver top-quality products, and carefully place the relevant products in guest rooms. Each of our guest rooms incorporates a fully immersive shopping destination, enabling us to strengthen our brand elasticity with our guests. As of December 31, 2021, we had developed a total of 1,665 SKUs for scenario-based retail. The GMV generated from our retail business increased by 29.5% from RMB82.8 million in 2019 to RMB107.2 million in 2020, and further drastically by 112.9% to RMB228.2 million in 2021. In 2021, the average transaction value per scenario-based retail order reached RMB403.0.

We mainly use the manachise model to expand our hotel network in a less capital-intensive manner. We also lease the properties of the hotels we operate. As of the December 31, 2021, we had 33 leased hotels and 712 manachised hotels. The number of our manachised hotels grew at a CAGR of 62.9% between 2016 and 2021.

Market Opportunities

Driven by China's continuous and fast economic growth and strong demand for domestic travelling, China's hospitality industry, especially hotel chains, has experienced steady growth in the past few years and witnessed the following key trends.

- Increasing hotel chain penetration rate. The total number of rooms offered by hotel chains increased with a CAGR of 15.2% from 2015 to 2019. Meanwhile, the hotel chain penetration rate remained at 31.5% in China's hospitality market in 2020, much lower than the average hotel chain penetration rate of 41.9% in the world market and the penetration rate of 72.9% in the more mature U.S. market. The penetration rate of chained operation in China's hospitality industry is anticipated to further increase.
- Consumption upgrades and consumer preference transformation. In line with continuous consumption upgrades, hoteliers in China have seen a rising demographic of young, discerning travelers who demand creative, elevated yet approachable class of hotels designed to surpass customer expectations in personalized ways. This favorable industry trend has been driving more customers to choose leading hotel brands that are capable of offering a diverse range of compelling products and services across scenario-based shopping, entertainment, culture, food and other lifestyle spheres.

OUR STRENGTHS

The No.1 upper midscale hotel chain in China with a diversified brand portfolio

We are the largest upper midscale hotel chain in China in terms of room number as of the end of 2020, according to Frost & Sullivan. For each year between 2017 and 2020, we were consistently ranked No. 1 on China's Upper Midscale Hotel Chain Leaderboard by China Hospitality Association.

As of December 31, 2021, our hotel network covered 745 hotels spanning 138 cities in China, with a total of 86,654 hotel rooms. Among these 745 hotels, we had a total of 147 hotels located in Tier 1 cities and 453 hotels located in New Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities. Our strong hotel development pipeline will further enhance our market leadership. As of December 31, 2021, we had a total of 338 hotels with 37,987 hotel rooms under development.

We offer a diversified portfolio of hotel brands including Atour, Atour S, Atour X, Atour Light, ZHOTEL and A.T. House, covering the entire chain of midscale to luxury hotels with differentiated appeals to a wide range of guests, from discerning business travelers to the rising young population. As an industry pioneer, we are the first hotel chain in China's hospitality industry to offer themed hotels through co-branding cooperation with leading lifestyle brands, according to Frost & Sullivan. As of December 31, 2021, we had a total of 15 themed hotels inspired by trend-setting topics in music, basketball, literature and more. These themed hotels allow us to charge a premium. The average ADR of our themed hotels reached RMB484.8 for the 12 months ended December 31, 2021, which was 15.8% higher than ADRs of our comparable hotels in the same business area.

Highly efficient manachised model delivering high growth and returns

We adopt a highly efficient manachised hotel operation model to support our rapid growth across China. Our manachise hotel operation model effectively minimizes our capital expenditure during the early stage of hotel development and provides us with steady and sustainable cash return. It also enables us to quickly capture market share, increase the penetration rate of our brands, and protect against cyclical economic fluctuations. As of December 31, 2021, the number of our manachised hotels reached 712, accounting for 95.6% of all our hotels. This number grew at a CAGR of 62.9% between 2016 and 2021.

We are able to deliver high growth and financial returns to our franchisee partners, while maintaining consistently high service quality throughout our manachised hotel network. The payback periods for our franchisees are generally between three and five years after opening an Atour branded hotel, which was one of the fastest among all upper midscale hotel chains in China. We are committed to building mutually beneficial relationships with our franchisees. We help them ensure standardized service quality by providing them with easy-to-follow operational know-how and management tutorials. Our franchisees’ success and our great value propositions to them bring us more franchising opportunities. In 2021, 31.2% of the franchisees who entered into new franchise and management agreements with us were our existing franchisees.

A “standardized” approach to personalized services with a customer-centric culture

We are committed to providing our customers with personalized services through a set of well-defined standards and procedures consistent from hotel to hotel under each Atour brand. This unique combination of standardization and personalization has won us satisfaction and loyalty from our customers.

According to an independent customer survey conducted by Brandwisdom, our overall customer satisfaction rating has ranked at the top among six major upper midscale hotel brands since 2017. As illustrated in the diagram below, in each of the 17 key hotel customer interaction and consumption scenarios identified by Brandwisdom, our services received the highest customer satisfaction rating from the respondents to such survey. The high-quality customer experience we offer strengthens our brand reputation and increases our customer stickiness. In 2021, our hotels sold a total of approximately 18 million room-nights, with the repurchase rate, which is the proportion of members who made a second room reservation in the same year, reaching 52.8%.

Note:

The x-axis represents each key hotel customer interaction and consumption scenario (the “Customer Touchpoints”) as identified by Brandwisdom. The y-axis represents online-travel-agency customer compliment rate, which represents the percentage of positive customer reviews out of all customer reviews collected by online travel agencies with respect to each Customer Touchpoint. The gray bar under each Customer Touchpoint represents the difference between the highest and lowest online-travel-agency customer compliment rates received by the six leading upper midscale hotel brands, including Atour, for the year of 2021. In each of these 17 Customer Touchpoints, Atour received the highest customer compliment rate among such six hotel brands.

Our thoughtfully crafted hotel spaces incorporating locally-inspired designs create a warm and welcoming atmosphere for our attentive service. We decorate the hotel public area and rooms to “invite the city in,” with artworks created by local artists and other touches on details to reflect the design vocabulary of the region. The moment they step in our hotels can our guests feel embraced by the charms of local culture.

With advanced service digitalization technology and strong product and service development capability, we are capable of providing personalized services at each of the key guest service touchpoints. We deliver personalized services to our guests by integrating offline scenarios with online tools and technology. Through digitalized tools, we developed the capability to track guests' demands at each service touchpoint to provide personalized services to our guests. For instance, our A-Card members can customize their stays with us and purchase a large selection of lifestyle products in our virtual A-plus service treasure chest. Our Atour mobile app also allows our guests to upload photos and submit reviews about their rooms and experience.

To enhance our control over the quality of our guest experience, we have built a standardized supply chain management system that supports our retail product development in response to evolving customer tastes and demands. Based on direct feedback from our guests and customer-service staff, we design and frequently refine the retail products that our guests can use or buy in our hotels to ensure a most enjoyable guest experience, such as heat-resistant paper cups, soft-bristled toothbrush and memory foam pillows.

Our high-quality guest services are centered around our customer-oriented culture manifest in our various hotel management and operational policies and procedures. On the one hand, we have adopted a set of streamlined yet effective procedures that give our front-line staff the appropriate levels of freedom and discretion to identify and address guests' needs and provide customized services based on the specific circumstances. On the other hand, our hotel managers and on-site HR representatives are responsible for ensuring that the services provided on the ground meet our standards and procedures. They host daily meetings to discuss the latest guest feedback and address operational issues on the spot. These policies allow us to ensure the flexibility and consistency of our customer service at the same time.

Innovative scenario-based retail business with compelling private label product offerings

We are the first hotel chain in China to establish a scenario-based retail business within hotel properties, according to Frost & Sullivan. Our hotel spaces are purposefully designed to provide a personalized and immersive shopping destination that guides our guest along a personalized shopping journey from discovery to purchase as part of their experience staying at our hotels. Through numerous shopping scenarios and customer entry points embedded in our hotel rooms and public areas, we have gained deep data insights into our customers' preferences to inform our Direct-To-Customer retail business.

Our scenario-based retail business offers customers a wide collection of relevant, high-quality lifestyle products mainly focused on our private labels. As of December 31, 2021, we had a total of 1,665 SKUs, 70% of which were private labels designed by us. We have further divided our private labels into three product lines — α TOUR PLANET, SAVHE and Z2GO&CO., covering a wide range of products from sleep-related products, personal care to travel necessities. We believe our private labels reinforce Atour's image as a premium lifestyle brand in its own right, with strong consumer affinity and reputation as a go-to lifestyle hotel in China. The growing private label product offerings embody our deep understanding of customer demands. We use our data technology to identify market trends and inform merchandising decisions, and make our products more relatable to customers through seamless integration into our rooms and other consumption scenarios throughout our hotels. The GMV of our scenario-based retail business increased rapidly with a CAGR of 134.5% between 2016 and 2021 and increased by 112.9% from 2020 to 2021. In 2021, revenue generated by our scenario-based retail business accounts for 8.9% of our total revenues, which was higher than retail business revenues generated by other hotel chains in China, indicating strong growth potential of our retail business. On the first day of the "Tmall 618 shopping festival" in June 2021, the transaction value of our pillow product under the α TOUR PLANET product line ranked the second in its product category, and our mattress product ranked the third in its product category on the second day of the shopping festival. During the "Tmall 618 shopping festival", 65.8% of GMV of our scenario-based retail business were contributed by customers who had not stayed at our hotels previously.

We created a virtuous cycle by expanding our retail business alongside our hotel business — the scenario-based retail business not only enriches our guests' hotel experience, but also provides us with valuable customer feedback that enables us to continuously improve our overall customer experience.

Young, loyal and growing customer base served by established direct sales channels

We have a young, loyal and growing customer base. In 2021, 23.6% and 45.5% of our customers were aged below 30 and between 30 and 40, respectively. Our young customers have strong purchasing power and demand high-quality and unique services. In 2021, customers under 30 contributed to 33.9% of our total gross transaction value, which represents the total value of hotel room nights and retail products sold to our end customers. We expect the younger generations in China continue to rise as a major driver for future consumption of hotel and other lifestyle products, with longer consumption cycle and greater purchasing power.

We cultivate customer loyalty and stickiness through our A-Card membership program. As of December 31, 2021, our A-Card membership program had amassed more than 30 million registered individual members. Our individual member base has been growing rapidly, with a CAGR of 48.7% between 2016 and 2021, and a CAGR of 83.9% between 2016 and 2021 for registered members under the age of 30. In 2021, our individual members contributed 39.7% of total room-night reservations. Our high-quality guest experience and personalized and innovative membership services lead to a strong brand loyalty among our members. The retention rate among our members, meaning the proportion of the members in the previous year who have made at least one room reservation in the current year, were 14.8%, 19.4% and 21.7% in 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. In 2021, their repurchase rate, meaning the proportion of members who have made a second room reservation in the same year, was 52.8%.

Our effective direct sales channels and strong sales and marketing capabilities reduce our reliance on online travel agencies and improve our cost efficiency. In addition to our A-Card membership program, we have developed a mobile app and Weixin/WeChat mini program so that customers can conveniently make room reservations with us directly through a simplified process. In 2021, room-nights generated through OTA channels only accounted for 22.6% of our total room-nights.

Comprehensive technology infrastructure supporting quality customer experience and efficient operation

We focus on digitalizing our business to further cater to customer demands and enhance customer experience. Our virtual A-plus service treasure chest enables us to provide personalized membership services. It allows our customers to purchase and redeem a variety of A-plus service products with cash or points through our mobile app. In addition, we digitalize our membership benefits to allow our members to easily share their benefits and privileges with their families and friends, which further facilitates customer referrals and enhance our brand reputation. We further apply big data technology to analyze individual customer requests and reservation patterns to better understand their changing tastes and demands. These technology capabilities, combined with our personalized on-site hotel services, further enhance our value propositions to both our customers and franchisee partners.

We were one of the first hoteliers in China's hospitality industry to adopt a fully cloud-based digital management system. Guided by Internet thinking and leveraging advanced cloud and big data technology, we have developed a comprehensive digital management system, which improves customer experience and operational efficiency from the perspectives of room reservation, room management, pricing and membership benefits. Our integrated technology infrastructure consists of:

- Revenue management system (RMS). Our fully automated RMS predicts the occupancy rates for all our hotels for the next 30 days based on historical data, room rates of our competitors in the same geographic area, seasonal trends and other factors. It also automatically optimizes ADRs, without the need for constant manual adjustments, to maximize our net revenues.
- Central reservation system (CRS). We have adopted a cloud-based, real-time CRS available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Our CRS is fully integrated with all of our booking channels, including our Atour mobile app, Weixin/WeChat mini program, third-party platforms and online reservation partners. This effectively allows us to manage inventories, prices and reservations instantly across all major channels and greatly improves our operational efficiency.
- Property management system (PMS). Our PMS enables each of our hotels to accurately and cost-effectively manage its room inventory and reservations on a real-time basis, which in turn optimizes each hotel's occupancy rate, ADR and RevPAR.

Visionary and seasoned management team

Our founder and senior executives have extensive experience in terms of operational management, business and strategic development, and innovations in the hospitality industry. Each of our senior executives has more than a decade of experience in hospitality industry or related fields.

Our founder, Chairman of Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Haijun Wang, is a respected industry veteran in China's hospitality sector and was recognized as a leader in various industry leadership lists, including the List of the Most Innovative Business Figures in China, the List of 40 Leaders of China's Hospitality Industry within the Past 40 Years, the List of the Most Innovative Figures in China's Travel Industry. He created our brand and spearheads our growth into a leading lifestyle hotel brand that marries the uniqueness of boutiques with the efficiency and consistency of large chains. Before founding Atour, Mr. Wang served as the executive vice president of China Lodging Group, Limited, currently known as Huazhu Group Limited. Our Co-Chief Financial Officer Rui Zhao joined us in 2016 and has more than a decade of finance and accounting experience. Our management team shares a passion for bringing innovations to China's hospitality industry and building new lifestyle brands around hotel offerings. This shared passion has fostered a corporate culture that values innovation and professionalism, attracting a deep talent pool to join our team to drive our future growth and success.

OUR STRATEGIES

Setting out as an upper midscale hotel chain group, we are now a leading lifestyle brand in China, by consistently providing personalized services and tirelessly expanding the boundary of our offerings. We intend to achieve this goal by pursuing the following strategies.

Further expand our premium hotel network in China

Building on our brand reputation and operational capabilities, we plan to further expand our hotel business across China with new leased and manachised hotels in attractive locations.

We plan to focus on expanding our presence in premium locations in Tier 1, New Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities and in the downtown areas of lower-tier cities in China. To satisfy Chinese travelers' increasing demand for midscale to upper midscale hotels with rich lifestyle offerings, we aim to open new leased flagship Atour hotels in various brand tiers in strategically selected locations in Tier 1, New Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities and to further expand our high-quality manachised hotel network to rapidly scale up our business.

As we continuously expand our hotel network, we expect to continue to maintain our stringent selection standards for franchisees and conduct rigorous quality controls to ensure the service quality across our manachised hotels. Maintaining our brand image and service quality is expected to remain the key premise for every step of our future business expansion.

Strengthen our hotel brand portfolio and expand our offerings

We plan to continue to cultivate our lifestyle brand offerings centered around our unique hotel brand portfolio. With a deep understanding of our guests' changing needs and preferences, we aim to further increase our brand awareness in the mid-to-upscale hotel market to further grow our high-quality customer base.

We intend to diversify our hotel offerings inspired by local culture and characteristics and open new themed hotels. In addition to cooperation with leading lifestyle brands around the world, we plan to develop our own themed hotels by leveraging our unique ability to combine rich content and lifestyle offerings with travel and lodging experience.

To support our efforts to diversify hotel brand and other lifestyle offerings, we also plan to further enhance our supply chain management capabilities to ensure the quality of our hotel development and operating supplies, which are the backbone of our ability to deliver consistent high-quality services and compelling customer experience.

Bolster our scenario-based retail offerings to enhance customer engagement and monetization

We distinguish ourselves from our competitors by our ability to seamlessly integrate our scenario-based retail business with our hotel offerings, making each of our hotel a unique shopping destination for our guests.

We aim to further expand our scenario-based retail business and drive our customer conversion and repurchases by innovatively integrating shopping into various offline scenarios in our hotels. We intend to create more shopping scenarios seamlessly embedded in our guests' hotel experience where they can have the first-hand experience with our thoughtfully designed products. With easy online access through our mobile app and Weixin/WeChat mini program, we aim to make it more convenient for them to purchase what they used and liked during their stay.

To grow our retail business, we plan to further develop our private labels of retail products and enrich our product SKUs. At the same time, we plan to continue to implement rigorous quality control and invest in product development to accurately and quickly predict and address changing customer needs.

With a growing retail product offering, we aim to further diversify our product distribution channels by improving our self-operated online retail platform, while continuing to work with leading third-party online e-commerce platforms. We believe this will allow us to offer our guests a fully integrated experience with hotel stays and online shopping all in one destination.

Expand membership base and strengthen the lifestyle-centric ecosystem around our hotel offerings

We engage with our Atour member family through various digital and personalized tools and privileges offered by our A-Card loyalty program. We intend to continue to convert more guests into our A-Card members through our compelling customer experience and new membership services. We also plan to increase our members' stickiness through continuous innovations to drive customer experience, particularly through seamless combination of the unique content and lifestyle offerings at our hotels and our growing scenario-based retail offerings.

Around our unique hotel offerings and growing membership base, we intend to continue to foster a lifestyle-centric ecosystem through working with our business partners. For example, we plan to engage more third-party service and supply chain partners, who are expected to help us enrich our SKUs in retail business. We also plan to work with more leading lifestyle and cultural brands around the world to diversify the content and lifestyle offerings of our themed hotels, which we believe provides us with access to a more diverse audience and potential customers.

To complement our organic growth, we may also pursue selective acquisition of businesses that fit well into our lifestyle brand strategy, including hotels and other lifestyle brands that can diversify our brand matrix and optimize our lifestyle-centric ecosystem.

Continue to invest in technology and strengthen our data insights

We plan to improve our data analytics through the application of cloud computing, big data and artificial intelligence technologies to our day-to-day hotel management and customer engagement. We believe that continuous investments in technology will allow us to further digitalize our operations and better understand customer needs, thereby further improving our operational efficiency and customer experience.

We have established a cloud-based digital management system and plan to continuously upgrade its functions and technology infrastructure to further reduce management costs and improve our operational efficiency as we continue to expand our hotel network across China.

One of our key value propositions is our ability to know what our guests want and when they want it. To this end, we plan to continue to improve our data insights based on in-depth analysis of relevant customer behavioral data to better predict and address the needs of our returning and new guests. Through continuous investments into big data technology, we believe we will be able to serve our guests more effectively and develop a deeper connection with them through personalized services, identifying and addressing their unique needs in every aspect of their stay with us, including room reservation, pricing management, and membership services. In addition, we plan to further expand the application of smart home technologies in our hotel rooms to provide a more personalized and comfortable experience to our guests.

THE ATOUR EXPERIENCE — HOSPITALITY REIMAGINED

When we built the first Atour hotel back in 2013, our founder decided to part ways with the prototypical, monotonous hotel chains and reimagine what hospitality truly means to the young generations in China. Inspired by the aesthetic, uniqueness, intimacy, and independent spirits offered by boutiques, we throw in those advantages that were once only achievable by an international chain — ubiquity, accessibility, consistency, efficiency, and economies of scale. This summarizes the philosophy behind the creation of Atour hotels and the path we design for Atour’s future — a leading and pioneering lifestyle brand in China centered around hotel offerings. In our vision, Atour not only offers a place to stay, but aims to redefine hospitality in China by making hotels a gateway to a rich selection of lifestyle offerings that allow guests and their loved ones to relax, enjoy, interact and share.

At Atour, hospitality is not just about the rooms and amenities — rather, it is all about anticipating and responding to what the new generation of lifestyle consumers are calling for from their stay with us, and every time, with targeted appeal for the multi-dimensional experience and shared values they constantly seek.

We believe the unique Atour experience is underpinned by three pillars — the creative hotel space, the “standardized” personalized guest services, and the lifestyle offerings that make Atour more than just a hotel brand.

Creative Space Built By and For the Creative Class

The Atour experience starts with our dynamic hotel space with identities.

We purposefully design and operate individually conceived lifestyle hotel brands that cater to diversified audiences, with a common thread of brand hallmarks that deliver a locally inspired, neighborhood boutique yet consistently enjoyable experience. As of December 31, 2021, we had developed six lifestyle hotel brands, with a new luxury hotel brand launched in July 2021, covering the entire chain of midscale to luxury hotels with differentiated appeal to a wide range of guests, from discerning business travelers to the rising Generation-Z population.

Each Atour hotel brand has its own unique personality under the unified ethos of inclusivity and presence of humanness. Across all our brands, we are dedicated to offering every guest a unique, memorable experience, combining the idiosyncratic design and personalized services associated with boutique hotels with the peace of mind and consistency from staying with the world’s largest hotel chains.

We operate our hotel brands under lease and “manachise” models. Under the lease model, we design, build, and operate hotels located on leased premises. Under the “manachise” model, we manage hotels through the on-site hotel managers and HR representatives we appoint to each hotel and collect fees from franchisees. For a detailed discussion of our hotel network operated under lease and “manachise” models, please refer to “— Hotel Development” and “— Hotel Management.”

The following table sets forth the key information about each of our hotel brands.

| Brand | Positioning | As of December 31, 2021 | | | | | Percentage of Total Rooms |

Atour Hotel—A timeless classic

At the heart of our hotel network is Atour Hotel, a timeless classic that we proudly call the Atour flagship brand. Atour Hotel represents an upper midscale hotel brand, designed for quality-conscious travelers who seek layers of customer experience that mixes comfort with a stylish vibe. With the debut of the first Atour Hotel in Xi'an in 2013, today our flagship brand spanned 136 cities across China as of December 31, 2021, mainly located in Tier 1, New Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities and premium commercial districts in the downtown areas of lower-tier cities in China, with an ADR of RMB402.7 in 2021.

Atour Hotel features tasteful, locally-inspired designs. Our spacious guest rooms typically have an area of approximately 25 square meters, with some as large as 35 square meters. These rooms are thoughtfully decorated to “invite the city in,” with artworks created by local artists and other touches on details that reflect the design vocabulary of the region, bringing guests closer to the neighborhood they are staying in. The public area in an Atour Hotel typically has an area of 400 square meters and houses standard amenities, including on-premise restaurants offering local breakfast, laundry room, and fitness room. In addition, we also operate a library that opens 24/7—a space that we call the “cultural epicentre” of the property, allowing our guests to relaxingly discover the roots in the culture and attitude of the city they are visiting.

As of December 31, 2021, we had 619 Atour Hotels in operation with a total of 71,961 guest rooms. As of the same date, we also had 284 Atour Hotels under development with a total of 31,901 guest rooms.

Atour S Hotel—An upscale upgrade

We position Atour S as an upscale hotel brand that primarily serves high-end business and leisure travelers. It offers the same inspiring experience of a standard Atour Hotel, only better. We first introduced the Atour S brand in 2016. Since then, its network had been expanded to cover 17 cities across China as of December 31, 2021, mainly located in premium commercial districts in the downtown areas in Tier 1, New Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities in China, with an ADR of RMB560.7 in 2021.

Loyal to the best elements of local designs and cultures, Atour S is committed to setting the standard for a fully upgraded customer experience for any discerning travelers, with more spacious and meticulously designed rooms and top-quality amenities. Guests rooms typically have an area of 27-30 square meters, and public area typically have an area of 800-1,000 square meters, much larger than that in a traditional Atour Hotel.

As of December 31, 2021, we had 41 Atour S Hotels with a total of 6,451 guest rooms. As of the same date, we also had 25 Atour S Hotels under development with a total of 3,441 guest rooms.

Atour Light—Great for value

Atour Light is our midscale hotel brand with a cheerful spirit, primarily catering to young urban travelers seeking the best value and experience. We first introduced the Atour Light Hotel in 2016, and since then its footprint had been expanded to cover 27 cities across China as of December 31, 2021. Our Atour Light hotels currently are mainly located in Tier 1, New Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities and premium commercial districts in the downtown areas of lower-tier cities in China, with an ADR of RMB398.3 in 2021. With the penetration of Atour Light into more lower-tiered cities in the future, we expect that the ADR of our Atour Light hotels will decrease to approximately RMB300.

The public area in Atour Light Hotels is thoughtfully designed to be a dynamic multi-use space. Approximately 25% larger than the public area in a standard Atour Hotel, it can be used as a buffet restaurant in the morning, a lounge in the afternoon for casual talks and working on laptops, and a bar at night for guests to relax. Designed to serve as a vibrant social hub, such public area is open to the local community. We also offer compact and design efficient guest rooms that are smaller than those in a standard Atour Hotel, yet with the same uncompromised comfort like all other Atour brands. In addition, guest rooms are designed to be technology-friendly that allow efficient control of lighting, air conditioning and guest services through intuitive touch panel interfaces.

As of December 31, 2021, we had 59 Atour Light Hotels in operation with a total of 5,468 guest rooms. As of the same date, we also had 23 Atour Light Hotels under development with a total of 1,993 guest rooms.

Atour X Hotel—A characterful departure from the standard

Atour X Hotel is our upper midscale hotel brand, created by converting existing boutique hotel properties on the market into “Atour” hotels adhering to the same standards of services and offerings, while maintaining its original design elements. We first introduced the Atour X brand in September 2020. As of December 31, 2021, it could be found in 14 cities across China, with an ADR of RMB421.7 in 2021.

The birth of Atour X Hotels marked our commitment to further expand in the upper midscale hospitality market. We keep the flavorful and diversified design of the existing hotel properties, while applying our uniform service standards to ensure service quality and consistency.

As of December 31, 2021, we had 22 Atour X Hotels with a total of 2,272 guest rooms. As of the same date, we also had six Atour X Hotels under development with a total of 652 guest rooms.

The following pictures demonstrate the exterior and interior designs and features of an Atour X Hotel.

ZHOTEL—An energizing sense of youth and self-expression

ZHOTEL is a new upscale hotel brand launched in September 2020, custom-made for the rising Generation-Z guests. Its brand concept incorporates our deep understanding of the young travelers’ inclination to explore the premises beyond the seclusion of their guestrooms, shifting the emphasis to sensory environments that provide more than just a stereotypical hotel experience. We unveiled the first hotel under our ZHOTEL brand in 798 Art District, Beijing, an iconic and diverse neighborhood, and opened another two new hotels in Shanghai in 2021. The hotel under our ZHOTEL brand had an ADR of RMB556.2 in 2021.

Under our ZHOTEL brand, we create an organic space where stylish rooms, vibrant lounges, innovative cocktails, novel cuisine, trendy music, original art, and lifestyle shopping are all combined in one destination, encouraging our young guests to immerse themselves in a lively and happening place. ZHOTEL is not just a hotel for the young generation, but a destination in itself.

Guest rooms have been completely redesigned to offer segmented zones for relaxation and inspiration. Each room features an originally designed turntable and a selection of vinyl records. For Generation Z, complimentary Wi-Fi is not nearly enough. Each room is also equipped with an AI-powered smart home assistant that controls everything in the room at guests' command. ZHOTEL encourages guests to express themselves, for example by allowing guests to create their own curated music playlist and share it in the public area. The public area, which we call "Z Hub," is more spacious than that in a standard Atour Hotel. Z Hub features an unmanned reception with automatic check-in, state-of-the-art smart robots that deliver room services, and innovative restaurant. Z Hub also comes with an event space for creative workshops and social gatherings, as well as a unique retail space — "Z Store" — that showcases a variety of co-branded products that we co-developed with fashion and streetwear brands favored by our young guests.

As of December 31, 2021, we had three hotels under the ZHOTEL brand with a total of 288 guest rooms.

A.T. House — Luxury with a twist

We believe conventional hotel luxury is a thing of the past, due to constant changes in guests' preferences. A.T. House is our first full-service luxury hotel brand, which aims to become a luxury lifestyle destination that appeals to the young generation requesting uniqueness in every aspect of hotel service offerings. Our first A.T. House opened in Shanghai in July 2021 with 214 rooms available. Upon debut, our A.T. House has achieved an initial market success with an ADR of RMB955.4 in 2021.

Defying the conventional norm of luxury, A.T. House is focused on creating and promoting a pulsating and design-driven lifestyle culture — inducing an air of creativity and adhering to our guests' affinity for fashion, music, movie and other forms of art. Guest rooms will be larger than those in a standard Atour Hotel and comes with a living area, bringing a sense of home to our guests. The public area will also be more spacious than that in our standard Atour Hotel, and comes with two banquet halls, all-day dining, as well as other well-being amenities.

The following pictures demonstrate the exterior and interior designs and features of A.T. House.

A Standardized Approach to Personalized Services

Hoteliers have always been chastened to the long-standing maxim of “know their guests” or “guest intimacy” — a demanding requirement for customized services that are capable of addressing what the guests want and when they want it. To achieve this, hoteliers, regardless of sizes and scales, are required to empower guests to customize their own stay and communicate their preferences with the hotel in the manner with which they are most comfortable, which often varies from trip to trip or even from day to day.

Although less transformational than personalization, standardization — the management of guest services with a well-defined set of standards and procedures consistent from hotel to hotel within each brand — is an equally important imperative for any scalable hotel chain. If personalized services are not delivered under stringent controls that support rapid expansion, hoteliers run the risk of self-imposing a level of complexity that their current cost structures may not be able to support.

To a casual observer, the concept of personalization may be at odds with the concept of standardization. But at Atour, we are focused on striking the perfect balance against this seeming paradox. On the one hand, recognizing each guest is different is not enough. To deliver effective personalized services, we strive to keep up with the changing preferences of guests and make innovations a part of the regular customer experience. On the other hand, standardization is not just about less complex, more cost-effective operations. Effective standardized operations complement the delivery of personalized services, substantially improving customer experience.

Again, how we approach guest services goes back to what inspired us to create Atour hotels in the first place and its core value propositions in combining personalized touches and high-quality services of a boutique hotel with the efficiency and reliability of big hotel chains.

We do this by forging meaningful connections with guests through differentiated consistency.

Multiple touchpoints delivering a customized experience with efficiency

At the heart of our personalized services is the presence of humanness. Our hotels employ a team of professional service staff who are energetic and considerate when serving our guests, but without being over the top or crossing the lines. Our on-site managers are responsible for implementing a series of service standards to promote interactions with our guests. This leads to a better understanding of our guests’ preferences, which allows the staff to deliver a customized experience that can have a stimulating influence upon the guest’s moods and emotions.

Through extensive industry knowledge and operating know-how, we have distilled 17 touchpoints where guests are expected to have the most meaningful interactions with us — from the moment when they make their initial bookings through our mobile app, Weixin/WeChat mini program or third-party platforms, to their check-ins at our hotels, from their calls for room services to seeing them off at the end of their stays. For each of the 17 guest touchpoints, including check-in experience, quality of guest supplies, and check-out experience, we have developed a specific operating manual that defies conventional luxury hotel SOPs with an elevated sense of humanness. To name a few, our hotel staff always welcome our guests with a cup of hot tea while they are waiting to be checked in, and offer them a bottle of warm water when they check out. Every morning, our hotel staff also have a couple of on-the-go breakfast packed and kept at the front desk so that guests who need to catch an early flight still get to enjoy their breakfast on the way to the airport.

Instead of adopting unifying standards and simplifying guests down to a few simple types, we focus on gaining deep insights into the preferences of the young generations of customers to design and implement our standards and procedures that “give guests the keys” to further personalize their hotel experience, by adjusting certain aspects of service formerly controlled exclusively by the hotel. For our hotels’ on-site staff, we adopt and implement a simplified yet effective set of procedures that give the front-line staff the appropriate levels of freedom and discretion to identify and overcome challenges to understanding guest needs and deliver unique services based on these preferences. For example, each of our hotel staff is granted a budget each month that they may utilize in their discretion to help the guests with their unique requests, be it buying medicine for the guests or accompanying them to the hospital.

Engaging our guests with A-Card—our loyalty program

Everything we do for our guests is instantly incorporated into our tier-based loyalty program — A-Card. A-Card is a fully digitized membership program that unites all our hotel and lifestyle brands, builds customer loyalty, and allows us to provide more personalized experience to our members efficiently throughout their lifetime.

Members earn loyalty points with each stay at our hotels and each purchase of our lifestyle products. The loyalty points can be used to redeem awards including coupons and lifestyle products. In addition to loyalty points, we also offer our members Jimu points, which are associated with membership tiers. We currently offer five tiers of membership from welcome level to infinite level, each corresponding to different classes of member benefits, privileges and rewards, including discounts of room rates, free breakfast, travel support and many more. Joining welcome level is completely free, and it takes six room-nights or 2,800 Jimu points to upgrade to the third tier — gold level. Alternatively, guests can also pay RMB199 to upgrade to gold level directly and enjoy the corresponding rewards. To maintain their membership tier, members need to stay at our hotels for a specified number of room-nights per year or have the requisite Jimu points depending on their current membership tier.

Our A-Card members have great flexibility over how they redeem their membership rewards. Each reward has been completely redesigned in the format of a digital voucher, which enables our A-Card members to have total freedom over when, where and how to use it — they can even give it away to someone else, including those who are new to our brand, which we believe further helps promote our brand to a broader audience. In addition to offering greater flexibility to our members, our digitally managed A-Card loyalty program allows us to accumulate relevant data to better understand our existing members' preferences. As of December 31, 2021, we had more than 30 million registered individual members.

On top of our A-Card loyalty program, we have also introduced our A-plus customer service program, which encompasses a standard portfolio of personalized services exclusively offered to our members. Once joining the A-plus program, guests are able to compressively customize their requests and preferences prior to their arrival. We currently offer 15 A-plus customized services, including pre-setting room temperature, pre-setting aroma diffuser, and offerings of yoga mats or sports equipment. As of the date of this prospectus, more than 180 thousand A-Card members have enrolled in the A-plus program.

Our A-Card program helps us build customer loyalty and reduce our reliance on third-party OTAs. In 2021, approximately 77.4% of our room-nights were sold through our own sales channels. The repurchase rate among our A-Card members reached 52.8% in 2021, compared with 48.7% in 2020. "Repurchase rate among A-Card members" is defined as the proportion of members who have made a second room reservation in the same year.

Performance review system from top to bottom

We take our guests' review and feedback seriously, especially the ones that help us better understand our guests. As part of the Atour SOPs, our customer experience department collects all the complaints left in the past 24 hours from our booking channels as well as social media platforms, compiles and sends them to each responsible hotel manager before 12 p.m. each day. Hotel managers are required to follow up with the guests who left the complaints within the next five hours, learn from them the potential areas for improvement, and submit a rectification plan addressing those issues for approval by our customer experience department. If the rectification plan is not approved, the responsible hotel managers are required to discuss, analyze and propose new plans in a dedicated Weixin/WeChat group. Through such dynamic performance review process, we keep improving our customer service to make sure we are meeting our guests' expectations and the goals we set for ourselves.

We also review the performance of each Atour hotel at the end of each year. If we determine some of the franchised hotels do not meet our required service standards, we have the right to terminate our agreements with the franchisees.

Technology and digitalization

To further maximize efficiency, we were one of the first hoteliers in the hospitality industry to adopt a fully cloud-based digital management system. The following summarizes the key aspects of our technology infrastructure.

Central reservation system (CRS). We have adopted a cloud-based, all-channel, real-time CRS available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Our CRS is fully integrated with all of our booking channels, including our mobile app, Weixin/WeChat mini program, third-party platforms and other reservation partners. This effectively allows us to manage inventories, prices and reservations instantly across all major channels. The real-time inventory management module of the system improves the efficiency of reservations, enhances customer satisfaction and maximizes our profitability. The price management module allows us to set up rates at different levels (including property, market segments, booking channels and hotel brands) and distributes price adjustments and promotional offers to all major channels simultaneously, which greatly increases efficiency in managing all our booking channels and enhances our ability to optimize total profit. In addition, our CRS comes with an embedded business intelligence module, which allows our hotel staff to monitor and analyze the core operational metrics and make well-informed business decisions in time. In 2021, 77.4% of our room-nights were sold through our direct sales channels. Such a high percentage of booking through our direct sales channels enables us to achieve higher operating efficiency compared to hotels that rely heavily on travel intermediaries.

Revenue management system (RMS). Our fully automated RMS predicts the occupancy rates for all our hotels for the next 30 days and recommends room rate accordingly, without the need for constant adjustment. Powered by our proprietary algorithms, our RMS is capable of automatically taking into account a wide range of historical and futuristic data, including customer segments and profiles, operating performance of each hotel, room rates of our competitors in the same geographic area and future events in the area, to generate accurate price estimation, allowing us to balance occupancy rate and ADR in order to achieve higher RevPAR. Our RMS sends the rate adjustment suggestions directly to our hotel staff for their review and timely implementation.

Property management system (PMS). Our PMS enables each hotel within our network to accurately and cost-effectively manage its room inventory and reservations on its own on a real-time basis as well as sends price adjustment requests through an Internet browser, which in turn optimizes each hotel's occupancy rate, ADR and RevPAR. The system is designed to enable us to enhance our profitability and compete more effectively by integrating with our CRS and CRM. We believe our PMS enables our management to more effectively assess the performance of our hotels on a timely basis and to efficiently allocate resources and identify and refine specific market and sales targets.

Material requirements planning system (MRPS). Leveraging Internet of Things technology, our MRPS has enabled us to efficiently manage our operating costs, especially with respect to supplies used in large quantities, and allows all hotels across our network to make bulk purchases of approximately 3,000 SKUs of hotel supplies, construction materials and retail products at the same time. This has also contributed to our ability to maintain a consistent level of high-quality services to our guests. The total purchase made through this platform in 2021 reached RMB601.4 million.

More Than A Hotel Brand

Atour was created not just as a hotel brand. Since our inception, we have been actively exploring the exciting possibilities of connecting different aspects of people's lives, interests and inspirations, starting from a stay with us.

Scenario-based retail business — What you buy is what you use

We are the first hotel chain in China to develop a scenario-based retail business, according to Frost & Sullivan. We design our guest room amenities, work closely with manufacturers to deliver top-quality products, and carefully place the relevant products in guest rooms. Each of our guest rooms incorporates a fully immersive shopping destination, enabling us to strengthen our brand elasticity with our guests.

Guests are able to experience first-hand our products during their entire stay with us. If they are satisfied with the products, a simple scan of the product on their phones will take them directly to our e-stores for convenient purchases, where it only takes a couple of taps for the products to be delivered to their doorsteps at home in a matter of days. The pictures below illustrate the digital purchase process for our scenario-based retail products.

We also sell our products on leading third-party e-commerce platforms in China, offering additional purchasing channels for the broader consumer group. In addition, all our hotel lobbies come with a display area, where guests can view and select our products. In our manachised hotels, these products are first supplied by us to our manachised hotels at a discount and resold by the manachised hotels directly to their guests under our pricing guidance. The pictures below demonstrate the display area for retail offerings in our hotel lobbies.

We have three product lines, each focusing on a specific category of private label products. Our “αTOUR PLANET” private label line covers sleep-related products, including mattress and pillows. These products are designed to turn sleeping from a basic physiological need to a deeply relaxing experience that improves quality of life. Our “SAVHE” private label line targets personal care and fragrance, including shampoo, handwash and diffusers, which bring a caring touch that rejuvenates the body and soothes the senses. Our “Z2GO&CO.” private label line is designed for on-the-go products, including suitcases and hair dryers. These lightweight yet reliable products make travelling an easy and enjoyable experience.

The backbone of our scenario-based retail business lies in our strong market research, product development and supply chain management capability. We identify new product lines or upgrade existing product lines by monitoring latest trend in the market and conduct survey with our customers. We then design the products and work with third-party manufacturers to produce them. Our quality standard is high. For each product line, we require that manufacturers send us a sample for robust testing and evaluation. Our quality assurance team also conduct random spot checks to ensure the products meet our quality standard as well as applicable national standards. Over the years, we have created an efficient and low-cost supply chain that delivers exceptional customer experience.

As of December 31, 2021, we had developed a total of 1,665 SKUs for scenario-based retail. The GMV generated from the retail business increased by 29.5% from RMB82.8 million in 2019 to RMB107.2 million in 2020, and further drastically by 112.9% to RMB228.2 million in 2021. In 2021, the average transaction value per scenario-based retail order reached RMB403.0.

Our unique themed hotel offerings — lifestyles with a theme

We are dedicated to expanding our lifestyle brand offerings centered around our unique hotel brand portfolio. To that end, we have created three series of themed hotels — our music hotels, basketball hotels and literary hotels — catering to the diversified lifestyles across different age groups with varied interests. In addition to driving our ADR, each series of themed hotel also marks our exploration into new territories.

We first engage in co-branding initiatives with renowned brands in the lifestyle field that we wish to enter, accumulate experience and reputation during the collaboration period, and eventually start to operate our themed hotels solely leveraging our own Atour hotel brands.

The table below sets forth the key information about our major themed hotel offerings as of December 31, 2021.

| | Lifestyle Themes and Inspirations | Properties |
|-------------------------|------------------------------------|------------|
| Music Hotel | Music and entertainment | 7 |
| Basketball Hotel | Sports community and entertainment | 3 |
| Literature Hotel | Culture and community | 1 |

Music Hotel

Born from the love of music, our music hotel is not just a music-themed hotel but a place where musicians and listeners can stay, create, party and enjoy. Guest rooms are inspired by different genres of music, be it classical, jazz, electronic or folk, and automatically throw on the music when guests enter the room. The hotel lobby is built as a flexible event space where guests can check out vinyl records or live performances. Our music hotel in Hangzhou had an ADR of RMB447.9 in 2021, 14.0% higher than our comparable hotels in the same area.

We partnered our Atour Light brand with NetEase Cloud Music, a leading online music platform, to open our first music hotel in 2018. As of December 31, 2021, we had seven music hotels in operation with a total of 686 rooms.

The following pictures demonstrate the exterior and interior designs and features of our music hotel.

Basketball Hotel

Our basketball hotel extends beyond a traditional hotel and offers basketball fans a new space for communication and gatherings. The hotel lobby is built as an indoor basketball court that is open to everyone who loves to hoop. A “basketball museum” is also located in the public area and opens 24/7, where autographed basketball jerseys and shoes are put on display. Games and fans gathering are also held from time to time in the hotel. Our basketball hotel in Shanghai had an ADR of RMB472.6 in 2021, 34.0% higher than our comparable hotels in the same area.

In 2018, under our Atour S brand, we collaborated with Hupu, a well-known sports commentary and information platform, to open our first basketball hotel in Shanghai. As of December 31, 2021, we had three basketball hotels in operation with a total of 432 rooms.

The following pictures demonstrate the exterior and interior designs and features of our basketball hotel

Literature Hotel

Our thought-provoking literature hotel has the largest public area in all our Atour hotel network with over 1,600 square meters. Loyal to the theme of knowledge and culture, the atrium of the public area is built as a 31-meter-tall library with more than 8,000 books covering literature, history and philosophy and is open to both guests and locals. The public area can be also used to host weekly events for guests with various interests, including literary salon, movie night, live music performance, and even flower arrangement workshop. We intend to build our literature hotel into a lifestyle community hub covering a radius of three kilometers in the neighborhood. Our literature hotel had an ADR of RMB703.0 in 2021, 38.8% higher than our comparable hotels in the same area.

In 2020, under our Atour S brand, we partnered with Owspace, a bookstore chain favored by those who love literature, movie and art, to open our first literature hotel in Shanghai, with a total of 194 rooms.

The following pictures demonstrate designs and features of our literature hotel.

In addition to the three series of themed hotel above which we are committed to growing our scale, we also collaborate with renowned lifestyle, technology and cultural brands that are favored by the young generations in China and operate standalone themed hotels catering to diversified interests and tastes, including three retail-themed hotels we operate with NetEase Yanxuan and an animation-themed hotel we operate with Shanghai Amination Film Studio as of December 31, 2021. As of December 31, 2021, we collaborated with five partners and operated 15 themed hotels in total.

HOTEL DEVELOPMENT

We mainly use a manachise hotel operation model to expand our hotel network in a less capital-intensive and more efficient manner. As of December 31, 2021, we had 712 manachised hotels. The number of our manachised hotels grew at a CAGR of 62.9% between 2016 and 2021. We also develop and operate leased hotels to increase our brand influence and set successful examples for our franchisee partners. As of the same date, we had 33 leased hotels.

We primarily focus on Tier 1, New Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities in China. We believe these markets fit our position as a leading lifestyle hotel chain. These markets also tend to provide higher occupancy rate, higher rate of return and higher ADR. As of December 31, 2021, our hotel network covered 745 hotels spanning 138 cities across China. We are still rapidly scaling our presence across China. As of December 31, 2021, we had an additional 338 hotels under development.

The following table sets forth a summary of all of our hotels by geographic region as of December 31, 2021.

|------------------------------|---------------------------|-----------------------|------------------------------|
| Tier 1 cities | 130 | 17 | 51 |
| New Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities | 437 | 16 | 176 |
| Others | 145 | — | 111 |

Note:

- (1) Includes 42 hotels being requisitioned by the government for quarantine needs in response to the COVID-19 outbreak, which were not in operation as of December 31, 2021.

We adopt a systematic and standardized process for the planning and execution of new hotel development projects. Our regional hotel development team has more than 70 employees, located in four major regions across China with a national coverage as of December 31, 2021. Our hotel development employees determine the target location of each city by analyzing the economic data, field survey reports and market intelligence information of each city, and prepare a weekly report containing market survey data, investment return estimation and brand positioning. The report is subsequently presented to our investment committee at weekly meetings, followed by a rigorous and comprehensive review by our investment committee.

When evaluating potential franchising opportunities, the investment committee will consider the attractiveness of the location and other factors, such as the quality and product quality of the potential franchisees and their ability to meet our service standards. Our investment committee will prudently evaluate each investment proposal to ensure that we can effectively expand our coverage while improving our profitability. As part of a due diligence effort, we also require franchisees to have an interview with our regional director and member of our franchising department to understand the background, business goals, and value propositions of each franchisee candidate. We typically source potential franchisees through word-of-mouth referrals, applications submitted via our website and industry conferences. Our franchisees include seasoned investors in the hospitality industry, entrepreneurs and real estate developers.

The following table sets forth the changes in the number of our hotels and hotel rooms for the periods indicated.

Note:

- (1) Includes 19 and 42 hotels being requisitioned by the government for quarantine needs in response to the COVID-19 outbreak, which were not in operation as of December 31, 2020 and December 31, 2021, respectively.

The reasons for hotel closures typically include property-related matters (such as rezoning and expiry of leases), hotel operation quality or results not meeting our requirements, and other commercial reasons.

The following is a description of our hotel development process.

Manachised hotels

We open manachised hotels to expand our geographical coverage or to further penetrate in our existing markets.

Location. Manachised hotels provide us valuable operating information in assessing the attractiveness of new markets, and supplement our coverage in areas where the potential franchisees can have access to attractive locations by leveraging their own assets and local network. We generally look to establish manachised hotels near popular commercial and office districts in major cities in China that tend to generate a stronger demand for hotel accommodations.

Design, Procurement and Construction. To ensure the consistency in style and quality, we recommend, and in some cases require, that franchisees select from a shortlist of design firms that are certified by us. We also require that franchisees purchase some of the construction materials from us through our MRPS. We provide on-site guidance during the construction period and require multiple project acceptance procedures before a manachised hotel begins its operation.

Leased hotels

We primarily use our leased hotels to define the operational and quality standards of our hotels.

Location Selection. We seek properties that are in central or highly accessible locations in economically more developed cities in order to maximize the room rates that we can charge, including business clusters, central business districts, development zones, areas near universities and transportation hubs. In addition, we typically seek properties that with an area of 3,500 square meters to 15,000 square meters that will accommodate 80 to 200 hotel rooms, with a lease term between 10 to 20 years. After identifying a proposed site, we conduct thorough due diligence and typically negotiate leases concurrently with the lessors. All leases and development plans are subject to the final approval of our investment committee.

Lease Terms. Our leased hotels are located on properties we or our designated third parties lease from the owners of such properties. Our typical lease term ranges from 10 to 20 years. We typically enjoy an initial three- to six-month rent-free period. After that, we generally pay fixed rent on a monthly or quarterly basis for the first two years of the lease term, after which we are generally subject to a modest increase in rents every two to five years within the lease term. Our leases usually allow extensions by mutual agreement. In addition, our lessors are typically required to notify us in advance if they intend to sell or dispose of their properties, in which case we have a right of first refusal to purchase the properties on equivalent terms and conditions.

Design, Procurement and Construction. Once a lease agreement has been executed, we engage design firms and construction companies to begin the renovation work. Over the years, we have put together a diversified list of 29 design firms that we normally work with. These firms on the list are familiar with our standards as a result of years of collaboration. Our MRPS handles procurement of construction materials. We gather procurement requests from all our leased hotels, request for fee quote from at least three suppliers, and enter into negotiations and eventually supply agreements with the suitable supplier. We collectively purchase from the suppliers and distribute the materials to each leased hotel based on its request. Our contracts with construction companies typically contain warranties for quality and requirements for timely completion of construction. Contractors or suppliers are typically required to compensate us in the event of delays or poor work quality.

HOTEL MANAGEMENT

Our hotel management team has accumulated significant experience with respect to the operation of hotels. Building on this experience, our management team has developed a robust operational platform for our nationwide operations, implemented a rigorous budgeting process, and utilized our real-time information systems to monitor our hotel performance. We believe these systems are critical in maximizing our revenues and profitability. The following are some of the key components of our hotel management infrastructure:

Budgeting. Our budget and analysis team prepares a detailed monthly revenue budget for each of our hotels. The hotel budget is prepared based on, among other things, the historical operating performance of each hotel, the performance of comparable hotels and local market conditions. We may adjust the budget upon the occurrence of unexpected events that significantly affect a specific hotel's operating performance. In addition, our compensation scheme for managers in each hotel is directly linked to their performance reviewed based on our annual budget targets and other customized metrics.

Pricing. The room rates of our leased hotels as well as manachised hotels are determined with our fully automated RMS, without the need for constant price adjustments. We have the ultimate control over the room rates of each leased and manachised hotel in our network. Price adjustment requests initiated by each hotel have to be approved by our regional head or headquarter.

Performance Monitoring. Through our cloud-based PMS, we are able to monitor each hotel's occupancy status, ADR, RevPAR and other operating data on a real-time basis. Real-time hotel operating information allows us to adjust our sales efforts and other resources to rapidly capitalize on changes in the market and to maximize operating efficiency.

Cash Management. Our leased hotels deposit cash into our central account several times a week. We also generally centralize all payments for expenditures. Our manachised hotels manage their cash separately.

Supply Chain and Procurement. Our MRPS handles all procurement requests relating to operating supplies and our private label consumer goods. Leveraging the scale of our hotel network and our highly-efficient centralized procurement system, we believe we have the purchasing power to secure favorable terms from suppliers for all of our hotels. We generally require franchisees to procure certain construction materials and most of operating supplies from us. Construction materials include floor, ceiling, etc. Operating supplies include standard guest room amenities.

Training. We have made the training of our employees and education of our franchisees one of our top priorities. Our Jimu College offers well-designed training programs to our on-site hotel managers and HR representatives and certifies them for deployment. Our hotel managers and HR representatives are required to attend a one-month comprehensive on-site training and shadowing program, covering topics such as our corporate culture, safety standard, customer service, hotel operation standards and human resource management, followed by a three-month probation period. A substantial number of our hotel managers and HR representatives have received training completion certificates. Our Jimu College has prepared a new-hire training package to standardize the training for hotel-based staff across our hotel chain group.

Manachised hotel management

We manage our manachised hotels and impose the same standards on all manachised hotels to ensure product quality and consistency across our hotel network.

Franchise and Management. We authorize a manachised hotel to use our relevant Atour brand name, logo and relevant trademarks. The franchisee is responsible for the hotel's construction, renovation and maintenance. We provide guidance to the franchisee on the construction or renovation of the hotel and require the hotel to meet our standards before approving it to commence operations. We appoint and train hotel managers and on-site HR representatives who are responsible for hiring hotel staff and managing daily operations of our manachised hotels. We also provide our franchisees with comprehensive management services, including central reservation, revenue management, sales and marketing support, technology support, quality assurance inspections and other operational support and information.

Fee Arrangements. We generally charge our franchisees an upfront franchise fee at a rate of RMB4,000 to RMB6,000 per room, depending on the brand of the manachised hotel, as well as fees related to pre-opening services, including information system installation service, and services related to the assistance on employee training and other hotel opening preparation activities. After a manachised hotel opens, we typically charge the franchisee a monthly franchise and management fee between 5% and 6% of the gross revenues generated by each manachised hotel, depending on the hotel brand. Furthermore, we charge the franchisee a fixed monthly hotel managers fee, fees for purchase of hotel supplies and other products, and other on-going service fees, such as system and accounting support fees.

Term of Services. Our franchise and management agreements for our manachised hotels typically run for a fixed term of 8 to 15 years, and may be extended upon mutual agreement between us and the franchisee three months prior to the expiration of the franchise and management agreements.

Termination. We typically have the right to early terminate the franchise and management agreements immediately, if franchisees commit material breaches of the agreements, including unauthorized use of the licensed brand without rectification within the grace period. In all of these circumstances, we can deduct from the franchise fee, keep the franchise deposit collected and claim liquidated damages from the franchisee.

Leased hotel management

As of December 31, 2021, we had 33 leased hotels, accounting for approximately 4.4% of our hotels. We manage and operate each aspect of these hotels and bear the corresponding expenses. We are responsible for recruiting, training and supervising the hotel managers and employees, paying for leases and costs associated with construction and renovation of these hotels, and purchasing all supplies and other required equipment.

SALES AND MARKETING

Our marketing strategy is designed to enhance our brand recognition and customer loyalty. Building and differentiating the brand image of each of our hotel products is critical to increasing our brand recognition. We focus on targeting the distinct guest segments that each of our hotel products serves and adopting effective marketing measures based on thorough analysis and application of data and analytics. In 2021, approximately 77.4% of our room-nights were sold through our own sales channels and the remaining 22.6% of our room-nights through OTA channels.

A key component of our marketing efforts is the A-Card, our loyalty program, which unites all of our brands. We believe the A-Card loyalty program allows us to build customer loyalty and conduct lower-cost, targeted marketing campaigns. As of December 31, 2021, our A-Card had more than 30 million individual members, which ranked as the second largest loyalty program operated by lifestyle hotel chains in China.

In 2021, approximately 39.7% of our room-nights were sold to our A-Card members. Leveraging our technology infrastructure, we are able to optimize the efficiency of our internal operations at various levels to better serve our A-Card members.

We provide our A-Card members and the general public with convenient, friendly and updated services through our online service system consisting of our mobile app and our Weixin/WeChat mini program. The system provides information and search services for our hotels, such as location, amenities and pricing, reservation services, online payment and online room selection functions, membership registration and management and member community services. As of December 31, 2021, the Atour mobile app had approximately 14.0 million accumulated downloads and Atour's Weixin/WeChat mini program had accumulated approximately 2.0 million users.

Individual members who are also employees of our corporate members are free to choose between the discounted corporate rate or their own membership rate. As of December 31, 2021, we had approximately 4,500 corporate members registered with us. Together with corporate clients registered with some of our specific hotels, our corporate members contributed 37.7% of the room-nights sold in 2021.

COMPETITION

We face competition as a hotel manager and franchisor. Competition in China's hospitality industry generally is based on brand reputation; the attractiveness of the facility; location; room rates; quality and consistency of services; quality of accommodations; variety and quality of amenities; food and beverage options; retail offerings; public areas and other guest services; and the attractiveness of loyalty programs.

Our properties and brands compete with other hotels, resorts, motels and inns in their respective geographic markets or customer segments, including facilities owned by local interests, individuals, national and international chains, institutions, and investment and pension funds. We believe that our position as a multi-branded manager and franchisor of hotels with unique lifestyle offerings helps us succeed as one of the largest and most innovative hospitality companies in China.

Our principal competitors include other branded and independent hotel operating companies, national and international hotel brands and ownership companies.

OUR ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE (ESG) INITIATIVES

We are committed to reduce our environmental footprint and strictly comply with environmental laws, regulations and policies. For example, in accordance with the regional policies in Shanghai and Beijing, we no longer provide disposable amenities in the guest rooms. Our other guest room amenities, including bath robes and towels are sealed in bags, so that we are not required to change them if the guests choose not to use them. Many of our products are also environmental friendly. For example, our beddings are manufactured with natural materials without the use of bleach and fluorescent.

We are also committed to giving back to our society and communities. The remote and beautiful tea village of Yaduo was afflicted with poverty by the first time we visited. In addition to the inspirations it gave us to create our hotels, we also saw the potential of Yaduo's tea plantation. Five years after our first visit, we went back to Yaduo with a plan to give back to the village. We guided villagers on plantation at scale, collectively procured their production, and offered Yaduo teas to our guests, providing villagers with a stable stream of income. From April 2018 to April 2019, we worked with 153 households. By the end of 2018, 86% of the households in Yaduo village were lifted out of poverty.

In addition, we were one of the first hotel groups to provide comprehensive lodging support to medical staff in Wuhan, China during the COVID-19 outbreak in early 2020. We also implemented a variety of rigorous safety and sanitation standards during COVID-19 and strived to remain open in selected locations to provide accommodation services for those in need, subject to governmental regulations and mandated hotel closures.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

We regard our trademarks, copyrights, domain names, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights as critical to our business. We rely on a combination of copyright and trademark law, trade secret protection and confidentiality agreements with our employees, lecturers, business partners and others, to protect our intellectual property rights. In particular, we protect our intellectual properties, including trademarks for our brand names, primarily through the following measures: (i) we timely apply for registration of trademarks we use and a broad range of defensive trademarks for each of our brands in jurisdictions where we operate as well as in other targeted markets, and (ii) we continuously monitor third parties' infringements of our intellectual property rights, including our brand names and trademarks, and file claims with market regulation authorities and bring intellectual property infringement lawsuits to protect our rights.

As of December 31, 2021, we registered 830 trademarks and logos with the China Trademark Office. The trademarks and logos currently used in our current hotels are under protection of the registered trademarks and logos. As of December 31, 2021, an additional 219 trademark applications were under review by the PRC authorities. As of the same date, we also registered 53 trademarks and filed 5 trademark applications outside China. We also received copyright registration certificates for 15 software programs developed by us and registered 2 patents in China as of December 31, 2021. In addition, we registered 62 national and international top-level domain names, including yaduo.com, as of December 31, 2021. Our intellectual property is subject to risks of theft and other unauthorized use, and our ability to protect our intellectual property from unauthorized use is limited. In addition, we may be subject to claims that we have infringed the intellectual property rights of others. See "Risk Factors — Risks Related to Our Business and Industry — Any failure to protect our trademarks and other intellectual property rights could have a negative impact on our business."

DATA PRIVACY AND PROTECTION

We place a strong emphasis on data security. We have in place extensive policies, processes, network architecture, and software to protect customer data.

We collect personal information of our guests customarily required for their hotel booking, check-ins and check-outs, including their names, ID numbers, mobile phone numbers and email addresses. To ensure the confidentiality and integrity of our guests' data, we maintain comprehensive and rigorous data security measures. We anonymize and encrypt confidential personal information and take other technological measures to ensure the secure processing, transmission and usage of data. We have also established stringent internal protocols under which we grant classified access to confidential personal data only to limited employees with strictly defined and layered access authorization. Our franchised hotels use our operation systems to collect the guests' data, and the data are then stored on the highly secured server that we rent from third-party cloud service providers. Only authorized staff of our franchised hotels can read and record the data, and our systems keep records of their access to the data. We have also implemented measures restricting data access and prohibiting data exporting for those hotels.

EMPLOYEES

We had 2,482, 2,621 and 3,180 employees as of December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. All of our employees are based in China. As of December 31, 2021, all of our employees were employed directly by us without the involvement of third-party human resources companies.

The following table sets forth the numbers of our employees categorized by function as of December 31, 2021.

| Function | Number of Employees |
|----------------------------|---------------------|
| Hotel Development | 134 |
| Hotel Management | 2,575 |
| Technology and Development | 125 |
| Retail and Supply Chain | 75 |
| Sales and Marketing | 73 |
| Others | 198 |
| Total | 3,180 |

We recruit and directly train and manage all of our employees. We believe that we maintain a good working relationship with our employees and we have not experienced any significant labor disputes. Our employees have not entered into any collective bargaining agreements.

PROPERTIES

Our headquarters are located in Shanghai, China and occupy nearly 6,132 square meters of office space, all of which is leased by us.

Lease Properties

As of December 31, 2021, we had leased a total of 40 properties for commercial uses, with 32 properties used for the operations of our 33 leased hotels and 8 properties for other commercial uses, such as our headquarters and office premises. The gross floor area of our leased properties for commercial uses range from approximately 714 square meters to 26,328 square meters. All our leased properties are located in the PRC. For risks relating to property defects, see “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Our Business and Industry — Our legal right to lease certain properties to operate our leased hotels could be challenged by property owners or other third parties, which could prevent us from continuing to operate our leased hotels or increase the costs associated with operating these hotels.”

INSURANCE

We believe that our hotels are covered by adequate property and liability insurance policies with coverage features and insured limits that we believe are customary for similar companies in China. We also require our franchisees to carry adequate property and liability insurance policies. We carry property insurance that covers the assets that we own at our hotels. Although we require our franchisees to purchase customary insurance policies, we cannot guarantee that they will adhere to such requirements. If we were held liable for amounts and claims exceeding the limits of our insurance coverage or outside the scope of our insurance coverage, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Our Business and Industry — We have limited insurance coverage.”

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

In the ordinary course of our business, we are subject to legal or administrative proceedings from time to time. We do not believe that any currently pending legal or administrative proceeding to which we are a party will have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Our Business and Industry — We may be involved in legal and administrative proceedings in the ordinary course of our business. Any adverse outcome of these legal proceedings could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.”

REGULATION

This section sets forth a summary of the principal PRC laws and regulations relevant to our business and operations in China.

The hospitality industry in China is subject to a number of laws and regulations, including laws and regulations relating specifically to hotel operation and management and commercial franchising, as well as those relating to environmental and consumer protection. The principal regulations governing foreign ownership of hotel businesses in the PRC are the Special Administrative Measures (Negative List) for the Access of Foreign Investment (Edition 2021) issued on December 27, 2021, which became effective on January 1, 2022 and the Industry Guidelines on Encouraged Foreign Investment (Edition 2020) issued on December 27, 2020, which became effective as of January 27, 2021, both of which were promulgated by the PRC Ministry of Commerce, or the MOFCOM, and the National Development and Reform Commission, or the NRDC. Pursuant to these regulations, there are no restrictions on foreign investment in limited service hotel businesses in China aside from business licenses and other permits that every hotel must obtain. Similar with other industries in China, regulations governing the hospitality industry in China are still developing and evolving. As a result, most legislative actions consist of general measures such as industry standards, rules or circulars issued by different ministries rather than detailed legislations. This section summarizes the principal PRC laws and regulations currently relevant to our business and operations.

Regulations on Hotel Operation

The Ministry of Public Security issued the Measures for the Control of Security in the Hospitality Industry in November 1987 and amended it in January 2011 and in November 2020, and the State Council promulgated the Decision of the State Council on Establishing Administrative License for Necessarily Retained Items Requiring Administrative Examination and Approval in June 2004 and amended it in January 2009 and August 2016, respectively. Under these two regulations, anyone who applies to operate a hotel is subject to examination and approval by the local public security authority and must obtain a special industry license. The Measures for the Control of Security in the Hospitality Industry impose certain security control obligations on the operators. For example, the hotel must examine the identification card of any guest to whom accommodation is provided and make an accurate registration. The hotel must also report to the local public security authority if it discovers anyone violating the law or behaving suspiciously or an offender wanted by the public security authority. Pursuant to the Measures for the Control of Security in the Hospitality Industry, hotels failing to obtain the special industry license may be subject to warnings or fines of up to RMB200. In addition, pursuant to the Law of the PRC on Penalties for the Violation of Public Security Administration promulgated in August, 2005 and amended in October 2012, and various local regulations, hotels failing to obtain the special industry license may be subject to warnings, orders to suspend or cease continuing business operations, confiscations of illegal gains or fines. Operators of hotel businesses who have obtained the special industry license but violate applicable administrative regulations may also be subject to revocation of such licenses in serious circumstances.

The State Council promulgated the Administrative Regulations on Sanitation of Public Places in April 1987 and amended it in February 2016 and in April 2019, according to which, a hotel must obtain a public area hygiene license before opening for business. Pursuant to this regulation, hotels failing to obtain a public area hygiene license may be subject to the following administrative penalties depending on the seriousness of their respective activities: (i) warnings; (ii) fines; or (iii) orders to suspend or cease continuing business operations. In March 2011, the Ministry of Health promulgated the Implementation Rules of the Administrative Regulations on Sanitation of Public Places, which was amended in December 2017, according to which, starting from May 1, 2011, hotel operators shall establish sanitation management system and keep records of sanitation management. The Standing Committee of the National People's Congress, or the SCNPC, enacted the Food Safety Law of the PRC in February 2009, which was most recently amended in December 2018, according to which any hotel that provides food must obtain a license. China Food and Drug Administration, or the CFDA, enacted the Administrative Measures on Administration of Food Business Licensing in August 2015 and amended it in November 2017, according to which any entity involving sales of food or food services must obtain a food business license. Pursuant to the Food Safety Law of the PRC, hotels failing to obtain the food business license (or formerly the food service license) may be subject to: (i) confiscation of illegal gains, food illegally produced for sale, and tools, facilities and raw materials used for illegal production; or (ii) fines between RMB50,000 and RMB100,000 if the value of food illegally produced is less than RMB10,000, or fines equal to 10 to 20 times of the value of food if such value is equal to or more than RMB10,000.

The Fire Prevention Law of the PRC, promulgated in April 1998 and amended in October 2008 and in April 2019 by the SCNPC, and the Provisions on Supervision and Inspection on Fire Prevention and Control, promulgated on April 30, 2009 and effective as of May 1, 2009 and amended on November 1, 2012 by the Ministry of Public Security, and the Interim Provisions on Administration of Review and Examination of Fire Prevention Design of Construction Projects promulgated in April 1, 2020 and effective as of June 1, 2020 by the Ministry of Housing and Urban-rural Construction require that (i) the fire prevention design documents of special construction projects, such as hotels with overall floor area of more than 10,000 square meters, shall be reviewed and inspected by local housing and urban-rural development authorities before construction; (ii) the construction of specific construction projects, such as hotels with overall floor area of more than 10,000 square meters be inspected and accepted by local housing and urban-rural development authorities from a fire prevention perspective before completion; and (iii) the public gathering places, such as hotels, shall complete fire prevention safety inspection with the local fire and rescue department, which is a prerequisite for business opening. Pursuant to these regulations, related hotels failing to obtain approval of fire prevention inspection and acceptance or failing fire prevention safety inspections (including acceptance check and safety check on fire prevention) may be subject to: (i) orders to suspend the construction of projects, use or operation of business; and (ii) fines between RMB30,000 and RMB300,000.

On November 9, 2010, the General Administration of Quality Supervision, Inspection and Quarantine and Standardization Administration approved and issued Classification and Accreditation for Star-rated Tourist Hotels (GB/T14308-2010), which became effective on January 1, 2011. On November 19, 2010, the Ministry of Culture and Tourism of the PRC, formerly the National Tourist Administration, or the MOCT, promulgated the Implementation Measures of Classification and Accreditation for Star-rated Tourist Hotels, which became effective on January 1, 2011. Under these regulations, all hotels with operations of over one year are eligible to apply for a star rating assessment. There are five ratings from one star to five stars for tourist hotels, assessed based on the level of facilities, management standards and quality of service. A star rating, once granted, is valid for three years.

On September 21, 2012, the Ministry of Commerce promulgated the Provisional Administrative Measures for Single-purpose Commercial Prepaid Cards, which was amended in August 18, 2016. Pursuant to this regulation, if an enterprise engaged in retail, accommodation and catering, or residential services issues any single-purpose commercial prepaid card to its customers, it shall undergo a record-filing procedure. For a hotel primarily engaged in the business of accommodation, the aggregate balance of the advance payment under the single-purpose commercial prepaid cards it issued shall not exceed 40% of its income from its primary business in the previous financial year.

On April 25, 2013, the SCNPC issued the Tourism Law of the PRC, which became effective on October 1, 2013 and was most recently amended on October 26, 2018. According to this law, the accommodation operators shall fulfill their obligations under the agreements with customers. If the accommodation operators subcontract part of their services to any third party or involve any third party to provide services to customers, the accommodation operators shall assume the joint and several liabilities with the third parties for any damage caused to the customers.

Regulations on Leasing

Under the Law of the PRC on Administration of Urban Real Estate promulgated by the SCNPC, which took effect as of January 1995 and was amended in August 2007, August 2009 and January 2020, respectively, and the Administrative Measures on Leasing of Commodity House promulgated by the Ministry of Housing and Urban-rural Construction, which took effect as of February 1, 2011, when leasing premises, the lessor and lessee are required to enter into a written lease contract, prescribing such provisions as the leasing term, use of the premises, rental and repair liabilities, and other rights and obligations of both parties. Both lessor and lessee are also required to go through registration procedures to record the lease with the real estate administration department. Pursuant to these laws and regulations and various local regulations, if the lessor and lessee fail to go through the registration procedures, both lessor and lessee may be subject to fines, and the leasing interest may be subordinated to an interested third party acting in good faith.

On May 28, 2020, the Civil Code of the People's Republic of China (the "Civil Code") was promulgated by the National People's Congress, and the Civil Code came into effect on January 1, 2021 and replaced the Property Law, the Contract Law of the PRC and several other basic civil laws in the PRC. According to the Civil Code, subject to consent of the lessor, the lessee may sublease the leased item to a third party. Where the lessee subleases the lease item, the leasing contract between the lessee and the lessor remains valid. The lessor is entitled to terminate the contract if the lessee subleases the lease item without the consent of the lessor. Where a lessor knows or should have known of the sublease made by a lessee but fails to raise any objection within six months, the lessor is deemed to have consented to the sublease. Pursuant to the Civil Code, where a mortgagor leases the mortgaged property before the mortgage contract is concluded, the previously established leasing relation shall not be affected; and where a mortgagor leases the mortgaged property after the creation of the mortgage interest, the leasing interest will be subordinated to the registered mortgage interest.

Regulations on Land or Property Use

In June 1986, the SCNPC promulgated the Land Administration Law of the PRC, which was last amended on August 26, 2019 and became effective on January 1, 2020. In January 1991, the State Council published Rules for Implementation of the Land Administration Law of the PRC which was last amended and came into effect on July 29, 2014. According to the regulations, enterprises and individuals shall use land strictly in accordance with the purpose stipulated in the land use master plan. Changes to the purpose of the use of land in accordance with laws must be supported by approval documents, and an application for the change of registration must be submitted to the land administration department of the people's government above county level in which the land is situated. The change registration shall be carried out by the original land registration administrative authority in accordance with law. If the enterprises or individuals do not use state-owned land in accordance with the approved land use purpose, the natural resources administrative department of the people's government at county level and above shall order the party concerned to hand over the land.

Regulations on Consumer Protection

In October 1993, the SCNPC promulgated the Law of the PRC on the Protection of the Rights and Interests of Consumers, or the Consumer Protection Law, which became effective on January 1, 1994 and was amended on March 15, 2014. Under the Consumer Protection Law, a business operator providing a commodity or service to a consumer is subject to a number of requirements, including the following:

- to ensure that commodities and services meet with certain safety requirements;
- to protect the safety of consumers;
- to disclose serious defects of a commodity or a service and to adopt preventive measures against damage occurrence;
- to provide consumers with accurate information and to refrain from conducting false advertising;
- to obtain consents of consumers and to disclose the rules for the collection and/or use of information when collecting data or information from consumers; to take technical measures and other necessary measures to protect the personal information collected from consumers; not to divulge, sell, or illegally provide consumers' information to others; not to send commercial information to consumers without the consent or request of consumers or with a clear refusal from consumers;
- not to set unreasonable or unfair terms for consumers or alleviate or release itself from civil liability for harming the legal rights and interests of consumers by means of standard contracts, circulars, announcements, shop notices or other means;
- to remind consumers in a conspicuous manner to pay attention to the quality, quantity and prices or fees of commodities or services, duration and manner of performance, safety precautions and risk warnings, after-sales service, civil liability and other terms and conditions vital to the interests of consumers under a standard form of agreement prepared by the business operators, and to provide explanations as required by consumers; and

- not to insult or slander consumers or to search the person of, or articles carried by, a consumer or to infringe upon the personal freedom of a consumer.

Business operators may be subject to civil liabilities for failing to fulfill the obligations discussed above. These liabilities include ceasing infringement, restoring the consumer's reputation, eliminating the adverse effects suffered by the consumer, and offering an apology and compensation for any losses incurred. The following penalties may also be imposed upon business operators for the infraction of these obligations: issuance of a warning, confiscation of any illegal income, imposition of a fine, an order to cease business operation, revocation of its business license or imposition of criminal liabilities under circumstances that are specified in laws and statutory regulations.

Regulations on Environmental Protection

In February 2012, the SCNPC issued the newly amended Law of the PRC on Promoting Clean Production, which regulates service enterprises such as restaurants, entertainment establishments and hotels and requires them to use technologies and equipment that conserve energy and water, serve other environmental protection purposes, and reduce or stop the use of consumer goods that waste resources or pollute the environment.

According to the Environmental Protection Law of the PRC promulgated by the SCNPC on December 26, 1989 and last amended on April 24, 2014, the Environmental Impact Assessment Law of the PRC promulgated by the SCNPC on October 28, 2002 and last amended on December 29, 2018, and the Administrative Regulations on Environmental Protection for Construction Projects promulgated by the State Council on November 29, 1998 and amended on July 16, 2017, hotels located in environmental sensitive areas shall submit a Report Form on Environmental Impact Assessment to competent environmental protection authorities for approvals before commencing the construction. Pursuant to the Environmental Impact Assessment Law of the PRC, any hotel failing to obtain the approval of the Report/Form of Environmental Impact Assessment may be ordered to cease construction and restore the property to its original state, and according to the violation activities committed and the harmful consequences thereof, be subject to fines of no less than 1% but no more than 5% of the total investment amount for the construction project of such hotel. The person directly responsible for the project may be subject to certain administrative penalties.

Regulations on Commercial Franchising

Franchise operations are subject to the supervision and administration of the MOFCOM, and its regional counterparts. Such activities are currently regulated by the Administrative Regulations on Commercial Franchising, which was promulgated by the State Council on February 6, 2007 and became effective on May 1, 2007. The Administrative Regulations on Commercial Franchising were subsequently supplemented by the Administrative Measures on Filing of Commercial Franchises, which was newly amended and promulgated by the MOFCOM on December 12, 2011 and became effective on February 1, 2012, and the newly amended Administrative Measures on Information Disclosure of Commercial Franchises, which was promulgated by the MOFCOM on February 23, 2012 and became effective on April 1, 2012.

Under the above applicable regulations, a franchisor must have certain prerequisites including a mature business model, the capability to provide long-term business guidance and training services to franchisees and ownership of at least two self-operated storefronts that have been in operation for at least one year within China. Franchisors engaged in franchising activities without satisfying the above requirements may be subject to penalties such as forfeit of illegal income and imposition of fines between RMB100,000 and RMB500,000 and may be bulletined by the MOFCOM or its local counterparts. Franchise contracts shall include certain required provisions, such as terms, termination rights and payments.

Franchisors are generally required to file franchise contracts with the MOFCOM or its local counterparts. Failure to report franchising activities may result in penalties such as fines up to RMB100,000. Such noncompliance may also be bulletined. In the first quarter of every year, franchisors are required to report to the MOFCOM or its local counterparts any franchise contracts they executed, canceled, renewed or amended in the previous year.

The term of a franchise contract shall be no less than three years unless otherwise agreed by franchisees. The franchisee is entitled to terminate the franchise contract in his sole discretion within a set period of time upon signing of the franchise contract.

Pursuant to the Administrative Measures on Information Disclosure of Commercial Franchises, 30 days prior to the execution of franchise contracts, franchisors are required to provide franchisees with copies of the franchise contracts, as well as written true and accurate basic information on matters including:

- the name, domiciles, legal representative, registered capital, scope of business and basic information relating to its commercial franchising;
- basic information relating to the registered trademark, logo, patent, know-how and business model;
- the type, amount and method of payment of franchise fees (including payment of deposit and the conditions and method of refund of deposit);
- the price and conditions for the franchisor to provide goods, service and equipment to the franchisee;
- the detailed plan, provision and implementation plan of consistent services including operational guidance, technical support and business training provided to the franchisee;
- detailed measures for guiding and supervising the operation of the franchisor;
- investment budget for all franchised hotels of the franchisee;
- the current numbers, territory and operation evaluation of the franchisees within China;
- a summary of accounting statements audited by an accounting firm and a summary of audit reports for the previous two years;
- information on any lawsuit in which the franchisor has been involved in the previous five years;
- basic information regarding whether the franchisor and its legal representative have any record of material violation; and
- other information required to be disclosed by the MOFCOM.

In the event of failure to disclose or misrepresentation, the franchisee may terminate the franchise contract and the franchisor may be fined up to RMB100,000. In addition, such noncompliance may be bulletined.

According to the Manual of Guidance on Administration for Foreign Investment Access (Edition 2008) promulgated by the MOFCOM in December 2008, if an existing foreign-invested company wishes to operate a franchise in China, it must apply to the MOFCOM or its local counterparts and must include “engaging in commercial activities by way of franchise” in its business scope.

Regulations on Intellectual Property Rights

The PRC Copyright Law, which took effect on June 1, 1991 and was subsequently amended on October 27, 2001, on February 26, 2010 and on November 11, 2020, respectively, provides that Chinese citizens, legal persons, or other organizations shall, whether published or not, own copyright in their copyrightable works, which include, among others, works of literature, art, natural science, social science, engineering technology and computer software. Copyright owners enjoy certain legal rights, including right of publication, right of authorship and right of reproduction. The Copyright Law extends copyright protection to Internet activities, products disseminated over the Internet and software products. In addition, the Copyright Law provides for a voluntary registration system administered by the China Copyright Protection Center. According to the Copyright Law, an infringer of the copyrights shall be subject to various civil liabilities, which include ceasing infringement activities, apologizing to the copyright owners and compensating the loss of copyright owner. Infringers of copyright may also be subject to fines and/or administrative or criminal liabilities in severe situations.

Pursuant to the Computer Software Protection Regulations promulgated by the State Council on June 4, 1991 and subsequently amended on December 20, 2001 and on January 30, 2013, Chinese citizens, legal persons and other organizations shall enjoy copyright on software they develop, regardless of whether the software is released publicly. Software copyright commences from the date on which the development of the software is completed. The protection period for software copyright of a legal person or other organizations shall be 50 years, concluding on December 31 of the 50th year after the software's initial release. The software copyright owner may go through the registration formalities with a software registration authority recognized by the State Council's copyright administrative department. The software copyright owner may authorize others to exercise that copyright and is entitled to receive remuneration.

Both the Trademark Law of the PRC adopted by the SCNPC on August 23, 1982 and last amended on November 1, 2019, and the Implementation Regulation of the Trademark Law of the PRC adopted by the State Council on August 3, 2002 and revised on April 29, 2014 give protection to the holders of registered trademarks and trade names. The National Intellectual Property Administration (Trademark Office) handles trademark registrations. Trademarks can be registered for a term of ten years and can be extended for another ten years if requested upon expiration of any ten-year term. Trademark license agreements must be filed with the Trademark Office.

According to the Administrative Measures on Internet Domain Names promulgated by the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology of PRC in August 24, 2017 and took effect on November 1, 2017. The registration of domain names in PRC is on a "first-apply-first-registration" basis. A domain name applicant will become the domain name holder upon the completion of the application procedure.

Pursuant to the PRC Patent Law which was promulgated by the SCNPC on March 12, 1984 and amended on August 25, 2000, on December 27, 2008 and on October 17, 2020, and its implementation rules, once a patent for an invention or utility model has been granted, unless otherwise provided by the Patent Law, no entity or individual may use the patent, patented product or patented process for production or business purposes without the authorization of the patent owner. Once a patent has been granted for a design, no entity or individual may manufacture, sell or import any product containing the patented design without the permission of the patent owner. If a patent is found to have been infringed, the infringer must, in accordance with relevant regulations, cease such infringement, take remedial action and pay damages.

Regulations on Taxation

According to the Enterprise Income Tax Law of the PRC, or the EIT Law, which was promulgated on March 16, 2007, and came into effect on January 1, 2008 and was amended by the SCNPC on February 24, 2017 and December 29, 2018, and the Implementation Regulations on the Enterprise Income Tax Law, which was promulgated by the State Council on December 6, 2007 and came into effect on January 1, 2008, and was amended by the State Council on April 23, 2019 and came into effect on the same date, a uniform income tax rate of 25% will be applied to domestic enterprises, foreign-invested enterprises. These enterprises are classified as either resident enterprises or non-resident enterprises. Besides enterprises established within the PRC, enterprises established in accordance with the laws of other judicial districts whose "de facto management bodies" are within the PRC are considered "resident enterprises" and subject to the uniform 25% enterprise income tax rate for their global income. A non-resident enterprise refers to an entity established under foreign law whose "de facto management bodies" are not within the PRC but which have an establishment or place of business in the PRC, or which do not have an establishment or place of business in the PRC but have income sourced within the PRC. An income tax rate of 10% will normally be applicable to dividends declared to or any other gains realized on the transfer of shares by non-PRC resident enterprise investors that do not have an establishment or place of business in the PRC, or that have such establishment or place of business but the relevant income is not effectively connected with the establishment or place of business, to the extent such dividends are derived from sources within the PRC.

According to the Arrangement for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and Tax Evasion between Mainland of China and Hong Kong entered into between Mainland China and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region on August 21, 2006, if the non-PRC parent company of a PRC enterprise is a Hong Kong resident which directly owns 25% or more of the equity interest of the PRC foreign-invested enterprise which pays the dividends and interests, the 10% withholding tax rate applicable under the EIT Law may be lowered to 5% for dividends and 7% for interest payments if a Hong Kong resident enterprise is determined by the competent PRC tax authority to have satisfied the relevant conditions and requirements under such Double Tax Avoidance Arrangement and other applicable laws. However, according to the Notice on the Certain Issues with Respect to the Enforcement of Dividend Provisions in Tax Treaties, which was promulgated by the State Administration of Taxation or the SAT on February 20, 2009 and which came into effect on the same date, if the relevant PRC tax authorities determine, in their discretion, that a company benefits unjustifiably from such reduced income tax rate due to a structure or arrangement that is primarily tax-driven, such PRC tax authorities may adjust the preferential tax treatment; and based on the Announcement of the Certain Issues with Respect to the “Beneficial Owner” in Tax Treaties, issued by the SAT on February 3, 2018 and effective on April 1, 2018, if an applicant’s business activities do not constitute substantive business activities, it could result in the negative determination of the applicant’s status as a “beneficial owner”, and consequently, the applicant could be precluded from enjoying the above-mentioned reduced income tax rate of 5% under the Double Tax Avoidance Arrangement.

The Provisional Regulations on Value-added Tax, which was promulgated on December 13, 1993, came into effect on January 1, 1994, and last amended on November 19, 2017, and the Detailed Implementing Rules of the Provisional Regulations on Value-added Tax, which was promulgated on December 25, 1993 and came into effect on the same date, and was amended on December 15, 2008 and October 28, 2011, came into effect on November 1, 2011 set out that all taxpayers selling goods or providing processing, repairing or replacement services, sales of services, intangible assets and immovable assets and importing goods in China shall pay a value-added tax.

On November 19, 2017, the State Council promulgated the Decisions on Abolishing the Provisional Regulations of the PRC on Business Tax and Amending the Provisional Regulations of the PRC on Value-added Tax, according to which, all enterprises and individuals engaged in the sale of goods, the provision of processing, repair and replacement services, sales of services, intangible assets, real property and the importation of goods within the territory of the PRC are the taxpayers of value-added tax. The value-added tax rates generally applicable are simplified as 17%, 11%, 6% and 0%, and the value-added tax rate applicable to the small-scale taxpayers is 3%. According to the Notice of the Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation on Adjusting Value-added Tax Rates issued on April 4, 2018 and became effective on May 1, 2018, the deduction rates of 17% and 11% applicable to the taxpayers who have value added tax, taxable sales activities, or imported goods are adjusted to 16% and 10%, respectively. According to the Announcement on Policies for Deepening the Value-added Tax Reform issued by the Ministry of Finance, the SAT and the General Administration of Customs on March 20, 2019 and became effective on April 1, 2019, the value added tax rate was reduced to 13% and 9%, respectively.

Regulations on Offline Distribution of Publications

On January 2, 1997, the State Council of the PRC promulgated the Administrative Regulations on Publishing which was last amended on November 29, 2020. On May 31, 2016, the State Administration of Press, Publication, Radio, Film and MOFCOM jointly issued the Administrative Provisions on the Publication Market, which was effective as of June 1, 2016. According to these regulations, the activities of publication distribution, including publication wholesale or retail activities, which shall be carried with the publication operation license. Without licensing, such entity or individual may be ordered to cease illegal acts by the competent administrative department of publication and SAIC, be subject to confiscation of publication, any illegal income and special tools and equipment for illegal activities, and be concurrently subject to a fine.

Regulations on Foreign Currency Exchange

The principal regulations governing foreign currency exchange in China are the Foreign Exchange Control Regulations of the PRC promulgated by the State Council, as amended on August 5, 2008, or the Foreign Exchange Regulations. Under the Foreign Exchange Regulations, the RMB is freely convertible for current account items, including goods, services, gains and transaction items, but not for capital account items, such as capital transfers, direct investments, investment in securities, derivatives and loans, unless the prior approval of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange, or the SAFE, is obtained and prior registration with the SAFE is made.

The Circular on Reforming the Management Method regarding the Settlement of Foreign Exchange Capital of Foreign-invested Enterprises (“Circular 19”), promulgated on March 30, 2015 and last amended on December 30, 2019, allows foreign-invested enterprises to make equity investments by using RMB funds converted from foreign exchange capital. Under the Circular 19, the foreign exchange capital in the capital account of foreign-invested enterprises upon the confirmation of rights and interests of monetary contribution by the local foreign exchange bureau (or the book-entry registration of monetary contribution by the banks) can be settled at the banks based on the actual operation needs of the enterprises. The proportion of willingness-based foreign exchange settlement of capital for foreign-invested enterprises is temporarily set at 100%. The SAFE can adjust such proportion in due time based on the circumstances of the international balance of payments. However, the Circular 19 and the Circular on Reforming and Regulating the Management Policies on the Settlement of Capital Projects continues to prohibit foreign-invested enterprises from, among other things, using RMB fund converted from its foreign exchange capitals for expenditure beyond its business scope, investment and financing in securities and other investments except for bank's principal-secured products, providing loans to non-affiliated enterprises or constructing or purchasing real estate not for self-use.

On October 23, 2019, the SAFE promulgated the Circular on Further Promoting the Facilitation of Cross-border Trade and Investment ("Circular 28"). Pursuant to Circular 28, on the basis of allowing investment-oriented foreign-invested enterprise (including foreign-invested investment companies, foreign-invested venture capital enterprises and foreign-invested equity investment enterprises) to use capital funds for domestic equity investment in accordance with laws and regulations, non-investment foreign-invested enterprises shall be allowed to use capital funds for domestic equity investment in accordance with the laws under the premise of not violating the Negative List and the authenticity and compliance of their domestic invested projects.

According to the Circular on Optimizing Administration of Foreign Exchange to Support the Development of Foreign-related Business issued by the SAFE on April 10, 2020, eligible enterprises are allowed to make domestic payments by using their capital funds, foreign credits and the income under capital accounts of overseas listing, with no need to provide the evidentiary materials concerning authenticity of such capital for banks in advance, provided that their capital use shall be authentic and in line with provisions, and conform to the prevailing administrative regulations on the use of income under capital accounts. The concerned bank shall conduct spot checking in accordance with the relevant requirements.

On December 25, 2006, the People's Bank of China issued the Administration Measures on Individual Foreign Exchange Control and its Implementation Rules were issued by the SAFE on January 5, 2007, both of which became effective on February 1, 2007. The Implementation Rules was later amended on May 29, 2016. Under these regulations, all foreign exchange matters involved in the employee stock ownership plan, stock option plan and other similar plans, participated by onshore individuals shall be transacted upon approval from the SAFE or its authorized branch. On February 15, 2012, the SAFE promulgated the Notice on Relevant Issues Concerning Foreign Exchange Control on Domestic Individuals Participating in the Stock Incentive Plan of An Overseas Listed Company, or Circular 7, to replace the Operating Procedures for Administration of Domestic Individuals Participating in the Employee Stock Option Plan or Stock Option Plan of An Overseas Listed Company. Under Circular 7, the board members, supervisors, officers or other employees, including PRC citizens and foreigners having lived within the territory of the PRC successively for at least one year of a PRC entity, who participate in stock incentive plans or stock option plans by an overseas publicly listed company, or the PRC participants, are required, through a PRC agent or PRC subsidiaries of such overseas publicly-listed company, to complete certain foreign exchange registration procedures with respect to the plans upon the examination by, and approval of, the SAFE. We and our PRC participants who have been granted stock options are subject to Circular 7. If our PRC participants who hold such options or our PRC subsidiary fail to comply with these regulations, such participants and their PRC employer may be subject to fines and legal sanctions.

Regulations on Foreign Investment

The SCNPC enacted the Foreign Investment Law of the PRC on March 15, 2019 and the State Council promulgated the Implementation Regulations of Foreign Investment Law of the PRC on December 26, 2019, both of which came into force on January 1, 2020. On December 30, 2019, the MOFCOM and the SAMR jointly promulgated the Measures on Reporting of Foreign Investment Information, which also became effective on January 1, 2020. Under these laws and regulations, foreign investors or foreign-invested enterprises shall report and update investment information to the competent department for commerce through the Enterprise Registration System and the National Enterprise Credit Information Publicity System. Any foreign investor or foreign-invested company found to be non-compliant with these reporting obligations may potentially be subject to fines and legal sanctions.

The Foreign Investment Law of the PRC, together with its Implementation Regulations replaced, in their entirety, the trio of previous laws regulating foreign investment in China, namely, the Sino-foreign Equity Joint Venture Enterprise Law, the Sino-foreign Cooperative Joint Venture Enterprise Law and the Wholly Foreign-invested Enterprise Law, together with their implementation rules and ancillary regulations. Generally speaking, the Company Law of the PRC or the Partnership Law of the PRC (promulgated by the SCNPC in February 1997 and amended in August 2006) shall apply with respect to the organization of foreign-invested enterprises.

Regulations on Dividend Distribution

The principal regulations governing distribution of dividends of foreign-invested enterprises include the Company Law of the PRC (the “Company Law”).

Under the Company Law, companies shall contribute 10% of the profits into their statutory surplus reserve upon distribution of their post-tax profits of the current year. A company may discontinue the contribution when the aggregate sum of the statutory surplus reserve is more than 50% of its registered capital.

Regulations on Offshore Financing

On October 21, 2005, the SAFE issued Notice on Relevant Issues Concerning Foreign Exchange Control on Domestic Residents’ Corporate Financing and Roundtrip Investment through Offshore Special Purpose Vehicles, or Circular 75, which became effective as of November 1, 2005. Under Circular 75, if PRC residents use assets or equity interests in their PRC entities as capital contributions to establish offshore special-purpose companies directly or indirectly controlled by such PRC residents to carry out equity financing overseas and through special-purpose companies to carry out direct investment activities in China, they are required to register with local SAFE branches with respect to their overseas investments in offshore companies and roundtrip investment. PRC residents are also required to file amendments to their registrations if their offshore companies experience material events involving capital variation, such as changes in share capital, share transfers, mergers and acquisitions, spin-off transactions, long-term equity or debt investments or uses of assets in China to guarantee offshore obligations.

Moreover, Circular 75 applies retroactively. As a result, PRC residents who have established or acquired control of offshore companies that have made onshore investments in the PRC in the past were required to complete the relevant registration procedures with the local SAFE branch by March 31, 2006. Under the relevant rules, failure to comply with the registration procedures set forth in Circular 75 may result in restrictions being imposed on the foreign exchange activities of the relevant onshore company, including the increase of its registered capital, the payment of dividends and other distributions to its offshore parent or affiliate and the capital inflow from the offshore entity, and may also subject relevant PRC residents to penalties under PRC foreign exchange administration regulations. PRC residents who control our company are required to register periodically with the SAFE in connection with their investments in us.

The SAFE issued a series of guidelines to its local branches with respect to the operational process for SAFE registration, including the Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Further Improving and Adjusting Foreign Exchange Administration Policies for Direct Investment, or Circular 59, which came into effect as of December 17, 2012 and last amended on May 4, 2018. The guidelines standardized more specific and stringent supervision on the registration required by Circular 75. For example, the guidelines impose obligations on onshore subsidiaries of an offshore entity to make true and accurate statements to the local SAFE authorities in case any shareholder or beneficial owner of the offshore entity is a PRC citizen or resident. Untrue statements by the onshore subsidiaries will lead to potential liability for the subsidiaries, and in some instances, for their legal representatives and other individuals.

On July 4, 2014, the SAFE issued the Circular of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Relevant Issues concerning Foreign Exchange Administration of the Overseas Investment and Financing and Round-trip Investments by Domestic Residents through Special Purpose Vehicles, or Circular 37, which became effective and suspended Circular 75 on the same date, and Circular 37 shall prevail over any other inconsistency between itself and relevant regulations promulgated previously. Pursuant to Circular 37, any PRC residents, including both PRC institutions and individual residents, are required to register with the local branch of the SAFE before making a contribution to an enterprise directly established or indirectly controlled by the PRC residents outside of the PRC for the purpose of overseas investment or financing with their legally owned domestic or offshore assets or equity interests, referred to in this circular as a “special purpose vehicle”. Under Circular 37, the term “PRC institutions” refers to entities with legal person status or other economic organizations established within the territory of the PRC. The term “PRC individual residents” includes all PRC citizens (also including PRC citizens abroad) and foreigners who habitually reside in the PRC for economic benefit. A registered special purpose vehicle is required to amend its SAFE registration with respect to such vehicle in connection with any change of basic information including PRC individual resident shareholder, name, term of operation, or PRC individual resident’s increase or decrease of capital, transfer or exchange of shares, merger, division or other material changes. In addition, if a non-listed special purpose vehicle grants any equity incentives to directors, supervisors or employees of domestic companies under its direct or indirect control, the relevant PRC individual residents could register with the local branch of the SAFE before exercising such options. The SAFE simultaneously issued guidance to its local branches with respect to the implementation of Circular 37. Under Circular 37, failure to comply with the foreign exchange registration procedures may result in restrictions being imposed on the foreign exchange activities of the relevant onshore company, including restrictions on the payment of dividends and other distributions to its offshore parent company and the capital inflow from the offshore entity, and may also subject the relevant PRC residents and onshore company to penalties under the PRC foreign exchange administration regulations.

On September 14, 2015, the National Development and Reform Commission issued the Circular of the National Development and Reform Commission on Promoting the Administrative Reform of the Record-filing and Registration System for the Issuance of Foreign Debts by Enterprises to remove the quota review and approval system for the issuance of foreign debts (including bonds and loans for more than 1 year) by enterprises, reform and innovate the ways that foreign debts are managed, and implement the administration of record-filing and the registration system.

Regulations on Merger and Acquisition and Overseas Listing

On August 8, 2006, six PRC regulatory agencies, including the China Securities Regulatory Commission, or the CSRC, adopted the Regulations on Mergers of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors, or the M&A Rules, which became effective on September 8, 2006 and was amended on June 22, 2009. Foreign investors shall comply with the M&A Rules when they purchase equity interests of a domestic company or subscribe the increased capital of a domestic company, and thus changing the nature of the domestic company into a foreign-invested enterprise; or when the foreign investors establish a foreign-invested enterprise in the PRC, through which to purchase the assets of a domestic company and operate the assets; or when the foreign investors purchase the asset of a domestic company, establish a foreign-invested enterprise by injecting such assets and operate the assets. The M&A Rules purport, among other things, to require offshore special purpose vehicles formed for overseas listing purposes through acquisitions of PRC domestic companies and controlled by PRC companies or individuals who also control such PRC domestic companies, to obtain the approval of CSRC prior to publicly listing their securities on an overseas stock exchange.

Regulation on Security Review

In August 2011, the MOFCOM promulgated the Rules of Ministry of Commerce on Implementation of Security Review System of Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors, or the MOFCOM Security Review Rule, which came into effect on September 1, 2011, to implement the Notice of the General Office of the State Council on Establishing the Security Review System for Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors promulgated on February 3, 2011. Under these regulations, a security review is required for foreign investors’ mergers and acquisitions having “national defense and security” implications and mergers and acquisitions by which foreign investors may acquire “de facto control” of domestic enterprises having “national security” implications. In addition, when deciding whether a specific merger or acquisition of a domestic enterprise by foreign investors is subject to a security review, the MOFCOM will look into the substance and actual impact of the transaction. The MOFCOM Security Review Rule further prohibits foreign investors from bypassing the security review requirement by structuring transactions through proxies, trusts, indirect investments, leases, loans, control through contractual arrangements or offshore transactions.

On December 19, 2020, the NDRC and MOFCOM promulgated the Measures for the Security Review of Foreign Investments which became effective on January 18, 2021. Under the Security Review of Foreign Investments, for foreign investments that affect or may affect national security, security review shall be conducted by the office led by NDRC and MOFCOM. For the purpose of these Measures, the term “foreign investment” refers to the investment activities carried out by foreign investors directly or indirectly within the territory of the PRC, including the following circumstances:

- where foreign investors invest, solely or jointly with other investors, in new projects or establishing enterprises in the PRC;
- where foreign investors acquire equity or assets of domestic enterprises by way of merger and acquisition; or
- where foreign investors make investments in the PRC in any other form.

Regulation on Information Protection on Networks

On December 28, 2012, SCNPC issued Decision of the Standing Committee of the National People’s Congress on Strengthening Information Protection on Networks, pursuant to which network service providers and other enterprises and institutions shall, when gathering and using electronic personal information of citizens in business activities, publish their collection and use rules and adhere to the principles of legality, rationality and necessarily, explicitly state the purposes, manners and scopes of collecting and using information, and obtain the consent of those from whom information is collected, and shall not collect and use information in violation of laws and regulations and the agreement between both sides; and the network service providers and other enterprises and institutions and their personnel must strictly keep such information confidential and may not divulge, alter, damage, sell, or illegally provide others with such information.

On July 16, 2013, the Ministry of Industry and Information Technology, or the MIIT, issued the Provisions on the Protection of Personal Information of Telecommunication and Internet User, which was effective on September 1, 2013. The requirements under this order are stricter and wider compared to the above decision issued by the National People’s Congress. According to the provisions, if a network service provider wishes to collect or use personal information, it may do so only if such collection is necessary for the services it provides. Furthermore, it must disclose to its users the purpose, method and scope of any such collection or usage, and must obtain consent from the users whose information is being collected or used. Network service providers are also required to establish and publish their protocols relating to personal information collection or usage, keep any collected information strictly confidential and take technological and other measures to maintain the security of such information. Network service providers are required to cease any collection or usage of the relevant personal information, and provide services for the users to de-register the relevant user account, when a user stops using the relevant Internet service. Network service providers are further prohibited from divulging, distorting or destroying any such personal information, or selling or providing such personal information unlawfully to other parties. In addition, if a network service provider appoints an agent to undertake any marketing or technical services that involve the collection or usage of personal information, the network service provider is required to supervise and manage the protection of the information. The provisions state, in broad terms, that violators may face warnings, fines, public exposure and, criminal liability whereas the case constitutes a crime.

On June 1, 2017, the Cybersecurity Law of the PRC promulgated in November, 2016 by SCNPC became effective. This law also absorbed and restated the principles and requirements mentioned in the aforesaid decision and order, and further provides that, where an individual finds any network operator collects or uses his or her personal information in violation of the provisions of any law, regulation or the agreement of both parties, the individual shall be entitled to request the network operator to delete his or her personal information; if the individual finds that his or her personal information collected or stored by the network operator has any error, he or she shall be entitled to request the network operator to make corrections, and the network operator shall take measures to do so. Pursuant to this law, the violators may be subject to: (i) warning; (ii) confiscation of illegal gains and fines equal to one to ten times of the illegal gains; or if without illegal gains, fines up to RMB1,000,000; or (iii) an order to shut down the website, suspend the business operation for rectification, or revoke business license. Besides, responsible persons may be subject to fines between RMB10,000 and RMB100,000.

In August 2021, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress officially promulgated the Personal Information Protection Law, which came into effect from November 1, 2021. The Personal Information Protection Law provides detailed rules on handling personal information and legal responsibilities, including but not limited to the scope of personal information and the ways of processing personal information, the establishment of rules for processing personal information, and the individual's rights and the processor's obligations in the processing of personal information. The Personal Information Protection Law also strengthens the punishment for those who illegally process personal information.

On December 28, 2021, the CAC and 12 other relevant PRC government authorities published the amended Cybersecurity Review Measures, which came into effect on February 15, 2022 and supersede and replace the current Cybersecurity Review Measures previously promulgated on April 13, 2020. The final Cybersecurity Review Measures provide that the purchase of network products and services by a "critical information infrastructure operator" (the "CIIO") and the data processing activities of a "network platform operator" that affect or may affect national security shall be subject to the cybersecurity review.

Where the purchase of network products and services by a CIIO affects or may affect national security, the CIIO shall notify the Cybersecurity Review Office, which is under the CAC, and a cybersecurity review shall be conducted pursuant to the Cybersecurity Review Measures. Furthermore, if a "network platform operator" that possesses personal information of more than one million users and seeks a listing in a foreign country must apply for a cybersecurity review with the Cybersecurity Review Office. According to the final Cybersecurity Review Measures, the term "network products and services" mainly refers to core network equipment, high performance computers and servers, large-capacity storage devices, large-capacity databases and application software, network security equipment, cloud computing services, and other network products and services that have a significant impact on critical information infrastructure security, cybersecurity and data security. Under the Cybersecurity Law, where CIIOs use network products or services that have neither been reviewed for security, nor passed the cybersecurity review, they shall be ordered by the relevant competent departments to stop using such products or services, and a fine of no less than one, but no more than ten times the purchase amount shall be imposed. As for the persons in charge directly or otherwise are directly responsible, a fine of no less than RMB 10,000 but no more than RMB 100,000 shall be imposed. As of the date of this prospectus, we have not received any notice from the CAC which identifies us as a CIIO under the Cybersecurity Review Measures.

Regulations on Employee Share Option Plans

Pursuant to the Notice of Issues Related to the Foreign Exchange Administration for Domestic Individuals Participating in Stock Incentive Plan of Overseas Listed Company, or SAFE Circular 7, issued by the SAFE in February 2012, employees, directors, supervisors, and other senior management participating in any share incentive plan of an overseas publicly-listed company who are PRC citizens or non-PRC citizens residing in China for a continuous period of not less than one year, subject to a few exceptions, are required to register with SAFE through a domestic qualified agent, which may be a PRC subsidiary of such overseas listed company, and complete certain other procedures. See "— Regulations on Foreign Currency Exchange."

In addition, the SAT has issued certain circulars concerning employee share options and restricted shares. Under these circulars, employees working in the PRC who exercise share options or are granted restricted shares will be subject to PRC individual income tax. The PRC subsidiaries of an overseas listed company are obligated to file documents related to employee share options and restricted shares with relevant tax authorities and to withhold individual income taxes of employees who exercise their share option or purchase restricted shares. If the employees fail to pay or the PRC subsidiaries fail to withhold income tax in accordance with relevant laws and regulations, the PRC subsidiaries may face sanctions imposed by the tax authorities or other PRC governmental authorities.

Regulations on Employment and Social Insurance

The PRC Labor Contract Law promulgated by PRC Congress in 2007 and amended in December 2012, and its implementation rules issued by the State Council in 2008, require employers to provide written contracts to their employees, restrict the use of temporary workers and aim to give employees long-term job security. Violations of the PRC Labor Law and the PRC Labor Contract Law may result in fines and other administrative sanctions, and serious violations may result in criminal liabilities.

The PRC governmental authorities have passed a variety of laws and regulations regarding social insurance and housing funds from time to time, including, among others, the PRC Social Insurance Law, the Regulation of Insurance for Labor Injury, the Regulations of Insurance for Unemployment and the Provisional Insurance Measures for Maternal Employees. Pursuant to these laws and regulations, PRC companies must make contributions at specified levels for their employees to the relevant local social insurance and housing fund authorities. Failure to comply with such laws and regulations may result in various fines and legal sanctions and supplemental contributions to the local social insurance and housing fund regulatory authorities.

Regulations on Advertising

According to Advertising Law of the PRC, or Advertising Law, which was promulgated by NPCSC on October 27, 1994 and amended on September 1, 2015, October 26, 2018 and April 29, 2021, advertisements shall not contain any false or misleading information, and shall not deceive or mislead consumers. Advertisers, advertising agents and advertisement publishers shall abide by the laws, regulations and the principles of justice, honesty and fair competition in carrying out advertising activities. Local administrative departments for industry and commerce at and above the county level shall take charge of the supervision and administration on advertising within their respective administrative jurisdictions. Other relevant departments of the local people's governments at and above the county level shall take charge of the advertising management-related work within their respective scope of duties. According to the Advertising Law, the use of internet to publish or distribute advertisements shall not affect the normal use of the internet by users. Advertisements published on internet pages such as pop-up advertisements shall be conspicuously marked with a closing sign to ensure one-click closure.

Regulations on Internet Platform Business

According to the Telecommunications Regulations of the PRC issued by the State Council on September 25, 2000 and was amended on July 29, 2014 and February 6, 2016, respectively, value-added telecommunications services are defined as telecommunications and information services provided through public network infrastructures and are subject to licenses prior to commencement of operations, and according to the Catalogue of Telecommunications Business (2015 Edition) attached to the Telecommunications Regulations of the PRC, value-added telecommunications services are divided into two categories, class I value-added telecommunication services and class II value-added telecommunication services. On July 3, 2017, the MIIT issued the revised Administrative Measures for the Licensing of Telecommunications Business, or the Telecom License Measures, which became effective on September 1, 2017, to supplement the Telecom Regulations. The Telecom License Measures require that an operator of value-added telecommunications services obtain a VATs License from the MIIT or its provincial level counterparts. The term of a VATs License is five years and the license holder is subject to annual inspection.

An e-commerce operator shall obtain a license for value-added telecommunications services with the specification of online data processing and transaction processing business from appropriate telecommunications authorities, pursuant to the Telecommunications Regulations and the Catalog of Telecommunications Services.

On February 7, 2021, the State Administration for Market Regulation, or the SAMR, promulgated Guidelines to Anti-Monopoly in the Field of Platform Economy, or the Anti-Monopoly Guidelines for Platform Economy. The Anti-Monopoly Guidelines for Platform Economy provides operational standards and guidelines for identifying certain internet platforms' abuse of market dominant position which are prohibited to restrict unfair competition and safeguard users' interests, including without limitation, prohibiting personalized pricing using big data and analytics, selling products below cost without reasonable causes, actions or arrangements seen as exclusivity arrangements, using technology means to block competitors' interface, using bundle services to sell services or products. In addition, internet platforms' compulsory collection of user data may be viewed as abuse of dominant market position that may have the effect to eliminate or restrict competition.

On August 31, 2018, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the E-commerce Law, which came into effect on January 1, 2019. The E-commerce Law imposes a series of requirements on e-commerce operators including e-commerce platform operators, merchants operating on the platform and the individuals and entities carrying out business online.

According to the Measures for the Investigation and Treatment of Internet Food Safety Violations promulgated by China Food and Drug Administration on July 13, 2016, which became effective on October 1, 2016 and was amended on June 1, 2021, China Food and Drug Administration is responsible for supervising and guiding the investigation and treatment of Internet food safety violations nationwide, and local food and drug supervision and administration departments at or above the county level are responsible for their administrative areas Internal network food safety violations investigation. Food producers and distributors who engage in food trade on their own network platform should also file with the food and drug administration at or above the county level to get the record number.

Employment Agreements and Indemnification Agreements

We have entered into employment agreements with each of our executive officers. Each of our executive officers is employed for an indefinite term, unless terminated pursuant to the terms of the agreements or as mutually agreed by the parties thereto. We may terminate an executive officer's employment for cause at any time without advance notice in certain events. We may terminate an executive officer's employment by giving a prior written notice or by paying certain unpaid compensation. An executive officer may terminate his or her employment at any time by giving a prior written notice.

Each executive officer has agreed to hold, unless expressly consented to by us, at all times during and after the termination of his or her employment agreement, in strict confidence and not to use, any of our confidential information or the confidential information of our customers and suppliers. In addition, each executive officer has agreed to be bound by certain non-competition and non-solicitation restrictions during the term of his or her employment and for a specific period of time following the last date of employment.

We have also entered into indemnification agreements with each of our directors and executive officers. Under these agreements, we agree to indemnify our directors and executive officers against certain liabilities and expenses incurred by such persons in connection with claims made by reason of their being a director or officer of our company.

Board of Directors

Our board of directors will consist of nine directors, including three independent directors, namely Can Wang, Chao Zhang and Cong Lin, upon the SEC's declaration of effectiveness of our registration statement on Form F-1 to which this prospectus forms a part. A director is not required to hold any shares in our company to qualify to serve as a director. The Corporate Governance Rules of the Nasdaq generally require that a majority of an issuer's board of directors must consist of independent directors. However, the Corporate Governance Rules of the Nasdaq permit foreign private issuers like us to follow "home country practice" in certain corporate governance matters. We rely on this "home country practice" exception and do not have a majority of independent directors serving on our board of directors.

A director who is in any way, whether directly or indirectly, interested in a contract or proposed contract with our company is required to declare the nature of his or her interest at a meeting of our directors. A general notice given to the directors by any director to the effect that he or she is a member, shareholder, director, partner, officer or employee of any specified company or firm and is to be regarded as interested in any contract or transaction with that company or firm shall be deemed a sufficient declaration of interest for the purposes of voting on a resolution in respect to a contract or transaction in which he/she has an interest, and after such general notice it shall not be necessary to give special notice relating to any particular transaction. A director may vote in respect of any contract or proposed contract or arrangement notwithstanding that he/she may be interested therein and if he/she does so, his/her vote shall be counted and he/she may be counted in the quorum at any meeting of the directors at which any such contract or proposed contract or arrangement is considered. Our board of directors may exercise all of the powers of our company to borrow money, to mortgage or charge its undertaking, property and uncalled capital, or any part thereof, and to issue debentures, debenture stock or other securities whenever money is borrowed or as security for any debt, liability or obligation of our company or of any third party. None of our directors has a service contract with us that provides for benefits upon termination of service as a director.

Committees of the Board of Directors

We intend to establish an audit committee, a compensation committee and a nominating and corporate governance committee under our board of directors immediately and adopt a charter for each of the three committees upon the effectiveness of our registration statement on Form F-1, of which this prospectus is a part. Each committee's members and functions are described below.

Audit Committee. Our audit committee will consist of Can Wang, Cong Lin and Chao Zhang, and is chaired by Can Wang. We have determined that each of Can Wang, Cong Lin and Chao Zhang satisfies the requirements of Section 303A of the Corporate Governance Rules of the Nasdaq and meet the independence standards under Rule 10A-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. We have determined that Can Wang qualifies as an "audit committee financial expert." The audit committee oversees our accounting and financial reporting processes and the audits of the financial statements of our company. The audit committee is responsible for, among other things:

- reviewing and recommending to our board for approval, the appointment, re-appointment or removal of the independent auditor, after considering its annual performance evaluation of the independent auditor;
- approving the remuneration and terms of engagement of the independent auditor and pre-approving all auditing and non-auditing services permitted to be performed by our independent auditors;
- obtaining a written report from our independent auditor describing matters relating to its independence and quality control procedures;
- reviewing with the independent registered public accounting firm any audit problems or difficulties and management's response;
- discussing with our independent auditor, among other things, the audits of the financial statements, including whether any material information should be disclosed, issues regarding accounting and auditing principles and practices;
- reviewing and approving all proposed related party transactions, as defined in Item 7 of Form 20-F;
- reviewing and recommending the financial statements for inclusion within our quarterly earnings releases and to our board for inclusion in our annual reports;
- discussing the annual audited financial statements with management and the independent registered public accounting firm;
- reviewing the adequacy and effectiveness of our accounting and internal control policies and procedures and any special steps taken to monitor and control major financial risk exposures;
- periodically, reviewing and reassessing the adequacy of the committee charter;
- at least annually, approving annual audit plans, and undertaking an annual performance evaluation of the internal audit function;
- overseeing and evaluating the handling of complaints and whistleblowing;
- meeting separately and periodically with management and the independent registered public accounting firm;
- monitoring compliance with our code of business conduct and ethics, including reviewing the adequacy and effectiveness of our procedures to ensure proper compliance; and
- reporting regularly to the board.

Compensation Committee. Our compensation committee will consist of Haijun Wang, Can Wang and Chao Zhang and is chaired by Haijun Wang. We have determined that each of Can Wang and Chao

Zhang satisfies the “independence” requirements of Section 303A of the Corporate Governance Rules of the Nasdaq. The compensation committee assists the board in reviewing and approving the compensation structure, including all forms of compensation, relating to our directors and executive officers. Our chief executive officer may not be present at any committee meeting during which their compensation is deliberated upon. The compensation committee is responsible for, among other things:

- overseeing the development and implementation of compensation programs in consultation with our management;
- reviewing and approving, or recommending to the board for its approval, the compensation for our executive officers;
- reviewing periodically and submitting for board’s approval of any equity incentive plans, programs or other similar arrangements;
- overseeing our regulatory compliance with respect to compensation matters, including our policies on restrictions on compensation plans and loans to directors and executive officers;
- periodically, reviewing and reassessing the adequacy of the committee charter;
- selecting compensation consultant, legal counsel or other adviser only after taking into consideration all factors relevant to that person’s independence from management; and
- reporting regularly to the board.

Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. Our nominating and corporate governance committee will consist of Haijun Wang, Cong Lin and Chao Zhang, and is chaired by Haijun Wang. We have determined that each of Can Wang and Chao Zhang satisfies the “independence” requirements of Section 303A of the Corporate Governance Rules of the Nasdaq. The nominating and corporate governance committee assists the board in selecting individuals qualified to become our directors and in determining the composition of the board and its committees. The nominating and corporate governance committee is responsible for, among other things:

- recommending nominees to the board for election or re-election to the board, or for appointment to fill any vacancy on the board;
- reviewing periodically the current composition of the board with regards to characteristics such as issues of judgment, diversity, age, skills, background and experience;
- reviewing candidates’ qualifications for membership on the board or a committee of the board based on the criteria approved by the board;
- making recommendations to the board as to determinations of director independence;
- reviewing and reassessing the adequacy of the committee charter;
- reviewing and approving compensation (including equity-based compensation) for our directors; and
- evaluating the performance and effectiveness of the board as a whole.

Duties and Functions of Directors

Under Cayman Islands law, our directors owe fiduciary duties to our company, including a duty of loyalty, a duty to act honestly and a duty to act in what they consider in good faith to be in our best interests. Our directors must also exercise their powers only for a proper purpose. Our directors also owe to our company a duty to exercise the skill they actually possess and such care and diligence that a reasonable prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. It was previously considered that a director need not exhibit in the performance of his duties a greater degree of skill than may reasonably be expected from a person of his knowledge and experience. However, English and Commonwealth courts have moved towards an objective standard with regard to the required skill and care and these authorities are likely to be followed in the Cayman Islands. In fulfilling their duty of care to us, our directors must ensure compliance with our memorandum and articles of association, as amended and restated from time to time. Our company has the right to seek damages if a duty owed by our directors is breached. In limited exceptional circumstances, a shareholder may have the right to seek damages in our name if a duty owed by our directors is breached. In accordance with our post-offering amended and restated articles of association, the functions and powers of our board of directors include, among others, (i) convening shareholders' annual general meetings and reporting its work to shareholders at such meetings, (ii) declaring dividends, (iii) appointing officers and determining their terms of offices and responsibilities, and (iv) approving the transfer of shares of our company, including the registering of such shares in our share register. In addition, in the event of a tie vote, the chairman of our board of directors has, in addition to his personal vote, the right to cast a tie-breaking vote.

Terms of Directors and Officers

Our officers are elected by and serve at the discretion of the board. A director shall hold office until the expiration of his or her term, if applicable, or his or her successor shall have been elected and qualified, or until his or her office is otherwise vacated. A director may be removed from office by ordinary resolution of shareholders or the affirmative vote of a simple majority of the other directors present and voting at a board meeting. A director will be removed from office automatically if, among other things, the director (i) resigns by notice in writing to our company; (ii) dies, becomes bankrupt or makes any arrangement or composition with his or her creditors generally; (iii) is prohibited by any applicable law or stock exchange rules from being a director; (iv) is found to be or becomes of unsound mind; or (v) is removed from office pursuant to any other provision of our post offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association.

Interested Transactions

A director may, subject to any separate requirement for audit committee approval under applicable law or applicable Nasdaq rules, vote in respect of any contract or transaction in which he or she is interested, provided that the nature of the interest of any directors in such contract or transaction is disclosed by him or her at or prior to its consideration and any vote in that matter.

Compensation of Directors and Executive Officers

For the year ended December 31, 2021, we paid an aggregate of RMB13.1 million (US$2.1 million) in cash to our executive officers and directors. We have not set aside or accrued any amount to provide pension, retirement or other similar benefits to our directors and executive officers. Our PRC subsidiaries are required by law to make contributions equal to certain percentages of each employee's salary for his or her pension insurance, medical insurance, unemployment insurance and other statutory benefits and a housing provident fund. For share incentive grants to our directors and executive officers, see "— Share Incentive Plans."

Share Incentive Plans

2017 PRC Incentive Plan

In 2017, our PRC subsidiary Atour Shanghai adopted the 2017 Share Incentive Plan, or the 2017 PRC Plan. In 2021, we adopted the Public Company Share Incentive Plan, or the Public Company Plan, at the Cayman Islands' level in preparation for this offering, to replace the 2017 PRC Plan. Under the 2017 PRC Plan, Atour Shanghai had granted a total of 14,196,882 share based awards, representing the corresponding amount of equity interests of Atour Shanghai to certain of its officers, employees and consultants. All of the outstanding and unvested awards under the 2017 PRC Plan were replaced by the share options granted under, and governed by the terms and conditions of, the Public Company Plan in April 2021.

Public Company Plan

We adopted the Public Company Share Incentive Plan, or the Public Company Plan, in 2021 in preparation for this offering, to replace the 2017 PRC Plan. The purpose of the Public Company Plan is to recognize and reward participants for their contribution to our company, to attract suitable personnel and to provide incentives to them to remain with and further contribute to us.

Under the Public Company Plan, the maximum aggregate number of ordinary shares we are authorized to issue pursuant to equity awards granted thereunder, subject to certain adjustments pursuant to the terms thereof, is 51,029,546 Class A ordinary shares, which have been reserved for issuance pursuant to the Public Company Plan accordingly. As of the date of this prospectus, a total of 17,690,297 share options corresponding to 17,690,297 underlying Class A ordinary shares have been granted to the participants under the Public Company Plan, which include the share options granted to participants in our 2017 PRC Plan in exchange for cancellation of their outstanding awards previously granted to such participants under the 2017 PRC Plan. Pursuant to the Public Company Plan, the vesting condition for 15,994,073 share options granted thereunder will be fully satisfied upon completion of this offering.

The following paragraphs summarize the key terms of the Public Company Plan.

Types of Awards. The Public Company Plan permits the awards of options, restricted stock, restricted stock unit and other stock-based award.

Plan Administration. The Public Company Plan shall be solely administrated by the board or its compensation committee, or the Administrator, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Public Company Plan.

Eligibility. Equity awards authorized under the Public Company Plan may be granted to any key employee, and any prospective key employee, director or consultant who has accepted an offer of employment, directorship or consultancy from us or our subsidiaries, or any other individual as designated and approved by the Administrator.

Notice of Grant. Each award under the Public Company Plan shall be evidenced by an award agreement to be entered into by the grantee and our company, in such form as the Administrator may from time to time determine.

Conditions of Award. The Administrator shall determine the provisions, terms, and conditions of each award including, but not limited to, eligible participant, vesting schedule, the lock-up arrangements upon vesting and other terms and conditions that the award is subject to.

Transfer Restrictions. Unless the Administrator or our chief executive officer otherwise determines, no award and no right under any such award shall be assignable, alienable, saleable or transferable by a grantee otherwise than by will or by the laws of descent and distribution. No award and no right under any such award may be pledged, alienated, attached, or otherwise encumbered, and any purported pledge, alienation, attachment or encumbrance thereof shall be void and unenforceable against the Company.

Voting Power and Dividend Right of Shares Issued Pursuant to the Public Company Plan. Until the issuance of the shares, no grantee shall have any right to vote or receive dividends or any other rights with respect to such shares.

Amendment of the Public Company Plan. The Public Company Plan may be altered or amended in any respect by the board, except to the extent prohibited by applicable laws.

Term of the Public Company Plan. Unless otherwise determined by the Administrator, the term of the Public Company Plan shall be indefinite.

Termination of the Public Company Plan. The Public Company Plan may be suspended, discontinued or terminated by the board, except to the extent prohibited by applicable laws.

The following table summarizes, as of the date of this prospectus, the number of Class A ordinary shares under the options that we granted to our directors and executive officers:

| | Class A Ordinary Shares Underlying Equity Awards Granted | Exercise Price (US$/Share) | Date of Grant ⁽¹⁾ | Date of Expiration |

PRINCIPAL SHAREHOLDERS

The following table sets forth information concerning the beneficial ownership of our ordinary shares as of the date of this prospectus, on a pro forma basis by:

- each of our directors and executive officers; and
- each person known to us to beneficially own more than 5% of our ordinary shares.

The calculations in the table below are based on (i) 303,289,537 Class A ordinary shares and 73,680,917 Class B ordinary shares outstanding as of the date of this prospectus (ii) Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares outstanding immediately after the completion of this offering, including Class A ordinary shares to be sold by us in this offering in the form of ADSs, assuming that the underwriters do not exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs. Each holder of Class A ordinary shares is entitled to one vote per share and each holder of our Class B ordinary shares is entitled to ten votes per share on all matters submitted to them for a vote.

Beneficial ownership is determined in accordance with the rules and regulations of the SEC. In computing the number of shares beneficially owned by a person and the percentage ownership of that person, we have included shares that the person has the right to acquire within 60 days, including through the exercise of any option, warrant, or other right or the conversion of any other security. These shares, however, are not included in the computation of the percentage ownership of any other person.

Notes:

- * Less than 1% of our total outstanding shares.
-  For each person and group included in this table, percentage ownership is calculated by dividing the number of shares beneficially owned by such person or group by the sum of (i) 303,289,537 Class A ordinary shares and 73,680,917 Class B ordinary shares outstanding as of the date of this prospectus, and (ii) the number of Class A ordinary shares underlying the share options held by such person that are exercisable within 60 days after the date of this prospectus.
-  For each person and group included in this column, percentage of voting power is calculated by dividing the voting power beneficially owned by such person or group by the voting power of all of our Class A and Class B ordinary shares as a single class. Each holder of Class B ordinary shares is entitled to votes per share and each holder of Class A ordinary shares is entitled to one vote per share on all matters submitted to them for a vote. Our Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares vote together as a single class on all matters submitted to a vote of our shareholders, except as may otherwise be required by law. Our Class B ordinary shares are convertible at any time by the holder thereof into Class A ordinary shares on a one-for-one basis.

DESCRIPTION OF SHARE CAPITAL

We are an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands and our affairs are governed by our memorandum and articles of association, as amended and restated from time to time, and Companies Act (As Revised) of the Cayman Islands, which we refer to as the “Companies Act” below, and the common law of the Cayman Islands.

Our share capital is divided into ordinary shares. In respect of all of our ordinary shares we have power insofar as is permitted by law, to redeem or purchase any of our shares and to increase or reduce the share capital subject to the provisions of the Companies Act and the articles of association and to issue any shares, whether such shares be of the original, redeemed or increased capital, with or without any preference, priority or special privilege or subject to any postponement of rights or to any conditions or restrictions and so that unless the conditions of issue shall otherwise expressly declare every issue of shares whether declared to be preference or otherwise shall be subject to the powers under our memorandum and articles of association.

As of the date hereof, our authorized share capital consists of US$300,000 divided into 3,000,000,000 ordinary shares of par value US$0.0001 each, consisting of 2,900,000,000 Class A ordinary shares and 100,000,000 Class B ordinary shares of par value of US$0.0001 each. As of the date of this prospectus, there are 303,289,537 Class A ordinary shares and 73,680,917 Class B ordinary shares issued and outstanding. All of our shares issued and outstanding prior to the completion of the offering are fully paid, and all of our shares to be issued in the offering will be issued as fully paid.

We plan to adopt an amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, which will become effective and replace the current memorandum and articles of association in its entirety immediately prior to the completion of this offering. Our authorized share capital immediately prior to completion of the offering will be US$300,000 divided into 2,900,000,000 Class A ordinary shares and 100,000,000 Class B ordinary shares of a par value of US$0.0001 each. We will issue Class A ordinary shares represented by ADSs in this offering. All awards under the Public Company Plan, regardless of grant dates, will entitle holders to an equivalent number of Class A ordinary shares once the vesting and exercising conditions are met.

The following are summaries of material provisions of our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association and the Companies Act insofar as they relate to the material terms of our ordinary shares that we expect will become effective upon the closing of this offering.

Ordinary Shares

General. Immediately prior to the completion of this offering, our authorized share capital is US$300,000 divided into 2,900,000,000 Class A ordinary shares and 100,000,000 Class B ordinary shares, with a par value of US$0.0001 each. Holders of ordinary shares will have the same rights except for voting and conversion rights. All of our issued and outstanding ordinary shares are non-assessable. Certificates representing the ordinary shares are issued in registered form. We may not issue share to bearer. Our shareholders who are non-resident of the Cayman Islands may freely hold and transfer their ordinary shares.

Assuming no exercise of the over-allotment options by the underwriters, immediately following the completion of this offering, the holders of Class B ordinary shares will continue to control the outcome of a shareholder vote (i) with respect to matters requiring an ordinary resolution which requires the affirmative vote of a simple majority of shareholder votes, to the extent that the Class B ordinary shares represent at least % of our total issued and outstanding share capital; and (ii) with respect to matters requiring a special resolution which requires the affirmative vote of no less than two-thirds of shareholder votes, to the extent that the Class B ordinary shares represent at least % of our total issued and outstanding share capital. The holders of Class B ordinary shares may take actions that are not in the best interest of us or our other shareholders or holders of the ADSs. It may discourage, delay or prevent a change in control of our company, which could have the effect of depriving our other shareholders of the opportunity to receive a premium for their shares as part of a sale of our company and may reduce the price of the ADSs. This concentrated control will limit your ability to influence corporate matters and could discourage others from pursuing any potential merger, takeover or other change of control transactions that holders of Class A ordinary shares and ADSs may view as beneficial.

Future issuances of our Class B or Class A ordinary shares, which can be approved by our board of directors, could result in dilution to existing holders of our Class A ordinary shares. Such issuances, or the perception that such issuances may occur, could depress the market price of the ADSs. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to the ADSs and This Offering — Our dual-class voting structure will limit your ability to influence corporate matters and could discourage others from pursuing any change of control transactions that holders of our Class A ordinary shares and ADSs may view as beneficial.”

Conversion. Each Class B ordinary share is convertible into one Class A ordinary share at any time by the holder thereof. Class A ordinary shares are not convertible into Class B ordinary shares under any circumstances. Upon any sale, transfer, assignment, disposition, or a change of ultimate beneficial ownership of Class B ordinary shares by a holder thereof to any person who is not an Affiliate (as defined in our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association) of the holders of such ordinary shares, such Class B ordinary shares shall be automatically and immediately converted into the same number of Class A ordinary shares.

Dividends. The holders of our ordinary shares are entitled to such dividends as may be declared by our board of directors subject to our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association and the Companies Act. Our post-offering amended and restated articles of association provide that dividends may be declared and paid out of our profits, realized or unrealized, or from any reserve set aside from profits which our board of directors determine is no longer needed. Dividends may also be declared and paid out of share premium account or any other fund or account which can be authorized for this purpose in accordance with the Companies Act. No dividend may be declared and paid unless our directors determine that, immediately after the payment, we will be able to pay our debts as they become due in the ordinary course of business and we have funds lawfully available for such purpose.

Voting Rights; Meeting of Shareholders. In respect of all matters subject to a shareholders’ vote, each holder of Class A ordinary shares is entitled to one vote per share and each holder of Class B ordinary shares is entitled to ten votes per share on all matters subject to vote at our general meetings. Holders of Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares shall, at all times, vote together as one class on all matters submitted to a vote by the members at any such general meeting. Voting at any meeting of shareholders is by a poll and not a show of hands.

A quorum required for a meeting of shareholders consists of shareholders holding a majority of the votes attaching to the issued and outstanding shares entitled to vote at general meetings present in person or by proxy or, if a corporate or other non-natural person, by its duly authorized representative. As a Cayman Islands exempted company, we are not obliged by the Companies Act to call shareholders’ annual general meetings. Our post-offering memorandum and articles of association provide that we may (but are not obliged to) in each year hold a general meeting as our annual general meeting in which case we will specify the meeting as such in the notices calling it, and the annual general meeting will be held at such time and place as may be determined by our directors. We, however, will hold an annual shareholders’ meeting during each fiscal year, as required by the Listing Rules at the Nasdaq. Each general meeting, other than an annual general meeting, shall be an extraordinary general meeting. Shareholders’ annual general meetings and any other general meetings of our shareholders may be called by a majority of our board of directors or our chairman or upon a requisition of shareholders holding at the date of deposit of the requisition not less than one-third of the votes attaching to the issued and outstanding shares entitled to vote at general meetings, in which case the directors are obliged to call such meeting and to put the resolutions so requisitioned to a vote at such meeting; however, our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association do not provide our shareholders with any right to put any proposals before annual general meetings or extraordinary general meetings not called by such shareholders. Advance notice of at least seven (7) business days is required for the convening of our annual general meeting and other general meetings unless such notice is waived in accordance with our articles of association.

An ordinary resolution to be passed at a meeting by the shareholders requires the affirmative vote of a simple majority of the votes attaching to the ordinary shares cast by those shareholders entitled to vote who are present in person or by proxy at a general meeting, while a special resolution also requires the affirmative vote of no less than two-thirds of the votes attaching to the ordinary shares cast by those shareholders entitled to vote who are present in person or by proxy at a general meeting. A special resolution will be required for important matters such as a change of name or making changes to our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association.

Transfer of Ordinary Shares. Subject to the restrictions in our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association as set out below, any of our shareholders may transfer all or any of his or her ordinary shares by an instrument of transfer in the usual or common form or any other form approved by our board of directors.

Our board of directors may, in its absolute discretion, decline to register any transfer of any ordinary share which is not fully paid up or on which we have a lien. Our board of directors may also decline to register any transfer of any ordinary share unless:

- the instrument of transfer is lodged with us, accompanied by the certificate for the ordinary shares to which it relates and such other evidence as our board of directors may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer;
- the instrument of transfer is in respect of only one class of shares;
- the instrument of transfer is properly stamped, if required;
- in the case of a transfer to joint holders, the number of joint holders to whom the ordinary share is to be transferred does not exceed four;
- the shares are free from any lien in favor of the Company; and
- a fee of such maximum sum as the Nasdaq may determine to be payable or such lesser sum as our directors may from time to time require is paid to us in respect thereof.

If our directors refuse to register a transfer they shall, within five business days of such refusal, notify the transferee and provide a detailed explanation of the reason therefor.

The registration of transfers may, after compliance with any notice required of the Nasdaq, be suspended and the register closed at such times and for such periods as our board of directors may from time to time determine, provided, however, that the registration of transfers shall not be suspended nor the register closed for 30 more than days in any year as our board may determine.

Liquidation. On winding up, if the assets available for distribution amongst our shareholders shall be more than sufficient to repay the whole of the share capital at the commencement of the winding up, the surplus shall be distributed amongst our shareholders in proportion to the par value of the shares held by them at the commencement of the winding up, subject to a deduction from those shares in respect of which there are monies due, of all monies payable to our company for unpaid calls or otherwise. If our assets available for distribution are insufficient to repay all of the paid-up capital, the assets will be distributed so that the losses are borne by our shareholders in proportion to the par value of the shares held by them. Any distribution of assets or capital to a holder of ordinary share will be the same in any liquidation event.

Calls on Ordinary Shares and Forfeiture of Ordinary Shares. Our board of directors may from time to time make calls upon shareholders for any amounts unpaid on their ordinary shares in a notice served to such shareholders at least 14 days prior to the specified time of payment. The ordinary shares that have been called upon and remain unpaid are subject to forfeiture.

Redemption, Repurchase and Surrender of Ordinary Shares. We may issue shares on terms that such shares are subject to redemption, at our option or at the option of the holders thereof, on such terms and in such manner as may be determined, before the issue of such shares, by our board of directors. Our company may also repurchase any of our shares provided that the manner and terms of such purchase have been approved by our board of directors, or are otherwise authorized by our post-offering memorandum and articles of association. Under the Companies Act, the redemption or repurchase of any share may be paid out of our company's profits or out of the proceeds of a fresh issue of shares made for the purpose of such redemption or repurchase, or out of capital (including share premium account and capital redemption reserve) if the company can, immediately following such payment, pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business. In addition, under the Companies Act no such share may be redeemed or repurchased (a) unless it is fully paid up, (b) if such redemption or repurchase would result in there being no shares outstanding, or (c) if the company has commenced liquidation. In addition, our company may accept the surrender of any fully paid share for no consideration.

Variations of Rights of Shares. If at any time our share capital is divided into different classes or series of shares, the rights attached to any class or series of shares (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the shares of that class or series), whether or not our company is being wound-up, may be varied with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than a majority of the issued shares of that class or series or with the sanction of a special resolution at a separate meeting of the holders of the shares of the class or series. The rights conferred upon the holders of the shares of any class issued shall not, unless otherwise expressly provided by the terms of issue of the shares of that class, be deemed to be varied by the creation or issue of further shares ranking pari passu with such existing class of shares.

Inspection of Books and Records. Holders of our ordinary shares have no general right under Cayman Islands law to inspect our corporate records (other than the memorandum and articles of association, special resolutions which have been passed by our shareholders, our register of mortgages and charges, and a list of our current directors) or obtain copies of our list of shareholders. However, we will provide our shareholders with annual audited financial statements. See “Where You Can Find Additional Information.”

Issuance of Additional Shares. Our post-offering amended and restated memorandum of association authorizes our board of directors to issue additional ordinary shares from time to time as our board of directors shall determine, to the extent of available authorized but unissued shares.

Our post-offering amended and restated memorandum of association also authorizes our board of directors to establish from time to time one or more series of preferred shares and to determine, with respect to any series of preferred shares, the terms and rights of that series, including:

- the designation of the series;
- the number of shares of the series;
- the dividend rights, dividend rates, conversion rights, voting rights; and
- the rights and terms of redemption and liquidation preferences.

Our board of directors may issue preferred shares without action by our shareholders to the extent authorized but unissued. Issuance of these shares may dilute the voting power of holders of ordinary shares.

Anti-Takeover Provisions. Some provisions of our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association may discourage, delay or prevent a change of control of our company or management that shareholders may consider favorable, including provisions that authorize our board of directors to issue preferred shares in one or more series and to designate the price, rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions of such preferred shares without any further vote or action by our shareholders or limit the ability of shareholders to requisition and convene general meetings of shareholders.

However, under Cayman Islands law, our directors may only exercise the rights and powers granted to them under our post-offering memorandum and articles of association for a proper purpose and for what they believe in good faith to be in the best interests of our company.

Exempted Company. We are an exempted company with limited liability under the Companies Act. The Companies Act distinguishes between ordinary resident companies and exempted companies. Any company that is registered in the Cayman Islands but conducts business mainly outside of the Cayman Islands may apply to be registered as an exempted company. The requirements for an exempted company are essentially the same as for an ordinary company except that an exempted company:

- does not have to file an annual return of its shareholders with the Registrar of Companies;
- is not required to open its register of members for inspection;

- does not have to hold an annual general meeting;
- may issue shares or shares with no par value;
- may obtain an undertaking against the imposition of any future taxation (such undertakings are usually given for 20 years in the first instance);
- may register by way of continuation in another jurisdiction and be deregistered in the Cayman Islands;
- may register as a limited duration company; and
- may register as a segregated portfolio company.

“Limited liability” means that the liability of each shareholder is limited to the amount unpaid by the shareholder on that shareholder’s shares of the company.

Exclusive Forum. Without limiting the jurisdiction of the Cayman courts to hear, settle and/or determine disputes related to our company, the courts of the Cayman Islands shall be the sole and exclusive forum for (i) any derivative action or proceeding brought on behalf of our company, (ii) any action asserting a claim of breach of a fiduciary duty owed by any director, officer, or other employee of our company to our company or the members, (iii) any action asserting a claim arising pursuant to any provision of the Companies Act or our articles of association including but not limited to any purchase or acquisition of shares, security, or guarantee provided in consideration thereof, or (iv) any action asserting a claim against our company which if brought in the United States of America would be a claim arising under the internal affairs doctrine (as such concept is recognized under the laws of the United States from time to time).

Unless we consent in writing to the selection of an alternative forum, federal courts of the United States of America shall have exclusive jurisdiction within the United States for the resolution of any complaint asserting a cause of action arising out of or relating in any way to the federal securities laws of the United States, including those arising from the Securities Act and the Exchange Act, regardless of whether such legal suit, action, or proceeding also involves parties other than our company. Any person or entity purchasing or otherwise acquiring any share or other securities in our company shall be deemed to have notice of and consented to the provisions of our articles of association.

Register of Members

Under the Companies Act, we must keep a register of members and there should be entered therein:

- the names and addresses of our members, together with a statement of the shares held by each member, and such statement shall confirm (i) the amount paid or agreed to be considered as paid, on the shares of each member, (ii) the number and category of shares held by each member, and (iii) whether each relevant category of shares held by a member carries voting rights under the articles of association of our company, and if so, whether such voting rights are conditional;
- the date on which the name of any person was entered on the register as a member; and
- the date on which any person ceased to be a member.

Under the Companies Act, the register of members of our company is prima facie evidence of the matters set out therein (that is, the register of members will raise a presumption of fact on the matters referred to above unless rebutted) and a member registered in the register of members is deemed as a matter of the Companies Act to have legal title to the shares as set against its name in the register of members. Upon completion of this offering, we will perform the procedure necessary to immediately update the register of members to record and give effect to the issuance of shares by us to the Depositary (or its nominee) as the depositary. Once our register of members has been updated, the shareholders recorded in the register of members will be deemed to have legal title to the shares set against their name.

If the name of any person is incorrectly entered in or omitted from our register of members, or if there is any default or unnecessary delay in entering on the register the fact of any person having ceased to be a member of our company, the person or member aggrieved (or any member of our company or our company itself) may apply to the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands for an order that the register be rectified, and the Court may either refuse such application or it may, if satisfied of the justice of the case, make an order for the rectification of the register.

Differences in Corporate Law

The Companies Act is derived, to a large extent, from the older Companies Acts of England, but does not follow many recent English law statutory enactments. In addition, the Companies Act differs from laws applicable to United States corporations and their shareholders. Set forth below is a summary of the significant differences between the provisions of the Companies Act applicable to us and the laws applicable to companies incorporated in the State of Delaware.

Mergers and Similar Arrangements. The Companies Act permits mergers and consolidations between Cayman Islands companies and between Cayman Islands companies and non-Cayman Islands companies. For these purposes, (a) “merger” means the merging of two or more constituent companies and the vesting of their undertaking, property and liabilities in one of such companies as the surviving company, and (b) a “consolidation” means the combination of two or more constituent companies into a consolidated company and the vesting of the undertaking, property and liabilities of such companies to the consolidated company. In order to effect such a merger or consolidation, the directors of each constituent company must approve a written plan of merger or consolidation, which must then be authorized by (a) a special resolution of the shareholders of each constituent company, and (b) such other authorization, if any, as may be specified in such constituent company’s articles of association. The written plan of merger or consolidation must be filed with the Registrar of Companies of the Cayman Islands together with a declaration as to the solvency of the consolidated or surviving company, a declaration as to the assets and liabilities of each constituent company and an undertaking that a copy of the certificate of merger or consolidation will be given to the members and creditors of each constituent company and that notification of the merger or consolidation will be published in the Cayman Islands Gazette. Court approval is not required for a merger or consolidation which is effected in compliance with these statutory procedures.

A merger between a Cayman parent company and its Cayman subsidiary or subsidiaries does not require authorization by a resolution of shareholders of that Cayman subsidiary if a copy of the plan of merger is given to every member of that Cayman subsidiary to be merged unless that member agrees otherwise. For this purpose a company is a “parent” of a subsidiary if it holds issued shares that together represent at least ninety percent (90%) of the votes at a general meeting of the subsidiary.

The consent of each holder of a fixed or floating security interest over a constituent company is required unless this requirement is waived by a court in the Cayman Islands.

Save in certain limited circumstances, a shareholder of a Cayman constituent company who dissents from the merger or consolidation is entitled to payment of the fair value of his shares (which, if not agreed between the parties, will be determined by the Cayman Islands court) upon dissenting to the merger or consolidation, provided that the dissenting shareholder complies strictly with the procedures set out in the Companies Act. The exercise of dissenter rights will preclude the exercise by the dissenting shareholder of any other rights to which he or she might otherwise be entitled by virtue of holding shares, save for the right to seek relief on the grounds that the merger or consolidation is void or unlawful.

Separate from the statutory provisions relating to mergers and consolidations, the Companies Act also contains statutory provisions that facilitate the reconstruction and amalgamation of companies by way of schemes of arrangement, provided that the arrangement is approved by a majority in number of each class of shareholders and creditors with whom the arrangement is to be made, and who must in addition represent three-fourths in value of each such class of shareholders or creditors, as the case may be, that are present and voting either in person or by proxy at a meeting, or meetings, convened for that purpose. The convening of the meetings and subsequently the arrangement must be sanctioned by the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands. While a dissenting shareholder has the right to express to the court the view that the transaction ought not to be approved, the court can be expected to approve the arrangement if it determines that:

- the statutory provisions as to the required majority vote have been met;
- the shareholders have been fairly represented at the meeting in question and the statutory majority are acting bona fide without coercion of the minority to promote interests adverse to those of the class;

- the arrangement is such that may be reasonably approved by an intelligent and honest man of that class acting in respect of his interest; and
- the arrangement is not one that would more properly be sanctioned under some other provision of the Companies Act.

The Companies Act also contains a statutory power of compulsory acquisition which may facilitate the “squeeze out” of a dissenting minority shareholder upon a tender offer. When a tender offer is made and accepted by holders of 90.0% of the shares affected within four months, the offeror may, within a two-month period commencing on the expiration of such four-month period, require the holders of the remaining shares to transfer such shares to the offeror on the terms of the offer. An objection can be made to the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands but this is unlikely to succeed in the case of an offer which has been so approved unless there is evidence of fraud, bad faith or collusion.

If an arrangement and reconstruction is thus approved, or if a tender offer is made and accepted, a dissenting shareholder would have no rights comparable to appraisal rights, which would otherwise ordinarily be available to dissenting shareholders of Delaware corporations, providing rights to receive payment in cash for the judicially determined value of the shares.

Shareholders’ Suits. In principle, we will normally be the proper plaintiff to sue for a wrong done to us as a company, and as a general rule a derivative action may not be brought by a minority shareholder. However, based on English authorities, which would in all likelihood be of persuasive authority in the Cayman Islands, the Cayman Islands court can be expected to follow and apply the common law principles (namely the rule in Foss v. Harbottle and the exceptions thereto) which permit a minority shareholder to commence a class action against or derivative actions in the name of the company to challenge actions where:

- a company acts or proposes to act illegally or ultra vires;
- the act complained of, although not ultra vires, could only be effected duly if authorized by more than a simple majority vote that has not been obtained; and
- those who control the company are perpetrating a “fraud on the minority.”

Indemnification of Directors and Executive Officers and Limitation of Liability. Cayman Islands law does not limit the extent to which a company’s memorandum and articles of association may provide for indemnification of officers and directors, except to the extent any such provision may be held by the Cayman Islands courts to be contrary to public policy, such as to provide indemnification against civil fraud or the consequences of committing a crime. Under our post-offering memorandum and articles of association, which will become effective immediately prior to the completion of this offering, to the fullest extent permissible under Cayman Islands law every director and officer of our company shall be indemnified against all actions, proceedings, costs, charges, losses, damages and expenses incurred or sustained by him by reason of any act done or omitted in or about the execution of their duty in their respective offices or trusts. This standard of conduct is generally the same as permitted under the Delaware General Corporation Law for a Delaware corporation.

In addition, we have entered into indemnification agreements with our directors and executive officers that provide such persons with additional indemnification beyond that provided in our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act may be permitted to our directors, officers or persons controlling us under the foregoing provisions, we have been informed that in the opinion of the SEC, such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is therefore unenforceable.

Directors’ Fiduciary Duties. Under Delaware corporate law, a director of a Delaware corporation has a fiduciary duty to the corporation and its shareholders. This duty has two components: the duty of care and the duty of loyalty. The duty of care requires that a director act in good faith, with the care that an ordinarily prudent person would exercise under similar circumstances. Under this duty, a director must inform himself of, and disclose to shareholders, all material information reasonably available regarding a significant transaction. The duty of loyalty requires that a director acts in a manner he reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation. He must not use his corporate position for personal gain or advantage. This duty prohibits self-dealing by a director and mandates that the best interest of the corporation and its shareholders take precedence over any interest possessed by a director, officer or controlling shareholder and not shared by the shareholders generally. In general, actions of a director are presumed to have been made on an informed basis, in good faith and in the honest belief that the action taken was in the best interests of the corporation. However, this presumption may be rebutted by evidence of a breach of one of the fiduciary duties. Should such evidence be presented concerning a transaction by a director, the director must prove the procedural fairness of the transaction, and that the transaction was of fair value to the corporation.

As a matter of Cayman Islands law, a director of a Cayman Islands company is in the position of a fiduciary with respect to the company and therefore it is considered that he owes the following duties to the company — a duty to act bona fide in the best interests of the company, a duty not to make a profit based on his position as director (unless the company permits him to do so), a duty not to put himself in a position where the interests of the company conflict with his personal interest or his duty to a third party, and a duty to exercise powers for the purpose for which such powers were intended. A director of a Cayman Islands company owes to the company a duty to act with skill and care. It was previously considered that a director need not exhibit in the performance of his duties a greater degree of skill than may reasonably be expected from a person of his knowledge and experience. However, English and Commonwealth courts have moved towards an objective standard with regard to the required skill and care and these authorities are likely to be followed in the Cayman Islands.

Shareholder Action by Written Consent. Under the Delaware General Corporation Law, a corporation may eliminate the right of shareholders to act by written consent by amendment to its certificate of incorporation. The Companies Act and our post-offering amended and restated articles of association provide that our shareholders may approve corporate matters by way of a unanimous written resolution signed by or on behalf of each shareholder who would have been entitled to vote on such matter at a general meeting without a meeting being held.

Shareholder Proposals. Under the Delaware General Corporation Law, a shareholder has the right to put any proposal before the annual meeting of shareholders, provided it complies with the notice provisions in the governing documents. A special meeting may be called by the board of directors or any other person authorized to do so in the governing documents, but shareholders may be precluded from calling special meetings.

The Companies Act provides shareholders with only limited rights to requisition a general meeting, and does not provide shareholders with any right to put any proposal before a general meeting. However, these rights may be provided in a company's articles of association. Our post-offering amended and restated articles of association allow our shareholders holding in aggregate not less than one-third of all votes attaching to the issued and outstanding shares of our company entitled to vote at general meetings to requisition an extraordinary general meeting of our shareholders, in which case our board is obliged to convene an extraordinary general meeting and to put the resolutions so requisitioned to a vote at such meeting. Other than this right to requisition a shareholders' meeting, our post-offering amended and restated articles of association do not provide our shareholders with any other right to put proposals before annual general meetings or extraordinary general meetings not called by such shareholders. As an exempted Cayman Islands company, we are not obliged by law to call shareholders' annual general meetings.

Cumulative Voting. Under the Delaware General Corporation Law, cumulative voting for elections of directors is not permitted unless the corporation's certificate of incorporation specifically provides for it.

Cumulative voting potentially facilitates the representation of minority shareholders on a board of directors since it permits the minority shareholder to cast all the votes to which the shareholder is entitled on a single director, which increases the shareholder's voting power with respect to electing such director. There are no prohibitions in relation to cumulative voting under the laws of the Cayman Islands but our post-offering amended and restated articles of association do not provide for cumulative voting. As a result, our shareholders are not afforded any less protections or rights on this issue than shareholders of a Delaware corporation.

Removal of Directors. Under the Delaware General Corporation Law, a director of a corporation with a classified board may be removed only for cause with the approval of a majority of the outstanding shares entitled to vote, unless the certificate of incorporation provides otherwise. Under our post-offering amended and restated articles of association, directors may be removed with or without cause, by an ordinary resolution of our shareholders or the affirmative vote of a simple majority of the other directors present and voting at a board meeting. A director shall hold office until the expiration of his or her term or his or her successor shall have been elected and qualified, or until his or her office is otherwise vacated. In addition, a director's office shall be vacated if the director (i) dies, becomes bankrupt or makes any arrangement or composition with his creditors; (ii) is found to be or becomes of unsound mind; (iii) resigns his office by notice in writing to the company; (iv) is prohibited by law or stock exchange rules from being a director; or (v) is removed from office pursuant to any other provisions of our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association.

Transactions with Interested Shareholders. The Delaware General Corporation Law contains a business combination statute applicable to Delaware corporations whereby, unless the corporation has specifically elected not to be governed by such statute by amendment to its certificate of incorporation, it is prohibited from engaging in certain business combinations with an "interested shareholder" for three years following the date that such person becomes an interested shareholder. An interested shareholder generally is a person or a group who or which owns or owned 15% or more of the target's outstanding voting share within the past three years. This has the effect of limiting the ability of a potential acquirer to make a two-tiered bid for the target in which all shareholders would not be treated equally. The statute does not apply if, among other things, prior to the date on which such shareholder becomes an interested shareholder, the board of directors approves either the business combination or the transaction which resulted in the person becoming an interested shareholder. This encourages any potential acquirer of a Delaware corporation to negotiate the terms of any acquisition transaction with the target's board of directors.

Cayman Islands law has no comparable statute. As a result, we cannot avail ourselves of the types of protections afforded by the Delaware business combination statute. However, although Cayman Islands law does not regulate transactions between a company and its significant shareholders, the directors of the Company are required to comply with fiduciary duties which they owe to the Company under Cayman Islands laws, including the duty to ensure that, in their opinion, any such transactions must be entered into bona fide in the best interests of the company, and are entered into for a proper corporate purpose and not with the effect of constituting a fraud on the minority shareholders.

Dissolution; Winding up. Under the Delaware General Corporation Law, unless the board of directors approves the proposal to dissolve, dissolution must be approved by shareholders holding 100% of the total voting power of the corporation. Only if the dissolution is initiated by the board of directors may it be approved by a simple majority of the corporation's outstanding shares. Delaware law allows a Delaware corporation to include in its certificate of incorporation a supermajority voting requirement in connection with dissolutions initiated by the board.

Under Cayman Islands law, a company may be wound up by either an order of the courts of the Cayman Islands or by a special resolution of its members or, if the company is unable to pay its debts as they fall due, by an ordinary resolution of its members. The court has authority to order winding up in a number of specified circumstances including where it is, in the opinion of the court, just and equitable to do so. Under the Companies Act and our post-offering amended and restated articles of association, our company may be dissolved, liquidated or wound up by a special resolution of our shareholders.

Variation of Rights of Shares. Under the Delaware General Corporation Law, a corporation may vary the rights of a class of shares with the approval of a majority of the outstanding shares of such class, unless the certificate of incorporation provides otherwise. Under Cayman Islands law and our post-offering amended and restated articles of association, if our share capital is divided into more than one class of shares, we may vary the rights attached to any class with the written consent of the holders of a majority of the issued shares of that class or with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a general meeting of the holders of the shares of that class.

Amendment of Governing Documents. Under the Delaware General Corporation Law, a corporation's governing documents may be amended with the approval of a majority of the outstanding shares entitled to vote, unless the certificate of incorporation provides otherwise. Under the Companies Act and our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, our memorandum and articles of association may only be amended by a special resolution of our shareholders.

Rights of Nonresident or Foreign Shareholders. There are no limitations imposed by our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association on the rights of nonresident or foreign shareholders to hold or exercise voting rights on our shares. In addition, there are no provisions in our post-offering amended and restated memorandum and articles of association that require our company to disclose shareholder ownership above any particular ownership threshold.

Share Option Grants

We have granted share options to certain of our executive officers and employees. See “Management — Share Incentive Plans.”

Shareholders Agreement

In connection with the Restructuring, we have entered into a shareholders agreement with the affiliates of Existing Equityholders of Atour Shanghai (as may be amended from time to time, the “Shareholders Agreement”).

The Shareholders Agreement provides for certain shareholder rights, including information and inspection rights, board representation rights and protective provisions. The inspection rights and board representation rights will terminate immediately prior to the consummation of this offering, provided that this offering qualifies as a Qualified IPO, which is defined under the Shareholders Agreement as a firm commitment underwritten public offering of the ordinary shares of the Company (or depository receipts or depository shares thereof) in the United States on the New York Stock Exchange or the Nasdaq Global Market pursuant to an effective registration statement under the United States Securities Act of 1993, as amended, or on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, or another international recognized stock exchange approved by our board of directors.

As agreed by and among our founder and affiliates of certain Existing Shareholders, certain affiliates of Existing Equityholders are entitled to certain material participating rights in the decision making of certain key corporate matters until the completion of this offering, including approval of investment by the Company in excess of RMB20,000,000 in the principal business of the Company and approval of the remuneration package for any member of the senior management of our Company.

DESCRIPTION OF AMERICAN DEPOSITARY SHARES

American Depositary Shares

The Bank of New York Mellon, as depositary, will register and deliver American Depositary Shares, also referred to as ADSs. Each ADS will represent Class A Ordinary Shares (or a right to receive Class A Ordinary Shares) deposited with The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation Limited, as custodian for the depositary in Hong Kong. Each ADS will also represent any other securities, cash or other property that may be held by the depositary. The deposited shares together with any other securities, cash or other property held by the depositary are referred to as the deposited securities. The depositary's office at which the ADSs will be administered and its principal executive office are located at 240 Greenwich Street, New York, New York 10286.

You may hold ADSs either (A) directly (i) by having an American Depositary Receipt, also referred to as an ADR, which is a certificate evidencing a specific number of ADSs, registered in your name, or (ii) by having uncertificated ADSs registered in your name, or (B) indirectly by holding a security entitlement in ADSs through your broker or other financial institution that is a direct or indirect participant in The Depository Trust Company, also called DTC. If you hold ADSs directly, you are a registered ADS holder, also referred to as an ADS holder. This description assumes you are an ADS holder. If you hold the ADSs indirectly, you must rely on the procedures of your broker or other financial institution to assert the rights of ADS holders described in this section. You should consult with your broker or financial institution to find out what those procedures are.

Registered holders of uncertificated ADSs will receive statements from the depositary confirming their holdings.

As an ADS holder, we will not treat you as one of our shareholders and you will not have shareholder rights.

Cayman Islands law governs shareholder rights. The depositary will be the holder of the shares underlying the ADSs. As a registered holder of ADSs, you will have ADS holder rights. A deposit agreement among us, the depositary, ADS holders and all other persons indirectly or beneficially holding ADSs sets out ADS holder rights as well as the rights and obligations of the depositary. New York law governs the deposit agreement and the ADSs.

The following is a summary of the material provisions of the deposit agreement. For more complete information, you should read the entire deposit agreement and the form of ADR. For directions on how to obtain copies of those documents, see "Where You Can Find Additional Information."

Dividends and Other Distributions

How will you receive dividends and other distributions on the shares?

The depositary has agreed to pay or distribute to ADS holders the cash dividends or other distributions it or the custodian receives on shares or other deposited securities, upon payment or deduction of its fees and expenses. You will receive these distributions in proportion to the number of shares the ADSs represent.

Cash. The depositary will convert any cash dividend or other cash distribution we pay on the shares into U.S. dollars, if it can do so on a reasonable basis and can transfer the U.S. dollars to the United States. If that is not possible or if any government approval is needed and cannot be obtained, the deposit agreement allows the depositary to distribute the foreign currency only to those ADS holders to whom it is possible to do so. It will hold the foreign currency it cannot convert for the account of the ADS holders who have not been paid. It will not invest the foreign currency and it will not be liable for any interest.

Before making a distribution, any withholding taxes, or other governmental charges that must be paid will be deducted. See "Taxation." The depositary will distribute only whole U.S. dollars and cents and will round fractional cents to the nearest whole cent. If the exchange rates fluctuate during a time when the depositary cannot convert the foreign currency, you may lose some of the value of the distribution.

Shares. The depositary may distribute additional ADSs representing any shares we distribute as a dividend or free distribution. The depositary will only distribute whole ADSs. It will sell shares which would require it to deliver a fraction of an ADS (or ADSs representing those shares) and distribute the net proceeds in the same way as it does with cash. If the depositary does not distribute additional ADSs, the outstanding ADSs will also represent the new shares. The depositary may sell a portion of the distributed shares (or ADSs representing those shares) sufficient to pay its fees and expenses in connection with that distribution.

Rights to purchase additional shares. If we offer holders of our securities any rights to subscribe for additional shares or any other rights, the depositary may (i) exercise those rights on behalf of ADS holders, (ii) distribute those rights to ADS holders or (iii) sell those rights and distribute the net proceeds to ADS holders, in each case after deduction or upon payment of its fees and expenses. To the extent the depositary does not do any of those things, it will allow the rights to lapse. In that case, you will receive no value for them. The depositary will exercise or distribute rights only if we ask it to and provide satisfactory assurances to the depositary that it is legal to do so. If the depositary will exercise rights, it will purchase the securities to which the rights relate and distribute those securities or, in the case of shares, new ADSs representing the new shares, to subscribing ADS holders, but only if ADS holders have paid the exercise price to the depositary. U.S. securities laws may restrict the ability of the depositary to distribute rights or ADSs or other securities issued on exercise of rights to all or certain ADS holders, and the securities distributed may be subject to restrictions on transfer.

Other Distributions. The depositary will send to ADS holders anything else we distribute on deposited securities by any means it thinks is legal, fair and practical. If it cannot make the distribution in that way, the depositary has a choice. It may decide to sell what we distributed and distribute the net proceeds, in the same way as it does with cash. Or, it may decide to hold what we distributed, in which case ADSs will also represent the newly distributed property. However, the depositary is not required to distribute any securities (other than ADSs) to ADS holders unless it receives satisfactory evidence from us that it is legal to make that distribution. The depositary may sell a portion of the distributed securities or property sufficient to pay its fees and expenses in connection with that distribution. U.S. securities laws may restrict the ability of the depositary to distribute securities to all or certain ADS holders, and the securities distributed may be subject to restrictions on transfer.

The depositary is not responsible if it decides that it is unlawful or impractical to make a distribution available to any ADS holders. We have no obligation to register ADSs, shares, rights or other securities under the Securities Act. We also have no obligation to take any other action to permit the distribution of ADSs, shares, rights or anything else to ADS holders. This means that you may not receive the distributions we make on our shares or any value for them if it is illegal or impractical for us to make them available to you.

Deposit, Withdrawal and Cancellation

How are ADSs issued?

The depositary will deliver ADSs if you or your broker deposits shares or evidence of rights to receive shares with the custodian. Upon payment of its fees and expenses and of any taxes or charges, such as stamp taxes or stock transfer taxes or fees, the depositary will register the appropriate number of ADSs in the names you request and will deliver the ADSs to or upon the order of the person or persons that made the deposit.

How can ADS holders withdraw the deposited securities?

You may surrender the ADSs to the depositary for the purpose of withdrawal. Upon payment of its fees and expenses and of any taxes or charges, such as stamp taxes or stock transfer taxes or fees, the depositary will deliver the shares and any other deposited securities underlying the ADSs to the ADS holder or a person the ADS holder designates at the office of the custodian. Or, at your request, risk and expense, the depositary will deliver the deposited securities at its office, if feasible. However, the depositary is not required to accept surrender of ADSs to the extent it would require delivery of a fraction of a deposited share or other security. The depositary may charge you a fee and its expenses for instructing the custodian regarding delivery of deposited securities.

How do ADS holders interchange between certificated ADSs and uncertificated ADSs?

You may surrender your ADR to the depositary for the purpose of exchanging your ADR for uncertificated ADSs. The depositary will cancel that ADR and will send to the ADS holder a statement confirming that the ADS holder is the registered holder of uncertificated ADSs. Upon receipt by the depositary of a proper instruction from a registered holder of uncertificated ADSs requesting the exchange of uncertificated ADSs for certificated ADSs, the depositary will execute and deliver to the ADS holder an ADR evidencing those ADSs.

Voting Rights

How do you vote?

ADS holders may instruct the depositary how to vote the number of deposited shares their ADSs represent. If we request the depositary to solicit your voting instructions (and we are not required to do so), the depositary will notify you of a shareholders' meeting and send or make voting materials available to you. Those materials will describe the matters to be voted on and explain how ADS holders may instruct the depositary how to vote. For instructions to be valid, they must reach the depositary by a date set by the depositary. The depositary will try, as far as practical, subject to the laws of the Cayman Islands and the provisions of our articles of association or similar documents, to vote or to have its agents vote the shares or other deposited securities as instructed by ADS holders. If we do not request the depositary to solicit your voting instructions, you can still send voting instructions, and, in that case, the depositary may try to vote as you instruct, but it is not required to do so.

Except by instructing the depositary as described above, you won't be able to exercise voting rights unless you surrender the ADSs and withdraw the shares. However, you may not know about the meeting enough in advance to withdraw the shares. In any event, the depositary will not exercise any discretion in voting deposited securities and it will only vote or attempt to vote as instructed.

We cannot assure you that you will receive the voting materials in time to ensure that you can instruct the depositary to vote your shares. In addition, the depositary and its agents are not responsible for failing to carry out voting instructions or for the manner of carrying out voting instructions. This means that you may not be able to exercise voting rights and there may be nothing you can do if your shares are not voted as you requested.

In order to give you a reasonable opportunity to instruct the depositary as to the exercise of voting rights relating to Deposited Securities, if we request the Depositary to act, we agree to give the depositary notice of any such meeting and details concerning the matters to be voted upon at least 40 days in advance of the meeting date.

| Registration or transfer fees | Transfer and registration of shares on our share register to or from the name of the depository or its agent when you deposit or withdraw shares |
| Expenses of the depository | Cable (including SWIFT) and facsimile transmissions (when expressly provided in the deposit agreement) |
| Taxes and other governmental charges the depository or the custodian has to pay on any ADSs or shares underlying ADSs, such as stock transfer taxes, stamp duty or withholding taxes | Converting foreign currency to U.S. dollars |
| Any charges incurred by the depository or its agents for servicing the deposited securities | As necessary |

The depository collects its fees for delivery and surrender of ADSs directly from investors depositing shares or surrendering ADSs for the purpose of withdrawal or from intermediaries acting for them. The depository collects fees for making distributions to investors by deducting those fees from the amounts distributed or by selling a portion of distributable property to pay the fees. The depository may collect its annual fee for depository services by deduction from cash distributions or by directly billing investors or by charging the book-entry system accounts of participants acting for them. The depository may collect any of its fees by deduction from any cash distribution payable (or by selling a portion of securities or other property distributable) to ADS holders that are obligated to pay those fees. The depository may generally refuse to provide fee-attracting services until its fees for those services are paid.

From time to time, the depository may make payments to us to reimburse us for costs and expenses generally arising out of establishment and maintenance of the ADS program, waive fees and expenses for services provided to us by the depository or share revenue from the fees collected from ADS holders. In performing its duties under the deposit agreement, the depository may use brokers, dealers, foreign currency dealers or other service providers that are owned by or affiliated with the depository and that may earn or share fees, spreads or commissions.

The depository may convert currency itself or through any of its affiliates, or the custodian or we may convert currency and pay U.S. dollars to the depository. Where the depository converts currency itself or through any of its affiliates, the depository acts as principal for its own account and not as agent, advisor, broker or fiduciary on behalf of any other person and earns revenue, including, without limitation, transaction spreads, that it will retain for its own account. The revenue is based on, among other things, the difference between the exchange rate assigned to the currency conversion made under the deposit agreement and the rate that the depository or its affiliate receives when buying or selling foreign currency for its own account. The depository makes no representation that the exchange rate used or obtained by it or its affiliate in any currency conversion under the deposit agreement will be the most favorable rate that could be obtained at the time or that the method by which that rate will be determined will be the most favorable to ADS holders, subject to the depository's obligation to act without negligence or bad faith. The methodology used to determine exchange rates used in currency conversions made by the depository is available upon request. Where the custodian converts currency, the custodian has no obligation to obtain the most favorable rate that could be obtained at the time or to ensure that the method by which that rate will be determined will be the most favorable to ADS holders, and the depository makes no representation that the rate is the most favorable rate and will not be liable for any direct or indirect losses associated with the rate. In certain instances, the depository may receive dividends or other distributions from us in U.S. dollars that represent the proceeds of a conversion of foreign currency or translation from foreign currency at a rate that was obtained or determined by us and, in such cases, the depository will not engage in, or be responsible for, any foreign currency transactions and neither it nor we make any representation that the rate obtained or determined by us is the most favorable rate and neither it nor we will be liable for any direct or indirect losses associated with the rate.

Payment of Taxes

You will be responsible for any taxes or other governmental charges payable on the ADSs or on the deposited securities represented by any of the ADSs. The depository may refuse to register any transfer of the ADSs or allow you to withdraw the deposited securities represented by the ADSs until those taxes or other charges are paid. It may apply payments owed to you or sell deposited securities represented by the ADSs to pay any taxes owed and you will remain liable for any deficiency. If the depository sells deposited securities, it will, if appropriate, reduce the number of ADSs to reflect the sale and pay to ADS holders any proceeds, or send to ADS holders any property, remaining after it has paid the taxes.

Tender and Exchange Offers; Redemption, Replacement or Cancellation of Deposited Securities

The depository will not tender deposited securities in any voluntary tender or exchange offer unless instructed to do so by an ADS holder surrendering ADSs and subject to any conditions or procedures the depository may establish.

If deposited securities are redeemed for cash in a transaction that is mandatory for the depository as a holder of deposited securities, the depository will call for surrender of a corresponding number of ADSs and distribute the net redemption money to the holders of called ADSs upon surrender of those ADSs.

If there is any change in the deposited securities such as a sub-division, combination or other reclassification, or any merger, consolidation, recapitalization or reorganization affecting the issuer of deposited securities in which the depository receives new securities in exchange for or in lieu of the old deposited securities, the depository will hold those replacement securities as deposited securities under the deposit agreement. However, if the depository decides it would not be lawful and practical to hold the replacement securities because those securities could not be distributed to ADS holders or for any other reason, the depository may instead sell the replacement securities and distribute the net proceeds upon surrender of the ADSs.

If there is a replacement of the deposited securities and the depository will continue to hold the replacement securities, the depository may distribute new ADSs representing the new deposited securities or ask you to surrender your outstanding ADRs in exchange for new ADRs identifying the new deposited securities.

If there are no deposited securities underlying ADSs, including if the deposited securities are cancelled, or if the deposited securities underlying ADSs have become apparently worthless, the depository may call for surrender of those ADSs or cancel those ADSs upon notice to the ADS holders.

Amendment and Termination

How may the deposit agreement be amended?

We may agree with the depository to amend the deposit agreement and the ADRs without your consent for any reason. If an amendment adds or increases fees or charges, except for taxes and other governmental charges or expenses of the depository for registration fees, facsimile costs, delivery charges or similar items, or prejudices a substantial right of ADS holders, it will not become effective for outstanding ADSs until 30 days after the depository notifies ADS holders of the amendment. At the time an amendment becomes effective, you are considered, by continuing to hold the ADSs, to agree to the amendment and to be bound by the ADRs and the deposit agreement as amended.

How may the deposit agreement be terminated?

The depository will initiate termination of the deposit agreement if we instruct it to do so. The depository may initiate termination of the deposit agreement if

- 60 days have passed since the depository told us it wants to resign but a successor depository has not been appointed and accepted its appointment;
- we delist the ADSs from an exchange in the United States on which they were listed and do not list the ADSs on another exchange in the United States or make arrangements for trading of ADSs on the U.S. over-the-counter market;
- we appear to be insolvent or enter insolvency proceedings;
- all or substantially all the value of the deposited securities has been distributed either in cash or in the form of securities;
- there are no deposited securities underlying the ADSs or the underlying deposited securities have become apparently worthless; or
- there has been a replacement of deposited securities.

If the deposit agreement will terminate, the depository will notify ADS holders at least 90 days before the termination date. At any time after the termination date, the depository may sell the deposited securities. After that, the depository will hold the money it received on the sale, as well as any other cash it is holding under the deposit agreement, unsegregated and without liability for interest, for the pro rata benefit of the ADS holders that have not surrendered their ADSs. Normally, the depository will sell as soon as practicable after the termination date.

After the termination date and before the depository sells, ADS holders can still surrender their ADSs and receive delivery of deposited securities, except that the depository may refuse to accept a surrender for the purpose of withdrawing deposited securities or reverse previously accepted surrenders of that kind that have not settled if it would interfere with the selling process. The depository may refuse to accept a surrender for the purpose of withdrawing sale proceeds until all the deposited securities have been sold. The depository will continue to collect distributions on deposited securities, but, after the termination date, the depository is not required to register any transfer of ADSs or distribute any dividends or other distributions on deposited securities to the ADSs holder (until they surrender their ADSs) or give any notices or perform any other duties under the deposit agreement except as described in this paragraph.

Limitations on Obligations and Liability

Limits on our Obligations and the Obligations of the Depository; Limits on Liability to Holders of ADSs

The deposit agreement expressly limits our obligations and the obligations of the depository. It also limits our liability and the liability of the depository. We and the depository:

- are only obligated to take the actions specifically set forth in the deposit agreement without negligence or bad faith, and the depository will not be a fiduciary or have any fiduciary duty to holders of ADSs;
- are not liable if we are or it is prevented or delayed by law or by events or circumstances beyond our or its ability to prevent or counteract with reasonable care or effort from performing our or its obligations under the deposit agreement;
- are not liable if we or it exercises discretion permitted under the deposit agreement;
- are not liable for the inability of any holder of ADSs to benefit from any distribution on deposited securities that is not made available to holders of ADSs under the terms of the deposit agreement, or for any special, consequential or punitive damages for any breach of the terms of the deposit agreement;
- have no obligation to become involved in a lawsuit or other proceeding related to the ADSs or the deposit agreement on your behalf or on behalf of any other person;
- may rely upon any documents we believe or it believes in good faith to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper person;
- are not liable for the acts or omissions of any securities depository, clearing agency or settlement system; and

- the depository has no duty to make any determination or provide any information as to our tax status, or any liability for any tax consequences that may be incurred by ADS holders as a result of owning or holding ADSs or be liable for the inability or failure of an ADS holder to obtain the benefit of a foreign tax credit, reduced rate of withholding or refund of amounts withheld in respect of tax or any other tax benefit.

In the deposit agreement, we and the depository agree to indemnify each other under certain circumstances.

Requirements for Depository Actions

Before the depository will deliver or register a transfer of ADSs, make a distribution on ADSs, or permit withdrawal of shares, the depository may require:

- payment of stock transfer or other taxes or other governmental charges and transfer or registration fees charged by third parties for the transfer of any shares or other deposited securities;
- satisfactory proof of the identity and genuineness of any signature or other information it deems necessary; and
- compliance with regulations it may establish, from time to time, consistent with the deposit agreement, including presentation of transfer documents.

The depository may refuse to deliver ADSs or register transfers of ADSs when the transfer books of the depository or our transfer books are closed or at any time if the depository or we think it advisable to do so.

Your Right to Receive the Shares Underlying the ADSs

ADS holders have the right to cancel their ADSs and withdraw the underlying shares at any time except:

- when temporary delays arise because: (i) the depository has closed its transfer books or we have closed our transfer books; (ii) the transfer of shares is blocked to permit voting at a shareholders' meeting; or (iii) we are paying a dividend on our shares;
- when you owe money to pay fees, taxes and similar charges; or
- when it is necessary to prohibit withdrawals in order to comply with any laws or governmental regulations that apply to ADSs or to the withdrawal of shares or other deposited securities.

This right of withdrawal may not be limited by any other provision of the deposit agreement.

Direct Registration System

In the deposit agreement, all parties to the deposit agreement acknowledge that the Direct Registration System, also referred to as DRS, and Profile Modification System, also referred to as Profile, will apply to the ADSs. DRS is a system administered by DTC that facilitates interchange between registered holding of uncertificated ADSs and holding of security entitlements in ADSs through DTC and a DTC participant. Profile is a feature of DRS that allows a DTC participant, claiming to act on behalf of a registered holder of uncertificated ADSs, to direct the depository to register a transfer of those ADSs to DTC or its nominee and to deliver those ADSs to the DTC account of that DTC participant without receipt by the depository of prior authorization from the ADS holder to register that transfer.

In connection with and in accordance with the arrangements and procedures relating to DRS/Profile, the parties to the deposit agreement understand that the depository will not determine whether the DTC participant that is claiming to be acting on behalf of an ADS holder in requesting registration of transfer and delivery as described in the paragraph above has the actual authority to act on behalf of the ADS holder (notwithstanding any requirements under the Uniform Commercial Code). In the deposit agreement, the parties agree that the depository's reliance on and compliance with instructions received by the depository through the DRS/Profile system and in accordance with the deposit agreement will not constitute negligence or bad faith on the part of the depository.

Shareholder communications; inspection of register of holders of ADSs

The depositary will make available for your inspection at its office all communications that it receives from us as a holder of deposited securities that we make generally available to holders of deposited securities. The depositary will send you copies of those communications or otherwise make those communications available to you if we ask it to. You have a right to inspect the register of holders of ADSs, but not for the purpose of contacting those holders about a matter unrelated to our business or the ADSs.

Jury Trial Waiver

The deposit agreement provides that, to the extent permitted by law, ADS holders waive the right to a jury trial of any claim they may have against us or the depositary arising out of or relating to our shares, the ADSs or the deposit agreement, including any claim under the U.S. federal securities laws. If we or the depositary opposed a jury trial demand based on the waiver, the court would determine whether the waiver was enforceable in the facts and circumstances of that case in accordance with applicable case law. You will not, by agreeing to the terms of the deposit agreement, be deemed to have waived our or the depositary's compliance with U.S. federal securities laws or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

SHARES ELIGIBLE FOR FUTURE SALE

Upon completion of this offering, we will have _____ ADSs outstanding, representing _____ ordinary shares, or approximately _____ % of our outstanding ordinary shares, assuming the underwriters do not exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs. All of the ADSs sold in this offering will be freely transferable by persons other than our “affiliates” without restriction or further registration under the Securities Act. Sales of substantial amounts of the ADSs in the public market could adversely affect prevailing market prices of the ADSs. Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for our ordinary shares or the ADSs, and while the ADSs have been approved for listing on the Nasdaq, we cannot assure you that a regular trading market will develop in the ADSs. We do not expect that a trading market will develop for our ordinary shares not represented by the ADSs.

Lock-up Agreements

We, our directors, executive officers and our existing shareholders have agreed, subject to certain exceptions, not to transfer or dispose of, directly or indirectly, any of our ordinary shares or ADSs, or any securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for our ordinary shares or ADSs, for a period of 180 days after the date of this prospectus. After the expiration of the 180-day period, the ordinary shares or ADSs held by our directors, executive officers and our existing shareholders may be sold subject to the restrictions under Rule 144 under the Securities Act or by means of registered public offerings.

Rule 144

All of our ordinary shares outstanding prior to this offering are “restricted shares” as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act and may be sold publicly in the United States only if they are subject to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act or pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements. Under Rule 144 as currently in effect, a person who has beneficially owned our restricted shares for at least six months is generally entitled to sell the restricted securities without registration under the Securities Act beginning 90 days after the date of this prospectus, subject to certain additional restrictions.

Our affiliates may sell within any three-month period a number of restricted shares that does not exceed the greater of the following:

- 1% of the then outstanding ordinary shares of the same class, in the form of ADSs or otherwise, which will equal approximately _____ Class A ordinary shares immediately after this offering, assuming the underwriters do not exercise their option to purchase additional ADSs; or
- the average weekly trading volume of our ordinary shares in the form of ADSs or otherwise on the Nasdaq during the four calendar weeks preceding the date on which notice of the sale is filed with the SEC.

Affiliates who sell restricted securities under Rule 144 may not solicit orders or arrange for the solicitation of orders, and they are also subject to notice requirements and the availability of current public information about us.

Persons who are not our affiliates are only subject to one of these additional restrictions, the requirement of the availability of current public information about us, and this additional restriction does not apply if they have beneficially owned our restricted shares for more than one year.

Rule 701

In general, under Rule 701 of the Securities Act as currently in effect, each of our executive officers, employees and consultants who purchases our ordinary shares from us in connection with a compensatory stock or option plan or other written agreement relating to compensation is eligible to resell such ordinary shares 90 days after we became a reporting company under the Exchange Act in reliance on Rule 144, but without compliance with some of the restrictions, including the holding period, contained in Rule 144.

Form S-8

We intend to file a registration statement on Form S-8 under the Securities Act covering all ordinary shares which are either subject to outstanding options or may be issued upon exercise or vesting of any options or other equity awards which may be granted or issued in the future pursuant to our share incentive plan. We expect to file this registration statement as soon as practicable after the date of this prospectus. Shares registered under any registration statements will be available for sale in the open market, except to the extent that the shares are subject to vesting restrictions with us or the contractual restrictions and the lock-up described below.

TAXATION

The following discussion of Cayman Islands, PRC and United States federal income tax consequences of an investment in the ADSs or ordinary shares is based upon laws and relevant interpretations thereof in effect as of the date of this prospectus, all of which are subject to change. This discussion does not deal with all possible tax consequences relating to an investment in the ADSs or ordinary shares, such as the tax consequences under U.S. state, or local laws or the tax laws of any jurisdiction other than the Cayman Islands, the PRC and the United States. To the extent that the discussion relates to matters of Cayman Islands tax law, it represents the opinion of Maples and Calder (Hong Kong) LLP, our Cayman Islands counsel. To the extent that the discussion relates to matters of PRC tax law, it represents the opinion of JunHe LLP, our PRC legal counsel.

Cayman Islands Taxation

The Cayman Islands currently levies no taxes on individuals or corporations based upon profits, income, gains or appreciation, and there is no taxation in the nature of inheritance tax or estate duty. There are no other taxes likely to be material to us levied by the government of the Cayman Islands, except for stamp duties which may be applicable on instruments executed in, or after execution brought within the jurisdiction of the Cayman Islands. The Cayman Islands is not party to any double tax treaties that are applicable to any payments made to or by our company. There are no exchange control regulations or currency restrictions in the Cayman Islands.

Payments of dividends and capital in respect of the ADSs or ordinary shares will not be subject to taxation in the Cayman Islands and no withholding will be required on the payment of a dividend or capital to any holder of the ADSs or ordinary shares, nor will gains derived from the disposal of the ADSs or ordinary shares be subject to Cayman Islands income or corporation tax.

People's Republic of China Taxation

Under the PRC EIT Law, which became effective on January 1, 2008 and was last amended on December 29, 2018, an enterprise established outside the PRC with “de facto management bodies” within the PRC is considered a “resident enterprise” for PRC enterprise income tax purposes and is generally subject to a uniform 25% enterprise income tax rate on its worldwide income. Under the implementation regulations to the PRC EIT Law, a “de facto management body” is defined as a body that has material and overall management and control over the manufacturing and operations, personnel and human resources, finances and properties of an enterprise.

In addition, the SAT Circular 82 issued by the SAT in April 2009 specifies that certain offshore incorporated enterprises controlled by PRC enterprises or PRC enterprise groups will be classified as PRC resident enterprises only if all of the following conditions are met: (a) the primary location of the day-to-day operational management is in the PRC; (b) decisions relating to the enterprise’s financial and human resource matters are made or are subject to approval by organizations or personnel in the PRC; (c) the enterprise’s primary assets, accounting books and records, company seals, and board and shareholder resolutions are located or maintained in the PRC; and (d) at least 50% of voting board members or senior executives habitually reside in the PRC. Further to SAT Circular 82, the SAT issued the SAT Bulletin 45, which took effect in September 2011, to provide more guidance on the implementation of SAT Circular 82. SAT Bulletin 45 provides for procedures and administration details of determination on resident status and administration on post-determination matters. Our company is a company incorporated outside the PRC. As a holding company, its key assets are its ownership interests in its subsidiaries, and its key assets are located, and its records (including the resolutions of its board of directors and the resolutions of its shareholders) are maintained, outside the PRC. As such, we do not believe that our company meets all of the conditions above or is a PRC resident enterprise for PRC tax purposes. For similar reasons, we believe our other entities outside of China are not PRC resident enterprises either. However, the tax resident status of an enterprise is subject to determination by the PRC tax authorities and uncertainties remain with respect to the interpretation of the term “de facto management body.” There can be no assurance that the PRC government will ultimately take a view that is consistent with us. If the PRC tax authorities determine that our Cayman Islands holding company is a PRC resident enterprise for PRC enterprise income tax purposes, a number of unfavorable PRC tax consequences could follow. For example, a 10% withholding tax would be imposed on dividends we pay to our non-PRC enterprise shareholders (including the ADS holders). In addition, non-resident enterprise shareholders (including the ADS holders) may be subject to PRC tax at a rate of 10% on gains realized on the sale or other disposition of ADSs or ordinary shares, if such income is treated as sourced from within the PRC. Furthermore, if we are deemed a PRC resident enterprise, dividends paid to our non-PRC individual shareholders (including the ADS holders) and any gain realized on the sale or other disposition of ADSs or ordinary shares by such shareholders may be subject to PRC tax at a rate of 20% (which, in the case of dividends, may be withheld at source by us). These rates may be reduced by an applicable tax treaty, but it is unclear whether non-PRC shareholders (including the ADS holders) of our company would be able to obtain the benefits of any tax treaties between their country of tax residence and the PRC in the event that we are treated as a PRC resident enterprise. See “Risk Factors — Risks Related to Doing Business in China — If we are classified as a PRC resident enterprise for PRC enterprise income tax purposes, such classification could result in unfavorable tax consequences to us and our non-PRC shareholders and ADS holders.”

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations

The following are material U.S. federal income tax consequences to the U.S. Holders described below of the ownership and disposition of the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, but this discussion does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to a particular person’s decision to acquire the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares.

This discussion applies only to a U.S. Holder that acquires ADSs in this offering and holds the ADSs or underlying Class A ordinary shares as capital assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In addition, it does not describe all of the tax consequences that may be relevant in light of a U.S. Holder’s particular circumstances, including the alternative minimum tax, the Medicare contribution tax on net investment income and tax consequences applicable to U.S. Holders subject to special rules, such as:

- certain financial institutions;
- insurance companies;
- regulated investment companies;
- dealers or traders in securities that use a mark-to-market method of tax accounting;
- persons holding ADSs or ordinary shares as part of a straddle, integrated or similar transaction;
- persons whose functional currency for U.S. federal income tax purposes is not the U.S. dollar;
- entities classified as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes and their partners;
- tax-exempt entities, “individual retirement accounts” or “Roth IRAs”;
- persons that own or are deemed to own ADSs or Class A ordinary shares representing 10% or more of our stock by vote or value; or
- persons holding ADSs or Class A ordinary shares in connection with a trade or business outside the United States.

If a partnership (or other entity that is classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) owns ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of a partner will generally depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Partnerships owning ADSs or Class A ordinary shares and their partners should consult their tax advisers as to their particular U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning and disposing of ADSs or Class A ordinary shares.

This discussion is based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or the Code, administrative pronouncements, judicial decisions, final, temporary and proposed Treasury regulations, and the income tax treaty between the United States and the PRC, or the Treaty, all as of the date hereof, any of which is subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect. This discussion does not address any state, local or non-U.S. tax considerations, or any federal taxes (such as estate or gift taxes) other than income taxes. This discussion assumes that each obligation under the deposit agreement and any related agreement will be performed in accordance with its terms.

As used herein, a “U.S. Holder” is a person that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a beneficial owner of the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares and:

- a citizen or individual resident of the United States;
- a corporation, or other entity taxable as a corporation, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any state therein or the District of Columbia; or
- an estate or trust the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source.

Recently released Treasury regulations may in some circumstances prohibit a U.S. person from claiming a foreign tax credit with respect to certain non-U.S. taxes that are not creditable under applicable income tax treaties (the “Foreign Tax Credit Regulations”). Accordingly, U.S. investors that are not eligible for Treaty benefits should consult their tax advisers regarding the creditability or deductibility of any PRC taxes imposed on dividends on, or dispositions of, the ADSs or ordinary shares. The discussions below regarding the creditability of any PRC taxes do not address the foreign tax credit consequences to U.S. Holders that do not qualify for the benefits of the Treaty.

In general, a U.S. Holder that owns ADSs will be treated as the owner of the underlying Class A ordinary shares represented by those ADSs for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, no gain or loss will be recognized if a U.S. Holder exchanges ADSs for the underlying Class A ordinary shares represented by those ADSs.

U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers concerning the U.S. federal, state, local and non-U.S. tax consequences of owning and disposing of ADSs or Class A ordinary shares in their particular circumstances.

Except as described below under “— Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules,” this discussion assumes that we are not, and will not be, a passive foreign investment company, or PFIC, for any taxable year.

Taxation of Distributions

Distributions paid on the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares (including any amounts withheld to reflect PRC withholding taxes, as discussed above under “— People’s Republic of China Taxation”), other than certain pro rata distributions of ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, will be treated as dividends to the extent paid out of our current or accumulated earnings and profits, as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles. Because we do not maintain calculations of our earnings and profits under U.S. federal income tax principles, it is expected that distributions generally will be reported to U.S. Holders as dividends. Dividends will not be eligible for the dividends-received deduction generally available to U.S. corporations under the Code. Subject to applicable limitations, dividends paid to certain non-corporate U.S. Holders of ADSs may be taxable at a preferential rate. Non-corporate U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the availability of this preferential tax rate on dividends in their particular circumstances.

Dividends will be included in a U.S. Holder’s income on the date of receipt by the depository (in the case of ADSs) or the U.S. Holder (in the case of ordinary shares). The amount of any dividend income paid in foreign currency will be the U.S. dollar amount calculated by reference to the spot rate in effect on the date of receipt, regardless of whether the payment is in fact converted into U.S. dollars on such date. If the dividend is converted into U.S. dollars on the date of receipt, a U.S. Holder generally should not be required to recognize foreign currency gain or loss in respect of the amount received. A U.S. Holder may have foreign currency gain or loss if the dividend is converted into U.S. dollars after the date of receipt.

Dividends will be treated as foreign-source income for foreign tax credit purposes. As described in “— People’s Republic of China Taxation,” dividends paid by us may be subject to PRC withholding tax. For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the amount of the dividend income will include any amounts withheld in respect of PRC withholding tax. Subject to applicable limitations, which vary depending upon the U.S. Holder’s circumstances, PRC taxes withheld from dividend payments generally will be creditable against a U.S. Holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability. The rules governing foreign tax credits are complex. For example, under the Foreign Tax Credit Regulations, in absence of an election to apply the benefits of an applicable income tax treaty, in order to be creditable foreign income tax rules must be consistent with certain U.S. federal income tax principles, and we have not determined whether the PRC income tax system meets all these requirements. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the creditability of foreign taxes in their particular circumstances. In lieu of claiming a credit, a U.S. Holder may elect to deduct such PRC taxes in computing its taxable income, subject to applicable limitations. An election to deduct foreign taxes instead of claiming foreign tax credits applies to all foreign taxes paid or accrued in the relevant taxable year.

Sale or Other Taxable Disposition of ADSs or Class A Ordinary Shares

A U.S. Holder will generally recognize capital gain or loss on a sale or other taxable disposition of ADSs or Class A ordinary shares in an amount equal to the difference between the amount realized and the U.S. Holder's tax basis in the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares disposed of, in each case as determined in U.S. dollars. The gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if, at the time of the sale or disposition, the U.S. Holder has owned the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares for more than one year. Long-term capital gains recognized by non-corporate U.S. Holders are subject to tax rates that are lower than those applicable to ordinary income. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

As described in "— People's Republic of China Taxation," gains on the sale of ADSs or Class A ordinary shares may be subject to PRC taxes. Under the Code, capital gains of U.S. persons are generally treated as U.S.-source income. However, if eligible for benefits under the Treaty, U.S. Holders that are eligible for benefits under the Treaty may be able to elect to treat the gain as foreign-source income under the Treaty and claim a foreign tax credit in respect of PRC taxes on disposition gains. The Foreign Tax Credit Regulations generally preclude a U.S. Holder from claiming a foreign tax credit with respect to PRC income taxes on gains from dispositions of ADSs or ordinary shares if the U.S. Holder does not elect to apply the benefits of the Treaty. However, in that case it is possible that any PRC taxes on disposition gains may either be deductible or reduce the amount realized on the disposition. The rules governing foreign tax credits and deductibility of foreign taxes are complex. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding their eligibility for benefits under the Treaty and the consequences of the imposition of any PRC tax on disposition gains, including the Treaty's resourcing rule, any reporting requirements with respect to a Treaty-based return position and the creditability or deductibility of any PRC tax on disposition gains in their particular circumstances (including any applicable limitations).

Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules

In general, a non-U.S. corporation is a PFIC for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any taxable year in which (i) 75% or more of its gross income consists of passive income; or (ii) 50% or more of the average value of its assets (generally determined on a quarterly basis) consists of assets that produce, or are held for the production of, passive income. For purposes of these calculations, a non-U.S. corporation that owns, directly or indirectly, at least 25% by value of the shares of another corporation is treated as if it held its proportionate share of the assets of the other corporation and received directly its proportionate share of the income of the other corporation. Passive income generally includes dividends, interest, rents, royalties (other than certain royalties derived in an active business), and certain investment gains. Cash is generally a passive asset for these purposes. Goodwill is generally characterized as an active asset to the extent it is associated with business activities that produce active income.

Based upon the manner in which we currently operate our business, the expected composition of our income and assets and the expected value of our assets (including goodwill, which is based on the expected price of the ADSs in this offering), we do not expect to be a PFIC for our current taxable year.

However, our PFIC status for any taxable year is an annual factual determination that can be made only after the end of that year. Our PFIC status for any taxable year will depend on the composition of our income and assets and the value of our assets from time to time, including the value of our goodwill (which may be determined, in large part, by reference to our market capitalization, which could be volatile). Therefore, our risk of being or becoming a PFIC will increase if our market capitalization declines while we hold a substantial amount of cash (including cash raised in this offering) and financial investments. In addition, if in the future we change the type of services we provide with respect to our franchised hotels, our PFIC status for any taxable year may depend on whether and to what extent our income from franchised hotels will be treated as derived in the active conduct of a trade or business within the meaning of applicable

Treasury regulations. Because of these uncertainties, there can be no assurance that we will not be a PFIC for our current or any future taxable year.

If we are a PFIC for any taxable year and any entity in which we own equity interests is also a PFIC (any such entity, a “Lower-tier PFIC”), U.S. Holders will be deemed to own a proportionate amount (by value) of the shares of each Lower-tier PFIC and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax according to the rules described in the next paragraph on (i) certain distributions by a Lower-tier PFIC and (ii) dispositions of shares of Lower-tier PFICs, in each case as if the U.S. Holders held such shares directly, even though the U.S. Holder does not receive any proceeds of those distributions or dispositions.

In general, if we are a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. Holder owns the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, gain recognized by such U.S. Holder on a sale or other disposition (including certain pledges) of the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares will be allocated ratably over the U.S. Holder’s holding period. The amounts allocated to the taxable year of the sale or disposition and to any year before we became a PFIC will be taxed as ordinary income. The amount allocated to each other taxable year will be subject to tax at the highest rate in effect for individuals or corporations, as appropriate, for that taxable year, and an interest charge will be imposed on the resulting tax liability for each such year. Furthermore, to the extent that distributions received by a U.S. Holder in any year on its ADSs or Class A ordinary shares exceed 125% of the average of the annual distributions on the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares received during the preceding three years or the U.S. Holder’s holding period, whichever is shorter, such distributions will be subject to taxation in the same manner. If we are a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. Holder owns ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, we will generally continue to be treated as a PFIC with respect to the U.S. Holder for all succeeding years during which the U.S. Holder owns the ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, even if we cease to meet the threshold requirements for PFIC status, unless the U.S. Holder makes a timely “deemed sale” election, in which case any gain on the deemed sale will be taxed under the PFIC rules described above.

Alternatively, if we are a PFIC for any taxable year and if the ADSs are “regularly traded” on the Nasdaq, a U.S. Holder that owns ADSs could make a mark-to-market election that will result in tax treatment different from the general tax treatment for PFICs described in the preceding paragraph. The ADSs will be treated as regularly traded for any calendar year in which more than a de minimis quantity of the ADSs is traded on the Nasdaq on at least 15 days during each calendar quarter. If a U.S. Holder of ADSs makes the mark-to-market election, for each taxable year that we are a PFIC, the U.S. Holder generally will recognize as ordinary income any excess of the fair market value of the ADSs at the end of such U.S. Holder’s taxable year over their adjusted tax basis, and will recognize an ordinary loss in respect of any excess of the adjusted tax basis of the ADSs over their fair market value at the end of such U.S. Holder’s taxable year, but only to the extent of the net amount of income previously included as a result of the mark-to-market election. If a U.S. Holder makes the election, the U.S. Holder’s tax basis in the ADSs will be adjusted to reflect the income or loss amounts recognized. Any gain recognized on the sale or other disposition of ADSs in a year in which we are a PFIC will be treated as ordinary income and any loss will be treated as an ordinary loss (but only to the extent of the net amount of income previously included as a result of the mark-to-market election, with any excess treated as capital loss). If a U.S. Holder makes the mark-to-market election, distributions paid on ADSs will be treated as discussed under “— Taxation of Distributions” above (but subject to the discussion in the immediately subsequent paragraph). Once made, the election will remain in effect for all taxable years in which we are a PFIC, unless it is revoked with the Internal Revenue Service’s consent, or the ADSs cease to be regularly traded on a qualified exchange. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the availability and advisability of making a mark-to-market election in their particular circumstances in the case that we are a PFIC for any taxable year. In particular, U.S. Holders should consider carefully the impact of a mark-to-market election with respect to their ADSs given that we may have Lower-tier PFICs, and there is no provision in the Code or Treasury regulations that would enable a U.S. Holder to file a mark-to-market election with respect to Lower-tier PFICs the shares of which are not regularly traded. In addition, because our ordinary shares will not be publicly traded, a U.S. Holder that holds ordinary shares that are not represented by ADSs will generally not be eligible to make a mark-to-market election with respect to such shares.

If we are a PFIC for a taxable year in which we pay a dividend or for the prior taxable year, the preferential tax rate described above with respect to dividends paid to certain non-corporate U.S. Holders will not apply.

If we are a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. Holder owns any ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, the U.S. Holder will generally be required to file annual reports with the Internal Revenue Service. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding the determination of whether we are a PFIC for any taxable year and the potential application of the PFIC rules to their ownership of ADSs or Class A ordinary shares.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

Payments of dividends and sales proceeds that are made within the United States or through certain U.S.-related financial intermediaries may be subject to information reporting and backup withholding, unless (i) the U.S. Holder is a corporation or other “exempt recipient” or (ii) in the case of backup withholding, the U.S. Holder provides a correct taxpayer identification number and certifies that it is not subject to backup withholding. The amount of any backup withholding from a payment to a U.S. Holder will be allowed as a credit against its U.S. federal income tax liability and may entitle it to a refund, provided that the required information is timely furnished to the Internal Revenue Service.

Certain U.S. Holders who are individuals (and certain specified entities) may be required to report information relating to their ownership of ADSs or Class A ordinary shares, or non-U.S. accounts through which the ADSs or ordinary shares are held. U.S. Holders should consult their tax advisers regarding their reporting obligations with respect to ADSs and Class A ordinary shares.

UNDERWRITING

BofA Securities, Inc. and Citigroup Global Markets Inc. are acting as representatives of each of the underwriters named below. Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in an underwriting agreement among us and the underwriters, we have agreed to sell to the underwriters, and each of the underwriters has agreed, severally and not jointly, to purchase from us, the number of ADSs set forth opposite its name below.

| Underwriter | Number of Shares |
|--|------------------|
| BofA Securities, Inc. | |
| Citigroup Global Markets Inc. | |
| China International Capital Corporation Hong Kong Securities Limited | |
| CMB International Capital Limited | |
| Futu Inc. | |
| Redbridge Securities LLC | |
| Total | |

Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the underwriting agreement, the underwriters have agreed, severally and not jointly, to purchase all of the ADSs sold under the underwriting agreement if any of these ADSs are purchased. If an underwriter defaults, the underwriting agreement provides that the purchase commitments of the nondefaulting underwriters may be increased or the underwriting agreement may be terminated.

We have agreed to indemnify the underwriters against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act, or to contribute to payments the underwriters may be required to make in respect of those liabilities.

The underwriters are offering the ADSs, subject to prior sale, when, as and if issued to and accepted by them, subject to approval of legal matters by their counsel, including the validity of the ADSs, and other conditions contained in the underwriting agreement, such as the receipt by the underwriters of officer's certificates and legal opinions. The underwriters reserve the right to withdraw, cancel or modify offers to the public and to reject orders in whole or in part.

Commissions and Discounts

The representatives have advised us that the underwriters propose initially to offer the ADSs to the public at the public offering price set forth on the cover page of this prospectus and to dealers at that price less a concession not in excess of $ _____ per share. After the initial offering, the public offering price, concession or any other term of the offering may be changed.

The following table shows the public offering price, underwriting discount and proceeds before expenses to us. The information assumes either no exercise or full exercise by the underwriters of their option to purchase additional ADSs.

| | Per Share | Without Option | With Option |
|----------------------------------|-----------|----------------|-------------|
| Public offering price | $ _____ | $ _____ | $ _____ |
| Underwriting discount | $ _____ | $ _____ | $ _____ |
| Proceeds, before expenses, to us | $ _____ | $ _____ | $ _____ |

The expenses of the offering, not including the underwriting discount, are estimated at $ _____ and are payable by us. [We have agreed to reimburse the underwriters for certain of their expenses in an amount up to $ _____ million.]

Certain of the underwriters are expected to make offers and sales both inside and outside the United States through their respective selling agents. Any offers or sales in the United States will be conducted by broker-dealers registered with the SEC. China International Capital Corporation Hong Kong Securities Limited is not a broker-dealer registered with the SEC and, to the extent that its conduct may be deemed to involve participation in offers or sales of ADSs in the United States, those offers or sales will be made through one or more SEC-registered broker-dealers in compliance with the applicable laws and regulations. CMB International Capital Limited is not a broker-dealer registered with the SEC and may not make sales in the United States or to U.S. persons. CMB International Capital Limited has agreed that it does not intend to and will not offer or sell any of our ADSs in the United States or to U.S. persons in connection with this offering.

The address of BofA Securities, Inc. is One Bryant Park, New York, NY 10036, United States of America. The address of Citigroup Global Markets Inc. is 388 Greenwich Street, New York, NY 10013, United States of America. The address of China International Capital Corporation Hong Kong Securities Limited is 29th Floor, One International Finance Centre, 1 Harbour View Street, Central, Hong Kong. The address of CMB International Capital Limited is 45F, Champion Tower, 3 Garden Road, Central, Hong Kong. The address of Futu Inc. is 720 University Avenue, Suite 100, Palo Alto, CA 94301. The address of Redbridge Securities LLC is 7300 Lone Star Drive, Suite C200, Plano, TX 75024.

Option to Purchase Additional ADSs

We have granted an option to the underwriters, exercisable for 30 days after the date of this prospectus, to purchase up to additional ADSs at the public offering price, less the underwriting discount. If the underwriters exercise this option, each will be obligated, subject to conditions contained in the underwriting agreement, to purchase a number of additional ADSs proportionate to that underwriter's initial amount reflected in the above table.

No Sales of Similar Securities

We, our executive officers and directors and our existing shareholders have agreed not to sell or transfer any of our ADSs or ordinary shares for 180 days after the date of this prospectus without first obtaining the written consent of the representatives. Specifically, we and these other persons have agreed, with certain exceptions, not to directly or indirectly

- offer, pledge, sell or contract to sell any ordinary shares or ADSs,
- sell any option or contract to purchase any ordinary shares or ADSs,
- purchase any option or contract to sell any ordinary shares or ADSs,
- grant any option, right or warrant to purchase any ordinary shares or ADSs,
- lend or otherwise dispose of or transfer any ordinary shares or ADSs, or
- enter into any swap or other agreement that transfers, in whole or in part, the economic consequence of ownership of any ordinary shares or ADSs whether any such swap or transaction is to be settled by delivery of ADSs or other securities, in cash or otherwise.

In addition, our executive officers and directors and our existing shareholders have agreed not to make any demand for or exercise any right with respect to the registration of any ADSs or ordinary shares for 180 days after the date of this prospectus.

These lock-up provisions also apply to securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for ordinary shares or ADSs. They also apply to ordinary shares or ADSs owned now or acquired later by the person executing the agreement or for which the person executing the agreement later acquires the power of disposition.

Nasdaq Global Market Listing

We expect the ADSs to be approved for listing on the Nasdaq Global Market, subject to notice of issuance, under the symbol "ATAT."

Before this offering, there has been no public market for our common stock. The initial public offering price will be determined through negotiations between us and the representatives. In addition to prevailing market conditions, the factors to be considered in determining the initial public offering price are

- the valuation multiples of publicly traded companies that the representatives believe to be comparable to us,
- our financial information,
- the history of, and the prospects for, our company and the industry in which we compete,
- an assessment of our management, its past and present operations, and the prospects for, and timing of, our future revenues,
- the present state of our development, and
- the above factors in relation to market values and various valuation measures of other companies engaged in activities similar to ours.

An active trading market for the ADSs may not develop. It is also possible that after the offering the ADSs will not trade in the public market at or above the initial public offering price.

The underwriters do not expect to sell more than 5% of the ADSs in the aggregate to accounts over which they exercise discretionary authority.

Price Stabilization, Short Positions and Penalty Bids

Until the distribution of the ADSs is completed, SEC rules may limit underwriters and selling group members from bidding for and purchasing the ADSs. However, the representatives may engage in transactions that stabilize the price of the ADSs, such as bids or purchases to peg, fix or maintain that price.

In connection with the offering, the underwriters may purchase and sell the ADSs in the open market. These transactions may include short sales, purchases on the open market to cover positions created by short sales and stabilizing transactions. Short sales involve the sale by the underwriters of a greater number of ADSs than they are required to purchase in the offering. "Covered" short sales are sales made in an amount not greater than the underwriters' option to purchase additional ADSs described above. The underwriters may close out any covered short position by either exercising their option to purchase additional ADSs or purchasing ADSs in the open market. In determining the source of ADSs to close out the covered short position, the underwriters will consider, among other things, the price of ADSs available for purchase in the open market as compared to the price at which they may purchase ADSs through the option granted to them. "Naked" short sales are sales in excess of such option. The underwriters must close out any naked short position by purchasing ADSs in the open market. A naked short position is more likely to be created if the underwriters are concerned that there may be downward pressure on the price of the ADSs in the open market after pricing that could adversely affect investors who purchase in the offering. Stabilizing transactions consist of various bids for or purchases of ADSs made by the underwriters in the open market prior to the completion of the offering.

The underwriters may also impose a penalty bid. This occurs when a particular underwriter repays to the underwriters a portion of the underwriting discount received by it because the representatives have repurchased ADSs sold by or for the account of such underwriter in stabilizing or short covering transactions.

Similar to other purchase transactions, the underwriters' purchases to cover the syndicate short sales may have the effect of raising or maintaining the market price of the ADSs or preventing or retarding a decline in the market price of the ADSs. As a result, the price of the ADSs may be higher than the price that might otherwise exist in the open market. The underwriters may conduct these transactions on Nasdaq, in the over-the-counter market or otherwise.

Neither we nor any of the underwriters make any representation or prediction as to the direction or magnitude of any effect that the transactions described above may have on the price of the ADSs. In addition, neither we nor any of the underwriters make any representation that the representatives will engage in these transactions or that these transactions, once commenced, will not be discontinued without notice.

Electronic Distribution

In connection with the offering, certain of the underwriters or securities dealers may distribute prospectuses by electronic means, such as e-mail.

Other Relationships

Some of the underwriters and their affiliates have engaged in, and may in the future engage in, investment banking and other commercial dealings in the ordinary course of business with us or our affiliates. They have received, or may in the future receive, customary fees and commissions for these transactions.

In addition, in the ordinary course of their business activities, the underwriters and their affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of ours or our affiliates. The underwriters and their affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or financial instruments and may hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such securities and instruments.

Notice to Prospective Investors in European Economic Area

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area (each an “EEA State”), no ADSs have been offered or will be offered pursuant to the offer to the public in that EEA State prior to the publication of a prospectus in relation to the ADSs which has been approved by the competent authority in that EEA State or, where appropriate, approved in another EEA State and notified to the competent authority in that EEA State, all in accordance with the EU Prospectus Regulation, except that it may make an offer to the public in that EEA State of any ADSs at any time under the following exemptions under the EU Prospectus Regulation:

- (a) to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined under the EU Prospectus Regulation;
- (b) to fewer than 150 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined under the EU Prospectus Regulation), subject to obtaining the prior consent of representatives for any such offer; or
- (c) in any other circumstances falling within Article 1(4) of the EU Prospectus Regulation, provided that no such offer of the ADSs shall require the Issuer or any underwriter to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the EU Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the EU Prospectus Regulation.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an “offer to the public” in relation to the ADSs in any EEA State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and any ADSs to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for any ADSs, and the expression “EU Prospectus Regulation” means Regulation (EU) 2017/1129.

Notice to Prospective Investors in the United Kingdom

In relation to the United Kingdom, no ADSs have been offered or will be offered pursuant to the offer to the public in the United Kingdom prior to the publication of a prospectus in relation to the ADSs which has been approved by the Financial Conduct Authority in accordance with the UK Prospectus Regulation, except that it may make an offer to the public in the United Kingdom of any ADSs at any time under the following exemptions under the UK Prospectus Regulation:

- (a) to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined under the UK Prospectus Regulation;
- (b) to fewer than 150 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined under the UK Prospectus Regulation), subject to obtaining the prior consent of representatives for any such offer; or

(c) in any other circumstances falling within Article 1(4) of the UK Prospectus Regulation, provided that no such offer of the ADSs shall require the Issuer or any underwriter to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the UK Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the UK Prospectus Regulation.

In the United Kingdom, the offer is only addressed to, and is directed only at, “qualified investors” within the meaning of Article 2(e) of the UK Prospectus Regulation, who are also (i) persons having professional experience in matters relating to investments who fall within the definition of “investment professionals” in Article 19(5) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Financial Promotion) Order 2005 (the “Order”); (ii) high net worth bodies corporate, unincorporated associations and partnerships and trustees of high value trusts as described in Article 49(2) of the Order; or (iii) persons to whom it may otherwise lawfully be communicated (all such persons being referred to as “relevant persons”). This document must not be acted on or relied on by persons who are not relevant persons. Any investment or investment activity to which this document relates is available only to relevant persons and will be engaged in only with relevant persons.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an “offer to the public” in relation to the ADSs in the United Kingdom means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and any ADSs to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for any ADSs, and the expression “UK Prospectus Regulation” means the UK version of Regulation (EU) No 2017/1129 as amended by The Prospectus (Amendment etc.) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019, which is part of UK law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Switzerland

The ADSs may not be publicly offered in Switzerland and will not be listed on the SIX Swiss Exchange (“SIX”) or on any other stock exchange or regulated trading facility in Switzerland. This document has been prepared without regard to the disclosure standards for issuance prospectuses under art. 652a or art. 1156 of the Swiss Code of Obligations or the disclosure standards for listing prospectuses under art. 27 ff. of the SIX Listing Rules or the listing rules of any other stock exchange or regulated trading facility in Switzerland. Neither this document nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the ADSs or the offering may be publicly distributed or otherwise made publicly available in Switzerland.

Neither this document nor any other offering or marketing material relating to the offering, the Company, the ADSs have been or will be filed with or approved by any Swiss regulatory authority. In particular, this document will not be filed with, and the offer of ADSs will not be supervised by, the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA (FINMA), and the offer of ADSs has not been and will not be authorized under the Swiss Federal Act on Collective Investment Schemes (“CISA”). The investor protection afforded to acquirers of interests in collective investment schemes under the CISA does not extend to acquirers of ADSs.

Notice to Prospective Investors in the Dubai International Financial Centre

This prospectus relates to an exempt offer in accordance with the Offered Securities Rules of the Dubai Financial Services Authority (“DFSA”). This prospectus is intended for distribution only to persons of a type specified in the Offered Securities Rules of the DFSA. It must not be delivered to, or relied on by, any other person. The DFSA has no responsibility for reviewing or verifying any documents in connection with exempt offers. The DFSA has not approved this prospectus nor taken steps to verify the information set forth herein and has no responsibility for the prospectus. The ADSs to which this prospectus relates may be illiquid and/or subject to restrictions on their resale. Prospective purchasers of the ADSs offered should conduct their own due diligence on the ADSs. If you do not understand the contents of this prospectus you should consult an authorized financial advisor.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Australia

No placement document, prospectus, product disclosure statement or other disclosure document has been lodged with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (“ASIC”), in relation to the offering.

This prospectus does not constitute a prospectus, product disclosure statement or other disclosure document under the Corporations Act 2001 (the “Corporations Act”), and does not purport to include the information required for a prospectus, product disclosure statement or other disclosure document under the Corporations Act.

Any offer in Australia of the ADSs may only be made to persons (the “Exempt Investors”) who are “sophisticated investors” (within the meaning of section 708(8) of the Corporations Act), “professional investors” (within the meaning of section 708(11) of the Corporations Act) or otherwise pursuant to one or more exemptions contained in section 708 of the Corporations Act so that it is lawful to offer the ADSs without disclosure to investors under Chapter 6D of the Corporations Act.

The ADSs applied for by Exempt Investors in Australia must not be offered for sale in Australia in the period of 12 months after the date of allotment under the offering, except in circumstances where disclosure to investors under Chapter 6D of the Corporations Act would not be required pursuant to an exemption under section 708 of the Corporations Act or otherwise or where the offer is pursuant to a disclosure document which complies with Chapter 6D of the Corporations Act. Any person acquiring ADSs must observe such Australian on-sale restrictions.

This prospectus contains general information only and does not take account of the investment objectives, financial situation or particular needs of any particular person. It does not contain any securities recommendations or financial product advice. Before making an investment decision, investors need to consider whether the information in this prospectus is appropriate to their needs, objectives and circumstances, and, if necessary, seek expert advice on those matters.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Hong Kong

The securities have not been offered or sold and will not be offered or sold in Hong Kong, by means of any document, other than (a) to “professional investors” as defined in the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571) of Hong Kong and any rules made under that Ordinance; or (b) in other circumstances which do not result in the document being a “prospectus” as defined in the Companies Ordinance (Cap. 32) of Hong Kong or which do not constitute an offer to the public within the meaning of that Ordinance. No advertisement, invitation or document relating to the securities has been or may be issued or has been or may be in the possession of any person for the purposes of issue, whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere, which is directed at, or the contents of which are likely to be accessed or read by, the public of Hong Kong (except if permitted to do so under the securities laws of Hong Kong) other than with respect to securities which are or are intended to be disposed of only to persons outside Hong Kong or only to “professional investors” as defined in the Securities and Futures Ordinance and any rules made under that Ordinance.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Japan

The securities have not been and will not be registered under the Financial Instruments and Exchange Law of Japan (Law No. 25 of 1948, as amended) and, accordingly, will not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, in Japan, or for the benefit of any Japanese Person or to others for re-offering or resale, directly or indirectly, in Japan or to any Japanese Person, except in compliance with all applicable laws, regulations and ministerial guidelines promulgated by relevant Japanese governmental or regulatory authorities in effect at the relevant time. For the purposes of this paragraph, “Japanese Person” shall mean any person resident in Japan, including any corporation or other entity organized under the laws of Japan.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Singapore

This prospectus has not been registered as a prospectus with the Monetary Authority of Singapore. Accordingly, the securities were not offered or sold or caused to be made the subject of an invitation for subscription or purchase and will not be offered or sold or caused to be made the subject of an invitation for subscription or purchase, and this prospectus or any other document or material in connection with the offer or sale, or invitation for subscription or purchase, of the securities, has not been circulated or distributed, nor will it be circulated or distributed, whether directly or indirectly, to any person in Singapore other than (i) to an institutional investor (as defined in Section 4A of the Securities and Futures Act (Chapter 289) of Singapore, as modified or amended from time to time (the “SFA”)) pursuant to Section 274 of the SFA, (ii) to a relevant person (as defined in Section 275(2) of the SFA) pursuant to Section 275(1) of the SFA, or any person pursuant to Section 275(1A) of the SFA, and in accordance with the conditions specified in Section 275 of the SFA, or (iii) otherwise pursuant to, and in accordance with the conditions of, any other applicable provision of the SFA.

Where the securities are subscribed or purchased under Section 275 of the SFA by a relevant person which is:

- (a) a corporation (which is not an accredited investor (as defined in Section 4A of the SFA)) the sole business of which is to hold investments and the entire share capital of which is owned by one or more individuals, each of whom is an accredited investor; or
- (b) a trust (where the trustee is not an accredited investor) whose sole purpose is to hold investments and each beneficiary of the trust is an individual who is an accredited investor, securities or securities-based derivatives contracts (each term as defined in Section 2(1) of the SFA) of that corporation or the beneficiaries' rights and interest (howsoever described) in that trust shall not be transferred within six months after that corporation or that trust has acquired the securities pursuant to an offer made under Section 275 of the SFA except:

- (a) to an institutional investor or to a relevant person, or to any person arising from an offer referred to in Section 275(1A) or Section 276(4)(i)(B) of the SFA;
- (b) where no consideration is or will be given for the transfer;
- (c) where the transfer is by operation of law; or
- (d) as specified in Section 276(7) of the SFA.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Canada

The securities may be sold only to purchasers purchasing, or deemed to be purchasing, as principal that are accredited investors, as defined in National Instrument 45-106 Prospectus Exemptions or subsection 73.3(1) of the Securities Act (Ontario), and are permitted clients, as defined in National Instrument 31-103 Registration Requirements, Exemptions and Ongoing Registrant Obligations. Any resale of the securities must be made in accordance with an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the prospectus requirements of applicable securities laws.

Securities legislation in certain provinces or territories of Canada may provide a purchaser with remedies for rescission or damages if this prospectus (including any amendment thereto) contains a misrepresentation, provided that the remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser's province or territory. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province or territory for particulars of these rights or consult with a legal advisor.

Pursuant to section 3A.3 (or, in the case of securities issued or guaranteed by the government of a non-Canadian jurisdiction, section 3A.4) of National Instrument 33-105 Underwriting Conflicts (NI 33-105), the underwriters are not required to comply with the disclosure requirements of NI 33-105 regarding underwriter conflicts of interest in connection with this offering.

WHERE YOU CAN FIND ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

We have filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission a registration statement (including amendments and exhibits to the registration statement) on Form F-1 under the Securities Act. This prospectus, which is part of the registration statement, does not contain all of the information set forth in the registration statement and the exhibits and schedules to the registration statement. For further information, we refer you to the registration statement and the exhibits and schedules filed as part of the registration statement. If a document has been filed as an exhibit to the registration statement, we refer you to the copy of the document that has been filed. Each statement in this prospectus relating to a document filed as an exhibit is qualified in all respects by the filed exhibit.

Upon completion of this offering, we will become subject to the informational requirements of the Exchange Act. Accordingly, we will be required to file reports and other information with the SEC, including annual reports on Form 20-F and reports on Form 6-K. The SEC maintains an Internet site at www.sec.gov that contains reports, proxy and information statements and other information we have filed electronically with the SEC.

As a foreign private issuer, we are exempt under the Exchange Act from, among other things, the rules prescribing the furnishing and content of proxy statements, and our executive officers, directors and principal shareholders are exempt from the reporting and short-swing profit recovery provisions contained in Section 16 of the Exchange Act. In addition, we will not be required under the Exchange Act to file periodic reports and financial statements with the SEC as frequently or as promptly as U.S. companies whose securities are registered under the Exchange Act.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Shareholders and Board of Directors
Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited:

Opinion on the Consolidated Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited (the “Company”) and the subsidiaries (collectively the “Group”) as of December 31, 2020 and 2021, the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in (deficit) equity, and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2021, and the related notes (collectively, the “consolidated financial statements”). In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2020 and 2021, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2021, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Basis for Opinion

These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (“PCAOB”) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We have served as the Company’s auditor since 2021.

NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(In thousands of RMB, except share data and per share data, or otherwise noted)

1. Description of the business and organization

(a) Description of the business

Atour Lifestyle Holdings Limited (“Atour LifeStyle” or the “Company”), is a holding company incorporated in the Cayman Islands. The Company conducts its business through its subsidiary, Shanghai Yaduo Business Management (Group) Co., Ltd. (“Atour Shanghai”), and the subsidiaries of Atour Shanghai (“together referred to as the “Group”). The principal business activities of the Group are to develop lifestyle brands around hotel offerings in the People’s Republic of China (the “PRC”).

Manachised hotels

Manachised hotels refers to franchised-and-managed hotels. Typically the Group enters into certain franchise and management arrangements with franchisees for which the Group is responsible for providing branding, appointing and training of the hotel managers, and various other management services. Under typical franchise and management agreements, the franchisee is required to pay an upfront franchise fee and ongoing franchise and management service fees, the majority of which are determined based on a certain percentage of the revenues of the hotel. The franchisee is responsible for hotel construction, renovation and maintenance. The term of the franchise and management agreements are typically eight to fifteen years.

Leased hotels

Leased hotels refer to the hotels that the Group operates and manages and where the properties are leased from third party lessors. The Group is responsible for hotel development and customization to conform to the Group’s standards, as well as for repairs and maintenance and operating costs and expenses of properties over the term of the lease. The Group is also responsible for all aspects of hotel operations and management, including hiring, training and supervising the hotel managers and employees required to operate our hotels and purchasing supplies.

As of December 31, 2021, the principal subsidiaries of the Group are as follows:

(b) Restructuring

In connection with the initial public offering of the Company's shares, the Group undertook certain corporate restructuring activities in 2021 to establish an offshore structure to hold the entire equity interest in Atour Shanghai ("Restructuring"). The Restructuring was approved by the shareholders and board of directors of Atour Shanghai in December 2020 and a reorganization framework agreement was entered into between Atour Shanghai and the shareholders of Atour Shanghai in February 2021. As part of the Restructuring, the Company established an intermediate holding company of the Group in Hong Kong, Atour Hong Kong, to hold the entire equity interests in Atour Shanghai.

Pursuant to the Restructuring, the affiliates of the existing equity holders of Atour Shanghai would acquire the equity interests in the Company substantially in proportion to their respective effective equity interests in Atour Shanghai prior to the Restructuring. The Restructuring was fully completed in May 2021 upon the completion of issuance of the shares of the Company to the affiliates of the former equity holders of Atour Shanghai. The Restructuring did not change any rights or economic interests of the equity holders of Atour Shanghai, including the preference rights where applicable, notwithstanding the interval of time between the surrendering of their Atour Shanghai's shares and the acquisition of the Company's shares (through their offshore affiliates) due to certain PRC foreign exchange regulatory procedures that are considered administrative in nature.

Atour Lifestyle and Atour Hong Kong had no operations with only nominal amount of net assets prior to the consummation of the Restructuring. All of the Group's business continues to be conducted through Atour Shanghai and its subsidiaries after the Restructuring.

The Restructuring has been accounted for as a reverse recapitalization of Atour Shanghai rather than a business combination. Accordingly, the Company's consolidated financial statements represent a continuation of the financial statement of Atour Shanghai and the assets and liabilities are presented at their historical carrying values. The effect of the Restructuring where applicable has been retrospectively reflected in the consolidated financial statements. Certain equity transactions that occurred during the intervening period of the Restructuring as further set out in Note 16(b), 16(c) and 16(d) are accounted for separately from the Restructuring as they are not part of the integrated set of activities constituting the Restructuring and serve distinct purposes independent of the Restructuring.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Basis of preparation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP").

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Renminbi ("RMB"), rounded to the nearest thousands except share data and per share data, or otherwise noted.

(b) Principles of consolidation

The Company's consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries.

All intercompany transactions and balances among the Company and its subsidiaries have been eliminated upon consolidation.

(c) Use of estimates

The preparation of the Company's consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the balance sheet date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include, but are not limited to, estimate of standalone selling prices of each unit of accounting in multiple elements arrangements, estimate of breakage, the realization of deferred tax assets, the fair value of share-based compensation awards, and the recoverability of long-lived assets. Changes in facts and circumstances may result in revised estimates. Actual results could differ from those estimates, and as such, differences may be material to the consolidated financial statements.

(d) Convenience translation

Translations of balances in the consolidated financial statements from RMB into US$ as of and for the year ended December 31, 2021 are solely for the convenience of the readers and were calculated at the rate of US$1.00=RMB 6.3726 representing the exchange rate set forth in the H.10 statistical release of the Federal Reserve Board on December 30, 2021. No representation is made that the RMB amounts could have been, or could be, converted, realized or settled into US$ at that rate on December 31, 2021, or at any other rate. The US$ convenience translation is not required under U.S. GAAP and all US$ convenience translation amounts in the accompanying consolidated financial statements are unaudited.

(e) Functional currency and foreign currency translation

The Group's reporting currency is RMB. RMB is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Group operates. The functional currency of the Company is the United States dollars ("USD"). The functional currency of the Company's PRC subsidiaries is the RMB. The Group determined its functional currency to be RMB based on the criteria of Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 830, Foreign Currency Matters.

Transactions denominated in currencies other than the functional currency are remeasured into the functional currency at the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are remeasured into the functional currency using the applicable exchange rate at the balance sheet date. The resulted exchange differences are recorded in the other (expense) income, net in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

The results of foreign operations are translated into RMB at the exchange rates as of the balance sheet date for assets and liabilities, the average daily exchange rate for each month for income and expense items and the historical exchange rates for equity accounts. Translation gains and losses are recorded in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the translation adjustment component of equity until the sale or liquidation of the foreign entity.

(f) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and on hand, and highly liquid investments. The Group considers highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and with a maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. Substantially all of the Group's bank deposits are placed with financial institutions in the PRC.

(g) Restricted cash

Restricted cash mainly consists of security deposits as requested by local government agencies and landlords. Restricted cash is classified as either current or non-current based on when the funds will be released in accordance with the terms of the respective agreement for the establishment.

(h) Short-term investments

Short-term investments include wealth management products with original maturities less than one year when purchased, which are with variable interest rates or principal amounts are not guaranteed and are placed with certain financial institutions. The gains from short-term investments were recorded in gain from short-term investments in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

(i) Accounts receivable, net

Accounts receivable primarily consists of receivables from franchisees, corporate customers, travel agents, hotel guests and credit card receivables, which are recognized and carried at the original invoice amount less an allowance for doubtful accounts. The Group establishes an allowance for doubtful accounts primarily based on the aging of the receivables and factors surrounding the credit risk of specific franchisees and other customers. Accounts receivable balances are charged off against the allowance after all means of collection have been exhausted and the potential for recovery is considered remote. As of December 31, 2020 and 2021, the Group does not have any off-balance-sheet credit exposure relate to its franchisees and other customers.

(j) Contract costs

Contract costs are the incremental costs of obtaining a contract with a customer. Incremental costs of obtaining a contract are those costs that the Group incurs to obtain a contract with a customer that it would not have incurred if the contract had not been obtained (e.g. an incremental sales commission). Incremental costs of obtaining a contract are capitalized when incurred if the costs relate to revenue which will be recognized in a future reporting period and the costs are expected to be recovered. Other costs of obtaining a contract are expensed when incurred. Capitalized contract costs are amortized on straight-line basis over the fixed franchise and management agreement term considering the expected beneficial period from the contract cost asset is the fixed contract term. Capitalized contract costs are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses.

Contract costs capitalized as of December 31, 2020 and 2021 relate to the incremental sales commissions paid to the Group's sales personnel whose selling activities resulted in customers entering into franchise and management agreements with the Group. Contract costs are recognized as part of selling and marketing expenses in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income in the period in which revenue from the franchise fees is recognized. The amount of capitalized costs recognized in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021 were RMB6,286, RMB7,556 and RMB7,870, respectively.

(k) Inventories

Inventories mainly consists of lifestyle products, small appliances and daily consumables, which are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost of inventory is determined using the specific identification method.

(l) Property and equipment, net

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment.

The estimated useful lives are presented below.

|---|--|
| Leasehold improvements | Shorter of the lease term and the estimated useful lives of the assets |
| Equipment, fixtures and furniture, and other fixed assets | 5 - 10 years |

Depreciation commences when the asset is ready for its intended use. Depreciation on property and equipment is calculated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets.

Expenditures for repairs and maintenance are expensed as incurred. Gains or losses arising from the disposal of an item of property and equipment are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item and are recognized in profit or loss on the date of disposal.

(m) Capitalized interest

Interest costs that are directly attributable to the construction of an asset which necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset. The capitalization of interest costs as part of the cost of a qualifying asset commences when expenditure for the asset is being incurred, interest costs are being incurred and activities that are necessary to prepare the asset for its intended use are in progress. Capitalization of interest costs is ceased when the asset is substantially complete and ready for its intended use.

A reconciliation of total interest costs to interest expenses as reported in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021 is as follows:

| | Years ended December 31, | | |
|-------------------------------------|--------------------------|--------------|--------------|
| | 2019 | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| Total interest expenses | 7,965 | 6,130 | 9,469 |
| Less: interest expenses capitalized | (3,671) | (4,649) | (1,532) |
| Interest expenses | 4,294 | 1,481 | 7,937 |

(n) Intangible assets, net

Intangible assets consist primarily software.

Amortization of finite-lived intangible assets is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives. The amortization period is as follows:

|--------------------|---------|
| Purchased software | 5 years |

(o) Impairment of long-lived assets

Long-lived assets, such as property and equipment, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. For the purposes of impairment testing of long-lived assets of leased hotel, the Group has concluded that an individual hotel is the lowest level for which identifiable cash flows are largely independent of the cash flows of other assets and liabilities. When there were circumstances that require the long-lived assets of a hotel be tested for possible impairment, the Group first compares undiscounted cash flows generated by the assets to the carrying amount. If the carrying amount of the long-lived assets is not recoverable on an undiscounted cash flow basis, an impairment is recognized to the extent that the carrying amount exceeds its fair value. Fair value is determined through various valuation techniques including discounted cash flow models, quoted market values and third-party independent appraisals, as considered necessary. No impairment losses were recorded for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021.

(p) Business combination

Business combination is recorded using the acquisition method of accounting. The assets acquired, the liabilities assumed, and any non-controlling interests of the acquiree at the acquisition date, if any, are measured at their fair values as of the acquisition date. Goodwill is recognized and measured as the excess of the total consideration transferred plus the fair value of any non-controlling interest of the acquiree and fair value of previously held equity interest in the acquiree, if any, at the acquisition date over the fair values of the identifiable net assets acquired. Consideration transferred in a business acquisition is measured at the fair value as of the date of acquisition.

(q) Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess purchase price over the estimated fair value of net assets acquired in a business combination.

Goodwill is not amortized but is tested for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that it might be impaired. Goodwill is tested for impairment at the reporting unit level on an annual basis and between annual tests if an event occurs or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of a reporting unit below its carrying value. These events or circumstances could include a significant change in business climate, legal factors, operating performance indicators, competition, or sale or disposition of a significant portion of a reporting unit. The Group performs its annual impairment review of goodwill at December 31 of each year.

The Group has determined that it has one reporting unit, which is also its only reportable segment.

The Group has the option to perform a qualitative assessment to determine whether it is more-likely-than-not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying value prior to performing the two-step goodwill impairment test. If it is more-likely-than-not that the fair value of a reporting unit is greater than its carrying amount, the two-step goodwill impairment test is not required. If the two-step goodwill impairment test is required, first, the fair value of the reporting unit is compared with its carrying amount (including goodwill). If the fair value of the reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, an indication of goodwill impairment exists for the reporting unit and the Group performs step two of the impairment test (measurement). Under step two, an impairment loss is recognized for any excess of the carrying amount of the reporting unit's goodwill over the implied fair value of that goodwill. The implied fair value of goodwill is determined by allocating the fair value of the reporting unit in a manner similar to a purchase price allocation and the residual fair value after this allocation is the implied fair value of the reporting unit goodwill.

Application of the goodwill impairment test requires judgment, including the determination of the fair value of each reporting unit. Estimating fair value is performed by utilizing various valuation techniques, with a primary technique being a discounted cash flow which requires significant judgments, including estimation of future cash flows, which is dependent on internal forecasts, estimation of the long term rate of growth for the Group's business, estimation of the useful life over which cash flows will occur, and determination of the Group's weighted average cost of capital.

No impairment losses were recorded for goodwill for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021.

(r) Value-added-tax ("VAT")

Entities that are VAT general taxpayers are permitted to offset qualified input VAT paid to suppliers against their output VAT upon receipt of appropriate supplier VAT invoices on an entity by entity basis. When the output VAT exceeds the input VAT, the difference is remitted to tax authorities, usually on a monthly basis; whereas when the input VAT exceeds the output VAT, the difference is treated as VAT recoverable which can be carried forward indefinitely to offset future net VAT payables. VAT related to purchases and sales which have not been settled at the balance sheet date is disclosed separately as an asset and liability, respectively, in the consolidated balance sheet.

For entities engaged in hospitality industry, the input VAT credit is entitled to additional 10% to 15% deduction from April 1, 2019 to December 31, 2021. For the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, the Group recognized RMB2,211, RMB5,766 and RMB12,864 of input VAT additional deduction benefit, respectively, and included in other operating income in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the PRC government has implemented VAT exemption policy on impacted industries in 2020. For the year ended December 31, 2020, the Group recognized RMB2,885 of VAT exemption benefit and included in other operating income in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

Under ASC 840, leases where substantially all the rewards and risks of ownership of assets remain with the lessor are accounted for as operating leases. When a lease contains rent holidays or requires fixed escalations of the minimum lease payments, the Group records the total rental expense on a straight-line basis over the initial lease term and the difference between the straight-line rental expense and cash payment under the lease is recorded as deferred rent. The initial direct costs paid by the Group as lessee is deferred and amortized over the term of the lease using the straight-line method.

As of December 31, 2020 and 2021, deferred rent of RMB8,783 and RMB6,483 were recorded in other current liabilities and RMB172,513 and RMB204,056 were recorded in other non-current liabilities, respectively. Rental expenses amounted to RMB317,379, RMB358,853 and RMB366,763 for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively. The Group was granted RMB12,668 and RMB646 in lease concessions from landlords related to the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic for the year ended December 31, 2020 and 2021, respectively, which were primarily in the form of rent reduction over the period of time and recognized as reduction of rental expenses for the year ended December 31, 2020 and 2021.

Sublease rental revenues are derived from subleasing partial space of the leased hotels to third-parties, which are recognized on a straight-line basis over the contractual lease term. The sublease rental revenue is recorded in other revenues in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income amounted to RMB5,633, RMB6,149 and RMB9,464 for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively.

(t) Asset retirement costs

The Group's asset retirement obligations are primarily related to its leased hotels, of which the majority are leased under long-term arrangements, and, in certain cases, are required to be returned to the landlords in their original condition. The fair value of a liability for an asset retirement obligation is recognized in the period in which it is incurred. The corresponding asset retirement costs are capitalized as part of the cost of leasehold improvements and are depreciated over the shorter of the asset or the term of the lease subsequent to the initial measurement. The Group accretes the liability in relation to the asset retirement obligations over time and the accretion expense is recorded in hotel operating costs in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

Asset retirement obligations are recorded in other non-current liabilities. The following table summarizes the activities of the asset retirement obligation liability:

| | As of December 31, | |
|--------------------------------------|--------------------|--------------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| Balance at the beginning of the year | 3,269 | 3,429 |
| Addition during the year | — | — |
| Accretion expense | 160 | 168 |
| Balance at the end of the year | 3,429 | 3,597 |

(u) Revenue recognition

The Group adopted ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers on January 1, 2019. Revenue is primarily derived from contracts of manachised hotels with third party franchisees, products and services in leased hotels, as well as sales of lifestyle products via the e-commerce platforms and hotel shops.

(1) Manachised hotel revenues

The franchise and management agreements primarily contain the following promised goods or services:

- Intellectual Property ("IP") license grants the right to access the Group's hotel system IP, including brand names.
- Pre-opening services (e.g. information system installation service, and services related to the assistance on employees training and other hotel opening preparation activities).
- Hotel management services include providing day-to-day management services of the hotels for the franchisees.
- Sales of hotel supplies and other products.

The promises to provide pre-opening services (e.g. information system installation service, and services related to the assistance on employees training and other hotel opening preparation activities) are not considered distinct performance obligation because they are highly interrelated with the IP license. Therefore, the promises to provide these pre-opening services have been combined with the related IP license as a single performance obligation.

Manachised hotel revenues are derived from franchise and management agreements where the franchisees are primarily required to pay (i) upfront franchise fees, (ii) continuing franchise fees, which primarily consist of on-going franchise and management fees and hotel managers fees; and (iii) fees for purchase of hotel supplies and other products.

The transaction prices are allocated to the performance obligations based on the estimated standalone selling prices of each components.

Upfront franchise fees are typically fixed and collected upfront and recognized as revenue on straight-line basis over the term of the franchise contract. The Group does not consider that the upfront franchise fees give rise to a significant financing component, since the primary purpose of the upfront franchise fee is to protect the Group from failure by franchisees to comply with the terms in the contract.

On-going franchise and management fees are generally calculated as a certain percentage of the revenues of the franchised hotel, which are due and payable on a monthly basis and revenue is recognized over time as services are rendered. Hotel managers fees are also billed and collected monthly and revenue is recognized over time as services are rendered.

Revenue from sales of hotel supplies and other products is recognized at a point of time when the control of the goods is transferred to the customers, generally when the goods are delivered to the customer and the customer has obtained the physical possession and legal title of the goods.

In certain cases, the Group also provides hotel renovation services to franchisees to convert their buildings suitable for hotel use. When the renovation revenue can be reasonably measured, such revenue is recognized progressively over time using the output method, based on the surveys of performance by the Group's experts who review the work performed to date under each contract. When the renovation revenue cannot be reasonably measured, such revenue is recognized only to the extent of contract costs incurred that are expected to be recovered. The hotel renovation service revenue is included in franchised hotels revenues — other transactions with the franchisees in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

(2) Leased hotel revenues

Leased hotel revenues are primarily derived from the rental of rooms, food and beverage sales and other ancillary services, including but not limited to laundry, parking and conference reservation. Each of these products and services represents a distinct performance obligation and, in exchange for these products and services, the Group receives fixed amounts based on published or negotiated prices. Payment is due in full at the time when the services are rendered or the goods are provided. Room rental revenue is recognized on a daily basis when rooms are occupied. Food and beverage revenue and other services revenue are recognized when they have been delivered or rendered to the guests as the respective performance obligations are satisfied.

(3) Retail revenues

Revenues from sales from lifestyle products through the e-commerce platforms and hotel shops are recognized when the control of the goods is transferred to the customers, generally when the goods are delivered to the customer and the customer has obtained the physical possession and the legal title of the goods.

Customer loyalty program

The Group invites its customers to participate in a membership program with different tiers of membership. Members could pay a membership fee for a higher membership tier.

Under the membership program, members earn loyalty points, which generally expire two years after being earned and can be redeemed for future products and services. Points earned by loyalty program members represent a material right to free or discounted goods or services in the future. The Group is responsible for providing or arranging for the provision of those free or discounted goods or services in exchange. The Group is acting as a principal if the members redeem the points for the room nights in leased hotels or other lifestyle products. The Group is acting as an agent if the members redeem the points for room nights in franchised hotels.

For points earned in leased hotels, a portion of the leased hotel revenues is deferred until the members redeem points. For points earned in franchised hotels, the Group collects a loyalty program management fee from franchised hotels at a fixed rate per point. Such loyalty program management fee is recognized on a net basis by netting off refunds to franchised hotels when members redeem the points for room nights in franchised hotels, and is included in franchised hotels revenues — other transactions with the franchisees in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

The Group estimates breakage for loyalty points that members will never redeem based on the Group's historical experience and expectations of future member behavior and re-assess the estimate at the end of each reporting period. The estimated breakage for points earned in manachised hotels are also recognized as manachised hotels revenues — other transactions with the franchisees in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

Membership fee from the Group's customer loyalty program is recognized on a straight-line basis over the membership period, which is included in other revenues in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

(v) Contract assets and deferred revenue

Contract assets primarily represent revenue earned that is not yet billable based on the terms of the contracts. The Company does not have impairment losses on contract assets for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021.

Cash proceeds received from customers are recorded as deferred revenue before the Group performs under the contracts.

Contract assets and deferred revenue are reported in a net position on an individual contract basis at the end of each reporting period. Contract assets are classified as current in the consolidated balance sheet when the Group expects to realize within one year from the balance sheet date. Contract liabilities are classified as current in the consolidated balance sheet when the Group expects to settle within one year from the balance sheet date.

(w) Government grant

Government subsidies are received from provincial and local governments for operating a business in their jurisdictions and compliance with specific policies promoted by the local governments. Such subsidies allow the Group full discretion to utilize the funds and are used by the Group for general corporate purposes. During the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, the Group received financial subsidies of RMB12,391, RMB14,778 and RMB9,507 from various local PRC government authorities, respectively. There are no defined rules and regulations to govern the criteria necessary for companies to receive such benefits, and the amount of financial subsidy is determined at the discretion of the relevant government authorities. Such amounts are recorded as other operating income in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, when received as the amount of the subsidies and the timing of payment are determined solely at the discretion of the relevant government authorities and there is no assurance that the Group will continue to receive any or similar subsidies in the future.

(x) Advertising and promotion expenses

Advertising related expenses, including promotion expenses and production costs of marketing materials, are charged to the consolidated statements of comprehensive income as incurred and amounted to RMB14,662 and RMB15,469 and RMB64,226 for the years ended December 31, 2019 and 2020 and 2021, respectively.

(y) Technology and development expenses

Technology and development expenses are expensed as incurred, mainly consist of (i) staff costs incurred for the self-developed hotel operation and reservation systems, (ii) servers and cloud infrastructure costs, (iii) other expenses related to technology and development functions.

(z) Pre-opening expenses

For leased hotels, the Group expenses all costs incurred in connection with start-up activities. Pre-opening expenses primarily include rental expenses and staff costs incurred during the hotel pre-opening period.

(aa) Employee benefits

Full time employees of the Group in the PRC participate in a government mandated defined contribution plan, pursuant to which certain pension benefits, medical care, employee housing fund and other welfare benefits are provided to the employees. Chinese labor regulations require that the Company's PRC subsidiaries make contributions to the government for these benefits based on certain percentages of the employees' salaries, up to a maximum amount specified by the local government. The Group has no legal obligation for the benefits beyond the contributions made.

Total amounts of such employee benefit expenses, which were expensed as incurred, were approximately RMB74,553 and RMB50,389 and RMB110,194 for the years ended December 31, 2019 and 2020 and 2021. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the PRC government has implemented relief policies to exempt or reduce enterprises' payments of certain social benefits provided to employees during 2020. The amount of exemption and reduction for employee social benefits for the year ended December 31, 2020 was approximately RMB42,680.

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases, as well as operating loss and tax credit carryforwards, if any. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the periods in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred income tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates or tax laws is recognized in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income in the period the change in tax rates or tax laws is enacted.

The Group reduces the carrying amounts of deferred tax assets by a valuation allowance, if based on the available evidence, it is "more-likely-than-not" that such assets will not be realized. Accordingly, the need to establish valuation allowances for deferred tax assets is assessed at each reporting period based on a "more-likely-than-not" realization threshold. This assessment considers, among other matters, the nature, frequency and severity of current and cumulative losses, forecasts of future profitability, the duration of statutory carryforward periods, and the Group's experience with operating loss and tax credit carryforwards, if any, not expiring.

The Group recognizes in its financial statements the impact of a tax position if that position is "more-likely-than-not" to prevail based on the facts and technical merits of the position. Tax positions that meet the "more-likely-than-not" recognition threshold are measured at the largest amount of tax benefit that has a greater than fifty percent likelihood of being realized upon settlement. Changes in recognition or measurement are reflected in the period in which the change in judgment occurs. Interest and penalties recognized related to unrecognized tax benefits are classified as income tax expense in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

(ac) Share based compensation

The Company accounts for the compensation cost from share-based payment transactions with employees based on the grant-date fair value of the equity instrument issued.

The grant-date fair value of the award is recognized as compensation expense, over the period during which an employee is required to provide service in exchange for the award, which is generally the vesting period. When no future services are required to be performed by the employee in exchange for an award of equity instruments, and if such award does not contain a performance or market condition, the cost of the award is expensed on the grant date.

Awards granted to employees with performance conditions attached are measured at fair value on the grant date and are recognized as the compensation expenses in the period and thereafter when the performance goal becomes probable to achieve.

(ad) Statutory reserve

In accordance with the Company Laws of the PRC, the PRC Entities registered as PRC domestic companies must make appropriations from its after-tax profit as determined under the PRC GAAP to non-distributable reserve funds including a statutory surplus fund and a discretionary surplus fund. The appropriation to the statutory surplus fund must be at least 10% of the after-tax profits as determined in accordance with the legal requirements in the PRC. Appropriation is not required if the surplus fund has reached 50% of the registered capital of the respective company. Appropriation to the discretionary surplus fund is made at the discretion of the respective company.

The use of the statutory reserves are restricted to the off-setting of losses or increasing capital of the respective company. All these reserves are not allowed to be transferred to their investors in terms of cash dividends, loans or advances, nor can they be distributed except under liquidation.

As of December 31, 2020 and 2021, the PRC statutory reserve funds amounted to RMB58,221 and RMB74,552, respectively.

(ae) Segment reporting

The Company uses the management approach in determining its operating segments. The Company's chief operating decision maker has been identified as the Chief Executive Officer, who reviews consolidated results when making decisions about allocating resources and assessing performance of the Company. For the purpose of internal reporting and management's operation review, the Company's Chief Executive Officer does not segregate the Company's business by product or service lines. Management has determined that the Company has one operating segment, which is the Atour Group.

(af) Contingencies

In the normal course of business, the Company is subject to loss contingencies, such as legal proceedings and claims arising out of its business, that cover a wide range of matters, including but not limited to non-compliance respect to licenses and permits, franchise and management agreements and lease contracts, which are handled and defended in the ordinary course of business. An accrual for a loss contingency is recognized when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. If a potential material loss contingency is not probable but is reasonably possible, or is probable but cannot be estimated, then the nature of the contingent liability, together with an estimate of the range of possible loss if determinable and material, is disclosed.

(ag) Fair value measurements

The Group applies ASC 820, Fair Value measurements and Disclosures, for fair value measurements financial assets and financial liabilities and for fair value measurements of non-financial items that are recognized or disclosed at fair value in the financial statements on a recurring and non-recurring basis. ASC 820 defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. When determining the fair value measurements for assets and liabilities required or permitted to be recorded at fair value, the Group considers the principal or most advantageous market in which it would transact and it considers assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability. ASC 820 also establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements.

ASC 820 establishes a fair value hierarchy that requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. ASC 820 establishes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value.

The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to measurements involving significant unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Group has the ability to access at the measurement date.
- Level 2 inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which a fair value measurement in its entirety falls is based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. In situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the asset or liability at the measurement date, the fair value measurement reflects management's own judgments about the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Those judgments are developed by management based on the best information available in the circumstances.

The Group's financial instruments include cash and cash equivalent, restricted cash, short-term investments, accounts receivable, prepayments and other current assets, amounts due from related parties, loans due from third parties, accounts payable, amounts due to related parties, accrued expenses and other payables, short-term borrowings and long-term borrowings. The carrying amounts of these short-term financial instruments approximate their fair value due to their short-term nature. The long-term borrowings approximate their fair values, because the bearing interest rate approximates market interest rate, and market interest rates have not fluctuated significantly since the commencement of loan contracts signed.

(ah) Net income (loss) per ordinary share

Basic income (loss) per ordinary share is computed by dividing net income (loss) available to the Company's ordinary shareholders by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the year using the two-class method. Under the two-class method, net income (loss) is allocated between ordinary shares and other participating securities based on participating rights in undistributed earnings.

Diluted income (loss) per ordinary share is calculated by dividing net income (loss) available to the Company's ordinary shareholders as adjusted for the effect of dilutive ordinary share equivalents, if any, by the weighted average number of ordinary and dilutive ordinary share equivalents outstanding during the year. Potential dilutive securities are not included in the calculation of diluted income (loss) per ordinary share if the impact is anti-dilutive.

(ai) Recently issued accounting pronouncements

In February 2016, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Updates ("ASU") No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842) ("ASU 2016-02"). ASU 2016-02 specifies the accounting for leases. For operating leases, ASU 2016-02 requires a lessee to recognize a right-of-use asset and a lease liability, initially measured at the present value of the lease payments, in its balance sheet. The standard also requires a lessee to recognize a single lease cost, calculated so that the cost of the lease is allocated over the lease term, on a generally straight-line basis. ASU 2016-02 was further amended in November 2019 by ASU 2019-10 and in June 2020 by ASU 2020-05, which deferred the effective date of new lease standard. As a result, ASC 842, Leases, is effective for public companies for annual reporting periods, and interim periods within those years beginning after December 15, 2018. For all other entities, it is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2022. Early adoption is permitted. As the Company is an "emerging growth company" and elects to apply for the new and revised accounting standards at the effective date for a private company, the Group will adopt the new standard for the year ending December 31, 2022. The Group currently plans to elect the modified retrospective transition approach, which allows the Group to record a cumulative-effect adjustment as of the effective date without restating prior periods. Additionally, the Group currently plans to use the package of practical expedients that allows the Company not to reassess: (1) whether any expired or existing contracts are or contain leases, (2) lease classification for any expired or existing leases and (3) initial direct costs for any existing leases. The Group also plans to elect the hindsight practical expedient to determine the reasonably certain lease term for existing leases. The Group expects that this standard will have a material effect on the Consolidated Financial Statements. The Group currently believes the most significant change relate to the recognition of right-of-use ("ROU") assets and lease liabilities on the Consolidated Balance Sheets for operating leases of the building of the leased hotels and office space. The adoption of the standard is expected to result in recognition of ROU assets and lease liabilities of approximately RMB2 billion on the Consolidated Balance Sheets. The Company does not believe the standard will materially affect the Company's Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Income, except for additional impairment of ROU assets, which could be material given the size of ROU assets.

In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-13, Financial Instruments — Credit Losses (Topic 326), Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments. The guidance replaces the incurred loss impairment methodology with an expected credit loss model for which a company recognizes an allowance based on the estimate of expected credit loss. ASU 2016-13 was further amended in November 2019 by ASU 2019-10. As a result, ASC 326, Financial Instruments — Credit Losses is effective for public companies for annual reporting periods, and interim periods within those years beginning after December 15, 2019. For all other entities it is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2022, including interim periods within those fiscal years. As the Company is an “emerging growth company” and elects to apply for the new and revised accounting standards at the effective date for a private company, the Group will adopt the new standard for the year ending December 31, 2023. The Group is currently evaluating the impact of adopting this standard on its consolidated financial statements.

In January 2017, the FASB issued ASU 2017-04, Simplifying the Test for Goodwill Impairment, which simplifies the accounting for goodwill impairment by eliminating Step two from the goodwill impairment test. If the carrying amount of a reporting unit exceeds its fair value, an impairment loss shall be recognized in an amount equal to that excess, versus determining an implied fair value in Step two to measure the impairment loss. The guidance is effective for public companies for annual reporting periods, and interim periods within those years beginning after December 15, 2019. For all other entities it is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2021, including interim periods within those fiscal years. As the Company is an “emerging growth company” and elects to apply for the new and revised accounting standards at the effective date for a private company, the Group will adopt the new standard for the year ending December 31, 2022, and do not expect the adoption of this standard will have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

In August 2018, the FASB issued ASU No. 2018-13 (“ASU 2018-13”), Fair Value Measurement. ASU 2018-13 modifies the disclosure requirements for fair value measurements by removing, modifying, or adding certain disclosures. The amendments in ASU 2018-13 are effective for all entities for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2019. The Group adopted the new standard on January 1, 2020, and the adoption did not have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

In November 2021, the FASB issued ASU 2021-10, Government Assistance (Topic 832) — Disclosures by Business Entities about Government Assistance (“ASU 2021-10”). It requires issuers to make annual disclosures about government assistance, including the nature of the transaction, the related accounting policy, the financial statement line items affected and the amounts applicable to each financial statement line item, as well as any significant terms and conditions, including commitments and contingencies. The amendments in ASU 2021-10 are effective for all entities for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2021. The Group will adopt the new standard for the year ending December 31, 2022, and do not expect the adoption of this standard will have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

(aj) Risks and concentration

(1) Foreign exchange risk

As the Group’s principal activities are carried out in the PRC, the Group’s transactions are mainly denominated in RMB, which is not freely convertible into foreign currencies. All foreign exchange transactions involving RMB must take place through the People’s Bank of China or other institutions authorized to buy and sell foreign exchange. The exchange rates adopted for the foreign exchange transactions are the rates of exchange quoted by the People’s Bank of China that are determined largely by supply and demand.

The management does not expect that there will be any significant currency risk for the Group during the reporting periods.

(2) Concentration of credit risk

The Group’s credit risk primarily arises from cash and cash equivalents, short-term investments, prepayments and other current assets, accounts receivable, amount due from related parties and loans due from third parties. The carrying amounts of these financial instruments represent the maximum amount of loss due to credit risk.

The Group expects that there is no significant credit risk associated with the cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash and short-term investments which are held by reputable financial institutions. The Group believes that it is not exposed to unusual risks as these financial institutions have high credit quality.

The Group has no significant concentrations of credit risk with respect to its prepayments and other current assets.

Accounts receivable are unsecured and are primarily derived from revenue earned from franchised hotels. The risk with respect to accounts receivable is mitigated by credit evaluations performed on them.

Amounts due from related parties are unsecured and are derived from the hotel reservation payment collected by the related parties on behalf of the Group. The Group believes that it is not exposed to unusual risks as the related parties are reputable travel agencies.

Loans due from third parties are unsecured and are provided to the franchised hotels. The risk with respect to the loan balance is mitigated by credit evaluations performed on them.

3. Prepayments and other assets

Prepayments and other current assets consist of the following:

| | As of December 31, | |
|---|--------------------|----------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| Prepaid rental and property management fees | 9,990 | 12,112 |
| Prepayment for purchase of goods and services | 23,849 | 12,247 |
| VAT recoverable | 18,714 | 25,425 |
| Receivables on behalf of franchised hotels ⁽ⁱ⁾ | 60,837 | 103,495 |
| Contract assets (Note 13(b)) | 3,438 | 7,171 |
| Deposits | 5,686 | 2,904 |
| Others | 7,196 | 6,931 |
| Subtotal | 129,710 | 170,285 |
| Less: allowance for doubtful accounts | (3,441) | (3,124) |
| Total | 126,269 | 167,161 |

(i) The amount represents fees to be collected from corporate customers and travel agencies on behalf of franchisees.

Changes in the allowance for doubtful accounts is as follows:

| | As of December 31, | |
|-------------------------------------|--------------------|----------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| At the beginning of the year | 3,441 | 3,441 |
| Allowance made during the year | — | 3,124 |
| Allowance write off during the year | — | (3,441) |
| At the end of the year | 3,441 | 3,124 |

Other assets consist of the following:

| | As of December 31, | |
|---|--------------------|----------------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| Long-term rental deposits | 75,458 | 75,604 |
| Contract assets (Note 13(b)) | 52,926 | 62,615 |
| VAT recoverable | 6,248 | 8,800 |
| Payments for purchase of property and equipment | 3,239 | 444 |
| Deferred rental initial direct costs | 15,222 | 11,758 |

7. Goodwill

There is no change in the carrying amount of goodwill for the years ended December 31, 2020 and 2021.

Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net tangible and intangible assets acquired in the acquisition.

On January 31, 2019, the Group consummated the acquisition of 93% of the equity interests in a franchised hotel for a cash consideration of RMB24,790. No purchase price allocation is presented as the acquisition was considered immaterial. On September 30, 2020, the Group acquired the remaining 7% of the equity interests in this franchised hotel for a cash consideration of RMB780.

The amounts of net revenue and net income of the acquiree included in the Group's consolidated statements of comprehensive income from the acquisition date to December 31, 2019 were considered immaterial.

Goodwill is not deductible for tax purposes and is assigned to the only reporting unit of the Group, which is the Atour Group. The Group did not incur any impairment loss on goodwill for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021.

8. Income tax

(a) Income Tax

Cayman Islands

Under the current laws of the Cayman Islands, the Company is not subject to tax on income or capital gain. Additionally, the Cayman Islands does not impose a withholding tax on payments of dividends to shareholders.

Hong Kong

Under the current Hong Kong Inland Revenue Ordinance, the Company's Hong Kong subsidiary is subject to Hong Kong profits tax at the rate of 16.5% on its taxable income generated from operations in Hong Kong. A two-tiered Profits Tax rates regime was introduced since year 2018 where the first HK$2,000 of assessable profits earned by a company will be taxed at 8.25% and the remaining profits will be taxed at 16.5%. There is an anti-fragmentation measure where each group will have to nominate only one company in the group to benefit from the progressive rates. Payments of dividends by the Hong Kong subsidiary to the Company is not subject to any Hong Kong withholding tax.

PRC

Under the Law of the PRC on Enterprise Income Tax ("EIT Law"), which was effective from January 1, 2008, the Company's PRC subsidiaries are subject to a uniform tax rate of 25%, and the industries and projects that are encouraged and supported by the State may enjoy tax preferential treatment.

Income tax expense consists of the following:

| | Years ended December 31, | | |
|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------|---------------|---------------|
| | 2019 | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| Current income tax expense | 45,837 | 71,933 | 73,613 |

(b) Deferred taxes

The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to the deferred tax assets (liabilities) balances as of December 31, 2020 and 2021 are as follows:

| | As of December 31, | |
|---|--------------------|----------------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| Deferred tax assets (liabilities) | | |
| Tax losses carried forward | 64,124 | 81,376 |
| Allowance for doubtful accounts | 4,601 | 5,339 |

| Deferred revenue | 60,777 | 73,473 |
| Contract costs | (13,153) | (15,604) |
| Deferred rent | 5,747 | 6,117 |
| Deferred rental initial direct costs | (3,806) | (2,939) |
| Property and equipment | 45,096 | 41,438 |
| Others | 1,504 | 1,890 |
| Total gross deferred tax assets | 170,600 | 199,062 |
| Valuation allowance on deferred tax assets | (57,289) | (76,355) |
| Deferred tax assets, net of valuation allowance | 113,311 | 122,707 |

Reported in consolidated balance sheets as:

| | As of December 31, | |
|--------------------------|--------------------|----------------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| Deferred tax assets | 113,311 | 122,707 |
| Deferred tax liabilities | — | — |
| Net deferred tax assets | 113,311 | 122,707 |

The movement of the valuation allowance is as follows:

| | As of December 31, | |
|--------------------------------------|--------------------|---------------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| Balance at the beginning of the year | 39,384 | 57,289 |
| Addition during the year | 17,905 | 19,066 |
| Balance at the end of the year | 57,289 | 76,355 |

The valuation allowance as of December 31, 2020 and 2021 was primarily provided for the deferred tax assets of certain PRC subsidiaries, which were in cumulative loss positions. In assessing the realization of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible or utilizable. Management considers projected future taxable income and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. The net operating losses carry forward of the Group's PRC subsidiaries amounted to RMB325,504 as of December 31, 2021, of which RMB19,349, RMB26,662, RMB77,675, RMB111,194 and RMB90,624 will expire if unused by December 31, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively.

(c) Unrecognized tax benefits

The Group recognizes the benefit of positions taken or expected to be taken in tax returns in the financial statements when it is more likely than not that the position would be sustained upon examination by tax authorities. A recognized tax position is measured at the largest amount of benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized upon settlement.

A reconciliation of the beginning and ending amount of unrecognized tax benefits is as follows:

| | As of December 31, | |
|--------------------------------------|--------------------|----------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB '000 | RMB '000 |
| Balance at the beginning of the year | 6,601 | — |
| Additions on tax positions | — | — |
| Settlements | (6,601) | — |
| Balance at the end of the year | — | — |

The Group is subject to reviews, examinations and audits by PRC tax authorities with respect to income and non-income based taxes. According to the PRC Tax Administration and Collection Law, the statute of limitation is three years if the underpayment of taxes is due to computational errors made by the taxpayer or the withholding agent. The statute of limitation is extended to five years under special circumstances where the underpayment of taxes is more than RMB100. In the case of transfer pricing issues, the statute of limitation is 10 years. There is no statute of limitation in the case of tax evasion.

9. Accrued expenses and other payables

Accrued expenses and other payables consist of the following:

| | As of December 31, | |
|---|--------------------|----------------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |

| Total | 31,165 | 43,630 |

- (i) As of December 31, 2021, the Group entered into several credit facilities with third party banks under which the Group can borrow up to RMB162,000 during the term of the facilities mature from May 2022 to May 2023. The drawdown of the credit facilities is subject to the terms and conditions of each agreement. The credit facilities also require the Group to comply with the various covenants and other restrictions, including but not limited to keep a debt-to-asset ratio, which is the ratio of total liabilities to total assets, lower than 65% and a liquidity ratio no less than 1.2. As of December 31, 2021, the Group was in compliance with the above financial covenants.

As of December 31, 2021, bank loans of RMB3,500 were secured by the equity interests the Group held in a subsidiary.

- (ii) The Group entered into various loan and financing agreements with third parties other than the banks. The loans carried an interest rate from 3.9% to 19.0% per annum.

The weighted average interest rates of short-term borrowings and long-term borrowings as of December 31, 2021 were 4.1% (2020: 4.4%) and 4.6% (2020: 5.0%) per annum, respectively.

The aggregate maturities of the above long-term borrowings for each for the five years and thereafter subsequent to December 31, 2021 are as follows:

| For the year ending December 31, | |
|----------------------------------|---------------|
| 2022 | 1,000 |
| 2023 | 40,590 |
| 2024 | 1,000 |

| Others | — | 2,920 |
| Total | 261,205 | 317,607 |

12. Ordinary shares with preference rights

Prior to the Restructuring, as described further in Note 1, Atour Shanghai had issued ordinary shares with preferences rights to certain shareholders, including Series A Shares, Series B Shares and Series C Shares. In connection with the Restructuring, the affiliates of these shareholders acquired Class A ordinary shares of the Company with the same rights, preferences and privileges for the surrender of their respective equity interests in Atour Shanghai. The rights, preferences and privileges of Series A Shares, Series B Shares and Series C Shares of Atour Shanghai are described below.

Redemption rights

For Series C Shares, at any time of the occurrence of the following events, the holders of Series C Shares are entitled to request the Company to redeem all of the outstanding Series C Shares at the redemption price equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Series C Shares issue price (RMB552,330), plus interest at a compound rate of eight percent (8%) per annum from the applicable issue date to the redemption payment date. (i) failure to complete a Qualified initial public offering (“IPO”) or a Whole Sale transaction as acknowledged by the Series C shareholders within the fifth anniversary of the Series C Shares issue dates (being July 25, 2017 and October 25, 2017). Whole Sale transaction is defined as either a sale of more than 50% equity interests of the Company, or a disposal of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company or an exclusive license of all or substantially all of the Company’s intellectual properties to a third party; (ii) any material change of the Company’s principal business, the founder and the other senior executives, which would result in substantial obstacle of completing a Qualified IPO, without the Series C shareholders’ approval; iii) any material breach of representations, commitments and undertakings made by the Company and/or the founder in connection with the Series C Share investment; (iv) any material breach of the fiduciary duty by the founder and/or other senior executives, which would result in substantial obstacle of completing a Qualified IPO.

For Series B Shares, upon the redemption of Series C Shares, and the occurrence of the following events: i) sale of over 50% equity interests of the Company, substantial assets sale or exclusive license of the substantial intellectual properties of the Company; 2) any material breach of representations, commitments and undertakings made by the Company and/or the founder in connection with the Series B Share investment, the holders of Series B Shares is entitled to request the Company to redeem all of the outstanding Series B Shares at the redemption price equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Series B Shares issue price (RMB167,500), plus interest at a compound rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the applicable issue date (January 8, 2015) to the redemption payment date.

For Series A Shares, they are only redeemable upon the liquidation events.

Liquidation preference

Upon any liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the Company, whether voluntary or involuntary, the holders of Series C Shares, Series B Shares and Series A Shares have the top, secondary and third priority, respectively, to be distributed or paid in preference to the other ordinary shareholders: (i) Each holder of Series C Shares, shall be entitled to receive an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the applicable issue price plus interest at a compound rate of eight percent (8%) per annum from the applicable issue date to the payment date; ii) each holder of Series B Shares and Series A Shares shall be entitled to receive an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the applicable issue price plus interest at a simple rate of six percent (6%) per annum from the applicable issue date to the payment date. For Series A Shares, the applicable issue price is RMB49,000 and the issue date is December 23, 2012.

Accounting for the ordinary shares with preference rights

The Company classified the ordinary share with redemption rights, representing Series B and Series C Shares of Atour Shanghai prior to the Restructuring, in the mezzanine equity in the consolidated balance sheets as they are contingently redeemable upon the occurrence of certain events outside of the Company's control. The Company concluded the embedded redemption option of the Series B and Series C Shares did not need to be bifurcated pursuant to ASC 815 because these terms do not permit net settlement, nor they can be readily settled net by a means outside the contract, nor they can provide for delivery of an asset that puts the holders in a position not substantially different from net settlement. The Series B and Series C Shares are presented as redeemable Class A ordinary shares of the Company in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

The Company classified the ordinary shares with liquidation preference, representing Series A Shares of Atour Shanghai prior to the Restructuring in permanent equity as they are only redeemable upon the liquidation events. The Series A Shares are presented as Class A ordinary shares with liquidation preference in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

As of December 31, 2019 and 2020, the Company concluded that it was probable that the Series C Shares would become redeemable, and it was not probable that the Series B Shares would become redeemable.

For Series B Shares, no subsequent adjustment was made on the carrying amount as they were not probable to be redeemed.

For Series C Shares, the Company has elected to recognize changes in the redemption value immediately as they occur and adjust the carrying amount of the redeemable shares to equal the redemption value at the end of each reporting period. The accretions, if any, are recorded against retained earnings, or in the absence of retained earnings, by charges against additional paid-in capital. Once additional paid-in capital has been exhausted, additional charges are recorded by increasing the accumulated deficit.

In connection with the submission of the draft registration statement for the Company's proposed IPO, and pursuant to the reorganization framework agreement entered into by Atour Shanghai and its shareholders in February 2021, the preference rights (including liquidation preference and redemption rights, where applicable) of Series A, B and C Shares were terminated on April 8, 2021. The redeemable Series B and C Shares, presented as redeemable Class A ordinary shares of the Company in the accompanying balance sheets, were reclassified from mezzanine equity to permanent equity and Series A Shares presented as Class A ordinary shares with liquidation preference in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets, were reclassified to Class A ordinary shares within permanent equity on April 8, 2021 as a result of the termination of the preference rights.

The Company's Series C Shares activities for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021 consist of the following:

| | As of December 31, | | |
|---|--------------------|----------------|-----------|

| Denominator: | | | |
| Weighted average number of ordinary shares | 171,589,918 | 171,589,918 | 323,163,367 |
| Basic and diluted net income (loss) per ordinary share (in RMB) | 0.04 | (0.06) | 0.40 |

The redeemable Class A ordinary shares and Class A ordinary shares with liquidation preference have the contractual participation right to share the undistributed earnings with ordinary shareholders on a one-to-one per-share basis. Therefore, the net income attributable these shares were subtracted from net income when computing net income per ordinary shares.

For the year ended December 31, 2021, 214,203,200 ordinary shares were included in the denominator in the calculation of basic income per ordinary share to give the effect of the termination of preference rights of 60,912,400 Class A ordinary shares with liquidation preference and 153,290,800 redeemable Class A ordinary shares on April 8, 2021.

For the years ended December 31, 2019 and 2020, redeemable Class A ordinary shares and Class A ordinary shares with liquidation preference were excluded from the calculation of diluted income per ordinary share as their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive.

In addition, for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, 12,125,567, 11,663,920 and 17,740,297 share options were also excluded from the calculation of diluted net income per ordinary share as their vesting is contingent upon the satisfaction of a performance condition (i.e. completion of a Qualified IPO), which is not considered probable until the event occurs.

15. Share based compensation

In accordance with the share incentive plan adopted in 2017 ("2017 Share Incentive Plan"), 51,200,000 ordinary shares were reserved for issuance to selected persons including its directors, employees and consultants.

Under the 2017 Share Incentive Plan, share options granted contain a performance condition such that the awards only vest upon the completion of a Qualified IPO. For employees who terminate the employment before the completion of a Qualified IPO, the share options granted are forfeited upon the termination of employment. Options granted under the 2017 Share Incentive Plan are valid and effective for 10 years from the grant date.

In March 2021, the Company's board of directors approved a new share incentive plan ("Public Company Plan"), 51,029,546 ordinary shares were reserved for issuance to selected persons including its directors, employees and consultants. The unvested portion of share options, representing 14,196,882 share options granted under the 2017 Share Incentive Plan ("Original Awards") were replaced by the options granted by the Company under Public Company Plan ("Modified Awards"), with the terms of the Modified Awards substantially the same as those of the Original Awards in April 2021. The replacement of the unvested share options in April 2021 was accounted for as modifications of share-based compensation. The Company evaluated the fair value of share options immediately before and after the modification and there was no incremental share-based compensation expense as a result of the modification.

For the year ended December 31, 2021, 2,711,148 share options were granted under the 2017 Share Incentive Plan and 3,761,180 share options were granted under the Public Company Plan.

For the 3,761,180 share options granted under the Public Company Plan, 652,600 share options contain a performance condition such that the share options only vest upon the completion of a Qualified IPO. 2,912,732 share options have graded vesting schedules in one to four years and contain a performance condition such that the share options only vest upon the completion of a Qualified IPO. The remaining 195,848 share options cliff vest at 100% on specific dates within one year from the grant date and contain a performance condition such that the share options only vest upon the completion of a Qualified IPO.

A summary of activities of the share options for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021 are presented below:

|--|----------------------------|--|---|--|
| Outstanding at January 1, 2019 | 8,881,697 | 3.56 | | |
| Grant | 3,786,730 | 5.55 | | |
| Forfeiture | (542,860) | 4.33 | | |
| Outstanding at January 1, 2020 | 12,125,567 | 4.15 | 8.28 | 70,176 |
| Grant | 306,058 | 5.57 | | |
| Forfeiture | (767,705) | 4.76 | | |
| Outstanding at December 31, 2020 | 11,663,920 | 4.15 | 7.34 | 90,764 |
| Grant | 6,472,328 | 6.91 | | |
| Forfeiture | (395,951) | 8.22 | | |
| Outstanding at December 31, 2021 | 17,740,297 | 5.06 | | |
| Expect to vest as of December 31, 2021 | 17,740,297 | 5.06 | 9.24 | 473,237 |

The weighted average grant date fair value of the share options for the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021 was RMB4.62, RMB6.02 and RMB11.93, respectively.

The fair value of the share options granted is estimated on the date of grant using the binomial option pricing model with the following assumptions used.

|--|---------------|---------------|---------------|
| Risk-free rate of return ⁽¹⁾ | 3.10%~3.20% | 2.90%~3.10% | 1.70%~3.20% |
| Volatility ⁽²⁾ | 32.10%~33.68% | 34.30%~34.40% | 34.61%~37.64% |
| Expected dividend yield ⁽³⁾ | 0% | 0% | 0% |
| Fair value of ordinary share (in RMB) ⁽⁴⁾ | 6.12~9.94 | 10.54~10.93 | 11.93~31.74 |
| Exercise multiple ⁽⁵⁾ | 2.2 | 2.2 | 2.2 |
| Expected term ⁽⁶⁾ | 10 | 10 | 10 |

- (1) Risk-free rate was estimated based on the yield of China government bond for share options granted under the 2017 Share Incentive and USD Treasury Strips for share options granted under the Public Company Plan as of the valuation date for a term consistent with the option life.
- (2) Expected volatility was assumed based on the historical volatility of the Company's comparable companies in the period equal to the expected term of each grant.
- (3) The dividend yield was estimated by the Company based on its expected dividend policy over the expected term of the share options.
- (4) The estimated fair value of the underlying ordinary shares at the grant dates was estimated by management with the assistance of an independent valuation firm. The Company first determined its enterprise value by using income approach, which required the estimation of future cash flows, and the application of an appropriate discount rate with reference to comparable listed companies engaged in the similar industry to convert such future cash flows to a single present value, and then allocated the enterprise value between the ordinary shares and ordinary shares with preference rights (where applicable).
- (5) The expected exercise multiple was estimated as the average ratio of the stock price to the exercise price of when employees would decide to voluntarily exercise their vested options. As the Company did not have sufficient information of past employee exercise history, it was estimated by referencing to a widely accepted academic research publication.
- (6) The expected term is the contract life of the option from grant date.

For the years ended December 31, 2019, 2020 and 2021, the Group did not recognize any share-based compensation expenses for the share options granted as all awards contain a performance condition which is contingent upon the completion of a Qualified IPO and is not considered probable until the event happens.

As of December 31, 2021, the total unrecognized compensation expense associated with share options amounted to RMB103,808, of which RMB81,658 would have been recognized as compensation expense based on the degree of completion of the service period, had a Qualified IPO been completed the IPO on December 31, 2021.

16. Equity

(a) Ordinary shares

Prior to the Restructuring, the issued and outstanding shares of Atour Shanghai include 171,589,918 ordinary shares and 60,912,400 Series A Shares, 48,394,000 Series B Shares and 104,896,800 Series C Shares as of December 31, 2020. The preference rights of Series A shares, Series B shares and Series C shares are disclosed in Note 12.

In February 2021, the Company passed a board resolution to increase its authorized shares from 500,000,000 shares to 3,000,000,000 shares of par value USD0.0001 each, including 2,900,000,000 Class A ordinary shares (entitled to one vote per share) and 100,000,000 Class B ordinary shares (entitled to ten votes per share), which are subject to restrictions on the voting rights until the consummation of the Company's IPO.

The effect of the Restructuring where applicable has been retrospectively reflected in the consolidated financial statements. The following equity transactions that occurred during the intervening period of the Restructuring are accounted for separately from the Restructuring as they are not part of the integrated set of activities constituting the Restructuring and serve distinct purposes independent of the Restructuring.

(b) Termination of preference rights of certain shareholders

As set out in Note 12, the preference rights (including liquidation preference and redemption rights, where applicable) of Series A, B and C shares were terminated on April 8, 2021. The redeemable Series B and C Shares, presented as redeemable Class A ordinary shares of the Company in the accompanying balance sheet as of December 31, 2020, were reclassified from mezzanine equity to permanent equity and Series A Shares, presented as Class A ordinary shares with liquidation preference in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2020, were reclassified to ordinary shares within permanent equity on April 8, 2021 as a result of the termination of the preference rights.

(c) Share repurchase

A subsidiary of the Company agreed to pay a cash consideration of RMB111,260 in May 2021 to acquire 8,822,664 ordinary shares held by a shareholder of Atour Shanghai, who agreed not to participate in the Restructuring. The transaction is accounted for as share repurchase by the Company for the year ended December 31, 2021.

(d) Distribution to shareholders

The Company agreed with certain shareholders to distribute of RMB20,645 in cash to these shareholders in May 2021.

17. Related party transactions

In addition to the related party information disclosed elsewhere in the consolidated financial statements, the Group entered into the following material related party transactions.

| Trip.com Group | 3,762 | 1,772 |

(i) The amount due to Wang Haijun was fully repaid in connection with the Restructuring in 2021.

18. Commitment and Contingencies(a) Capital commitments

Capital commitments outstanding in respect of leasehold improvements and fixtures, fittings and other fixed assets as of December 31, 2020 and 2021, not provided for in the financial statements were as follows:

| | As of December 31, | |
|----------------|---------------------------|----------------|
| | 2020 | 2021 |
| | RMB'000 | RMB'000 |
| Contracted for | 34,228 | — |

(b) Operating lease commitmentsAs lessee

The Group has entered into lease agreements for business offices and certain hotels which it operates. Such leases are classified as operating leases.

Future minimum lease payments under non-cancellable operating lease agreements as of December 31, 2021 were as follows:

| For the year ending December 31, | |
|---|------------------|
| 2022 | 391,842 |
| 2023 | 378,004 |
| 2024 | 375,607 |
| 2025 | 321,510 |
| 2026 | 301,618 |
| 2027 and thereafter | 1,250,815 |
| Total | 3,019,396 |

As lessor

The Group subleases its leased assets under operating lease arrangements for terms ranging from one to ten years. The terms of the leases generally also require the tenants to pay security deposits and provide for periodic rent adjustments according to the then prevailing market conditions.

As of December 31, 2021, the Group had total future minimum lease receivables under non-cancellable operating leases with its tenants falling due as follows:

| For the year ending 31 December, 2021 | |
|--|---------------|
| 2022 | 10,887 |
| 2023 | 10,460 |
| 2024 | 8,971 |

| 2026 | 8,944 |
| 2027 and thereafter | 24,641 |
| Total | 73,115 |

(c) Litigation and contingencies

The Group and its operations from time to time are, and in the future may be, parties to or targets of lawsuits, claims, investigations, and proceedings, including but not limited to non-compliance respect to licenses and permits, franchise and management agreements and lease contracts, which are handled and defended in the ordinary course of business. In September 2021, the Group was sued in connection with the agency services fee payable of the Company's leased hotel. While the Group believes it has meritorious defences against the suit, the ultimate resolution of the matter, could result in a loss of up to RMB 19 million in excess of the amount accrued.

PART II
INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN THE PROSPECTUS

Item 6. Indemnification of Directors and Officers

Cayman Islands law does not limit the extent to which a company's articles of association may provide for indemnification of officers and directors, except to the extent any such provision may be held by the Cayman Islands courts to be contrary to public policy, such as to provide indemnification against civil fraud or the consequences or committing a crime. Under our post-offering memorandum and articles of association, which will become effective immediately prior to the completion of this offering, to the fullest extent permissible under Cayman Islands law every director and officer of our company shall be indemnified against all actions, proceedings, costs, charges, losses, damages and expenses incurred or sustained by him by reason of any act done or omitted in or about the execution of their duty in their respective offices or trusts.

Pursuant to the form of indemnification agreements to be filed as Exhibit 10.2 to this Registration Statement, we will agree to indemnify our directors and executive officers against certain liabilities and expenses that they incur in connection with claims made by reason of their being a director or officer of our company.

The Underwriting Agreement, the form of which to be filed as Exhibit 1.1 to this Registration Statement, will also provide for indemnification of us and our officers and directors.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, may be permitted to directors, officers or persons controlling us pursuant to the foregoing provisions, we have been informed that in the opinion of the SEC such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is therefore unenforceable.

Item 7. Recent Sales of Unregistered Securities

During the past three years, we have issued the following securities (including options to acquire our ordinary shares) without registering the securities under the Securities Act. We believe that each of the following issuances was exempt from registration under the Securities Act in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act regarding sales by an issuer in offshore transactions, pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act regarding transactions not involving a public offering and/or Rule 701 of the Securities Act. None of the transactions involved an underwriter. We have not received any substantial considerations from such issuances which were made in connection with our corporate restructuring process in preparation for this offering. Our minority equity holders have previously made capital contributions in connection with the private financing of our PRC operating entity.

Item 8. Exhibits and Financial Statement Schedules

(a) Exhibits:

See Exhibit Index for a complete list of all exhibits filed as part of this registration, which Exhibit Index is incorporated herein by reference.

(b) Financial Statement Schedules

Schedules have been omitted because the information required to be set forth therein is not applicable or is shown in the consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto.

Item 9. Undertakings

The undersigned hereby undertakes:

- (a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to provide to the underwriters at the closing specified in the underwriting agreements, certificates in such denominations and registered in such names as required by the underwriters to permit prompt delivery to each purchaser.
- (b) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer, or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question of whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.
- (c) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that:
 - (1) For purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, the information omitted from the form of prospectus filed as part of this registration statement in reliance upon Rule 430A and contained in a form of prospectus filed by the registrant pursuant to Rule 424(b)(1) or (4) or 497(h) under the Securities Act of 1933 shall be deemed to be part of this registration statement as of the time it was declared effective.
 - (2) For the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each post-effective amendment that contains a form of prospectus shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.
